VOTE CLOSEST YET

U.S. Is Winner As U.N. Shelves Red China Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States won a major diplomatic victory late Saturday when the General Assembly agreed to shelve for another year the question of a United Nations seat for Communist China.

The vote was 42 to 34 with 22 abstentions.

The margin was slimmer than expected in the closest vote on the issue in the 10 years the United States has successfully asked the assembly to take no action on the Communist demand to oust Nationalist China and seat the Red Chinese.

The newly-independent African countries generally abstained in the vote.

PREVIOUS MARGIN

The previous closest margin in the U.S. demand to exclude the China representation question from the assembly agenda came last year when the assembly voted 44 to 29, with 9 abstentions, to postpone action for another year.

Notable defectors from the Western alignment—headed by the United States, Britain and France—in this year's vote were Burma, Ceylon, Cuba, Denmark, Ethiopia, Ireland, Nigeria, Norway, Senegal and Sweden.

It was difficult to compare in voting strength the result of this year's ballot in comparison with other years, because of the influx of 17 new members at this assembly session.

However, the vote showed 55.3 per cent of the members of the assembly voting in favor of the exclusion of the item. This compared with 60.3 per cent last year and a high mark of 82.3 per cent of the assembly in favor of excluding the issue in 1952.

The assembly adjourned immediately after the vote until 10:30 a.m., EDT, Monday.

As a clincher in the campaign to keep the item off the agenda, the United States declared Saturday that the Communist Chinese wanted an atomic war.

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth made the charge as the General Assembly neared a vote on Russia's demand that the U.N. consider ouster of Chiang Kai-shk's Nationalists and their replacement by the Chinese Communists.

Valley Fair Opening Set For Monday

The annual Ouachita Valley Fair gets underway tomorrow with the Bluegrass Shows' livestock carnival at 7 p.m. at the Ouachita Valley Fairgrounds on North Seventh Street in West Monroe.

This year's six - day show will include about $4,000 in premiums in competition divisions, booth displays, a quarterhorse show, the regular carnival shows and rides, and rated as one of the main attractions will be the Human Satellite who will be shot nightly from a cannon over two ferris wheels.

'TOP NOTCH'

Fair manager John Birdsong stated that booth displays are "top notch" this year and that all of the space for commercial exhibits has already been reserved. Birdsong predicts this year's fair as the "finest fair in our history."

Judging in the competition divisions will take place and ribbons will be awarded Tuesday with the exhibits open to the public the rest of the week.

Police Mutiny In Leopoldville Salary Dispute

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Leopoldville city police briefly mutinied against their officers Saturday to enforce pay demands.

Squads of uniformed police in jeeps arrested several district police commissioners and three of the ministers in the Leopoldville provincial government, and held them for three hours in Lufungula Police Barracks.

And at the same time, the police force announced a strike against the basic wage level of $24 per month — complaining that even this was more than a week overdue.

One Congolese was slightly injured by a stray bullet during the strike.

Leopoldville's police force has been ineffectual since its Belgian officers left, and the strike made no noticeable difference to the life of the city. By noon it was all over. The arrested officials were released on a promise to seek higher and more regular pay for the men.

The police force has remained loyal to Patrice Lumumba.

The loyalty of many political leaders to Lumumba—particularly in the interior—continued to impede reconstruction efforts of the government commission installed by army leader Col. Joseph Mobutu.

The commission's spokesman, Albert Bolela, told a news conference the Congo's political leaders "are not sufficiently mature to make a synthesis of Western democratic institutions and the tribal realities of the Congo."

Bolela described Mobutu as "our Congolese Gandhi" trying to bring order into the political and administrative chaos with nonviolent methods.

New Republics Get Ike Invite

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower Saturday invited representatives from 16 newly-admitted members to the United Nations — 15 African states and Cyprus — to meet with him at the White House next Friday, his 70th birthday anniversary.

The White House did not say as much but President Eisenhower is known to be anixious to establish close relations with the new republics in hopes of keeping them out of the Communist camp. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been making personal overtures to nearly all the nations.

LEAD SERIES 2-1

Yanks Stun Pirates, 10-0

NEW YORK (AP) — The slugging New York Yankees humiliated the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday 10-0 with a 16-hit barrage that included a grand slam homer by little Bobby Richardson and Mickey Mantle's 14th World Series home run.

While Yankee bats boosted the Yankees into a 2-1 lead in the best-of-7 series, chunky Whitey Ford baffled the bug-eyed Pirates with a four-hit shutout, his first in 13 Series starts.

Records fell all over spacious Yankee Stadium jammed with 70,001 fans as the stunned Pirates watched the Yanks knock out Vinegar Bend Mizell in the six-run first inning and then rolled it up with four more in the fourth.

Richardson, a quiet little .252 hitter who had only one homer all season, slammed a 3-2 pitch from reliever Clem Labine into the lower left field seats with the bases full in the first. In the fourth, Richardson set a Series single game RBI record of six by knocking in two more with a single, also with the bases loaded.

Northeast Holds Gay Homecoming

Northeast President George T. Walker placed a crown on the head of Queen Sandra Edwards Saturday afternoon as Northeast State College celebrated its 28th annual Homecoming.

What had started as a dreary, drizzly day turned into a bright Homecoming festival as the sun broke through in mid-afternoon. And as the sun began to shine, so did Northeast's football team, which broke a Northwestern jinx and took a close 7-6 game from the visiting Demons.

It was only Northeast's second victory in eight outings against the Demons. And it was sweet revenge for the Indians, whose 1958 Homecoming, plus a six - game winning streak, had been spoiled by Northwestern in Brown Stadium two years ago.

The highlight of the halftime ceremonies was the crowning by Dr. Walker of Miss Edwards, a Monroe business - education major who celebrates her 20th birthday Tuesday. Walker presented Miss Edwards with a bouquet of yellow mums, placed on her head a crown which didn't want to stay in place, and kissed her lightly on the cheek.

COURT

Just before the crowning of the queen each of the members of the Homecoming court and Maid of Honor Jeanie Duffey of West Monroe were presented. The court members were Linda Rogers and Sandra Stancil, both of Monroe, Carol Shipp of Bosco, Sue Payne of Crowville and Patsy Price of Ferriday.

The queen and her court were accompanied by their fathers or another close relative as they were introduced in a ceremony in which the Northeast band, the Pershing Rifles, and Scabbard Blade also participated.

Miss Edwards was escorted by her father, H. D. Edwards, 406 Lakeshore Monroe; Miss Duffey by her father, Donald Duffey, 503 Glenmar, Monroe; Miss Rogers by her father, R. W. Rogers, 2210 Redwood Drive, Monroe; Miss Stancil by her uncle, O. M. Stancil, West Monroe; Miss Shipp by

Soviet Premier Will Fly Home Next Thursday

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev will leave for home by jet plane next Thursday night, ending an unprecedented 25-day visit to the United States.

Khrushchev's aides formally notified the U.S. State Department Saturday night of the departure date—about the same time the Soviet leader was telling newsmen at Glen Cove, N. Y., that he hadn't made up his mind yet, but might leave next week.

Top State Department officials disclosed, however, that Khrushchev finally advised them he will leave Thursday by Soviet jet airliner about 11:30 p.m. from Idlewild Airport.

Khrushchev reported at his Glen Cove weekend retreat that he would fly to Moscow.

But, State Department officials said if he does he will stay in Moscow only briefly because he plans to go on to Communist North Korea for a long-scheduled goodwill visit.

Khrushchev is expected to depart with a farewell blast at the United States and the United Nations for allegedly obstructing Soviet drives toward international peace.

Since arriving Sept. 19 aboard the Soviet liner Baltika, Khrushchev has yet to chalk up one major diplomatic victory in his one-man anti-Western propaganda offensive.

The colored residents of Ouachita Parish contributed $12,000 to United Givers Fund for 1960. Colored Community Welfare, a United Fund agency, received $6000 back, at the rate of $5000 per month.

"They're not only supporting their own agency — they're helping support the other 12 United Fund groups," commented Donn Kurtz, executive director of UGF.

"We stay strictly within our budget, including salary and overhead," pointed out Lucille Howard, director of the Colored Community Welfare.

The budget has been taxed during the past few months, since many families were taken off Louisiana welfare rolls by state laws aimed at illegitimacy.

"We had 94 cases of people asking for help in September. One year ago, we only had about 48 cases . . . the number has doubled," she revealed.

Those who were cut off from state funds are being helped on a limited emergency scale until they find work. They are helped one time only, and this amounts to a small part of what they had received in one month's welfare check.

"I think the new welfare laws are a blessing in disguise," she said. "I've noticed an increase in marriages since the laws were enacted — they are stabilizing families, and this certainly will help the children."

She points out that everybody who was cut off the rolls is getting some help, to aid them in getting on their feet.

Police Fire On African Rioters

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Police opened fire on African rioters in the nonwhite township of Harare outside Salisbury Saturday night. They reported six Negroes were killed and dozens injured.

Riots broke out after a white motorist knocked down an African in the township.

The incident, police said, sparked off riots in which Africans set fire to buildings and stoned cars and police.

Stores were gutted and looted. Rioters set fire to beer halls in their own township and burned them to the ground.

Cars on all roads to Harara a Highfields, another African township west of Salisbury, were stoned. Fire fighters worked under police protection.

Farm Issues Stressed By Candidates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The two presidential candidates bore down on the farm issue Saturday as they went back to meeting the voters after the second round of their face-to-face debate.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon flew into Wisconsin. Before a standing-room-only crowd of 5,000 in a La Crosse auditorium, he said Sen. John F. Kennedy's program of planned scarcity, as he put it, would mean black markets, farm slaughtering "and all the evils of OPA days."

VISITS KENTUCKY

Democratic presidential candidate Kennedy made another trip into Kentucky. At Bowling Green, he said the tobacco program, with its 90 per cent support price and tight production controls, is the type he would like to see extended to other farm commodities.

Kennedy said Republican candidate Nixon is a recent convert to the tobacco program.

The Democratic nominee talked on leadership and world questions when he stood before a cheering, chanting crowd of students at the University of Kentucky at Lexington. Police estimated the crowd at 10,500. In Kentucky, the minimum voting age is 18.

Here, Kennedy said the Republican leader of the nation has "not only brought us to the present peril but doesn't recognize the peril."

In assailing the Kennedy farm plan, Nixon said—as he has before—that it would bring back rigid controls with harsh penalties and fines, even jail sentences, for producers who exceed their quotas.

He also said again that Kennedy's proposals would raise consumer food prices by 25 per cent —a statement he made earlier in the week in New Jersey.

While on the road, Kennedy made public two statements—one on the farm question and the other on Africa.

On the African issue, Kennedy's statement proposed a five-point program which he said could begin "to reverse the disastrous errors and neglect of the past eight years."

He called for "a bold and imaginative new program" to help the emerging nations of the dark continent develop in freedom.

Invalid Drowns In Living Room As Flood Hits

LONDON (AP)—Torrential rains lashed the British Isles Saturday, hitting coastal shipping and sending flood waters raging through dozens of cities. At least three persons died.

William Burroughs, 78, an invalid, drowned in the living room of his home in Belfast, Northern Ireland. He was powerless to move as the flood tide rose about him. His wife found his body.

On the English east coast at Horncastle, a 70-year-old man was drowned. On the south coast, a woman of 40 was swept out to sea and drowned.

Off the Scottish west coast, the 600-ton royal mail steamer Lochiel ran onto rocks ripping a huge hole in her hull. The ship's 150 passengers took to lifeboats and were later rescued by another steamer.

Hundreds of persons were evacuated from their homes in the west of England as flood waters rose. The low-lying fenlands of the east were also badly hit.

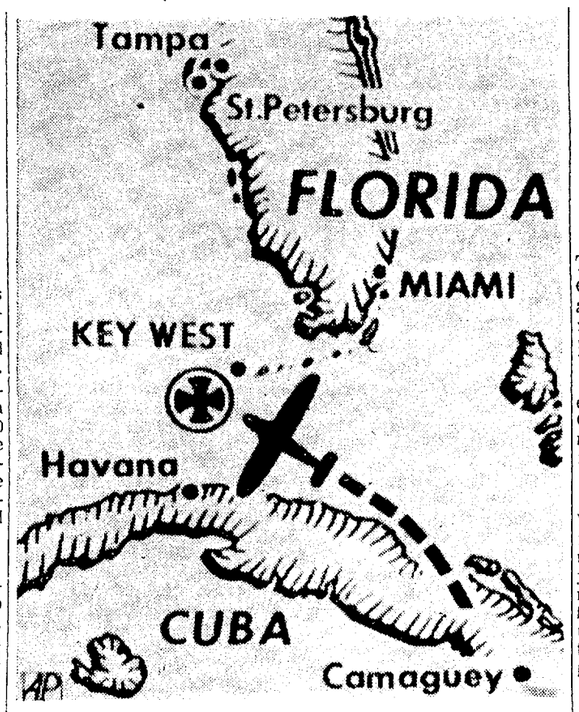

Cloudy, Mild Predicted Today

Partly cloudy skies will once again prevail on the Twin Cities weather scene as temperatures are predicted to remain mild — in the lower 80's.

The low expected tonight is in the lower 60's — about 62.

No rainfall is expected in the area.

Saturday, the temperature rose to a high of 72 in the Twin Cities. The low was 62.

Stern Note Is Delivered To Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States protested Saturday that a Cuban air force fighter plane buzzed a U.S. submarine for 37 minutes Friday only 28 miles off Key West, Fla.

A note delivered to the Cuban embassy demanded that the Fidel Castro's government take immediate steps to prevent the repetition of any such incidents.

DIVED AT SUB

State Department press officer William Blair said the U.S. submarine Balao together with an unarmed Navy S2F plane were jointly engaged in peaceful maneuvers when a Cuban Sea Fury fighter, a British-made propellor-type aircraft, "suddenly dove on them and made repeated low-level passes.

The buzzing incident occurred at midday in an area regularly used for U.S. Navy training exercises.

Blair said the Balayo was 28 miles southward of Key West. This would place the Cuban Sea Fury more than 60 miles from the closest Cuban coastline.

"The U. S. government last night protested the unwarranted, provocative flight of a Cuban air force plane which made repeated low passes in an aggressive manner over a U. S. submarine off the Florida Keys," Blair said.

This was the first incident of its kind involving a Cuban air force plane and an American submarine in international waters.

There have been several recent

Cuba Air Force Is Stepping Up Aggressive Acts

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's tiny air force has suddenly turned aggressive in guarding its coasts and surveying naval activities in international waters, after months of inactivity.

The change comes at a time when the Soviet Union has renewed promises of military assistance to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuban regime.

It raises speculations in Havana on who is actually flying the British-built Seafurys which have figured in incidents with U.S. Naval planes and submarines.

The buzzing by a Cuban plane of an American submarine took place Friday only 28 miles from the important Key West Naval Base. U. S. officials in Havana took a grave view of the incident.

In late September U. S. Navy sources said Cuban fighters had repeatedly shadowed air-sea training operations in international waters off the eastern tip of Cuba, involving ships and planes from the U. S. base at Guantanamo.

A week ago Cuban fighter planes forced down a Nicaraguan cargo plane at a still undisclosed air force base. The plane, en route from Miami, Fla., to Managua, was released after two days of inspection of its cargo and documents.

Some planes are flown by Chilean instructors under contract to Cuba. There are also unconfirmed reports that East European technicians have arrived to help train Castro forces.

12 PEDESTRIANS HURT

Woman Is Killed By Runaway Car

NEW YORK (AP) — A runaway car plunged into a throng of pedestrians at noon Saturday at 42nd Street and Fifth Avenue—sometime called the world's busiest intersection—killing a woman and injuring 12 other persons.

As pedestrians screamed in panic, three women were knocked under a bus, a sailor was tossed several feet into the air, and a woman was flung unconscious on top of the careening car.

Bloody, moaning victims were strewn about the famous intersection, as thousands of shoppers, tourists and Saturday strollers gaped in stunned horror.

Police said Morton L. Kirsch of Flushing, Queens, driver of the runaway car who lay in shock behind his wheel 40 minutes before he was removed, told them his brakes completely failed as he approached a red light at the intersection. He was driving north on Fifth.

Trying to avoid other vehicles, he plowed into the crowd of pedestrians crossing Fifth. Kirsch was hospitalized but his condition was not considered serious.

Florence Noren, 75, of Laurelton, Queens, was thrown under a bus moving east on 42nd Street. Her right hand was severed above the wrist and her right leg severed at the thigh. She died in ambulance en route to Roosevelt Hospital.

A sailor, Ross Reay, 18, of Phoenix, Ariz., attached to the

Cuban Official Says Two Rebel Leaders Seized

HAVANA (UPI)— Cuban Army Inspector General William Galvez Saturday announced the capture of the two anti-Castro rebel chiefs in the Escambray Mountains and "the group they lead."

Galvez told a cheering crowd that rebel leader Capt. Sinesio Walsh and his top aide, Lt. Elpidio Prieto are prisoners, along with their band.

"They all surrendered like cowards in the face of the aggressive attitude of the peasant militia and workers' militia directed by the revolutionary army," he said.

Galvez gave no further details on the capture except to say that it occurred Saturday.

It was not immediately clear whether he was claiming the capture of all the rebel bands in the Escambray Mountains or just of those in the particular group led by the two ex-officers of Premier Fidel Castro's Army.

Polly's Word May Avert Legal Action

LONDON (AP)—Polly, the parrot with the broken beak, wasn't talking Saturday despite a threat of legal action.

Two ladies stood by his cage waiting for just one word—the word that would identify the owner of the bird.

If it says "Hello," it instantly will be claimed by Isabella Morrison, 55.

If it says "Momma," it will be taken home by Dorothy Pretty, 49.

Right now that broken beak is holding up pronunciation of the vital word, and all the ladies can do is wait.

The trouble began when the parrot—Polly, for our purposes—flew in the window of Room 301 at a hotel in the seaside resort of Whitley Bay. Mrs. Morrison arrived at the hotel soon afterward and claimed the bird.

"That's my Mac," she said.

So she took the parrot to her home in the shipbuilding center of South Shields.

Before long Mrs. Pretty showed up, took one look at the bird and said:

"This is my Jezebel."

A heated argument broke out.

"I will not part with Mac," said Mrs. Morrison. "I know it's him because his beak is broken. He can say hello in three different ways."

"Listen, said Mrs. Pretty, "Jezebel's beak is broken too. He says Momma."

Then came the threat of legal action.

"My lawyer has written to Mrs. Morrison ordering her to return the parrot within three days," said Mrs. Pretty. "I intend to take the whole business to court unless I get Jezebel back."

Polly stayed silent during the exchange. Neighbors wondered what would happen if the bird resumed his conversational ways by saying "Hello Momma."

"They're not only supporting their own agency — they're helping support the other 12 United Fund groups," commented Donn Kurtz, executive director of UGF.

"We stay strictly within our budget, including salary and overhead," pointed out Lucille Howard, director of the Colored Community Welfare.

The budget has been taxed during the past few months, since many families were taken off Louisiana welfare rolls by state laws aimed at illegitimacy.

"We had 94 cases of people asking for help in September. One year ago, we only had about 48 cases . . . the number has doubled," she revealed.

Those who were cut off from state funds are being helped on a limited emergency scale until they find work. They are helped one time only, and this amounts to a small part of what they had received in one month's welfare check.

"I think the new welfare laws are a blessing in disguise," she said. "I've noticed an increase in marriages since the laws were enacted — they are stabilizing families, and this certainly will help the children."

She points out that everybody who was cut off the rolls is getting some help, to aid them in getting on their feet.

"We never put out cash. We provide grocery orders, prescriptions, clothing. This week I filled

Police Fire On African Rioters

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Police opened fire on African rioters in the nonwhite township of Harare outside Salisbury Saturday night. They reported six Negroes were killed and dozens injured.

Riots broke out after a white motorist knocked down an African in the township.

The incident, police said, sparked off riots in which Africans set fire to buildings and stoned cars and police.

Stores were gutted and looted. Rioters set fire to beer halls in their own township and burned them to the ground.

Cars on all roads to Harara a Highfields, another African township west of Salisbury, were stoned. Fire fighters worked under police protection.

Farm Issues Stressed By Candidates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The two presidential candidates bore down on the farm issue Saturday as they went back to meeting the voters after the second round of their face-to-face debate.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon flew into Wisconsin. Before a standing-room-only crowd of 5,000 in a La Crosse auditorium, he said Sen. John F. Kennedy's program of planned scarcity, as he put it, would mean black markets, farm slaughtering "and all the evils of OPA days."

VISITS KENTUCKY

Democratic presidential candidate Kennedy made another trip into Kentucky. At Bowling Green, he said the tobacco program, with its 90 per cent support price and tight production controls, is the type he would like to see extended to other farm commodities.

Kennedy said Republican candidate Nixon is a recent convert to the tobacco program.

The Democratic nominee talked on leadership and world questions when he stood before a cheering, chanting crowd of students at the University of Kentucky at Lexington. Police estimated the crowd at 10,500. In Kentucky, the minimum voting age is 18.

Here, Kennedy said the Republican leader of the nation has "not only brought us to the present peril but doesn't recognize the peril."

In assailing the Kennedy farm plan, Nixon said—as he has before—that it would bring back rigid controls with harsh penalties and fines, even jail sentences, for producers who exceed their quotas.

He also said again that Kennedy's proposals would raise consumer food prices by 25 per cent —a statement he made earlier in the week in New Jersey.

While on the road, Kennedy made public two statements—one on the farm question and the other on Africa.

On the African issue, Kennedy's statement proposed a five-point program which he said could begin "to reverse the disastrous errors and neglect of the past eight years."

He called for "a bold and imaginative new program" to help the emerging nations of the dark continent develop in freedom.

Invalid Drowns In Living Room As Flood Hits

LONDON (AP)—Torrential rains lashed the British Isles Saturday, hitting coastal shipping and sending flood waters raging through dozens of cities. At least three persons died.

William Burroughs, 78, an invalid, drowned in the living room of his home in Belfast, Northern Ireland. He was powerless to move as the flood tide rose about him. His wife found his body.

On the English east coast at Horncastle, a 70-year-old man was drowned. On the south coast, a woman of 40 was swept out to sea and drowned.

Off the Scottish west coast, the 600-ton royal mail steamer Lochiel ran onto rocks ripping a huge hole in her hull. The ship's 150 passengers took to lifeboats and were later rescued by another steamer.

Hundreds of persons were evacuated from their homes in the west of England as flood waters rose. The low-lying fenlands of the east were also badly hit.

Cloudy, Mild Predicted Today

Partly cloudy skies will once again prevail on the Twin Cities weather scene as temperatures are predicted to remain mild — in the lower 80's.

The low expected tonight is in the lower 60's — about 62.

No rainfall is expected in the area.

Saturday, the temperature rose to a high of 72 in the Twin Cities. The low was 62.

Stern Note Is Delivered To Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States protested Saturday that a Cuban air force fighter plane buzzed a U.S. submarine for 37 minutes Friday only 28 miles off Key West, Fla.

A note delivered to the Cuban embassy demanded that the Fidel Castro's government take immediate steps to prevent the repetition of any such incidents.

DIVED AT SUB

State Department press officer William Blair said the U.S. submarine Balao together with an unarmed Navy S2F plane were jointly engaged in peaceful maneuvers when a Cuban Sea Fury fighter, a British-made propellor-type aircraft, "suddenly dove on them and made repeated low-level passes.

The buzzing incident occurred at midday in an area regularly used for U.S. Navy training exercises.

Blair said the Balayo was 28 miles southward of Key West. This would place the Cuban Sea Fury more than 60 miles from the closest Cuban coastline.

"The U. S. government last night protested the unwarranted, provocative flight of a Cuban air force plane which made repeated low passes in an aggressive manner over a U. S. submarine off the Florida Keys," Blair said.

This was the first incident of its kind involving a Cuban air force plane and an American submarine in international waters.

There have been several recent

Cuba Air Force Is Stepping Up Aggressive Acts

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's tiny air force has suddenly turned aggressive in guarding its coasts and surveying naval activities in international waters, after months of inactivity.

The change comes at a time when the Soviet Union has renewed promises of military assistance to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuban regime.

It raises speculations in Havana on who is actually flying the British-built Seafurys which have figured in incidents with U.S. Naval planes and submarines.

The buzzing by a Cuban plane of an American submarine took place Friday only 28 miles from the important Key West Naval Base. U. S. officials in Havana took a grave view of the incident.

In late September U. S. Navy sources said Cuban fighters had repeatedly shadowed air-sea training operations in international waters off the eastern tip of Cuba, involving ships and planes from the U. S. base at Guantanamo.

A week ago Cuban fighter planes forced down a Nicaraguan cargo plane at a still undisclosed air force base. The plane, en route from Miami, Fla., to Managua, was released after two days of inspection of its cargo and documents.

Some planes are flown by Chilean instructors under contract to Cuba. There are also unconfirmed reports that East European technicians have arrived to help train Castro forces.

12 PEDESTRIANS HURT

Woman Is Killed By Runaway Car

NEW YORK (AP) — A runaway car plunged into a throng of pedestrians at noon Saturday at 42nd Street and Fifth Avenue—sometime called the world's busiest intersection—killing a woman and injuring 12 other persons.

As pedestrians screamed in panic, three women were knocked under a bus, a sailor was tossed several feet into the air, and a woman was flung unconscious on top of the careening car.

Bloody, moaning victims were strewn about the famous intersection, as thousands of shoppers, tourists and Saturday strollers gaped in stunned horror.

Police said Morton L. Kirsch of Flushing, Queens, driver of the runaway car who lay in shock behind his wheel 40 minutes before he was removed, told them his brakes completely failed as he approached a red light at the intersection. He was driving north on Fifth.

Trying to avoid other vehicles, he plowed into the crowd of pedestrians crossing Fifth. Kirsch was hospitalized but his condition was not considered serious.

Florence Noren, 75, of Laurelton, Queens, was thrown under a bus moving east on 42nd Street. Her right hand was severed above the wrist and her right leg severed at the thigh. She died in ambulance en route to Roosevelt Hospital.

Cuban Official Says Two Rebel Leaders Seized

HAVANA (UPI)— Cuban Army Inspector General William Galvez Saturday announced the capture of the two anti-Castro rebel chiefs in the Escambray Mountains and "the group they lead."

Galvez told a cheering crowd that rebel leader Capt. Sinesio Walsh and his top aide, Lt. Elpidio Prieto are prisoners, along with their band.

"They all surrendered like cowards in the face of the aggressive attitude of the peasant militia and workers' militia directed by the revolutionary army," he said.

Galvez gave no further details on the capture except to say that it occurred Saturday.

It was not immediately clear whether he was claiming the capture of all the rebel bands in the Escambray Mountains or just of those in the particular group led by the two ex-officers of Premier Fidel Castro's Army.

IN OWNERSHIP FUSS

Polly's Word May Avert Legal Action

LONDON (AP)—Polly, the parrot with the broken beak, wasn't talking Saturday despite a threat of legal action.

Two ladies stood by his cage waiting for just one word—the word that would identify the owner of the bird.

If it says "Hello," it instantly will be claimed by Isabella Morrison, 55.

If it says "Momma," it will be taken home by Dorothy Pretty, 49.

Right now that broken beak is holding up pronunciation of the vital word, and all the ladies can do is wait.

The trouble began when the parrot—Polly, for our purposes—flew in the window of Room 301 at a hotel in the seaside resort of Whitley Bay. Mrs. Morrison arrived at the hotel soon afterward and claimed the bird.

"That's my Mac," she said.

So she took the parrot to her home in the shipbuilding center of South Shields.

Before long Mrs. Pretty showed up, took one look at the bird and said:

"This is my Jezebel."

A heated argument broke out.

"I will not part with Mac," said Mrs. Morrison. "I know it's him because his beak is broken. He can say hello in three different ways."

"Listen, said Mrs. Pretty, "Jezebel's beak is broken too. He says Momma."

Then came the threat of legal action.

"My lawyer has written to Mrs. Morrison ordering her to return the parrot within three days," said Mrs. Pretty. "I intend to take the whole business to court unless I get Jezebel back."

Polly stayed silent during the exchange. Neighbors wondered what would happen if the bird resumed his conversational ways by saying "Hello Momma."

U.S. Artists Get Surprise In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Americans in Moscow are heartened—and somewhat astonished—at the warm reception U.S. artists are getting despite the cold attitude of the Soviet press to the United States.

Since the shooting down of Francis Gary Powers in the U2 plane last May 1, Soviet press, radio and television have been crammed with official denunciations of the United States.

Still Soviet citizens have been snatching up every ticket available for performances by Metropolitan Opera baritone George London, pianist Byron Janis and the American Theater Ballet of New York City.

Once inside the concert halls, the ticket holders do not sit on their hands. They applaud heartily and shouts of "bravo" ring out again and again.

Both London and Janis are first rate performers. But as an Italian journalist remarked after London's debut at the Bolshoi last month, "A lot of that applause had something to do with his country of origin."

While the American Theater Ballet has been getting somewhat less applause than London and Janis, it is more than embassy officials expected. They were afraid the American dancers, performing some modern ballets, might flop in this land of dedicated fans of classical ballet.

Janis opened Friday night and received applause such as foreign pianists haven't had for some time. "Audacious and very convincing," wrote two Moscow Conservatory of Music professors for the Soviet news agency Tass.

Janis is the last performer expected this winter under the Soviet-American exchange agreement. The only additional possibility is the University of Michgan symphonic band, on which negotiations are now being conducted.

London has been touring since Sept. 16 and winds up Monday with a Moscow concert.

Mayors Proclaim Week For DeMolay

By LYNN GARRETT
Staff Writer

A gigantic Treasure Hunt is being formulated in the Twin Cities area to raise funds for an educational project of the local DeMolay Chapter, and Oct. 9-15 has been proclaimed DeMolay Week in both Monroe and West Monroe.

The local chapter was organized in 1950. The international DeMolay organization came into being in 1911 in Kansas City, Mo., when a social worker for the Shriners, Frank Mann, saw a need for helping youth take advantage of their knowledge and education.

Mann set up the DeMolay group for boys and young men from 14-21. Although Shriners sponsor the organization, youths do not have to be the sons of Masons in order to belong.

A total of 5,000,000 belong throughout the world and education is the prime motive of the group. DeMolay also stresses citizenship and character.

On the local scene, DeMolay is seeking to raise $5,000 to send the 25 - man strong chapter, along with 3 other delegates, on an educational trip to Washington D.C., next spring.

The three non - member youths will be selected by their respective schools, one each from Ouachita High, Neville and West Monroe High, on the basis of scholarship and character.

The young men will meet the President, visit Congress and take a tour of the capitol city.

The scheduled Treasure Hunt is the group's plan for raising trip funds. To date, about 100 merchants in Monroe have agreed to cooperate, and quite a few in West Monroe.

Complete backing has also been obtained from educational leaders, city officials, civic groups, churches and the Chambers of Commerce in both cities.

Mayor J. Allen Norris of West Monroe and Mayor W. L. Howard of Monroe issued official proclamations in observance of DeMolay Week.

C. D. Blaylock, local DeMolay advisor, explained how the Treasure Hunt will work.

Cooperating merchants will purchase placards, each of which will have the name of another cooperating firm on it, along with a particular kind of marking, such as a picture of an animal or other object. From the purchase of these cards, DeMolay will derive money for the trip.

Each day, the public will be given clues through local news media as to which placard is the lucky card. The public will then scrutinize the cards, to find the one they think is lucky. Each day, the lucky card will be moved to another location.

When a citizen thinks he knows which concern is currently housing the lucky card, he registers at that store and becomes eligible for prizes.

Prizes of both merchandise and cash will be offered by the merchants.

The first ten people to register at the store holding the lucky card will receive prizes. Blaylock said the card will be set up within the next few days and the Treasure Hunt will officially begin Oct. 17.

Prior to the 17th, he added, residents may be visiting the various locations and familiarizing themselves with symbols on the different placards.

The Treasure Hunt will continue from Oct. 17 to Nov. 7. On Nov. 7, a banquet at Ouachita Parish High School will climax the event. Plans are being made for about 1,000 people to attend and hear an address by State Supt. of Education Shelby M. Jackson.

Blaylock said it is hoped the Treasure Hunt will become an annual event. The youths have made educational trips in previous years, but this is the first time such a hunt has been staged.

All those planning to make the trip must pass all their school work in order to qualify, Blaylock added.

Local leaders besides Blaylock are Frank Stadler, treasurer; Mayor J. Allan Norris, chairman of the board, and board members Carl Thompson, Gene Scott, Carl Paulos and Clifton Boyd.

DeMolay officers are Jake Evans, master counselor; Charles Blaylock, senior counselor, and Bill Stadler, junior counselor.

Blaylock stresses the fact that DeMolay places much emphasis upon initiative among its members, and pointed out that the youths bring in their own new members and promote their own projects.

"Shriners are advisors only," he added. "Our boys thought this project up by themselves and are all working hard in order that the goal may be accomplished."

EX-ARMY OFFICERS

Foes Of Castro In Prison Escape

HAVANA (AP) — The skillfully plotted escape of 15 political prisoners from ancient Morro Castle here Friday has released a group of former army officers sworn to battle Communist infiltration in Cuba's armed forces.

A comparison of the names of the escapees with those sentenced by a military tribunal last Dec. 15 shows at least 13 of the 15 are associates of Maj. Hubert Matos, formerly one of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's top aides.

Matos, Castro's former military commandant in Camaguey province and one of the revolution's leaders, is serving a 20-year sentence for treason.

If Matos' officers succeed in reaching insurgent forces operating in the mountains of central Cuba, they will give a potent boost to the bands opposing Castro.

Among those who fled Morro Castle with the help of five navy men assigned to guard them was Capt. Jesus Napoleon Becquer Gonzalez, personal aide to Matos.

The major was arrested on Castro's order in October 1959 after attempting to resign from the army in opposition to what he called Communist infiltration. The prime minister was the main witness against Matos at his military trial in Havana two months later.

After the court-martial of officers who supported Matos, the major's troops in Camaguey were scattered to other commands to avoid a possible uprising.

Anti-Castro groups have made several attempts to free Matos from a maximum security prison on the Isle of Pines, apparently with the intention of using him as a national leader against the leftist Castro regime.

On one occasion, an army captain managed to reach the final barrier outside the prison with Matos hidden in the trunk of his car, but guards found him in a search of the auto.

Military investigators began a large scale roundup of suspected counterrevolutionaries in Pinar del Rio province Friday night. Several women were among those arrested.

Soviets Decide To Delay Trial Of U. S. Fliers

LONDON (UPI)—The Kremlin was reported Saturday to have postponed, perhaps indefinitely, the trial of the two captured American RB47 fliers. The reports were based on diplomatic dispatches arriving here from Moscow.

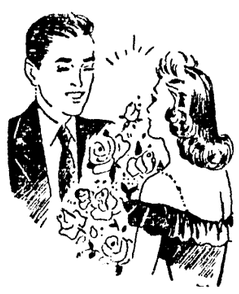

They said that early plans to bring the two men to trial after their plane was shot down by the Russians last July had failed, apparently because the Russians had not managed to extract a "confession" of guilt from the two crew members.

Although the Russians have maintained official silence concerning the RB47, diplomatic reports said that the Russians were marking time on bringing the men to trial.

Apparently they have found the case a harder one to crack than that of the U2 reconnaissance plane. Its pilot, Francis Gary Powers, confessed flying his plane over military installations when downed in Soviet territory last May 1.

But the absence of a plea of guilty by Capt. John Richard McKone, 28, Tonganoxie, Kan., and Capt. Freeman Bruce Olmstead, 24, of Elmira, N.Y. has made it difficult for the Russian authorities to put them on public trial.

The RB47 was shot down over the Barents Sea last July 1. The Russians claim that it was over Soviet territorial waters. The United States, backed by Britain, protested the downing on the grounds that it was shot down deliberately outside Russian territory.

two prescriptions for a woman whose husband left her when she took sick. She has five children to care for."

She noted two other cases of invalids given emergency help by Colored Community Welfare. One is a 17-year-old boy. His stepfather is hopelessly ill. The family has five other children. Only the invalid boy was cut off the welfare rolls. In the other case, the mother of a polio invalid was cut off the rolls and stands little chance of re-instatement.

"One woman has 12 children. She is mentally ill. She can work and clean house, but nobody will keep her as an employee. Seven of her children are in school — she was getting $155 per month from the welfare. We paid $25 on her rent and gave her $10 worth of food," Lucille notes.

"I just wish I could give more to United Fund," she adds. She contributes monthly, out of her $100 paycheck . . . and also cares for her sick husband and two teenage granddaughters.

From January to July, the agency investigated and helped 298 cases with food and prescriptions — twice that many requests which were ineligible for aid were received.

Seven tickets were purchased for transients. Two persons brought in by the police were helped, as well as three persons passing through town.

With the aid of the Junior Charity League, milk was provided for three families. Twenty - seven prescriptions were filled. Six pints of blood were provided for Conway Memorial hospital.

Fourteen pairs of new shoes were given children, and $44 arranged a child's funeral. Employment was found for six persons.

Nearly 1000 articles of clothing were given out. "We've had more than 500 requests for clothing this week," said Lucille, who despite her 70-plus years walks all over the city to bring in donations of clothing.

In some special cases, Colored Community Welfare has placed children temporarily in the parish detention home when home conditions required it. A ticket was furnished one lad to return to his home of Laurel, Miss. Another, who became ill while working here, was returned home to Many.

"The juvenile officers bring children here, and I supervise their probation," Lucille reveals.

She spoke of the need for day care centers. Colored Community Welfare hopes to look into the possibilities for such centers early in 1961.

Mothers who need to work to support their children would place the youngsters under school age in the centers during the day while they work.

be on display. The influence of the space age will be felt when the Human Satellite, Zachinni, will be shot from a cannon nightly.

Competition is expected to be heavy in the corn show, ceramics division, poultry show, livestock section, sewing and canning division, potato section and many others.

Members of the West Monroe Civitan Club will be handling gate receipts and ticket sales as they have for several years. Civitans use their proceeds to go into their project fund.

Thursday will be Underprivileged Children's Day, and children from the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home, Cerebral Palsy, Retarded Children and the Louisiana Training Institute will be admitted free and will ride all carnival rides free.

Friday from 1 to 6 p.m., and all day Saturday, rides for all children will be reduced as in the past.

The quarterhorse show will be held Saturday.

The Ouachita Valley Fair dating back to 1932 has been an annual event except for three years during World War II when German prisoners were quartered on the grounds.

The county fair is a link with the past, when distant neighbors came together at harvest time to trade and visit.

reports of Cuban fighter planes approaching commercial airliners in the vicinity of Cuba.

The Balao reported that the airplane had a silver-colored fuselage, an orange propeller and blue and white markings on the tail, and carried the number 510.

The report said there were scattered rain squalls in the area at the time but the spot where the submarine was buzzed was clear. The plane, after making the series of low-level and diving runs over the ship, disappeared into a rain squall.

The Balao is part of a group of submarines based at Key West which are used in training and research work.

The Balao is an old vessel launched in October 1952. She is now attached to the Navy sonar school at Key West, used as a sound detection target.

The Pentagon identified the skipper of the Balao as Lt. Cmdr. Frank A. Harmer of Key West, Fla., a native of Glenside, Pa.

Accidents Take Lives Of Two

By United Press International

Traffic accidents took at least two lives during the weekend in Mississippi, a United Press Internatonal survey showed Saturday.

Vance Reynolds, 19, of Holly Springs was killed Friday night when the car in which he was riding veered off State Highway 4 near Holly Springs and crashed into a bridge abutment.

A pile-up of seven cars returning from the Yazoo City-Greenwood game killed Martha Taylor, 17, of Greenwood Friday night on U.S. 49-E near Greenwood.

Accept Pay Increases

LONDON (AP) — Britain's 40,000 hospital and family doctors have voted to accept pay increases averaging $1,260 a year. The raise from the state-run health service will make the average physician's salary $6,790.

AT RUSTON

Centenarian Is Still Alert

By TOM HERLINE
Staff Correspondent

RUSTON — Dan Snipes celebrated his 100th birthday Wednesday, but it was just another day to him. In fact, he didn't even get a cake.

And if his family hadn't let the word out, no one probably would have known it, for his looks and bearing are that of a much younger man. Snipes looks more like a man of 60 than he does a centenarian. But he is probaby the oldest white man in Lincoln or Jackson Parish.

When reminded of his birthday, Snipes remarked, "I'm going to do my best to make another hundred years. I eat and sleep hearty and have no notion of dying."

He thinks nothing of getting into his pickup truck and driving down a narrow, twisting trail to the road into Ruston. He has all his teeth and although he complains about not being able to see to drive at night, he still does not need eyeglasses. His grip in a handshake is steady and firm.

"I will eat anything you put on the table," the alert oldster said. "But I love hog meat better than anything in the world."

Snipes and his sister - in - law, Ella Pye, who keeps house for him, had eight hogs killed on Tuesday of this week. Snipes helped cut them up and put them in the home freezer.

Born in Thomas County Georgia on October 5, 1860, Snipes recalls General Sherman's march through the South. He remembers having helped the Yankee troops catch his mother's chickens. When she protested at the Northerners taking all her good horses, they left her a old, skinny mare in ill health.

"Mother kept that horse for over 12 years after the war," he recalled.

During his hundred - year life span, Snipes has never worked as hired labor for any period of time. During his younger years (before he was 50) he drove a mule and a covered wagon around the Southern United States from logging camp to logging camp, where he would set up a blacksmith shop.

After he came to Louisiana in 1906, he met Roxie Pye, the daughter of A. D. Pye, and in 1910, at the age of 50, he married her.

The couple had seven children, six boys and a girl, and several of the children live in the area today.

One son, Daniel, lives with him in Jackson Parish, south of Ruston. Ed and King Snipes are residents of the area.

After Snipes settled down near here, on a farm which he calls "the plantation," he set up a sawmill. With lumber he sawed from the mill he added numerous rooms to the one - room house he and Roxie moved into in 1910. Some of the planks are over two feet wide.

With his earnings from the mill, he put his six sons and daughter through high school, and sent two through college.

Times have changed somewhat for the oldster. Nowadays when he gets up, the first thing he does is turn on the television set. He keeps up with the news broadcasts, but had no opinion on the outcome of the upcoming presidential election.

These days, Dan spends his time peddling vegetables from his farm to folks around the area, driving his pickup truck from house to house. Every afternoon he drives down the narrow twisting trail from his house to where the school bus turns around and picks up his two grandchildren, Dan and Norman Snipes.

At home, Snipes' favorite spot around the house is an old wooden rocker that sits before the front porch railing on the gallery.

Longevity seems to run in Snipes' family. His grandfather, B. Connell, lived to be 107 years old. His father might have lived longer, but a Yankee cannon ripped him badly in the Civil War and he died at 65. His younger brother died last March in Vidalia, Ga., at the age of 96. His baby sister is 92 years old and still going strong in Vidalia.

Snipes couldn't recall just how many grandchildren he had, but he remembered a recent family reunion where 73 persons were present, and only one child was not kin to him.

At 100 years of age, Snipes is an active member of the Longstraw Baptist Church.

He attributed his long life to habitual slow pace. "If a man lives too fast he gets through too quickly,' he commented. "As a youngster I was a wild one, and I have drunk plenty of whiskey, but I never got in a hurry.'

Snipes' wife died about a year ago, and since that time he, his sister - in - law and his son have lived on in the old house where he has spent the last half of his life.

In 1936, Snipes was shot twice in the stomach by a neighbor following an agrument over a fence. He recounted that the neighbor hit his horse with one shot and then shot him in the left side.

"I asked him why he shot me, and he put a pistol bullet through the other side," he recalled. "I didn't wait around for the next shot."

Snipes has been in good health for most of his life, but he did have a heart attack in 1949 which left him in a coma for 20 days. But he has recovered completely from that siege.

"I never did get much education," he remarked. "I had to go three and a half miles and eat a cold dinner, so I just quit."

Snipes said he ran his sawmill until "the government started telling me what to do."

"I kept on running the mill until the man from the Government said I had to go into partnership with Uncle Sam, so I just quit althogether."

CENTENARIAN Dan Snipes, Ruston, celebrated his 100th birthday Wednesday. He said, when reminded of his birthday and asked how his appetite is, "I'll eat anything you put on the table!"

Born in Thomas County Georgia on October 5, 1860, Snipes recalls General Sherman's march through the South. He remembers having helped the Yankee troops catch his mother's chickens. When she protested at the Northerners taking all her good horses, they left her a old, skinny mare in ill health.

"Mother kept that horse for over 12 years after the war," he recalled.

During his hundred - year life span, Snipes has never worked as hired labor for any period of time. During his younger years (before he was 50) he drove a mule and a covered wagon around the Southern United States from logging camp to logging camp, where he would set up a blacksmith shop.

After he came to Louisiana in 1906, he met Roxie Pye, the daughter of A. D. Pye, and in 1910, at the age of 50, he married her.

The couple had seven children, six boys and a girl, and several of the children live in the area today.

One son, Daniel, lives with him in Jackson Parish, south of Ruston. Ed and King Snipes are residents of the area.

After Snipes settled down near here, on a farm which he calls "the plantation," he set up a sawmill. With lumber he sawed from the mill he added numerous rooms to the one - room house he and Roxie moved into in 1910. Some of the planks are over two feet wide.

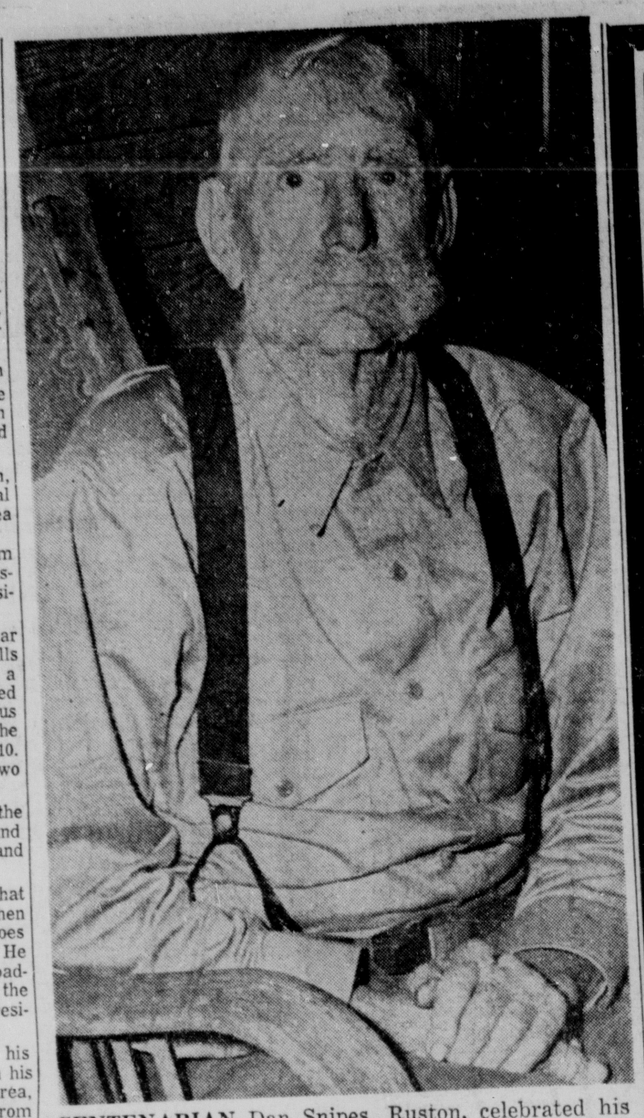

With his earnings from the mill, he put his six sons and daughter through high school, and sent two through college.

Times have changed somewhat for the oldster. Nowadays when he gets up, the first thing he does is turn on the television set. He keeps up with the news broadcasts, but had no opinion on the outcome of the upcoming presidential election.

These days, Dan spends his time peddling vegetables from his farm to folks around the area, driving his pickup truck from house to house. Every afternoon he drives down the narrow twisting trail from his house to where the school bus turns around and picks up his two grandchildren, Dan and Norman Snipes.

At home, Snipes' favorite spot around the house is an old wooden rocker that sits before the front porch railing on the gallery.

Longevity seems to run in Snipes' family. His grandfather, B. Connell, lived to be 107 years old. His father might have lived longer, but a Yankee cannon ripped him badly in the Civil War and he died at 65. His younger brother died last March in Vidalia, Ga., at the age of 96. His baby sister is 92 years old and still going strong in Vidalia.

CENTENARIAN Dan Snipes, Ruston, celebrated his 100th birthday Wednesday. He said, when reminded of his birthday and asked how his appetite is, "I'll eat anything you put on the table!"

Snipes couldn't recall just how many grandchildren he had, but he remembered a recent family reunion where 73 persons were present, and only one child was not kin to him.

At 100 years of age, Snipes is an active member of the Longstraw Baptist Church.

He attributed his long life to habitual slow pace. "If a man lives too fast he gets through too quickly,' he commented. "As a youngster I was a wild one, and I have drunk plenty of whiskey, but I never got in a hurry.'

Snipes' wife died about a year ago, and since that time he, his sister - in - law and his son have lived on in the old house where he has spent the last half of his life.

In 1936, Snipes was shot twice in the stomach by a neighbor following an agrument over a fence. He recounted that the neighbor hit his horse with one shot and then shot him in the left side.

"I asked him why he shot me, and he put a pistol bullet through the other side," he recalled. "I didn't wait around for the next shot."

Snipes has been in good health for most of his life, but he did have a heart attack in 1949 which left him in a coma for 20 days. But he has recovered completely from that siege.

"I never did get much education," he remarked. "I had to go three and a half miles and eat a cold dinner, so I just quit."

Snipes said he ran his sawmill until "the government started telling me what to do."

"I kept on running the mill until the man from the Government said I had to go into partnership with Uncle Sam, so I just quit althogether."

WET AND DRY holes dot a single block of Cotton Street only a few blocks from West Monroe's business section and directly off Highway 80. City officials explained that the street is used by heavy trucks and indicated repairs are not needed. However, the city has announced its intention to keep up present streets until its street program begins next year. (Staff Photo by John Fogleman.)

By JOHN TARVER
Staff Writer

Street improvements in West Monroe yesterday remained at approximately the same point as recorded a month ago at the city council's last meeting, although officials indicated recently that maintenance of existing streets was necessary if future paving is to be done wthout tearing up the entire roadbed.

However, maintenance work appears at a minimum over the last few weeks.

City officials have stated that comprehensive street improvement program will be further delayed some 90 days for legal waiting periods following official actions. The program won't get underway until possibly sometime next spring, they said.

Meanwhile, streets such as Cotton Street, described by city officials as "not a thoroughfare," remain spotted with breaks and deep holes, most of which defy auto passage.

Street department spokesmen recently termed Cotton Street a route used only by heavy trucks bound for industrial firms in the area.

However, the spokesmen failed to explain the apparent conflict between the constant heavy traffic on the street and the city's acknowledged intention to maintain its present street surfaces until the improvement program begins next year.

While the city is waiting due to legal delays to begin its all-out improvement program, many streets throughout the city lack even spot repairs which possibly could end the hazard a motorist driving the legal speed limit encounters due to ripping, jolting craters in the streets' surfaces.

The department is now engaged in more repair work on South Fifth Street where several holes have appeared in the surface of paving undertaken last April.

City workmen cleaned out the last of some four breaks in the pavement Wednesday afternoon, but asphalt had not been poured at the spot by late yesterday.

In other areas of street maintenance, the department cleared up a blind corner at Eleventh and Shaw and mowed weeds from the street and entrance to a Boy Scout hut just off Vernon Street.

Both actions came after the Morning World noted that complaints had been made concerning the hazards and inconvenience posed by the two locations.

A stop sign on Eleventh Street at Shaw which was completely hidden by a cluster of pine saplings at the corner is now visible after the limbs of the small pines were trimmed.

The corner was described by one disgruntled resident as the "best place in West Monroe to get killed."

Other stop signs, apparently neglected by the city, were noted on a spot inspection yesterday on Eleventh and just off Seventh north of the West Monroe Junior High School.

One of the signs, located at the corner of Eleventh and the 1100 block of Wilson Street, is entirely void of any paint or marking.

The state driving handbook identifies stop signs as "octagon-shaped (eight-sided) signs."

"They are red signs with letters STOP in white."

However, the Wilson Street stop sign has neither red paint nor any letters. Only its eight-sided shape identifies it as a stop sign.

And just off Seventh Street, another sign bears the marks of either an auto accident or vandalism, for it is bent even with the ground, with the face down.

The Seventh Street sign is on a new street leading to one of West Monroe's newest subdivisions.

The city council meets in the court room of the City Hall Tuesday at 7 p.m. for its regular October meeting.

Lodge Asserts Sen. Kennedy Misquotes Him

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge emphasized anew Saturday his contention that Sen. John F. Kennedy "totally misstated my position on the U2 case" during Friday night's nationally televised debate with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

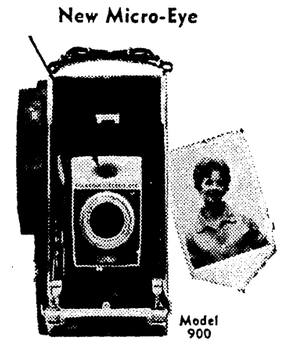

Lodge, Nixon's running mate on the Republican ticket, was questioned about the matter when he arrived by plane from Seattle to campaign in California, the native state of the GOP presidential nominee.

During Friday night's debate, Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, said: "Mr. Lodge, on 'Meet the Press' a month ago, said if ever there was a case when we did not have the law on our side it was in the U2 incident (the reconnaissance flight over the Soviet Union which ended in the crash of the plane and capture of pilot Francis Gary Powers)."

In Seattle, Lodge said: "Sen. Kennedy totally misstated my position on the U2 case when he stated tonight (Friday night) that I had said that our legal position was weak. I never said any such thing."

Balubas Spread Katanga Terror

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—White residents took refuge Saturday in the two hotels of the cotton growing center of Kabalo as Baluba tribesmen intensified their rebellion against the Katanga government.

Tribal rebels have been moving in and around Kabalo—some 400 miles north of here—and at one stage they occupied the airfield and a big cotton mill outside of town, a government spokesman said.

(The Baluba upsurge against Premier Moise Tshombe's government in north and central Katanga was reported by Brussels radio Friday which said 40 tribesmen had been killed in a single clash.)

At Kabalo the rebels looted and burned the mill but were forced from the air field by a detachment of U. N. troops, the spokesmen said. After the scare, the white employes of the mill fled into town for sanctuary and are being protected by the United Nations.

There are about 20 or 30 whites in Kabalo, according to the spokesman.

In the upsurge of Baluba unrest in the past two days, three Katanga soldiers have been killed, eight missing, including a number of whites. The dead included a Belgian noncommissioned officer of the Katanga army.

The rebel Balubas ambushed army patrols in the Bukama and Mitwaba areas of Katanga's central lake district but the rmy claimed to have killed and wounded a considerable number of tribesmen.

Around Kabalo, missing people include the local African territorial administrative officer, his assistant and three policemen.

Three police, captured by tribemen, escaped and reported seeing the body of one white man. Four Belgian civilians are still reported missing.

To Produce Diamonds

LONDON (AP) — Large-scale production of synthetic diamonds will start soon in South Africa to offset losses of natural supplies in the Congo, says diamond magnate Harry Oppenheimer. The plant will be run by De Beers Consolidated Mines, an Oppenheimer company.

Alumni Name Carter Head At Meeting

Roland Carter of West Monroe was re - elected to head the Northeast Louisiana State College Alumni Association at yesterday's morning session of the organization.

Chosen for the vice presidency was Raymond Masling of Farmerville, member of the 1934 class, who succeeds James H. Boone of Monroe. James Willard Beaver, local businessman, also was nominated for the office. H. Kirt Touchstone, Jr., who had been chosen a candidate by the nominating committee, withdrew his name from the slate before the meeting.

Carter, member of the 1953 graduating class, won over Fred Huenfeld, Jr. and Charles Pippin, both local men.

Besides filling these top posts, alumni voted on representatives from fifteen parishes to make up the board of directors.

Each of these parishes will be represented by one member with exception of Ouachita Parish, which will have six members.

Elected from the following parishes are: Mrs. Clarice Dickson Kenny, Caldwell; Mrs. Joe Ann Busswell Edwards, Catahoula; Mrs. Lorraine Quimby, Concordia; Mrs. Thelma Parsons Clement, East Carroll; Sonny Stevens, Franklin; Billy Busbice, Jackson; Lloyd Ray Duke, LaSalle; Doyle Centerbury, Madison; Woodrow Wilson, Morehouse; Marshall McDonald, Charles Traylor, Donald Thames, James Willard Beaver, Jonnie Parkerson and Sam Rubin, Jr., Ouachita; Emmett Brown, Richland; Mrs. Wenonah Netterville, Tensas.

Dale Meachum, Union; Arlon Essie Adams, West Carroll; and Austin L. Abrams, Winn.

Reports at the meeting indicated growth in the Alumni Scholarship committee's finances, and prospects of alumni chapters being formed in area towns, including Shreveport, Bastrop and Tallulah.

Mrs. Dell Lassiter, editor of alumni publications, presented Northeast's president, Dr. George T. Walker, who stressed the growth of college enrollment, faculty and physical plants.

He pointed out that the enrollment has doubled in the last six years, and that the beginning freshman class has grown from 712 last fall to 848 during the current semester.

The faculty includes approximately 160 members. The State Board of Education reports that Northeast has a larger percentage of instructors holding doctorate degrees than other state colleges except two, he said.

The board has approved the naming of thirteen campus buildings, the president told the group.

Expansion of the college increases the need of a new library, a gymnasium for men, and additional land, he added.

WINNING TOP posts in the Northeast State Alumni Association are Roland Carter of West Monroe, right, who succeeds himself as president, and Raymond Masling of Farmerville who was elected vice president at yesterday's business session during Homecoming activities. Coon Speaks On Arson, Serves Panel

John E. Coon, of Monroe, Louisiana's fire marshal and former Mayor of the City of Monroe, returns this weekend from Washington, D. C. where he addressed a convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and served on a panel discussion on arson.

The international conference, which was attended by chiefs of police from major cities in North America, was held October 1 through 6.

The convention was addressed by President Eisenhower and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who were special guests of the convention.

This year's convention of the police chiefs marked the 67th annual such meeting of the executive heads of the metropolitan police departments.

The arson panel on which Coon served was moderated by Herbert C. Watson, of Denver, Colo., who is a special agent of the National Board of Fire underwriters. Others serving on the panel, in addition to Coon, were James E. Childers, police chief of Denver, Colo.; Carl A. Shaver, chief at Albuquerque, N. Mex. and Martin Scott, chief fire marshal with the fire department in New York City.

Coon was expected to arrive back at his office in New Orleans Saturday and will possibly return to his home in Monroe over the weekend.

Supper Planned

The Monroe Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters, will have a covered dish supper at 7:30 Monday night in Castle Hall, 127½ St. John St. The regular meeting will be held following the supper.

Management Meet Scheduled At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Dr. Leon C. Megginson, professor of management, and assistant to the dean of the college of Business Administration at Louisiana State University, will act as chairman of one of the panels at the 8th annual Personnel Management Conference scheduled here Oct. 20-21, it has been announced by Miller Lee Martin, general chairman.

The topic for discussion of Dr. Megginson's panel, "Motivation" is one of a series of subjects to be covered in the conference that will deal with personnel management problems of government and private industry.

Other members of the panel are Dr. Irwin A. Berg, professor and chairman of the Department of Psychology at LSU; and Robert C. Schmidt, director of industrial and community relations, Copolymer Rubber and Chemical Corp., Baton Rouge.

Alumni Name Carter Head At Meeting

Roland Carter of West Monroe was re - elected to head the Northeast Louisiana State College Alumni Association at yesterday's morning session of the organization.

Chosen for the vice presidency was Raymond Masling of Farmerville, member of the 1934 class, who succeeds James H. Boone of Monroe. James Willard Beaver, local businessman, also was nominated for the office. H. Kirt Touchstone, Jr., who had been chosen a candidate by the nominating committee, withdrew his name from the slate before the meeting.

Carter, member of the 1953 graduating class, won over Fred Huenfeld, Jr. and Charles Pippin, both local men.

Besides filling these top posts, alumni voted on representatives from fifteen parishes to make up the board of directors.

Each of these parishes will be represented by one member with exception of Ouachita Parish, which will have six members.

Elected from the following parishes are: Mrs. Clarice Dickson Kenny, Caldwell; Mrs. Joe Ann Busswell Edwards, Catahoula; Mrs. Lorraine Quimby, Concordia; Mrs. Thelma Parsons Clement, East Carroll; Sonny Stevens, Franklin; Billy Busbice, Jackson; Lloyd Ray Duke, LaSalle; Doyle Centerbury, Madison; Woodrow Wilson, Morehouse; Marshall McDonald, Charles Traylor, Donald Thames, James Willard Beaver, Jonnie Parkerson and Sam Rubin, Jr., Ouachita; Emmett Brown, Richland; Mrs. Wenonah Netterville, Tensas.

Dale Meachum, Union; Arlon Essie Adams, West Carroll; and Austin L. Abrams, Winn.

Reports at the meeting indicated growth in the Alumni Scholarship committee's finances, and prospects of alumni chapters being formed in area towns, including Shreveport, Bastrop and Tallulah.

Mrs. Dell Lassiter, editor of alumni publications, presented Northeast's president, Dr. George T. Walker, who stressed the growth of college enrollment, faculty and physical plants.

He pointed out that the enrollment has doubled in the last six years, and that the beginning freshman class has grown from 712 last fall to 848 during the current semester.

The faculty includes approximately 160 members. The State Board of Education reports that Northeast has a larger percentage of instructors holding doctorate degrees than other state colleges except two, he said.

The board has approved the naming of thirteen campus buildings, the president told the group.

Expansion of the college increases the need of a new library, a gymnasium for men, and additional land, he added.

WINNING TOP posts in the Northeast State Alumni Association are Roland Carter of West Monroe, right, who succeeds himself as president, and Raymond Masling of Farmerville who was elected vice president at yesterday's business session during Homecoming activities. MAP SUMMARY

A weak low pressure system over northwestern Mississippi and a stationary front in the Carolinas provided the necessary ingredients for an extensive area of thundershowers, showers, rain and drizzle late Saturday from the central Mississippi valley into much of the Carolinas and sections of the middle Atlantic states. Scattered showers in the southeastern states were diminishing in early evening. Earlier a small tornado was sighted in northeastern Alabama while hail and 1.08 inches of precipitation pelted Knoxville, Tennessee. Orlando, Florida, received 1.13 inches and Tupelo, Mississippi, 1.18 inches of moisture in thunderstorms during the afternoon. Scattered showers also persisted in the plateau states and portions of the northern Rockies and the Pacific northwest with some snow flurries at higher elevations from Oregon to Montana and thunderstorms in Arizona as cooler air continued to move into the northwestern plains and most areas west of the Rockies.

Mostly sunny skies ranged across the mid-section of the country with temperatures on the mild to warm side. Late afternoon and early evening readings were near the 90-degree mark over portions of the west Texas and eastern New Mexico. The 80's extended from the desert southwest to the central Rockies and the western Dakotas and along the Gulf coast from Texas to southern Florida. The 70's were general over eastern sections of the plains and the northern portions of the southern tier of states. Readings near the 60-degree mark were common from the Great Lakes into New England with 50's from North Carolina into the northern Appalachians, the 50's and high 40's were also general over the northwestern corner of the nation.

On Sunday, showers or occasional rain are forecast over most of the region from the lower Ohio Valley into the middle Atlantic states, spreading into southwestern New England by evening, with scattered showers over the southeastern states. It will be slightly warmer in the Carolinas, much of the southern Great Plains and from the middle Mississippi valley into the central Great Lakes. It will be cooler from the upper Mississippi Valley, the central great plains and the southern Rockies westward with much cooler temperatures in the Dakotas and the southern plateau. Scattered showers are likely in the northern plains and much of the plateau with a few thundershowers in the southern Rockies and snow flurries in the western Dakotas and at higher elevations in the Rockies.

Dystrophy Drive Set In November

Robert W. Kostelka, a Monroe attorney, has been named chairman of the 1960 muscular dystrophy drive in Ouachita Parish, it was annnounced yesterday.

Assisting Kostelka as West Monroe co-chairman will be John S. C. Massey, a West Monroe attorney.

Kostelka, in accepting the chairmanship, said plans are being made now to kick-off the muscular dystrophy drive during the month of November.

"I can't think of a worthier cause that I would be connected with," Kostelka said.

Plans at present call for several house - to - house drives, in addition to a downtown drive conducted by the Neville High School Tigerettes.

Kostelka said details of the numerous efforts would be announced later when the program is completely worked out.

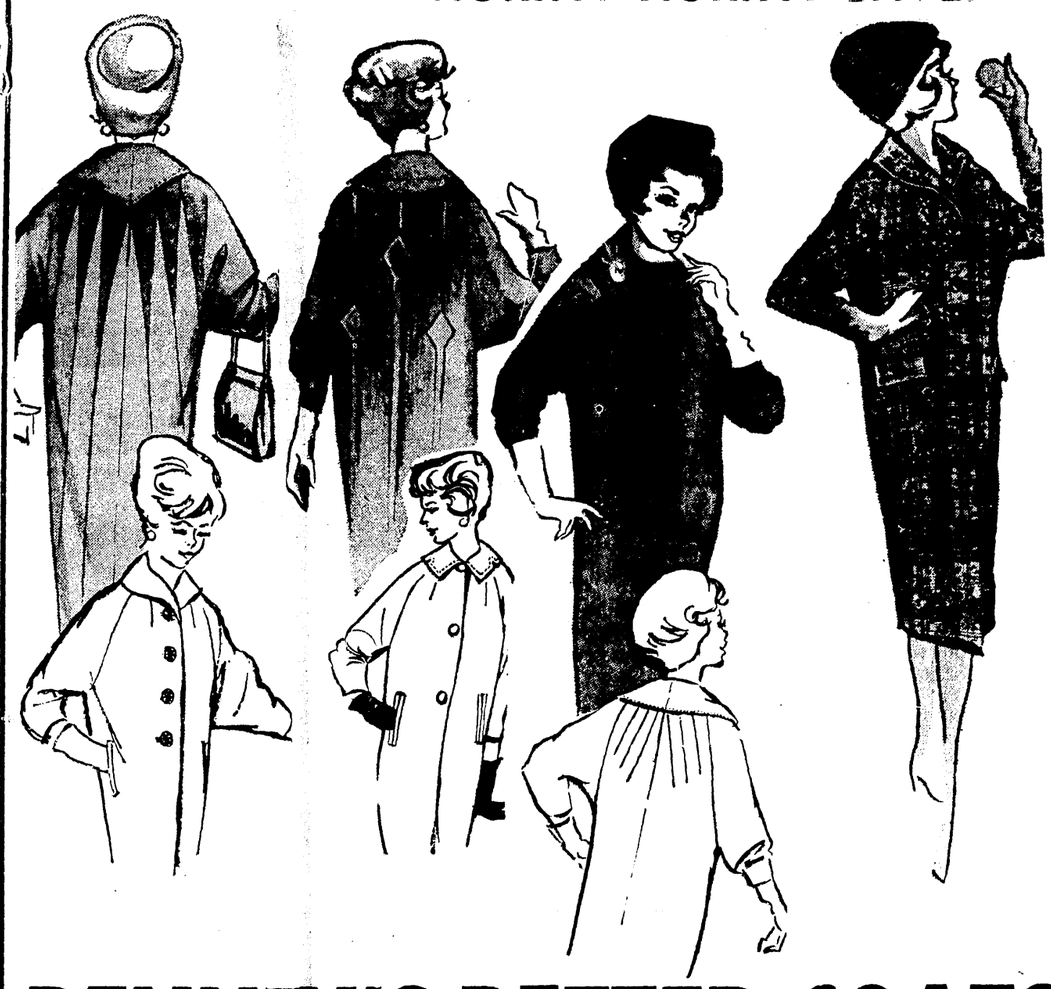

Meantime, he said volunteer workers would be welcomed, explaining that persons interested in working with the program should contact either Kostelka or Massey.

Volunteer workers also can write Muscular Dystrophy, P. O. Box 1158, Monroe.

The 80's extended from the desert southwest to the central Rockies and the western Dakotas and along the Gulf coast from Texas to southern Florida. The 70's were general over eastern sections of the plains and the northern portions of the southern tier of states. Readings near the 60-degree mark were common from the Great Lakes into New England with 50's from North Carolina into the northern Appalachians, the 50's and high 40's were also general over the northwestern corner of the nation.

On Sunday, showers or occasional rain are forecast over most of the region from the lower Ohio Valley into the middle Atlantic states, spreading into southwestern New England by evening, with scattered showers over the southeastern states. It will be slightly warmer in the Carolinas, much of the southern Great Plains and from the middle Mississippi valley into the central Great Lakes. It will be cooler from the upper Mississippi Valley, the central great plains and the southern Rockies westward with much cooler temperatures in the Dakotas and the southern plateau. Scattered showers are likely in the northern plains and much of the plateau with a few thundershowers in the southern Rockies and snow flurries in the western Dakotas and at higher elevations in the Rockies.

Minister's Rites Held

PINEILLE, La. (AP)—Funeral services were held Saturday for the Rev. Otto Whittington, 45, education minister of the First Baptist Church here.

The Rev. Mr. Whittington was stricken with a fatal heart attack Thursday while playing golf.

DEATHS

Carolyn Jo Wilson

WISNER (Special) — Graveside funeral services for Miss Carolyn Jo Wilson, 17, will be held at 2:30 p.m. today at the Holly Grove Cemetery near here.

The Rev. Paul Durbin and the Rev. Wilson will officiate and burial will be under the direction of Hartman Funeral Home of Brookhaven, Miss.

Carolyn, a senior at Wisner High School, died Friday afternoon in a Monroe hospital.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilson, Wisner; one brother, Roy Wilson, West Monroe and one sister, Miss Lynteen Wilson, Pineville.

A. A. Evans

WINNSBORO (Special) — Aaron Albert Evans, 76, died early Saturday morning at a local clinic following a long illness.

He was a native of Franklin Parish, a farmer in the early part of his life and for a number of years, custodian of the Franklin Parish court house.

Funeral services will be held at the Temple Baptist Church here at 2 p.m. today with the Rev. Joe Mongle officiating. Interment will be in the Memorial Park Cemetery in Monroe under the direction of the First National Funeral Home of Winnsboro.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Snowflake Coyle Evans, Winnsboro; one son, Lawrence Evans, Bay Town, Tex.; one brother, Joe S. Evans, Winnsboro; one sister, Mrs. Sam Summers, Baskin and one granddaughter.

Pallbearers will be Elmer Wilson, J. T. Nelson, Morris Keys, Roger Mashon, Homer Ellerman, and Shirley Bradley.

Receives Baby Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Charles L. Kessler of Richmond, Va., gave Mrs. John F. Kennedy a gaily wrapped gift for her expected baby. Mrs. Kennedy found inside a tiny silver cup. It was engraved "president's baby."

Dystrophy Drive Set In November

Robert W. Kostelka, a Monroe attorney, has been named chairman of the 1960 muscular dystrophy drive in Ouachita Parish, it was annnounced yesterday.

Assisting Kostelka as West Monroe co-chairman will be John S. C. Massey, a West Monroe attorney.

Kostelka, in accepting the chairmanship, said plans are being made now to kick-off the muscular dystrophy drive during the month of November.

"I can't think of a worthier cause that I would be connected with," Kostelka said.

Plans at present call for several house - to - house drives, in addition to a downtown drive conducted by the Neville High School Tigerettes.

Kostelka said details of the numerous efforts would be announced later when the program is completely worked out.

Meantime, he said volunteer workers would be welcomed, explaining that persons interested in working with the program should contact either Kostelka or Massey.

Volunteer workers also can write Muscular Dystrophy, P. O. Box 1158, Monroe.

Mule And Car Clash In City Traffic

The good old days of the horse and buggy and the modern age of automation clashed yesterday when a wagon pulled by a run-away mule crashed into Monroe motorist's car on South 3rd Street.

Mrs. Francis T. Stewart, 20, 13A, George Breece Apartments, Monroe was driving north on South 3rd about 1:45 p.m. when she glanced in her rear view mirror and saw a wagon pulled by a run-away mule, gaining fast.

She pulled to the curb and stopped.

The mule ran off the street, made a wide arc across a vacant lot on the opposite side of the street, then ran directly toward Mrs. Stewart's parked car. The wagon side swiped the left front fender of her vehicle.

Sam Head, Negro, 609 Miller St., Monroe, owner of the mule and wagon told investigating officers he had tied the animal near the intersection of South 3rd Street and the Winnsboro Road while he went into a store.

He said a dog started barking and "spooked" the mule, causing him to break away. The mule whirled and took off down South 3rd Street with the wagon, according to Head. He said he gave chase, but was outdistanced.

The collision took place at the South 3rd, Morris Street intersection. Mrs. Stewart told investigators she did not realize the wagon was going to strike her auto until it was about five feet away.

Officers filed no charges in the case. Mrs. Stewart's auto reportedly suffered about $35 damages.

The wagon was not damaged. The mule was apprehended by Head shortly after the collision.

Three Negroes Arrested After Rash Of Fights

Three Negroes were arrested on aggravated battery charges and one for possessing a dangerous weapon as Monroe police broke up a number of widespread fights through the city yesterday.

Arrested for battery were James E. Thomas, 19, 3415 Halsell St., Monroe, Ruby Degeyter, 26, who lives behind the levee at 4200 South Grand Street, Monroe, and Arthur Long, 24, 3105 Gayton St., Monroe.

Jimmie Johnson, 22, 4005 Barlow St., Monroe was arrested, charged with being drunk and disorderly and possessing a knife. He was arrested at the intersection of Renwick and Griffin Streets about 4:30 a.m.

The Degeyter woman was picked up at her home after being involved in a fracas. Thomas was arrested at his neighbar's house and Long at a local Negro bar.

McBeth Service Slated Monday

SHREVEPORT (Special) — Funeral services will be held Monday for a former Shreveport resident, William Walter McBeth, 41, of Orlando, Fla., who died in an Orlando Hospital Wednesday.

He was assistant manager of a insurance company and had been a lifelong resident of Shreveport.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the chapel of Osborn's Funeral Home of Shreveport with the Rev. James Talor of Highland Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Centuries Cemetery under directon of Osborn's.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ann McBeth, Orlando, Fla.; one daughter, Deborah McBeth, Orlando, Fla.; parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McBeth, Shreveport; two sisters, Mrs. William Bertrand, Lake Charles, and Mrs. R. L. Corey, Shreveport; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Goodwin, Dekalb, Tex.

Pallbearers will be Lonnie Joens, Henry Thweatt, Clayton Dupre, Charles Edwards, Max Willis, Harold McBeth, J. C. Malone and Louis Barber.

Volunteers Hub Of Givers Drive

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of Sunday articles written by the United Givers office describing various phases of the effort in the Twin Cities and citing progress of the current fund campaign.)

October, 1960, marks the beginning of the fifth United Givers Fund drive for operating funds to support health, family service and character building agencies in Ouachita Parish.

To many people this is the time of year when some one calls for money, gives them a pin, a button, or a sticker and goes on his way.

Who is this mysterious army of men and women who make these calls? These are the unsung heroes of our community. The volunteer workers. Many business men concerned with their daily problems, faced with increasing sales and profit have a feeling of irritation when this volunteer makes his call. They let him wait and after waiting they give the volunteer the impression that the volunteer should apologize for being there.

Many companies, many individuals have to volunteer a great deal of time to the United Fund and to the community if the community is to enjoy the services of the agencies we now have.

The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, YWCA do not put on their program solely on the money obtained from the United Fund. These vital services to the youth of the community use many thousands of hours from volunteers in planning, programming and execution during the year as does every other United Fund agency.

The volunteers that call on you at your place of business are costing their companies a very costly item of time. Time is money to any company. Every hour that any employee devotes to being a good neighbor during working hours is an hour he cannot devote to working for the company.

The companies who donate this time and the individuals who give of their time do not begrudge this expense. They do it willingly and eagerly because by doing this volunteer work they know they are helping to produce a better community in which to live.

They do ask that when they spend their time coming to you to give you the opportunity to help your community live and grow, that you take time to see them, help them and get their job finished so that they can get back to their own work.

Volunteers are always double givers. They give of their time and also of their money. It is a very substantial fact that you seldom find a man who will volunteer his time that has not already.

It is also a reverse fact that a man that never gives to help his neighbor never works to help them.

Join that army of people who throughout the year work tirelessly to assist in providing the health welfare and character building services that you and your family enjoy. These services are used in one way or another by everyone. Our community with its recreational programs for young and old complete a picture that makes possible the American Way of Life.

Without these services, without this unselfish neighborliness on the part of so many, none of us could be so secure in our homes, or so sure our children are safe when away from home.

Give then a few moments of your time when the volunteer worker calls on you. Remember through his efforts your efforts and the result of those efforts we will live to make a liar out of Khrushchev when he said "Your grandchildren will grow up to be Communists." There are no voluntary workers in Russia.

Patent Awarded On New Pressure Pipeline Valve

A Monroe man announced that he just received notice on a patent of a new high pressure pipeline valve which he has taken three years inventing and perfecting.

J. R. Duncan of 400 Balboa Drive made the announcement yesterday, claiming that his invention will be a "boon" to the oil and gas piping industry.

Duncan says that the valve, which is a welded installation, can be installed in a main line, while maintaining line pressure. He said that this will eliminate having to shut down a line when a new valve is installed or when this valve needs repairing.

Some of the features of the valve include the fact that it can be used for a branch off the mainline, flow can be controlled through this valve, it can be used for putting out oil well fires, can be used for capping the well and it will eliminate fire hazards and explosion.

He added that another special feature of the valve is that it has no limit to the amount of pressure it will hold.

Duncan, who is a pipe welder by trade, has been in Monroe for some 13 years and has a small business in which he designs and manufactures machinery for chemical plant.

The patent to this new high pressure valve is open to possible sale or manufacturing, Duncan said, adding that he did not know yet just what he would do.

Pair Arrested On Theft Charge

Two men were arrested by Monroe police last night and charged with counts of felony theft after they reportedly stole on overnight bag from a railroad employee at a local cafe.

Charged with felony theft were George A. McQuiston, 47, Shreveport, and Eulie Saunders, 34, of Houston, Tex. They were also booked for vagrancy.

S. J. Watson, an employee of the Illinois Central Railroad, told investigators he set his overnight bag beside him at a cafe near the North 5th and Washington Street intersection. The bag reportedly contained a transistor radio valued at $40 and personal items. He said two men took the bag.

McQuiston, was arrested a short while later on the 600 block of DeSiard Street and Saunders was picked up about an hour afterward at the Illinois Central Railroad yard, where the bag was recovered from where it had been hidden beneath a tool shed.

The two will be transferred to the Ouachita Parish jail to await trial on the charges.

Red Chiefs' U.N. Visit Nearing End

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The leaders of six Communist satellite countries are concluding their visits to the United Nations Assembly—and there is wonder whether the long trip was worthwhile.

It was the first visit to the United States for all. And for most it was the first trip this side of the Iron Curtain.

Premier Khrushchev, their undisputed master, obviously briefed them what to expect. The Russian could pose as an expert, having visited this country once before.

Drowning Victim Burial Slated

FERRIDAY (Special) — The body of R. L. Branch, 39-year-old resident of Shreveport, who was accidentally drowned Friday morning at the mouth of Saline Bayou in Catahoula Parish, was taken to Shreveport for burial by Jena Funeral Home ambulance today.

Branch, who owned a fishing camp on the bayou, was a frequent visitor to the camp.

He apparently fell from his motor boat after it was "swamped" by a passing craft, occupied by two oil field crew workers.

The oil boat returned to the scene after passing 300 feet away and helped to recover the body.

Officials said they believed Branch might have "blacked out" and fell out of his motorboat. He was taking in fishing nets when the other boat passed.

The body was in the water for about twenty minutes before it was located with grappling hooks and recovered. Artificial respiration was given by members of the Natchez, Miss., fire department.

Branch is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lucille Branch, one daughter, Benita Branch, and two-stepsons, all of Shreveport.

Drunk Driving Charges Lodged

Three persons were arrested in the Twin Cities yesterday and charged with counts of operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

Monroe police, early yesterday morning, arrested Bill Humphries, 41, Baton Rouge and Johnnie E. Lowrey, 38, of Hodge. Yesterday afternoon West Monroe officers picked up Harold A. Marks, 38, 2505 Swiss St., West Monroe.

Marks and Lowrey were charged with additional counts of reckless driving.

Pair Arrested On Theft Charge

Two men were arrested by Monroe police last night and charged with counts of felony theft after they reportedly stole on overnight bag from a railroad employee at a local cafe.

Charged with felony theft were George A. McQuiston, 47, Shreveport, and Eulie Saunders, 34, of Houston, Tex. They were also booked for vagrancy.

S. J. Watson, an employee of the Illinois Central Railroad, told investigators he set his overnight bag beside him at a cafe near the North 5th and Washington Street intersection. The bag reportedly contained a transistor radio valued at $40 and personal items. He said two men took the bag.

McQuiston, was arrested a short while later on the 600 block of DeSiard Street and Saunders was picked up about an hour afterward at the Illinois Central Railroad yard, where the bag was recovered from where it had been hidden beneath a tool shed.

The two will be transferred to the Ouachita Parish jail to await trial on the charges.

Red Chiefs' U.N. Visit Nearing End

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The leaders of six Communist satellite countries are concluding their visits to the United Nations Assembly—and there is wonder whether the long trip was worthwhile.

It was the first visit to the United States for all. And for most it was the first trip this side of the Iron Curtain.

Premier Khrushchev, their undisputed master, obviously briefed them what to expect. The Russian could pose as an expert, having visited this country once before.

Drowning Victim Burial Slated

FERRIDAY (Special) — The body of R. L. Branch, 39-year-old resident of Shreveport, who was accidentally drowned Friday morning at the mouth of Saline Bayou in Catahoula Parish, was taken to Shreveport for burial by Jena Funeral Home ambulance today.

Branch, who owned a fishing camp on the bayou, was a frequent visitor to the camp.

He apparently fell from his motor boat after it was "swamped" by a passing craft, occupied by two oil field crew workers.

The oil boat returned to the scene after passing 300 feet away and helped to recover the body.

Officials said they believed Branch might have "blacked out" and fell out of his motorboat. He was taking in fishing nets when the other boat passed.

The body was in the water for about twenty minutes before it was located with grappling hooks and recovered. Artificial respiration was given by members of the Natchez, Miss., fire department.

Branch is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lucille Branch, one daughter, Benita Branch, and two-stepsons, all of Shreveport.

Drunk Driving Charges Lodged

Three persons were arrested in the Twin Cities yesterday and charged with counts of operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

Monroe police, early yesterday morning, arrested Bill Humphries, 41, Baton Rouge and Johnnie E. Lowrey, 38, of Hodge. Yesterday afternoon West Monroe officers picked up Harold A. Marks, 38, 2505 Swiss St., West Monroe.

Marks and Lowrey were charged with additional counts of reckless driving.

Earlier in the day Northeast's parade wound its way through downtown West Monroe and Monroe, led by the Chief of the Tribe on horseback and three walking braves. Monroe Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard, West Monroe Mayor J. Allan Norris and President Walker were in the lead car, followed by their wives.

The Northeast band, the ROTC contingent, decorated floats and cars, and freshmen in costumes and war paint participated in the parade, held in misting, drizzly weather.

The alumni meeting and luncheon followed, and then the football game got under way.

An open house, attended by a large gathering, was held after the football game in the new dining hall. The annual dance, also held in the dining hall, closed out activities.

Homecoming had officially gotten under way Friday evening with a picnic, pep rally and bonfire. An extra touch was added Friday with the announcement that the State Board of Education had given the fast - growing school permission to file preliminary application for funds for a $1,750,000 building program. The program would include a Student Union building and housing for about 300 students.

And a final sports touch was added at mid - day Saturday when the Northeast cross - country team won its second straight meet, easily defeating Memphis' State and sweeping the first five places.

EDUCATOR REPORTS

Junior High Role In Education Vital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The junior high school, often treated as the poor step-sister in the education family, is a vitally important institution and deserves nothing but the best, a leading educator said Saturday.

Dr. James B. Conant, reporting on a year-long study of grades 7, 8 and 9, said the junior highs need specially qualified teachers—and more of them—as well as tailor-made study programs.

He warned, too, against treating the three-year junior high as a small scale high school: "Interscholastic athletics and marching bands are to be condemned in junior high schools; there is no sound educational reason for them and too often they serve merely as public entertainment. Graduation ceremonies with diplomas and cap and gown have no place at the junior high school level."

Dr. Conant and his staff visited 237 schools in 90 school systems in 23 states during the 1959-60 school year. This report is a follow-up to his report on high schools early last year. Both surveys were underwritten by the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

Some of Dr. Conant's recommendations:

All pupils in grades 7 and 8 should be required to study English (with heavy emphasis on reading and composition), social studies (with emphasis on history and geography), basic arithmetic or beginning mathematics, and science. These subjects take up 60 to 70 per cent of the weekly classroom time.

All 7th and 8th grade pupils should also receive instruction in music, art and physical education. All girls should study home economics, all boys should study industrial arts.

There should be continued emphasis on instruction in the basic skills, particularly reading and arithmetic. By the end of Grade 9, the pupils should be able to read the front page of a newspaper at the rate of about 200 words a minute—and understand it. (The reading speed of most college students falls between 250 and 600 words per minute.) Remedial courses, with specially-trained teachers, should be set up for students doing below-grade level work in reading and arithmetic.

CRUCIAL SERIES

Polaris Missiles Face New Tests

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The nuclear submarine Patrick Henry, a hard-luck loser its first trip here, returned Saturday for a crucial series of launchings aimed at making the Polaris missile operational within a few weeks.

The 380-foot undersea dreadnaught cruised into nearby Port Canaveral and began preparations for the vital shots. Success will mean that by sometime in November the United States will have one of the most powerful and mobile war deterrent systems ever devised.

The exact number of launchings from the Patrick Henry will depend on the degree of success. An official said "a pair of good launches right off the bat probably would be sufficient."

The Patrick Henry previously arrived here Aug. 29 after the first Polaris submarine, the George Washington, had successfully fired three of four missiles from 90 feet beneath the Atlantic.

The Navy was talking hopefully then of declaring the Polaris-submarine combination combat-ready in October. The Patrick Henry was to fire four missiles to further prove the reliability of the system, paving the way for the George Washington to go on patrol with the first load of 16 nuclear-armed rockets.

Instead, three of the Patrick Henry figures failed in spectacular fashion.

The first Polaris popped out of the water, but the first stage failed to ignite and the 28-foot, 14-ton rocket fell back, brushing the side of the submerged submarine as it dropped. The second stage fired deep below the waves and flew to the surface, flying crazily for several seconds before plunging back into the water.

The next shot, two days later, was a success. Then on Sept. 22—a day one Navy man called "a black day for Polaris"—the Patrick Henry, with a lot of Navy brass aboard, went to sea for what were to be its final two test shots.

The first failed to ignite and dropped back with a thundering crash on top of the submarine, cutting a gash in the launch tube area before tumbling unfired to the bottom of the Atlantic. The Patrick Henry surfaced, determined the damage was not serious, submerged again and three hours later unleashed another missile.

This time the Polaris ignited, but lost thrust and fell back into the water. It regained thrust, burst wildly to the surface and was destroyed by the range safety officer.

The Patrick Henry then left for a northern port for repairs.

Navy officials said in fairness to the Patrick Henry that the big sub had done its job in ejecting all four missiles and that the trouble was in the rocket. They believe they have solved the problem after a series of successful land pad launchs in the meantime.

FLOWER, HORSE SHOWS

Franklin-Richland Fair Is Concluded

WINNSBORO (Special) — The Franklin Richland Bi-Parish Fair wound up activities yesterday with a flower show and a quarter-horse show.

Fair manager Hollis Harper said that this has been a very successful fair.

Winning the tri - color award which is the highest award in the flower show were Mrs. R. M. Hammons and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell Jr. of the Daffodil Garden Club of Wisner on their arrangement of Electric Bumping Cars. They also won a blue ribbon on the same arrangement. Theme of the flower show was "Come to the Fair."

Red Ribbon winners in that arrangement were Mrs. E. Asa Kiper and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell Sr. of the Wisner Garden Club.

On the Moon Rocket arrangements, Mrs. Frank Spann and Mrs. Clifford Kennerly of the Daffodil Garden Club of Wisner won the blue ribbon and Mrs. Harold DeVille of Garden Gate Garden Club, Winnsboro, won the red ribbon.

The blue ribbon on the Roller Coaster arrangement was won by Mrs. E. B. Knotts of Wisner Garden Club with Mrs. C. R. Adams of the Winnsboro Garden Club taking the red ribbon. Mrs. W. A. Tucker of the Wisner Garden Club won the red ribbon on Ferris Wheel.

The blue ribbon of the Whip arrangement was won by Mrs. Sonny Stephens of the Garden Gate Garden Club of Winnsboro.

Mrs. Eldon Brown and Mrs. Bill Carroll of Wisner were awarded the blue ribbon on the Caterpillar arrangement while the red ribbon was captured by Mrs. B. T. Lanier of the Winnsboro Garden Club.

Ribbon winners who were not members of garden clubs were Mrs. Phil Butler, blue ribbon on Your Favorite Ride arrangement, and Miss Rowena Ramage won the red ribbon.

In the junior division, Carla Martin took a blue ribbon on the Pony Rides arrangement and Marian Taylor got a blue ribbon on her Carousel arrangement.

In the quarterhorse show which was an American Quarterhorse Association approved show, the Grand Champion in the stallion class was Ollie San, owned by Wayne Wyble of Opelousas.

Reserve Grand Champion in the same class is Buddico Joe owned by W. G. Brown Jr. of Lake Village, Ark.

In the stallion class other winners were 1960 - an unnamed horse, owned by Albert H. Paxton, Vicksburg, Miss.; 1959 - Red Miller Jr., owned by Lee Burwick, St. Joseph; 1958 - Monsiur Royal, owned by T. J. Spears, Sicily Island; 1957 - Cherry Tiger.

Other winners in the mare class were 1960-Booger Squaw, owned by Manuel Henry; 1959-Blossom Jessie, owned by W. W. Turner, Spokane, La.; 1958-Catahoula Canda, owned by P. J. Spears, Sicily Island; 1957-Moonglow, by W. C. Hightower, Moon Ranch, Buckhorn, N. M.

The aged mare winner was Dixie Lou Bee, owned by Merrick, Cottonport; and the gelding Grand Champion was Gold Billy, owned by Susan White of Bossier City.

Winner of the reining contest was Hanks Patty owned by Donald R. Garner of Opelousas.

Steve Adams owned by Johnny Holmes of Winnfield won the cutting contest.

Police Probing Pair Of Thefts

Monroe police yesterday were investigating two reported thefts, one of which involved a teenage boy who posed as a news route collector and took money from two persons.

A Monroe newspaper boy told officers someone had collected months' fees from two families for delivered papers on his route.

When officers contacted the persons who had paid the imposter, they described him as a blond teenager riding a bicycle. They said he initialed the receipts with the letters B.A. The incident took place yesterday.

Another theft occurred at the Brown River Scoggns Used Car Lot, at 204 Washington St., where an employee reported that a set of hubcaps and two mirrors were missing from cars on the lot.

The missing items reportedly are valued at $48. Police late yesterday were still searching for the culprits.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A Memphis, Tenn., construction firm, J. B. Michael and Co., Inc., has been accused of making thousands of dollars profit by substituting Japanese steel for American steel in the Biloxi Bay Bridge.

Mississippi's general legislative investigating committee made the charge Friday in a report to Gov. Ross Barnett and the Legislature.

The report said the Mississippi Highway Commission permitted the substitution of the steel for a reduction of $15,000 in the contract price.

But, the committee said, Japanese steel sold for between $108,000 and 26,000 less than the domestic steel at the time.

The committee recommended that Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson take action against J. B. Michael and Co. for recovery of the difference due the state of Mississippi of some hundred-odd thousand dollars, less the $15,000 which he reimburse the state."

FLOWER, HORSE SHOWS

Franklin-Richland Fair Is Concluded

WINNSBORO (Special) — The Franklin Richland Bi-Parish Fair wound up activities yesterday with a flower show and a quarter-horse show.

Fair manager Hollis Harper said that this has been a very successful fair.

Winning the tri - color award which is the highest award in the flower show were Mrs. R. M. Hammons and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell Jr. of the Daffodil Garden Club of Wisner on their arrangement of Electric Bumping Cars. They also won a blue ribbon on the same arrangement. Theme of the flower show was "Come to the Fair."

Red Ribbon winners in that arrangement were Mrs. E. Asa Kiper and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell Sr. of the Wisner Garden Club.

On the Moon Rocket arrangements, Mrs. Frank Spann and Mrs. Clifford Kennerly of the Daffodil Garden Club of Wisner won the blue ribbon and Mrs. Harold DeVille of Garden Gate Garden Club, Winnsboro, won the red ribbon.

The blue ribbon on the Roller Coaster arrangement was won by Mrs. E. B. Knotts of Wisner Garden Club with Mrs. C. R. Adams of the Winnsboro Garden Club taking the red ribbon. Mrs. W. A. Tucker of the Wisner Garden Club won the red ribbon on Ferris Wheel.

The blue ribbon of the Whip arrangement was won by Mrs. Sonny Stephens of the Garden Gate Garden Club of Winnsboro.

Mrs. Eldon Brown and Mrs. Bill Carroll of Wisner were awarded the blue ribbon on the Caterpillar arrangement while the red ribbon was captured by Mrs. B. T. Lanier of the Winnsboro Garden Club.

List Features Of Art Festival

The sign says, "Home of the Caldwell Parish Library Art Festival, October 15."

Mrs. O. N. Reynolds and Miss Willie Mae Seab, co - chairmen of the Art Festival have been making plans for the 1960 annual affair since before the close of the 1959 festival. Their plans have shaped up into an interesting program presenting a variety of entertainment.

Assisting the co - chairman will be Dr. Wren M. Causey, Chairman, Caldwell Parish Library Board, Mr. R. O. Cummings, K. R. Russell, and A. L. Mixon, Ellis McDaniels, members Caldwell parish library board, the library staff, and Mrs. Geo. Cotton, librarian.

An unusual feature of the 1960 program carries out the theme of the day, "A Thing of Beauty".

Folowing the welcome from Dr. Causey and Orvis H. Watson, mayor of Coumbia, there will be a guided tour of a collection of beautiful art objects.

A great deal of local interest has been added to the day's program. Donald Thornton, a graduate of Columbia High School, whose home is near Columbia, and Lee Holland, Ruston, will read selections from their poetry collection "Outcry."

The Columbia High School juniors and seniors have a skit that promises to be fun. The skit, "Engish As It Is Spoke," will follow a style show in which the lovely models from Caldwell Parish will display fashion from local shops.

Chief attraction of the day has been set at 2 p.m. The noted author Harnett T. Kane will tell amusing incidents in his writing career that forms the basis of his book "Have Pen, Will Autograph".

The works of art will be displayed on the grounds of the Community Center, as well as inside the building.

The festival each year attracts exhibitors from a wide area. Some of them are names readers will recognize — Hays, Faust, Armstrong. Other may be aspiring unknowns, exhibiting a painting or handiwork for the first time.

"Don't miss any of them," the art festival co - chairmen advise.

The Coumbia High School Band Boosters will sell coffee and sandwiches throughout the day, and the Columbia Garden Clubs will have an informal tea before leave - taking.

Square Dancing Classes Slated

Square dance classes are underway at the Monroe Community Center, 113½ Catalpa St.

Classes are held from 7:30 to 9:30 each Tuesday night. Ty Boutwell and Sgt. Jim Bryant are callers.

Vernon Greenlee, community center official, pointed out that the classes are free, since they are part of the Monroe recreation department's program.

Those who learn to square dance will have their names added to the 200,000 already in the national Square Dance Association.

Anyone who knows how to call square dances also is invited to participate as a caller.

Hong Kong Thrives Despite Red Peril

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A world tour including a lengthy visit to the Far East, was made by Mrs. Wilson Ewing of Monroe last spring. She was particularly observant of conditions, both political and economic, and the following is a commentary on what she saw and learned during her visit to the British crown colony of Hong Kong.)

By MRS. WILSON EWING

The rapidity and enormity of change in the face of Hong Kong is incredible, but it was the underlying concern about its future detected so barely beneath the bright enthusiasm over its growth which we felt with such great impact.

The British Crown Colony is thriving and booming as never before under the threatening and menacing shadow of Red China and many think the residents of the colony are not concerned beyond this prosperity. But when we were there in April, almost daily we read articles relating to this anxiety in the Hong Kong Standard and heard many discussions concerning it among Hong Kong citizenry, which is 90 per cent Chinese.

On April 27 a Standard editorial was headed, "Should Hong Kong Worry About 1997?" This is the expiration date of Great Britain's 99-year lease on the New Territories. The editorial comment was based on findings of a study group of the Conservative Party in London which had just completed its exploratory work on Hong Kong's problems and concluded that the future of the British colony rests upon the attitude of Communist China. This discovery is by no means novel to the residents of the colony for they are constantly aware of their physical proximity to danger, residing as they do only a stone's throw away from Red China's sentries across their borders. This awareness has taught them the importance of facing realistically the daily problems of survival and the futility of panic.

The Chinese are clever, dauntless, tenacious and an exceedingly hard-working people. Vicissitude has been the Hongkongians' lot since Capt. Charles Elliot planted the British flag on their tiny barren island in 1841. Their sheer ability to survive and grow in the face of overwhelming odds is due to their knowledge that their right to live is dependent upon their own self-reliance.

Revolution

From their borders the people of Hong Kong have witnessed and felt the revolution and convulsions of the mainland as the Manchus fell. The Republic was established, war lords came and went and the Nationalists rose and fell. From these same border positions they have also witnessed the invasion by the Japanese and the seizure of the mainland by the Communists.

Each of these rolled political shock waves over the colony, rocking its stability and threatening its survival. Thus, the citizens of Hong Kong are both inherently and circumstantially conditioned to change and hardship. Not only have they survived the Communist mainland's shock waves, but they are thriving on China's troubles.

Since 1911 Hong Kong has been China's most popular refugee center. Prior to the communist conquest in 1949, the colony's population was about 600,000 — presently it is estimated to be 3,000,000 or better. Along with the influx of such vast numbers of people has come tremendous wealth, skill and business.

While the people of Hong Kong lie in Red China's shadow 24 hours a day and realize that they survive virtually on Peking's grace, many there and elsewhere are asking why and how long Communist China will permit this outstanding example of flourishing colonialism on her very doorstep. Known facts and much conjecture is voiced.

Hong Kong today is of great value to Red China as a point of contact with the traders of the outside world and as a source of foreign currency. China sells Hong Kong a million dollars worth of food a day. Then Hong Kong dollars are easily converted into American dollars, desperately needed by the Chinese Communists. China can do business in Hong Kong as freely as can any other country. Red agents can set up business in the colony and proceed on out into the West to do their devastating work. Hong Kong's economic usefulness to China has always been the chief reason why successive Chinese regimes have allowed it to survive. This most likely will continue as long as financial benefits derived from Hong Kong outweigh Red China's covetousness of its port facilities.

Conjecture

Some think China is playing a cat-and-mouse game, waiting only until the mouse is fully fattened to pounce. Others contend the nuclear armed U. S. Seventh Fleet is a deterent, though many feel that even such bombs could not stop the Red hordes should they decide to take Hong Kong.

The history of the colony's unusual development is largely the story of the refugee. Hong Kong's population and industrial growth increased steadily though not spectacularly until after the war when so many of Red China's millions sought escape and refuge elsewhere, only to find many countries throughout Asia closed to them. There are an estimated 17,000 Chinese refugees in Meca; 75,000 in Burma; 10,000 in Laos; 28,000 in Viet Nam; 14,000 in Saudi Arabia; a select number in Formosa, and relatively small numbers in Turkey, Pakistan, Kashmir, Bhutau and Nepal. But it was to Hong Kong that hundreds of thousands turned for refuge, still clinging desperately to a bit of their homeland. It is due to these that the world is witnessing one of the most sensational industrial build-ups in history.

Just 10 years ago, at the outbreak of the Korean War, Hong Kong was the principal buying agent for Red China. When the trade embargo was imposed on Red China the colony lost its biggest customer in its profitable entrepot trade which had always been Hong Kong's life line. Imposition of the embargo seemed to spell certain doom to the prosperity of the crown colony. As its citizens began to look for other means of livelihood, they were confronted with the tidal wave of Chinese homeless fleeing the Red menace. This wave also poured billions of Chinese flight capital into the colony.

In sharing their country with their homeless fellowmen the people of Hong Kong received a manifold blessings, for among the numberless unskilled, but pitifully eager to work refugees, were thousands skilled in every form of craftsmanship, art and industry. Fortunes inherited and others made in old China poured in with their owners. Rich in business, industrial and agricultural experience and ability, the skilled tailors, weavers of silk, dyers, potters, carvers of ivory, artisans and workers in all fields of centuries - old Chinese culture are to be found in Hong Kong and its environs.

Growth Inevitable

The resultant phenomenal growth of the last decade was inevitable and natural as was the development of a new facet of Hong Kong's character, a spiritual principle, as it turned its attention and energy to the responsibility for and care of the homeless masses.

Our introduction to the refugee was at first a long-range one. As we began the approach to East Asia's finest harbor, we stood on the deck of our ship in mute admiration of the beauty of the land and sea surrounding us. The brown and green clad hills and peaks rose sometimes gently and other times steeply from the depth of the vivid blue water, sheltering the area from the winds of the China Sea.

The beautiful city of Victoria on the island of Hong Kong came into view on our left and the Kowloon Peninsula on the right. As we stared transfixed at the majestic view, we became conscious of an odd configuration of structures checkerboarding the hillsides on the outskirts of the island which seemed out of harmony with the whole. We asked a passing member of the Chinese crew what the strange looking patch - like areas were. He replied, "Refugee encampments." Later at close range these presented a piteous spectacle indeed.

The island of Hong Kong has an area of 32 square miles. Kowloon Peninsula, across the harbor from Hong Kong and jutting out from the Chinese mainland, is three and one - fourth square miles. The New Territories area is about 355 square miles including numerous adjoining islands studding its seas. This is the portion which is to revert to China in 1997.

New Territories

It is thought to be impossible for the island peninsula to remain viable wthout the New Territories for it is the rural area of this portion which grows and furnishes the food for the over-all area with the exception of that sent in daily by rail from Red China. This is all beautiful country with miles of coastline and countless islands studding the sea.

Beyond the city area of Kowloon is the factory district, the textile area and the resettlement zone. It is here we saw such incredible construction activity. Billions of Chinese refugee dollars are building factories and mills of every description.

Countless millions have also gone into expanding and enriching the industrial and business areas of the island and peninsula. The vast numbers and size of government projects were amazing. Much land has been reclaimed and present plans call for some 3,000 additional acres of reclamation. There are numbers of multi - storied apartment projects — many finished, many under construction. A number of modern deluxe hotels are also being built.

In the factory and mill area, peaks and hills are being leveled by pick-ax and hand to create space for the mushrooming plants. In the hills bordering this area we came upon the refugee settlements. These are desperately contrived shelters for human and animal flotsam. Sheds and shanties are put together from any available abandoned material. The least sheltering looked to be a kind of coarse sacking stretched over bamboo poles. These camps scattered about like a rash on the face of the hills are completely without sanitation and other facilities. Livestock which the refugees succeeded in smuggling out as they fled live in the same cramped area as does the family.

Water Shortage

At the time we were there in April, there was a serious shortage of water. Passing through the refugee settlement area, we saw queues at an occasional communal spigot which barely trickled water. They obtained enough perhaps to boil an egg, brew a cup of tea or cook the family bowl of rice.

Leaving the booming factory and the resettlement areas, we entered the countryside and typical rural life of the Chinese peasant with its simple centuries old method of agriculture. This part of the Chinese mainland is hilly and barren, but in spite of primitive methods of watering and tilling their land, the hard-working Chinese farmers have turned the rocky slopes and valleys into cultivated producing acres. Though tools are primitive they serve well. Everywhere we saw Chinese women tilling the rice paddies — carrying water by hand from a soaked paddy to a dry one. Wooden plows were pulled by water buffaloes.

Small villages are to be found in each arable area. In each of these the farmer's produce is spread beside the roads or paths for sale and barter. Besides rice, their crops consist of vegetables, potatoes, sugar cane, sweet potatoes and ginger. Many Chinese fish for a living and we passed innumerable duck farms.

Un Long, the farming and distributing center for native products, is the most populated town in the New Territories. Our guide told us that the refugee population had jumped from 3,500 to 100,000 in 11 years.

We drove along a peaceful tree-lined road to an elevation along the border of the New Territories from which we could view several miles in every direction. There, to the north of us, we were told, is Red China.

It looked to be simple, peaceful meadow land. But the very soil on which we stood was a portion of the vast expanse upon which millions are engaged in a life and death struggle for freedom as Communism rapidly engulfs them.

The Chinese Reds have the principal task of helping the Soviets establish Communism throughout the world. This is the avowed purpose of the Red scepter and Asia is the important beginning.

A few recent events and reports seem to point to friction and mutual distrust between Russia and Red China. There can be no doubt that their objective is mutual, but the two Red giants seem to entertain varying ideas as to how this is to be achieved. The Chinese are communizing rapidly and diligently and consider themselves superior Communists to the Russians.

Most Red Chinese exist today in organized groups. They eat, sleep, work, study and meet in groups. And through this group organization, they are educated and doctrinated, controlled and lose their personal identity. An active Communist heads each group. Informers are intermingled throughout this Communist structure. Secret police keep a strict surveilance and reports go into a personal file kept on each individual.

In the latter part of April, Radio Peking, quoting the Peking People's Daily, announced, "Thirty-three people's communes have been organized in Peking and another five communes set up in the capital's suburbs." Two years ago the commune program was mostly a plan on paper. Communist China had disclosed earlier in April that 20 million city dwellers had been organized into regimented people's communes.

Resources

China has tremendous natural resources and a population of 650 million, inspired these past few years with a great feeling of nationalism and have instilled within them a great hate of America. With few factories, primitive tools and people driven to excessively long and strenuous work days, the Chinese Reds are claiming such prodigious agricultural yields and industrial power as to challenge America and Russia. They claim to be able to feed a billion people if necessary.

Peiping announced plans in the spring to reduce Communist China's primary and secondary schooling to 10 years from the present 12 to help overcome a shortage of graduates.

Under such organization, unification and work, the Chinese are progressing in communizing at such an amazing rate as to cause Russia uneasiness because of the possibility of China ascending to the helm of world Communism. The people have acquired confidence in their ability and this, along with rapidity of progress in communizing, is what perhaps inclines the lusty and arrogant Chinese communist leaders to force achievement of global Communism.

As the Chinese Communist leaders jubilate over the success of their regime, millions suffer beyond human endurance and many face death by starvation.

Over the week end of April 15-17, an unusually large number (157) men, women and children managed to escape the nearby Communist - controlled territories and sought refuge in and around Macao. They managed to flee despite re-doubled vigilance by the Reds at the border.

Leonel Barralbo, Standard Macao correspondent, made a trip to Coloane Island to interview the refugees and the following is the report of one interview:

Wong Sam, 28, a former farmer from Ping Lam village who escaped from Lappa Island by swimming over to the city at dawn on April 19, told correspondent Borralbo about the real situation inside Chungnan Country.

"Peope there are facing death from starvation. They are sick and weak because of the commune system which forces them to work 16 and 18 hours a day," the farmer said.

Forced

"Often during their rest periods, they are forced to attend political meetings. These refusing to work are arrested by the Red Cadres."

This young farmer, who left his wife and children when he fled Lappa Island, confirmed that mass demonstrations were organized in many areas of Sun Wui and Chungshan counties, forcing Red militiamen to open fire against the peope, wounding and killing a large number.

"The situation is so bad that new reinforcements of regular troops from Canton are arriving in Sun Wui and Chungshan to control the demonstrations," he said.

The young farmer said farm production had declined badly. The people had seen no edible oil for months and most had had no fresh meat for more than a year, not even at the last Chinese New Year. Demonstrations were caused by the Red Cadres taking away whatever the people were producing in farms and fields for exportation, leaving them virtually nothing to eat and the people were completely out of their minds. Other escapees told similar stories. (Report of this interview printed by Sing Tag Jik Poa Ltd. for publisher of Tiger Standard Ltd.)

Meanwhile Kremlin chieftain, Nikita Khrushchev, and Premier Chou En-lai continue their infiltration and subversion of weak nations. This past year the Communists have used the German problem to keep the western democracies' attention focused on Europe while they have devoted attention to the so-called "united front policy" for the Orient.

The Red leaders lost prestige in Asia following their oppression in Tibet and the Communists instigated border disputes with India. When we were in India in May, Prime Minister Nehru was engaged in meetings with Premier Chou En-lai attempting to negotiate settlement of these disputes resulting mostly in concessions by India. Fortunately the anti - Communist atmosphere is prevalent among the nations off northeast Asia as in South Korea and Free China. In southern Asia and the Middle East some countries (notably India) have adopted the "neutrality policy."

Anti-Red

Nepal and Burma presently are anti - Red. Other nations of the area, because of their undeveloped economic and desperately needy conditions, are vulnerable to the bait and lure of economic aid from the Communists. Nepal is presently being so wooed. Khrushchev and Chou En-lai have visited many of these nations in recent months propagandizing for peace and non-interference in the affairs of other nations, thus attempting to re-establish good relations in the Orient.

Economic aid to other nations is reportedly the real dissenting factor between the Red leaders. Originally conflict was over Khrushchevs policy of "peaceful co - existence" and Peking's insistence that war between capitalists and Communist states was inevitable. Reliable sources now report that Peking resents Russia's limited economic aid to Red China and thinks economic Communist aid should be limited to Communist nations movements.

Communist philosophy for world conquest calls for constant aggression. The key to that philosophy seems to be the youth of the world.

The Red chieftains must surely have the following quotation by Aristotle penned upon their desks: "All who have meditated on the art of governing mankind have been convinced that the fate of empires depends on the education of youth."

For it is the youth of nations worldwide the communists are attempting to use in the expansion of their influence. When we were in Japan the Communists were working furiously to incite hatred of the United States. The youth of Japan and Korea were being agitated frenziedly to overthrow their pro-Western governments.

No remote African or Asian country escapes communist attempts of subversion and infiltration such as in the Congo as the peoples of these weak and newly emerging nations gain their independence. A third of the world has gained its independence in the last 15 years.

As the Red wave rolls on the foremost question asked with understandable concern is when and where will the West succeed in stemming it? Communism itself seems to be accomplishing this to an encouraging degree as it reveals its evil intent through its intrigues and machinations as it attempts its aggressive expansion. Russia has begun recalling her experts and technicians from Red China and the mumble of dissent grows louder as the gulf of differences widens between the two giant forces of Communism though the Red leaders contend these rifts are of little consequence.

As we left the border area and the vastness that is Red China, one's skin fairly prickled from the sense of evil and suffering so near. Guns entrenched in the hills and barbed wire strung along their tops were plainly visible. It was good to encounter the colony's own border guards en route.

Our hearts were heavy indeed as we considered the plight of millions of Chinese, roughly a fourth of the world's population, who long were our friends and respected America.

We found ourselves questioning the effectiveness of our quarantine of China, wondering if it has aided the communist leaders in strengthening their hold on the Chinese people. There can be no doubt that it has estranged millions once friendly to America.

Slogans

We were told that anti-American slogans are to be found plastered and strung over the whole of Red China. "Love Mother China hate America" is their battle cry as they struggle to achieve 20th Century industrial power and world recognition.

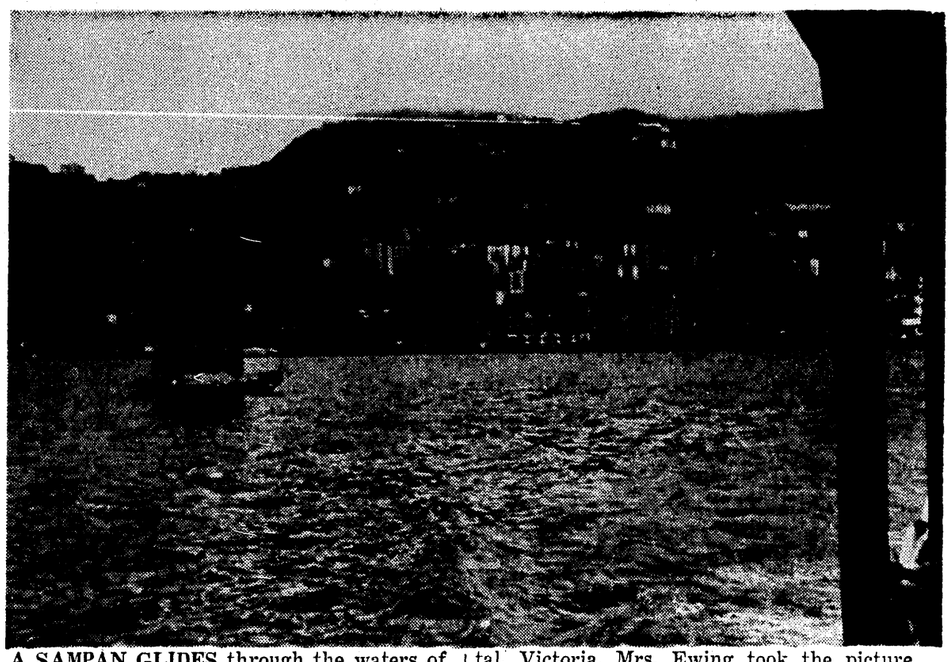

As we traveled on through the foothills of the New Territories we saw tremendous reservoirs and concrete dams constructed for water supply. We returned to teeming millions and the fabulous city which is such a shopping paradise. Goods from the various countries of the Orient, Hong Kong's handicraft and manufactured goods from all of the countries of the West are obtainable at prices cheaper than those in their places of origin.

A rickshaw tour at dusk one evening in the area between Nathan Road and Kowloon wharf and Godown took us through streets incredibly densely populated. Thousands of Chinese were cooking, bartering, sleeping, washing and playing on the sidewalks and in the streets. Haunting Chinese sing-song music and sounds emanated from every direction — all alien and fascinating. This is a city of great beauty, great prosperity and incredible poverty.

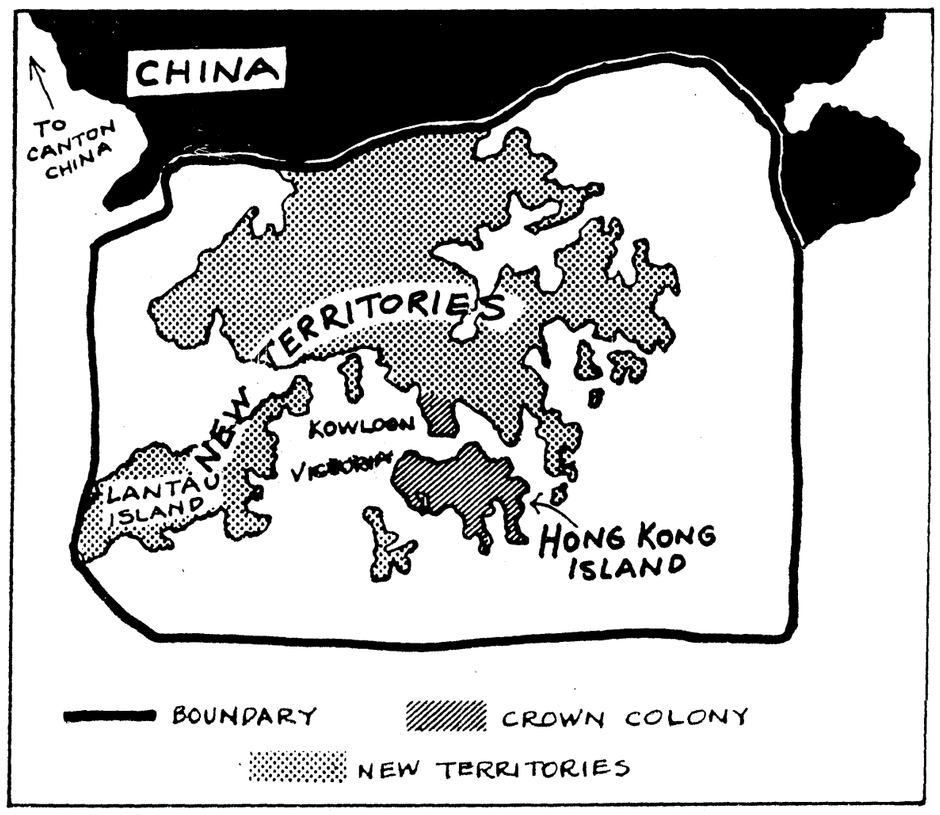

Our innumerable ferry crossings of the beautiful harbor, alive with luxury liners and freighters from all countries as well as carriers and gun boats of the British and American fleet, never ceased to fascinate us.

These crossings take place in only a few minutes. It was here on dozens of crossings which we made that we especially noted the thoughtful and searching expressions on the faces of the hundreds of Hong Kong citizens as they gazed meditatively upon the beauty of the harbor, island and peninsula.

The world is wondering with them what the future holds for Hong Kong and the millions who have sought their freedom there.

Hong Kong Thrives Despite Red Peril

By MRS. WILSON EWING

The rapidity and enormity of change in the face of Hong Kong is incredible, but it was the underlying concern about its future detected so barely beneath the bright enthusiasm over its growth which we felt with such great impact.

Forced

"Often during their rest periods, they are forced to attend political meetings. These refusing to work are arrested by the Red Cadres."

This young farmer, who left his wife and children when he fled Lappa Island, confirmed that mass demonstrations were organized in many areas of Sun Wui and Chungshan counties, forcing Red militiamen to open fire against the peope, wounding and killing a large number.

"The situation is so bad that new reinforcements of regular troops from Canton are arriving in Sun Wui and Chungshan to control the demonstrations," he said.

The young farmer said farm production had declined badly. The people had seen no edible oil for months and most had had no fresh meat for more than a year, not even at the last Chinese New Year. Demonstrations were caused by the Red Cadres taking away whatever the people were producing in farms and fields for exportation, leaving them virtually nothing to eat and the people were completely out of their minds. Other escapees told similar stories. (Report of this interview printed by Sing Tag Jik Poa Ltd. for publisher of Tiger Standard Ltd.)

Meanwhile Kremlin chieftain, Nikita Khrushchev, and Premier Chou En-lai continue their infiltration and subversion of weak nations. This past year the Communists have used the German problem to keep the western democracies' attention focused on Europe while they have devoted attention to the so-called "united front policy" for the Orient.

The Red leaders lost prestige in Asia following their oppression in Tibet and the Communists instigated border disputes with India. When we were in India in May, Prime Minister Nehru was engaged in meetings with Premier Chou En-lai attempting to negotiate settlement of these disputes resulting mostly in concessions by India. Fortunately the anti - Communist atmosphere is prevalent among the nations off northeast Asia as in South Korea and Free China. In southern Asia and the Middle East some countries (notably India) have adopted the "neutrality policy."

Anti-Red

Nepal and Burma presently are anti - Red. Other nations of the area, because of their undeveloped economic and desperately needy conditions, are vulnerable to the bait and lure of economic aid from the Communists. Nepal is presently being so wooed. Khrushchev and Chou En-lai have visited many of these nations in recent months propagandizing for peace and non-interference in the affairs of other nations, thus attempting to re-establish good relations in the Orient.

Economic aid to other nations is reportedly the real dissenting factor between the Red leaders. Originally conflict was over Khrushchevs policy of "peaceful co - existence" and Peking's insistence that war between capitalists and Communist states was inevitable. Reliable sources now report that Peking resents Russia's limited economic aid to Red China and thinks economic Communist aid should be limited to Communist nations movements.

Communist philosophy for world conquest calls for constant aggression. The key to that philosophy seems to be the youth of the world.

The Red chieftains must surely have the following quotation by Aristotle penned upon their desks: "All who have meditated on the art of governing mankind have been convinced that the fate of empires depends on the education of youth."

For it is the youth of nations worldwide the communists are attempting to use in the expansion of their influence. When we were in Japan the Communists were working furiously to incite hatred of the United States. The youth of Japan and Korea were being agitated frenziedly to overthrow their pro-Western governments.

No remote African or Asian country escapes communist attempts of subversion and infiltration such as in the Congo as the peoples of these weak and newly emerging nations gain their independence. A third of the world has gained its independence in the last 15 years.

As the Red wave rolls on the foremost question asked with understandable concern is when and where will the West succeed in stemming it? Communism itself seems to be accomplishing this to an encouraging degree as it reveals its evil intent through its intrigues and machinations as it attempts its aggressive expansion. Russia has begun recalling her experts and technicians from Red China and the mumble of dissent grows louder as the gulf of differences widens between the two giant forces of Communism though the Red leaders contend these rifts are of little consequence.

As we left the border area and the vastness that is Red China, one's skin fairly prickled from the sense of evil and suffering so near. Guns entrenched in the hills and barbed wire strung along their tops were plainly visible. It was good to encounter the colony's own border guards en route.

Our hearts were heavy indeed as we considered the plight of millions of Chinese, roughly a fourth of the world's population, who long were our friends and respected America.

We found ourselves questioning the effectiveness of our quarantine of China, wondering if it has aided the communist leaders in strengthening their hold on the Chinese people. There can be no doubt that it has estranged millions once friendly to America.

Slogans

We were told that anti-American slogans are to be found plastered and strung over the whole of Red China. "Love Mother China hate America" is their battle cry as they struggle to achieve 20th Century industrial power and world recognition.

As we traveled on through the foothills of the New Territories we saw tremendous reservoirs and concrete dams constructed for water supply. We returned to teeming millions and the fabulous city which is such a shopping paradise. Goods from the various countries of the Orient, Hong Kong's handicraft and manufactured goods from all of the countries of the West are obtainable at prices cheaper than those in their places of origin.

A rickshaw tour at dusk one evening in the area between Nathan Road and Kowloon wharf and Godown took us through streets incredibly densely populated. Thousands of Chinese were cooking, bartering, sleeping, washing and playing on the sidewalks and in the streets. Haunting Chinese sing-song music and sounds emanated from every direction — all alien and fascinating. This is a city of great beauty, great prosperity and incredible poverty.

Our innumerable ferry crossings of the beautiful harbor, alive with luxury liners and freighters from all countries as well as carriers and gun boats of the British and American fleet, never ceased to fascinate us.

These crossings take place in only a few minutes. It was here on dozens of crossings which we made that we especially noted the thoughtful and searching expressions on the faces of the hundreds of Hong Kong citizens as they gazed meditatively upon the beauty of the harbor, island and peninsula.

The world is wondering with them what the future holds for Hong Kong and the millions who have sought their freedom there.

The World Endorses Nixon And Lodge

Two grim dangers face the United States.

One is the Khrushchev drive for World Communism. The other is the stepped-up drive of so-called "liberalism" down the road of national socialism, with the Democratic Party's present platform as the outstanding spearhead.

Each is the issue of survival—survival not only from missiles, but survival of free government over which the people have final control.

All rights and privileges and goals of free Americans would end if the man who pounds his desk disgustingly in United Nations could pound a desk in Freedom's Capitol at Washington.

Individual and state's rights would become mere mockery even under American government if those who believe in federal government holding economic responsibility for everybody and everything gained their socialistic objectives.

Those who seek controversial goals in farm problems, labor questions, race issues, free enterprise or anything else, must survive—and their free government must survive—if they are to have opportunity to make their own fight for their own causes.

No human being can say whether either Khrushchev's Communism or national socialism—or both—will be halted by election of either Mr. Nixon and Mr. Lodge, or Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Johnson.

But The World believes, as a result of its own years of close observation of all four men, including careful study of their current campaign utterances and of the platforms of the two Parties, that the nation's greatest hope for victory on these fronts rests in election of Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

We present our reasons herewith:

Nixon, Kennedy And Khrushchev

We do not believe there are any two Americans now in public life better qualified in experience, training, and proven ability and maturity of judgement to lead the nation successfully against the Khrushchev threat than Mr. Nixon and Mr. Lodge.

Mr. Nixon is the only man in American history to be trained specifically for the presidency. No previous Vice President has played so large a role in global affairs. For nearly eight years he has sat at the President's side in Mr. Eisenhower's many grave decisions. He has presided over the National Security Council. He has sat with the Secretaries of State—both Dulles and Herter. He has represented this nation in travels to 56 countries on five continents, in many instances as the personal emissary of President Eisenhower. He has conferred with Chiefs of State all over the world—friendly and unfriendly.

Above all, Mr. Nixon knows from eyewitness experience how and why and for what purpose every vital American decision involving this dangerous world in the eight years now ending was made—why each succeeded or failed, and whether something better could have been done.

The past and the present have provided him with guide posts for the future never before possessed by a candidate for President of the United States.

Mr. Truman's Tragedy

One of the tragic handicaps of Mr. Truman when he took office was the fact that he knew little of what Mr. Roosevelt had done in wartime world affairs—not even what had happened at Yalta or that we had an A—bomb nearly ready for use. Some of the major tragedies of the cold war—including the explosive problems with Russia over Berlin and West Germany—can be traced to Mr. Truman's ignorance of what Mr. Roosevelt had done. Even the horror of Hungary can be included to a certain extent. Mr. Nixon, however, has been a participant in all that Mr. Eisenhower, Mr. Herter—and Mr. Dulles—have done.

Mr. Nixon has stood face to face with Khrushchev in the Russian dictator's own land and "dressed him down." But never has he spoken rashly of friend or foe in a manner that had to be "explained" later.

Three times he has faced the possibility of becoming President within hours — when President Eisenhower had a heart attack, when he had a stroke, and when he underwent abdominal surgery. He has had to guide his thinking as if he were President through much of his term as Vice President.

Mr. Lodge's Training

Mr. Lodge, as Vice President, would become Mr. Nixon's co-ordinator of all non-military cold war activities of the United States. This has been announced by the presidential candidate. Like Mr. Nixon, he has nearly eight years of "on the job" training for such work. In specific preparation for the presidency itself Mr. Lodge is but a step or two behind Mr. Nixon—if tragedy should place him in the White House unexpectedly.

He, too, has sat at the side of the President in the great conferences and decisions of the past eight years. He served in the Senate before and after War II. He has brought pride to the heart of every American by his calm, deliberate and effective battles against the Communist in U.N. He has been both the President's Ambassador and a member of his Cabinet. Like Mr. Nixon, he has been an inside eyewitness to all that happened.

Kennedy's Irresponsibility

Mr. Kennedy repeatedly has shown an immaturity that has nothing to do with years. It includes brash utterances, spoken irresponsibly and at times in a manner to necessitate reversal later.

His first reaction in the Paris Summit Conference incident was that the President should "send regrets"—which means apologize—to Khrushchev. Had he been President and done that, the effect around the globe would have been a triumph for East over West from which the Free World might never have recovered—the creation of an indelible world picture of the President of the United States bowing low to the "Chairman" of Soviet Communism.

Mr. Kennedy offended the British in his nomination acceptance speech last July with thoughtless references to a "Tory nation" as "a sleeping nation," forgetting that in England "Tory" simply means "conservative" and that Britain and the Macmillan government have been Tory for nine years. He had a tough time in later press conference with British reporters trying to back out of this.

Before his nomination, Mr. Kennedy affronted France with careless statements on the Senate floor that deGaulle should surrender in Algeria. He has been illogical in proposing that the United States deal softly with our enemy, Mao and Red China, which necessarily must mean eventual desertion of our friend and ally, Chaing Kai-shek.

Throughout the current U.N. sessions, with Khrushchev pounding the desk and personally denouncing Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan and the United States, Mr. Kennedy has kept up a repeated chatter of "second rate nation." His statements have been spread on the front page of Communist publications as far away as Red China to "prove" that Mao and Khrushchev are right in their own belittling of the United States, its people, and their freedoms.

The brash and irresponsible immaturity that Mr. Kennedy has displayed as a candidate could, if uttered as President, help clear the path for Khrushchev's world Communist drive instead of halting it. It would undermine unity of the Free World—something that Khrushchev has sought and failed to do throughout the Eisenhower-Nixon eight years now ending.

First reactions in crises are vital with a Chief of State. If wrong, they can start wars. Too often Mr. Kennedy has had to admit his first reaction was wrong.

On domestic and economic issues we disagree sharply with parts of the Republican platform, nearly all of the Democratic platform, with Mr. Kennedy's whole socialistic government spending program, and with some of Mr. Nixon's personal economic philosophies. We are opposed 100 per cent to the civil rights planks of both Parties and to forced integration no matter who advocates it.

But we agree with Senator Barry Goldwater, probably the most logical conservative in public life today, when he says:

"When Nixon and Kennedy and the two Party platforms are placed side by side the only course for conservatives is to rush to the polls and vote enthusiastically for Nixon."

Just how far down the road to socialism this nation has traveled with Democrats in the White House for 20 of the past 28 years and Republicans out of control of Congress for 24 of those years is shown in this simple fact: Here in the United States of America, after nearly two centuries as a world symbol of democratic freedom of government and people, we have a major Party candidate running for President on virtually a straight Socialist ticket in its domestic economy planks.

As recently as 30 years ago that would have been inconceivable.

Left Of Socialism

The Democratic platform is not just "another step toward" Socialism. It is a full plunge down the statist road that ends only in junction with the road to totalitarianism.

It is a platform which Norman Thomas, for several decades perennial presidential candidate of the American Socialist Party, describes as "left of Socialism."

Even Mr. Kennedy's personal slogan—"New Frontiers"——is the past political slogan of Henry Agard Wallace who, as Franklin D. Roosevelt's vice presidential running mate in 1940, proclaimed before 15,000 people in Madison Square Garden, New York:

"Americanism can benefit from an infusion of Communism!"

Mr. Wallace long since has seen the folly of his own ideas and recanted, but, now—20 years later—a new breed takes up where he left off.

Kennedy-Democratic spending means new taxes. The following question and answer is from the transcript of an air panel discussion with Mr. Kennedy on his government spending programs July 10:

Lawrence Spivak, NBC: "When you are talking about that, you are talking about increased taxes?"

Mr. Kennedy: "If that's necessary, yes."

Mr. Nixon has stated, and Mr. Kennedy has not denied, that the whole Kennedy program would cost 13 to 18 billon dollars—in taxes—more than the federal government now is spending, against something over four billions for Mr. Nixon's spending proposals.

Mr. Nixon further has stated, with documenting data, that the Kennedy farm subsidy program alone would add 25 per cent to the average household grocery budget.

The Eisenhower-Nixon administration has stemmed the drive to socialism considerably through veto, threat of veto, and appeal to the public despite Democratic Congresses. But with a Democratic Congress, which is virtually certain for the next four years, and the spend-and-tax Mr. Kennedy in the White House, the floodgates would be opened to their widest.

For that reason alone, and there are many others, the nation certainly had better have a Republican as President—with his veto power—during the next four years.

Mr. Nixon has not hesitated to stand unflinchingly for conservatism in some of the most controversial issues before Congress in recent years.

In the House, he helped write the Taft-Hartley bill and was a floor leader for it where Mr. Kennedy fought it and he and his Party now stand for repeal—and for nullification of much of the Landrum-Griffin labor law, too.

Mr. Nixon voted in Congress for the proper interests of the oil and gas industry and the rights of states to tidelands minerals—both so vital to Southern States—when Mr. Kennedy voted against them and now is trying to wriggle out of his past record with one kind of talk in the South and another kind in the North.

Mr. Nixon twice in this campaign has repeated his belief in retaining the present 27 per cent oil and gas depletion allowance—at Houston and at Lafayette—frankly stating each time that he knew this would cost him a tremendous amount of support in the North.

On three occasions Mr. Nixon has, as Vice President, cast tie-breaking votes in the Senate on the conservative side in full knowledge that in each case he was arousing voting opposition of powerful "liberal" groups. One of these votes kept the McClellan Bill of Rights in the labor bill when Mr. Kennedy tried to keep it out.

On federal aid generally, Mr. Nixon stands for federal and state government to share capital investment in a manner to prevent federal control. Mr. Kennedy stands for federal payment even of local payrolls in such projects, which inevitably means federal control.

Mr. Nixon states: "We will not spend one federal dollar that private enterprise could spend better." Mr. Kennedy believes in the federal government going "whole hog" in paying for responsibilities of local government, and that means socialism.

Civil Rights And Personal Integrity

Civil rights is not a presidential issue. No president can change court rulings or federal statutes. No man can be elected President without supporting integration. No Party could remain in power unless it and its President fully upheld the civil rights of the Federal Courts and the statutes enacted by Congress.

The World will continue to oppose desegregation to its last drop of ink and sheet of newsprint—against Republicans or Democrats, Mr. Nixon or Mr. Kennedy. But even here there is a preference—the preference of honesty over subterfuge and of recklessness on one side and of at least some effort to avoid recklessness by the other side.

The Democratic platform calls for abolishing all literacy tests for voting, a proposal that—entirely outside the racial field—could be disastrous to the nation itself. The Republican platform would establish six grades of school education or its equivalent as a literacy test.

The Democratic platform demands initiation of desegregation in every segregated school by 1963. The Republican platform would let the course run naturally under federal rulings as they are made in suits filed—before or after 1963—thus providing new opportunity to gain time in many cases.

"Time" is more than delay. Invariably where Supreme Court has laid down landmark decisions of basic principle in desegregation, later interpretation by the Court of its own rulings have been softening in nature where there had been time to see what practical application of the original ruling could mean.

The Democratic platform opens the door to federally forced desegregation in private schools, clubs, churches, lodges and every phase of life. The Republican platform does not.

Mr. Kennedy evades discussion of civil rights when speaking in the South. Mr. Nixon frankly states his stand, but demands that the North, East and West provide integration in their own areas before pointing fingers at the South. Mr. Kennedy has not done this.

Mr. Nixon frankly and honestly presents his stand to everyone. Mr. Kennedy avoids frankness to some and thus resorts to subterfuge.

We prefer the man who is completely honest even though supporting what we completely oppose.

VICE—PRESIDENT Richard M. Nixon, candidate for president, and Henry Cabot Lodge, candidate for vice-president, today received the official endorsement of the Monroe Morning World, which said editorially that the interest of the United States would best be served by the election of these two men.

2nd Debate Spurs Claims, Leaves Doubt

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The second radio-TV set-to between the presidential candidates produced more clash, clatter and sparks, rival victory claims from party sachems, but no clear-cut decision for anybody.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Republican and Democratic nominees for the White House, squared off for an hour Friday night before millions of the people for whose support they are battling.

Yet a sampling of reaction over the nation turned up no evidence of any immediate swing to either man.

It was the second of four rounds for Kennedy and Nixon. The first was staged 10 days earlier in Chicago. The next comes Thursday.

This time, the two went in for less nervous sparring, more toe to toe slugging. They accused one another of lying, without using the actual word. The first utterance from either man came from Nixon: "Well, first of all, I don't agree with Sen. Kennedy." That sort of set the pace.

The nominees collided head-on over policies toward Cuba and Formosa in the field of foreign affairs. They pounded each other in the domestic arena on such issues as civil rights and the nation's economic health.

Even though no new issues or new stands on old ones developed, all in all, it added up to a livelier show. Nixon sized it up as "good, sharp debate, not dull." Kennedy's press secretary reported the Massachusetts senator was pleased with the way things went, even though Nixon was hitting him harder.

Kennedy was understood to regard the encounter as something of a standoff. Not so Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson. He said Kennedy added new gains to those in the first debate. A Democratic National chairman, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, called it "Kennedy by a decision."

Nixon was pronounced a "clear winner" by Repubican Chairman Thruston B. Morton over a man he called "the apostle of appeasement."

But a sampling of 100 persons scattered over the country, in cities and small towns, indicated fewer voters were influenced than 10 days earlier, and those only in directions in which they already were leaning.

The Associated Press bureaus from Maine to Georgia to California telephoned 232 persons in their areas to reach 100 who sat through the whole hour with the candidates.

Eighty of the 100 said the debate changed nothing so far as they were concerned. The other 20 reported no switches from one rival to the other. Mainly, they said their previous feelings for Kennedy or Nixon were strengthened. More leaned toward Kennedy than Nixon, before and after.

Following the first debate 35 of 100 persons indicated they had been influenced. Again it was largely along lines of cementing former allegiances more strongly. But two did say they had jumped from the Nixon to the Kennedy camp.

When Nixon and Kennedy go at it again Thursday night, they will be tied together electronically across the nation. Nixon will be in Los Angeles, Kennedy in New York.

And if the past points the way, there will be even more sulphuric exchanges, no conclusive winner, and each contender will agree that the verdict will come down in the Nov. 8 election.

Daily Devotional

But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord. — Joshua 24:15.

In the opinion of many, the status of men as heads of households has deteriorated until males are mere figureheads. It may be well and good, in certain circumstances, for husbands and fathers not to be dictatorial and dominating. But there are certain rules that should be established and accepted in every household, as in the case of Joshua. Trouble and unrest in the home is usually the result of having a captain "without chart and compass" — one without definite religious convictions and moral rectitude.

Help us who are responsible for setting home patterns, O God, to look to Thee and Christ as our Guides. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

For that reason alone, and there are many others, the nation certainly had better have a Republican as President—with his veto power—during the next four years.

Mr. Nixon has not hesitated to stand unflinchingly for conservatism in some of the most controversial issues before Congress in recent years.

In the House, he helped write the Taft-Hartley bill and was a floor leader for it where Mr. Kennedy fought it and he and his Party now stand for repeal—and for nullification of much of the Landrum-Griffin labor law, too.

Mr. Nixon voted in Congress for the proper interests of the oil and gas industry and the rights of states to tidelands minerals—both so vital to Southern States—when Mr. Kennedy voted against them and now is trying to wriggle out of his past record with one kind of talk in the South and another kind in the North.

Mr. Nixon twice in this campaign has repeated his belief in retaining the present 27 per cent oil and gas depletion allowance—at Houston and at Lafayette—frankly stating each time that he knew this would cost him a tremendous amount of support in the North.

On three occasions Mr. Nixon has, as Vice President, cast tie-breaking votes in the Senate on the conservative side in full knowledge that in each case he was arousing voting opposition of powerful "liberal" groups. One of these votes kept the McClellan Bill of Rights in the labor bill when Mr. Kennedy tried to keep it out.

On federal aid generally, Mr. Nixon stands for federal and state government to share capital investment in a manner to prevent federal control. Mr. Kennedy stands for federal payment even of local payrolls in such projects, which inevitably means federal control.

Mr. Nixon states: "We will not spend one federal dollar that private enterprise could spend better." Mr. Kennedy believes in the federal government going "whole hog" in paying for responsibilities of local government, and that means socialism.

Civil Rights And Personal Integrity

Civil rights is not a presidential issue. No president can change court rulings or federal statutes. No man can be elected President without supporting integration. No Party could remain in power unless it and its President fully upheld the civil rights of the Federal Courts and the statutes enacted by Congress.

The World will continue to oppose desegregation to its last drop of ink and sheet of newsprint—against Republicans or Democrats, Mr. Nixon or Mr. Kennedy. But even here there is a preference—the preference of honesty over subterfuge and of recklessness on one side and of at least some effort to avoid recklessness by the other side.

The Democratic platform calls for abolishing all literacy tests for voting, a proposal that—entirely outside the racial field—could be disastrous to the nation itself. The Republican platform would establish six grades of school education or its equivalent as a literacy test.

The Democratic platform demands initiation of desegregation in every segregated school by 1963. The Republican platform would let the course run naturally under federal rulings as they are made in suits filed—before or after 1963—thus providing new opportunity to gain time in many cases.

"Time" is more than delay. Invariably where Supreme Court has laid down landmark decisions of basic principle in desegregation, later interpretation by the Court of its own rulings have been softening in nature where there had been time to see what practical application of the original ruling could mean.

The Democratic platform opens the door to federally forced desegregation in private schools, clubs, churches, lodges and every phase of life. The Republican platform does not.

Mr. Kennedy evades discussion of civil rights when speaking in the South. Mr. Nixon frankly states his stand, but demands that the North, East and West provide integration in their own areas before pointing fingers at the South. Mr. Kennedy has not done this.

Mr. Nixon frankly and honestly presents his stand to everyone. Mr. Kennedy avoids frankness to some and thus resorts to subterfuge.

We prefer the man who is completely honest even though supporting what we completely oppose.

2nd Debate Spurs Caims, Leaves Doubt

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The second radio-TV set-to between the presidential candidates produced more clash, clatter and sparks, rival victory claims from party sachems, but no clear-cut decision for anybody.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Republican and Democratic nominees for the White House, squared off for an hour Friday night before millions of the people for whose support they are battling.

Yet a sampling of reaction over the nation turned up no evidence of any immediate swing to either man.

It was the second of four rounds for Kennedy and Nixon. The first was staged 10 days earlier in Chicago. The next comes Thursday.

This time, the two went in for less nervous sparring, more toe to toe slugging. They accused one another of lying, without using the actual word. The first utterance from either man came from Nixon: "Well, first of all, I don't agree with Sen. Kennedy." That sort of set the pace.

The nominees collided head-on over policies toward Cuba and Formosa in the field of foreign affairs. They pounded each other in the domestic arena on such issues as civil rights and the nation's economic health.

Even though no new issues or new stands on old ones developed, all in all, it added up to a livelier show. Nixon sized it up as "good, sharp debate, not dull." Kennedy's press secretary reported the Massachusetts senator was pleased with the way things went, even though Nixon was hitting him harder.

Kennedy was understood to regard the encounter as something of a standoff. Not so Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson. He said Kennedy added new gains to those in the first debate. A Democratic National chairman, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, called it "Kennedy by a decision."

Nixon was pronounced a "clear winner" by Repubican Chairman Thruston B. Morton over a man he called "the apostle of appeasement."

But a sampling of 100 persons scattered over the country, in cities and small towns, indicated fewer voters were influenced than 10 days earlier, and those only in directions in which they already were leaning.

Tne Associated Press bureaus from Maine to Georgia to California telephoned 232 persons in their areas to reach 100 who sat through the whole hour with the candidates.

Eighty of the 100 said the debate changed nothing so far as they were concerned. The other 20 reported no switches from one rival to the other. Mainly, they said their previous feelings for Kennedy or Nixon were strengthened. More leaned toward Kennedy than Nixon, before and after.

Following the first debate 35 of 100 persons indicated they had been influenced. Again it was largely along lines of cementing former allegiances more strongly. But two did say they had jumped from the Nixon to the Kennedy camp.

When Nixon and Kennedy go at it again Thursday night, they will be tied together electronically across the nation. Nixon will be in Los Angeles, Kennedy in New York.

And if the past points the way, there will be even more sulphuric exchanges, no conclusive winner, and each contender will agree that the verdict will come down in the Nov. 8 election.

Daily Devotional

But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord. — Joshua 24:15.

In the opinion of many, the status of men as heads of households has deteriorated until males are mere figureheads. It may be well and good, in certain circumstances, for husbands and fathers not to be dictatorial and dominating. But there are certain rules that should be established and accepted in every household, as in the case of Joshua. Trouble and unrest in the home is usually the result of having a captain "without chart and compass" — one without definite religious convictions and moral rectitude.

Help us who are responsible for getting home patterns, O God, to look to Thee and Christ as our Guides. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Pitchforks And Pickets

Memories Of Grapes Of Wrath Recalled

By LEIF ERICKSON

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Memories of the turbulent era of "The Grapes of Wrath" are being stirred by strife now boiling up between growers and farm labor in the nation's richest agricultural state.

The first skirmishes involved this year's cherry, pear, peach, tomato and grape harvests and important shifts in the balance of power since the last major farm unionizing effort in California suffered crushing defeat in 1935.

Growers are bitterly complaining about federal and state government policies which ban Mexican braceros (farm hands) and state-referred domestic workers from picketed ranches.

They charge that Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell — who calls the migrant farm worker the "excluded American" gave government backing to farm unionizing.

Farm leaders — particularly grower - operator organizations such as the American Farm Bureau Federation and the National Grange—are watching the California developments closely.

They feel the struggle could start a movement that could sweep agriculture nationally.

The California skirmishes will be a major topic at conventions of the Federation and Grange in November and December.

The AFL-CIO is pouring money and leadership into its first long-range drive to unionize 250,000 migrant farm workers in California.

National convention action has backed the AFL-CIO's newly chartered Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee. Last month the AFL-CIO Executive Council made its third $100,000 allocation for organizing work under AWOC director Norman Smith, 61, a white-haired veteran of the unionizing of General Motors and Ford.

In more than 50 years of recurring conflict, every previous attempt to unionize farm workers has been beaten decisively by California growers, who firmly declare that "organized labor has no place in agriculture."

To beat the union now, said Louis A. Rozzoni, California Farm Bureau Federation president, "farmers must be as determined and as tough as the union—but not pitchfork tough."

Rozzoni's caution against pitchfork toughness reflects the belief on both sides that prospects are remote for violence on the scale that erupted in the San Joaquin and Imperial valleys in the 30s, the days of John Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath."

The basic grower strategy against the AFL-CIO drive follows traditional farm policy of denying recognition and refusing negotiation with union representatives.

Acknowledging the member recruiting job has only started, Smith and his AWOC organizing staff have demanded only higher wages in the union's muscle-testing strikes.

The showdown rounds in the California farm struggle will come when AWOC leaders decide they are ready to risk widespread strike action to force full recognition.

This may come next year, Smith told California Labor Federation convention delegates. They gave him and 30 farm workers a standing ovation in Sacramento last month on his report of AWOC wage boosting successes.

"We are concentrating now on the development of leadership, not membership," Smith told the state labor group. "But we will—perhaps next year—produce one of the California Federation's largest bodies of dues paying members."

AWOC leaders claimed the unions' scattered peach harvest picketing established a piece-rate pattern of 17 cents a box compared with grower offers of 14 to 16 cents.

The Tri-County Agricultural Committee, Marysville area grower group, protested official state recognition of 17 cents as the prevailing wage which growers were required to pay any imported Mexican nationals.

In the pear harvest, growers advanced the rate to 30 cents a box or $1.10 an hour plus 10 cents a box after AWOC strike action. The growers' first wage offer had been a flat $1.10 an hour. The pear growers paid $1.00 an hour in 1959 and 90 cents in 1958.

One of many grower groups mobilizing against AWOC declares that California is the first target in an AFL-CIO battle plan "to bring all agriculture under the domination of organized labor." Diversified Growers, Inc., gave the warning in a rally call for farmer unity.

Rozzoni told his 65,000 Farm Bureau Federation members the union's California campaign is a dress rehearsal for an eventual nationwide drive. He said organized labor picked California for its first attack because this state's $3.5 billion annual crop production includes many highly perishable and strike vulnerable harvests.

"The tactics which labor leaders employ in industry would destroy agriculture," argued the statement by Diversified Growers, headed by John Zuckerman, Stockton area asparagus and potato rancher.

"Farms cannot shut down like factories while men argue, and start up again when the dispute is over.

"When crops are ready, they must be harvested without regard to 8-hour days, double time for Sundays, slow-down and holidays. Wages must be geared to the productivity of the worker (piece rate payment), for the farmer cannot pass along increased costs to the consumer, as industry can."

Farmers have set up two new statewide organizations to defend their long-established claims to economic difference, the California Farmers Emergency Food Committee and the Council of California Growers.

The Farmers Emergency Food Committee, headed by Zuckerman declared its purpose is to recruit non-union workers to be dispatched to farms where "agitators and labor parasites hit."

The Council of California Growers is a public relations organization.

The significance of Secretary of Labor Mitchell's role in the California conflict became sharply evident after AWOC's early strike actions.

Mitchell is one of the severest critics of the farm employers in their dealing with what he calls the national social problem of the migrant worker's status "at the very bottom of the American economic scale."

Mitchell rejected grower appeals to allow Mexican contract braceros to work on AWOC-picketed pear and peach orchards. He said use of the braceros would be "tantamount to strike breaking."

The denials were the first formal rulings by the Labor Department on the issue of bringing in Mexican nations to a struck grower or returning braceros withdrawn because of a strike.

The AWOC strikes were the first actions by organized labor strong enough to require an enforcement ruling on Article 22 of the 1951 migrant labor pact with Mexico. Article 22 says: "No Mexican worker shall be used to fill any job which the secretary of labor finds is vacant because the occupent is out on strike or locked out in the course of a labor dispute." It also says bracero authorization shall be withdrawn where a strike or lockout "seriously affects the operations in which they are engaged."

Several growers associations fired a protest telegram to Mitchell declaring: "The actions of your department reflect complete disinterest in safeguarding, in the manner provided by law, the harvesting of highly perishable crops and an inordinate interest in unionizing farm workers in disregard of the policy of the National Labor Relations Act against federal encouragement of farm unions."

Mitchell's rulings on California farmpicketing developed against a background of his previously declared convictions that grower organizations have been obstructing efforts to improve the migrant's low income and meager living standard.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports the national average of farm migrant income in 1957 was $859. The average laborer worked only 131 days of the year.

"Competitive forces do not operate in an economy where an employer can create a false labor shortage by offering unacceptable wages, and then receive foreign workers to bring in his crops," Mitchell declared to a Chicago conference on migrant workers. "The American people are going to become impatient with continued resistance to needed change. That change will come as surely as the sun will rise."

Disputing Mitchell, Zuckerman told another migrant labor conference at Phoenix: "I have watched with concern — indeed horror—over the years as a concerted effort is made to inflame an unenlighted public against the American farmer.

"As farmers, we do not oppose higher wages, better working conditions, better standards of living for farm workers. We want improvement in all these things to come about as rapidly as they can be put on a pay-as-you-go basis.

"But you can't help the farm worker unless you help the farmer," Zuckerman argued. "There is no source of added income for the farm worker — except that which comes to the farmer from the sale of his crops.

"This problem cannot be solved by forcing agricultural workers to organize into a belligerent mob with the hope of creating an industrial type cold war between worker and farmer-employer."

Smith conceded government policies have given AWOC's organizing drive major breaks.

"But, look, we're working at one of the toughest organizing jobs anyone ever attempted," he declared.

"The farm communities are hostile against the workers, and against us. The workers are shifting, always on the move. Much of the time they're living in camps on grower land behind no trespassing signs.

"Most have had so little schooling that we literally have to teach them they are entitled to rights that other Americans take for granted."

MAN ON THE SPOT

Squeeze On Again By Soviets In West Berlin

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—The squeeze is on again in West Berlin, but the Communists will find a sandy-haired American there a tough nut to crack.

He is Maj. Gen. Ralph Morris Osborne, an artilleryman who commands the U.S. forces in West Berlin, the only American garrison behind the Iron Curtain.

The hot and cold Berlin situation is turning warm again as the East German Communist regime is demanding travel permits of West Berliners crossing into the Communist sector. This and other pressures in the four-power occupied city serve to put the spotlight on Osborne.

Gen. Osborne, 57, has seen a lot of service: desk service in the Pentagon, active staff service in World War II, front line service in Korea and a kind of military-diplomatic service in the Korean armistice talks.

He has been up against Communists for 15 years, on and off. Now his job is to keep on the best possible terms with a particularly tough set of them, not to yield an inch on anything that matters to the Western powers and—if necessary—to fight.

Osborne does not pretend to be an expert on Communists. He is a soldier and a civil engineer.

"You can't do much with the small fry," he says, summing up his experience. "They don't have much margin for action. All their flexibility is at the top."

This is just as well for the West, in a touchy situation like Berlin. It means that even the formidable array of political talent the Communists have here must get the nod from Moscow before it can do anything drastic.

The array is pretty impressive. Walter Ulbricht, head of the East German Communists, has been the leader of his party for a generation: in opposition, in hiding, in exile and in power. Mikhail Pervukhin, the Soviet ambassador, was once deputy premier in Moscow and is still a candidate member of the Communst party Presidium the effective ruling body of the U.S.S.R.

Though they probably lack the power to order an attack on West Berlin, the complexity of Osborne's job makes it easy for them to set up difficulties.

He has at least three distinct functions, all of them loaded with responsibility:

1. He commands a garrison of 5,000 men—many of them with wives and children here—and is responsible for keeping them in fighting trim. Unlike any other unit in the U.S. forces, this one is stationed in a city divided between the Communists and the West. Communist territory surrounds it completely, and it is 110 miles by road from the nearest friendly base in West Germany.

2. As one of the city's four commandants—U.S., Soviet, British and French—he is a kind of chief of state in Berlin. This means he has allies to get along with as well as the Soviets.

3. Under the U.S. ambassador in Bonn, he heads a 70-man diplomatic mission that takes care of U.S. relations with the West Berlin authorities. It also keeps tabs on developments throughout East Germany, where the West has no diplomats.

Western officials, too, like to refer to their home governments for instructions in a tight spot, but they have more margin for using their own wits than the Soviets. If the Communists try to blockade, infiltrate or attack West Berlin, Osborne may be the man who has to figure out what to do fast.

If worst comes to worst, there is a military plan. To a civilian it seems pretty hopeless, with the Western garrisons little more than a token force. Osborne doesn't see it that way.

"It's true," he says, "that we don't have the force to fight our way back to West Germany. But that isn't the thing. We certainly can't be walked over in a day. It might take 10 days, it might take longer.

"In the meantime, they couldn't throw all their strength into anything else. That might make all the difference."

He thinks he can rely on the determination of the West Berliners in any military action.

"It's surprising what can be done just by locking doors and throwing rubble out of windows," he says.

Osborne first came to Berlin in 1945, not long after the German surrender. He was deputy chief of something called Field Information Agency, Technical, known from its initials as FIAT. Its job was to get together as much as it could of the Nazis' secret scientific work to see if there was anything that could help the war against Japan.

At his own technical level, Osborne had little friction with the soviets. But there was little cooperation, either. In two years, he recalls, they sent three or four scientific and industrial missions into the U.S. sector, and about the same number of U.S. missions went into Soviet territory. He was then a colonel.

As a new general, he saw action in Korea against the Communists commanding the artillery of the 3rd Division. He represented the U.S. Army on the United Nations team that negotiated the armistice.

Small Fry Writer On His Biography

Editor's Note — It began, "Old Mother West Wind came out of the purple hills. . ." and it's never ended—the world of childhood delight opened half a century ago when a father wrote a bedtime story for his son. Now 86, the creator of Peter Rabbit still has more tales to tell.

HAMPDEN, Mass. (AP) — His first summer of "retirement" author Thornton Burgess, 86, spent at a desk heaped with correspondence and proofs of his autobiography.

The man who created Peter Rabbit, whose bedtime tales of animals and birds have enthralled three generations of children — has this advice: "Never write your own biography. It's the toughest thing I ever had to write."

This from an author whose output over the past 50 years runs to 15,000 stories for newspaper syndication, 100 books, scores of magazine articles.

Durable as a salt-preserved Cape Cod Yankee — his boyhood years were spent on the cape—his only complaint is arthritis twinges in his legs which prevent him from taking daily walks.

"My legs are 86 years old while the rest of me is at an indeterminate age," Burgess said.

Outside the converted barn that serves as his studio lies the world of Peter Rabbit, Reddy Fox, Jimmy Skunk, Chatterer the red squirrel, the "Little People" of his stories. Green Forest and the Old Orchard rim the Green Meadow. Laughing Brook bubbles away, a hop, skip and a jump from the corner of the studio.

Is he guided by some basic premise in writing his nature stories?

"A child," Burgess says, "knows instinctively, even at a very young age, that he is born superior to animals. A child won't admit that an animal knows more than him.

"I've received letters about children who stopped being afraid of the dark once they read my stories about animals feeling no fear of the dark."

His autobiography, "Now I remember," is on the fall publication list along with the 50th anniversary edition of "Old Mother West Wind," a collection of the first stories written by Burgess.

The golden anniversary edition is a tribute not only to one of America's best-loved storytellers, but to Harrison Cady, the artist. Cady and Burgess have worked together almost from the beginning. They probably have the longest author-illustrator relationship in publishing history — 48 years.

How did it all start? Burgess was a magazine editor with no idea of trying his hand at writing for a living. Then, stories that he had written for the enjoyment of his young son away from home on a visit, came to the attention of a literary agent.

He sold them to various magazines. They were assembled into "Old Mother West Wind." The book was an instant success, and newspaper syndication followed.

Burgess began the stint of six stories a week on Feb. 16, 1912. Along the way he wrote books that have sold more than seven million copies, including editions printed in French, Swedish, even Chinese.

This experience has convinced him that, "A writer's creative ability is like a pool of spring water—the water level may occasionally recede, but the spring will always fill up again with fresh ideas. At least that's the way the business of writing has worked for me."

A Time For Violence Is Top Western

A TIME FOR VIOLENCE By Noel M. Loomis (Macmillan, $2.95).

In the early days of the Texas Panhandle, there came a time when wise men desired law in place of lawlessness. This was the time when the forces of order struggled to control the whims of the outlaw, when the forces of justice battled to protect human rights. Brief, bloody, it was a telling period of transition — a necessary time for violence.

An accused murderer, Bart Wagner has come to Texas to hunt down the only witness who can prove he killed in self - defense. He soon discovers that his witness is the occupant of a freshly - dug grave. He also discovers the witness' widow — the beautiful, iron - willed Catherine who seems mysteriously involved with the men who killed her seventy-five-year-old husband. Bart agrees to help the determined Catherine defend her ranch against Xenophon Jones and his gang. When the outlaws try to drive her off her property by setting fire to her buildings, Bart finds himself involved in something more than clearing his own name.

Bart and the other ranchers decide to set up legal machinery in the county. When Charles Goodnight, the famous Texas cattleman, brings in a judge, the men hold a court session where two of Xenophon Jones' men will be up for trial. It is Bart's plan, insuring the success of the session, that results in a gory shootout with the leaders of the outlaws.

This is a vivid tale of the Southwest set against a background of violence and bloodshed.

The Judas Gun Another Top Novel Of West

THE JUDAS GUN By Wayne D. Overholster (MacMillan, $2.95).

Even in the pale gray light, Shorty Bogardus could see the words that someone had chalked across the door; FARGO IS COMING.

Fear crawled into his belly and tied a knot in his insides. His leg muscles twitched, his heart began to pound, and for a moment he was unable to catch a good deep breath.

This was the day the people of San Lorenzo had awaited with dread. This was the day when Ben Fargo — killer of three men — was coming to seek his revenge.

Two years before, when old Judge Wallace and twelve jurymen had sentenced Fargo to prison, the gunfighter vowed he would return "to kill them all." Panic-stricken by the warning of his arrival, the townspeople rally in self-defense under the capable hands of Clint Harper, a young deputy. Just as quickly, they are faced with a horrifying but inescapable conclusion — there is a Judas in their midst. One of them is helping Fargo; one of them is only pretending to be afraid.

Stranger In My Grave Is Top Suspense

A STRANGER IN MY GRAVE BY Margaret Millar (Random House, $3.50).

This is a most interesting and unusual suspense novel. She dreamed that she had died four years ago. The dream was terrifyingly real. Then Daisy discovered that the grave and the granite cross were really there in the cemetery, the date of death the same as she had dreamed, but a stranger's name cut in the stone.

Daisy Harker's search for the lost day of her imagined death becomes a quest for the meaning of several lives, and for her own survival. As her nightmare emerges into reality, it threatens her comfortable relationship with her husband Jim, and thrusts her into more disturbing relationships: with Steve Pinata, the detective of uncertain origins; with Stanley Fielding, who lives by his wits on the edge of the law; and with the dark forces beyond the law. Daisy's struggle between the world we know and trust, and the underworld of crime and derradation, is resolved in scenes of shattering suspense and emotional power.

Guide To Good Reading

By FRANCES FLANDERS, OUACHITA PARISH LIBRARIAN

A book by Taylor Caldwell is always eagerly received by the patrons of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. This week her lates book arrived and is ready for the patrons. It is called "The Listener" and is a most unusual book. It is a book which offers spiritual strengthing and hope. It is the story of men who wanted a confessional and of how it affected their lives. One of our most popular writers is Eizabeth Goudge, who has written beautiful books for many years. Her latest one is called "The Dean's Watch." It has it's setting in an English Cathedral town and is a book which should be ready for beauty of language and description as well as for the very interesting story. Elizabeth Seifert write's very interesting stories with a medical background. Her latest one is called "The doctor's bride" and will appeal to those who have enjoyed her earlier books.

The non-fiction as usual offers a variety of titles. Those who have read his articles in one of the national magazines will want to see "Can this marriage be saved? by Paul Popenoe. It is a book of advice for married people who find their marriage in danger and it is a very worthwhile book. Another unusual book is called "Comstockery in America." It was written by Robert W. Haney and is concerned with the patterns of censorship and control, evident in our society.

Lester Morrison is the author of a book called "Low-fat way to health and longer life". This book answers many of the questions which trouble those who have seen their friends succumb to heart attacks and high blood pressure. A very fine book in the field of radio is "Elements of radio" by Abraham Marcus. We are happy that the library has a new edition of this work, just published last year. A book which should interest many people is called "Photo-Offset Fundamentals" and was written by John H. Cogoli. It will be most useful to a number of people. A very unusual small book is "Oriental car pets" by Ali Hosain. It is a complete account of the making of these beautiful carpets.

The many artists in the community will welcome a book "Water - Color painting is fun." It was written by Alois Fabry and is a practical and useful guide to work in this field. Another book on the subject of painting is called "A pot with feeling." It was written by Emanie Arling and deals with the field of flower painting and illustration. A book of games for all the family is "Family fun and activities" written by Margaret Eizabeth Mulac. Thi sis a useful and delightful book.

"Let us now praise famous men" by James Agee is an unusual book, written many years ago. but reprinted this year. It is concerned with farm tenancy in Alabama and contains much food for thought. An addition to the American History collection is "Now we are enemies" by Thomas J. Fleming. This is an account of the Battle of Bunker Hill and the men who took part in it. One of the classics of the Civil War period is "A Confederate girl's diary" by Sarah Dawson. We have had copies of it for many years, but are happy that the University of Indiana has now brought out a new edition as part of the celebration of the Centennial Year.

A biography for which we have had many requests is "The Richest American, J. Paul Getty" by Ralph Hewins. We borrowed it several times and then found the demand so steady the the Library purchased a copy. It is an interesting book and many people will want to read it.

The Anna Meyer Branch of the Ouachita Parish Public Library will be opened to the public on October 30. For more than a year we have been assembling the book collection for this branch. The library will be filled only about one third of capacity when we open, but we do want you to know that the collection will be growing all the time. It takes a great deal of effort and money to assemble a completely new book collection and make a new card catalog. We have done the very best we could with our budget and staff. The books which will be found in this collection are all good and many of them are brand new. We wish the collection was larger, but this is the best we were able to do. We are happy that the Reference Collection for the Anna Meyer Branch is outstanding, for it was purchased with a substantial donation from the Board of the Anna Meyer Charities and is a very fine one.

RUNNING THE SCALES

With JOHN CALE

Following a summer which was hot and blank enough for north Louisiana audiences and culture promoters to build up a good head of steam, the season's roster already shows promise and fulfillment.

In the latter category, the United States Marine Band is booked for two spots in the Monroe area this week. The military band — billed as the "President's Own" — will play matinee and evening performances at Louisiana Tech tomorrow and has scheduled an evening concert at Ferriday on Wednesday.

SERIES OFFERINGS

The Monday performance at Ruston opens the season for the Louisiana Tech Concert Association, a membership group under the leadership of L. V. E. Irvine which over a decade has converted north Louisiana from a cultural high and dry spot into one which rivals New Orleans and other centers in quality and variety.

The Ferriday appearance of the Marine Band is being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Locally, the Northeast State Concert Series will open activities October 20 with the appearance of the Chris Barber Jazz Ensemble. As the season unrolls, this series which is now in its second year of operation will present Mantovani and his Orchestra, the musical comedy "Fiorello," the NBC Opera Company's "Amahl and the Night Visitors," and the U.S. Air Force Band.

LOCAL AND LIVE

Greetings to new Little Theatre director Richard Clark who has already gotten down to business with the comedy "Seven Year Itch." Clark has plenty to look forward to with the new theatre taking shape on Lamy Lane.

The first two productions of this season, however, will be in the familiar Selman Field Playhouse, which like Shakespeare's "Wooden O" has required years of work and imagination on the part of directors, patrons and actors to put plays on the boards.

In this respect, all dramatic and physical credit must be passed on to former director Ivan Uttal. Under his guidance small and large casts, farces and heavy drama took their turns in plays staged under circumstances which were often quite limited. From a critic's eye-view, the plays were not all good all the time. But the sum total of the past five year's theatrical effort has seen the stage capture the imagination of northeast Louisianians as never before.

What could be more fitting, then, but to begin the new season scratching with "Seven Year Itch" in the old playhouse then moving into new quarters for the final musical?

At any rate, the "scales" will be running a heavy season this year in both the fanfare and post mortem departments on music and dramatic events throughout northeast Louisiana.

Net Of Gold About Dutch Empire Fall

THE NET OF GOLD By Alice Ekert Rotholz (Viking, $4.95).

The splendor and decline of the Dutch colonial empire in Indonesia form the background of this dramatic novel.

From the dignified homes of Holland's merchant princes come the men and women of the story, lured by the glamour of the dreamy and profitable islands, caught and tested and changed in the net of gold.

Set against this background is the passionate and troubled romance of Jo van Swanenburgh, student of medicine, dazzingly beautiful, reckless, stubborn, and lonely. Daughter of a famous Amsterdam surgeon and of a former New York fashion model, Jo at seventeen meets fate in the dashing person of Dirk van Veen. Dirk's reputation in the archipelago is twofold — as number one tiger-killer and as number one lady-killer. Professionally he is a journalist and sociologist; privately he is fascinated by the witch cults of Sumatra.

Dirk roams through the islands and cities of the East, breaking the rules of convention and the hearts of women until, in an unforeseen dilemma, he is confronted by a Far Eastern tragedy which happens to be his own.

The story spans the years between 1927 and 1952, the time of Japanese commercial penetration of the East Indies, the rising storm in Europe, Japanese aggression, and the aftermath of World War II. Implicit in it is the problem of Indonesian culture and Indonesian psychology, faced with the perils of freedom newly won.

Alice Ekert-Rotholz has an extraordinarily rich and supple mind, the rare gift of filling her pages with superabundant life and humor, and the ability to create character. A pattern of love and hate is drawn across the pages of this splendidly vital novel, and out of the turmoil of swift change emerges an undefeated force — the spirit of modern man.

Season Of Fear Is An Excellent Book

SEASON OF FEAR By Guy Owen (Random House, $3.95). This is a sort of eerie book, but interesting.

It is the story of Clay Hampton, a man whose happiness and self - respect derive from the land he loves, but whose life depends upon his leaving it. His intense religious feeling and his isolated life with two old women, his aunt and his mother, make him a lonely, brooding man. When drought sears the land, Hamp is convinced that it is God's judgment on the town of Ellers Bend. The pressures mount through his preoccupation with the illicit affair of a neighbor, and through the arrival at the farm across the road of a beautiful yellow-haired girl. Hamp's religion becomes a fever instead of a balm, as his love for the tantalizing Laura Dell finally pushes him over the edge of violence.

This first novel by a talented young southerner is a compassionate portrayal of a man's struggle with his own passions and beliefs, and an authentic, poetic re-creation of a way of life.

Pitchforks And Pickets

Memories Of Grapes Of Wrath Recalled

By LEIF ERICKSON

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Memories of the turbulent era of "The Grapes of Wrath" are being stirred by strife now boiling up between growers and farm labor in the nation's richest agricultural state.

The first skirmishes involved this year's cherry, pear, peach, tomato and grape harvests and important shifts in the balance of power since the last major farm unionizing effort in California suffered crushing defeat in 1935.

Growers are bitterly complaining about federal and state government policies which ban Mexican braceros (farm hands) and state-referred domestic workers from picketed ranches.

They charge that Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell — who calls the migrant farm worker the "excluded American" gave government backing to farm unionizing.

Farm leaders — particularly grower - operator organizations such as the American Farm Bureau Federation and the National Grange—are watching the California developments closely.

They feel the struggle could start a movement that could sweep agriculture nationally.

The California skirmishes will be a major topic at conventions of the Federation and Grange in November and December.

The AFL-CIO is pouring money and leadership into its first long-range drive to unionize 250,000 migrant farm workers in California.

National convention action has backed the AFL-CIO's newly chartered Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee. Last month the AFL-CIO Executive Council made its third $100,000 allocation for organizing work under AWOC director Norman Smith, 61, a white-haired veteran of the unionizing of General Motors and Ford.

In more than 50 years of recurring conflict, every previous attempt to unionize farm workers has been beaten decisively by California growers, who firmly declare that "organized labor has no place in agriculture."

To beat the union now, said Louis A. Rozzoni, California Farm Bureau Federation president, "farmers must be as determined and as tough as the union—but not pitchfork tough."

Rozzoni's caution against pitchfork toughness reflects the belief on both sides that prospects are remote for violence on the scale that erupted in the San Joaquin and Imperial valleys in the 30s, the days of John Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath."

The basic grower strategy against the AFL-CIO drive follows traditional farm policy of denying recognition and refusing negotiation with union representatives.

Acknowledging the member recruiting job has only started, Smith and his AWOC organizing staff have demanded only higher wages in the union's muscle-testing strikes.

The showdown rounds in the California farm struggle will come when AWOC leaders decide they are ready to risk widespread strike action to force full recognition.

This may come next year, Smith told California Labor Federation convention delegates. They gave him and 30 farm workers a standing ovation in Sacramento last month on his report of AWOC wage boosting successes.

"We are concentrating now on the development of leadership, not membership," Smith told the state labor group. "But we will—perhaps next year—produce one of the California Federation's largest bodies of dues paying members."

AWOC leaders claimed the unions' scattered peach harvest picketing established a piece-rate pattern of 17 cents a box compared with grower offers of 14 to 16 cents.

The Tri-County Agricultural Committee, Marysville area grower group, protested official state recognition of 17 cents as the prevailing wage which growers were required to pay any imported Mexican nationals.

In the pear harvest, growers advanced the rate to 30 cents a box or $1.10 an hour plus 10 cents a box after AWOC strike action. The growers' first wage offer had been a flat $1.10 an hour. The pear growers paid $1.00 an hour in 1959 and 90 cents in 1958.

One of many grower groups mobilizing against AWOC declares that California is the first target in an AFL-CIO battle plan "to bring all agriculture under the domination of organized labor." Diversified Growers, Inc., gave the warning in a rally call for farmer unity.

Rozzoni told his 65,000 Farm Bureau Federation members the union's California campaign is a dress rehearsal for an eventual nationwide drive. He said organized labor picked California for its first attack because this state's $3.5 billion annual crop production includes many highly perishable and strike vulnerable harvests.

"The tactics which labor leaders employ in industry would destroy agriculture," argued the statement by Diversified Growers, headed by John Zuckerman, Stockton area asparagus and potato rancher.

"Farms cannot shut down like factories while men argue, and start up again when the dispute is over.

"When crops are ready, they must be harvested without regard to 8-hour days, double time for Sundays, slow-down and holidays. Wages must be geared to the productivity of the worker (piece rate payment), for the farmer cannot pass along increased costs to the consumer, as industry can."

Farmers have set up two new statewide organizations to defend their long-established claims to economic difference, the California Farmers Emergency Food Committee and the Council of California Growers.

The Farmers Emergency Food Committee, headed by Zuckerman declared its purpose is to recruit non-union workers to be dispatched to farms where "agitators and labor parasites hit."

The Council of California Growers is a public relations organization.

The significance of Secretary of Labor Mitchell's role in the California conflict became sharply evident after AWOC's early strike actions.

Mitchell is one of the severest critics of the farm employers in their dealing with what he calls the national social problem of the migrant worker's status "at the very bottom of the American economic scale."

Mitchell rejected grower appeals to allow Mexican contract braceros to work on AWOC-picketed pear and peach orchards. He said use of the braceros would be "tantamount to strike breaking."

The denials were the first formal rulings by the Labor Department on the issue of bringing in Mexican nations to a struck grower or returning braceros withdrawn because of a strike.

The AWOC strikes were the first actions by organized labor strong enough to require an enforcement ruling on Article 22 of the 1951 migrant labor pact with Mexico. Article 22 says: "No Mexican worker shall be used to fill any job which the secretary of labor finds is vacant because the occupent is out on strike or locked out in the course of a labor dispute." It also says bracero authorization shall be withdrawn where a strike or lockout "seriously affects the operations in which they are engaged."

Several growers associations fired a protest telegram to Mitchell declaring: "The actions of your department reflect complete disinterest in safeguarding, in the manner provided by law, the harvesting of highly perishable crops and an inordinate interest in unionizing farm workers in disregard of the policy of the National Labor Relations Act against federal encouragement of farm unions."

Mitchell's rulings on California farmpicketing developed against a background of his previously declared convictions that grower organizations have been obstructing efforts to improve the migrant's low income and meager living standard.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports the national average of farm migrant income in 1957 was $859. The average laborer worked only 131 days of the year.

"Competitive forces do not operate in an economy where an employer can create a false labor shortage by offering unacceptable wages, and then receive foreign workers to bring in his crops," Mitchell declared to a Chicago conference on migrant workers.

"The American people are going to become impatient with continued resistance to needed change. That change will come as surely as the sun will rise."

Disputing Mitchell, Zuckerman told another migrant labor conference at Phoenix: "I have watched with concern — indeed horror—over the years as a concerted effort is made to inflame an unenlighted public against the American farmer.

"As farmers, we do not oppose higher wages, better working conditions, better standards of living for farm workers. We want improvement in all these things to come about as rapidly as they can be put on a pay-as-you-go basis.

"But you can't help the farm worker unless you help the farmer," Zuckerman argued. "There is no source of added income for the farm worker — except that which comes to the farmer from the sale of his crops.

"This problem cannot be solved by forcing agricultural workers to organize into a belligerent mob with the hope of creating an industrial type cold war between worker and farmer-employer."

Smith conceded government policies have given AWOC's organizing drive major breaks.

"But, look, we're working at one of the toughest organizing jobs anyone ever attempted," he declared.

"The farm communities are hostile against the workers, and against us. The workers are shifting, always on the move. Much of the time they're living in camps on grower land behind no trespassing signs.

"Most have had so little schooling that we literally have to teach them they are entitled to rights that other Americans take for granted."

MAN ON THE SPOT

Squeeze On Again By Soviets In West Berlin

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—The squeeze is on again in West Berlin, but the Communists will find a sandy-haired American there a tough nut to crack.

He is Maj. Gen. Ralph Morris Osborne, an artilleryman who commands the U.S. forces in West Berlin, the only American garrison behind the Iron Curtain.

The hot and cold Berlin situation is turning warm again as the East German Communist regime is demanding travel permits of West Berliners crossing into the Communist sector. This and other pressures in the four-power occupied city serve to put the spotlight on Osborne.

Gen. Osborne, 57, has seen a lot of service: desk service in the Pentagon, active staff service in World War II, front line service in Korea and a kind of military-diplomatic service in the Korean armistice talks.

He has been up against Communists for 15 years, on and off. Now his job is to keep on the best possible terms with a particularly tough set of them, not to yield an inch on anything that matters to the Western powers and—if necessary—to fight.

Osborne does not pretend to be an expert on Communists. He is a soldier and a civil engineer.

"You can't do much with the small fry," he says, summing up his experience. "They don't have much margin for action. All their flexibility is at the top."

This is just as well for the West, in a touchy situation like Berlin. It means that even the formidable array of political talent the Communists have here must get the nod from Moscow before it can do anything drastic.

The array is pretty impressive. Walter Ulbricht, head of the East German Communists, has been the leader of his party for a generation: in opposition, in hiding, in exile and in power. Mikhail Pervukhin, the Soviet ambassador, was once deputy premier in Moscow and is still a candidate member of the Communst party Presidium the effective ruling body of the U.S.S.R.

Though they probably lack the power to order an attack on West Berlin, the complexity of Osborne's job makes it easy for them to set up difficulties.

He has at least three distinct functions, all of them loaded with responsibility:

1. He commands a garrison of 5,000 men—many of them with wives and children here—and is responsible for keeping them in fighting trim. Unlike any other unit in the U.S. forces, this one is stationed in a city divided between the Communists and the West. Communist territory surrounds it completely, and it is 110 miles by road from the nearest friendly base in West Germany.

2. As one of the city's four commandants—U.S., Soviet, British and French—he is a kind of chief of state in Berlin. This means he has allies to get along with as well as the Soviets.

3. Under the U.S. ambassador in Bonn, he heads a 70-man diplomatic mission that takes care of U.S. relations with the West Berlin authorities. It also keeps tabs on developments throughout East Germany, where the West has no diplomats.

Western officials, too, like to refer to their home governments for instructions in a tight spot, but they have more margin for using their own wits than the Soviets. If the Communists try to blockade, infiltrate or attack West Berlin, Osborne may be the man who has to figure out what to do fast.

If worst comes to worst, there is a military plan. To a civilian it seems pretty hopeless, with the Western garrisons little more than a token force. Osborne doesn't see it that way.

"It's true," he says, "that we don't have the force to fight our way back to West Germany. But that isn't the thing. We certainly can't be walked over in a day. It might take 10 days, it might take longer.

"In the meantime, they couldn't throw all their strength into anything else. That might make all the difference."

He thinks he can rely on the determination of the West Berliners in any military action.

"It's surprising what can be done just by locking doors and throwing rubble out of windows," he says.

Osborne first came to Berlin in 1945, not long after the German surrender. He was deputy chief of something called Field Information Agency, Technical, known from its initials as FIAT. Its job was to get together as much as it could of the Nazis' secret scientific work to see if there was anything that could help the war against Japan.

At his own technical level, Osborne had little friction with the soviets. But there was little cooperation, either. In two years, he recalls, they sent three or four scientific and industrial missions into the U.S. sector, and about the same number of U.S. missions went into Soviet territory. He was then a colonel.

As a new general, he saw action in Korea against the Communists, commanding the artillery of the 3rd Division. He represented the U.S. Army on the United Nations team that negotiated the armistice.

Small Fry Writer On His Biography

Editor's Note — It began, "Old Mother West Wind came out of the purple hills. . ." and it's never ended—the world of childhood delight opened half a century ago when a father wrote a bedtime story for his son. Now 86, the creator of Peter Rabbit still has more tales to tell.

HAMPDEN, Mass. (AP) — His first summer of "retirement" author Thornton Burgess, 86, spent at a desk heaped with correspondence and proofs of his autobiography.

The man who created Peter Rabbit, whose bedtime tales of animals and birds have enthralled three generations of children — has this advice: "Never write your own biography. It's the toughest thing I ever had to write."

This from an author whose output over the past 50 years runs to 15,000 stories for newspaper syndication, 100 books, scores of magazine articles.

Durable as a salt-preserved Cape Cod Yankee — his boyhood years were spent on the cape— his only complaint is arthritis twinges in his legs which prevent him from taking daily walks.

"My legs are 86 years old while the rest of me is at an indeterminate age," Burgess said.

Outside the converted barn that serves as his studio lies the world of Peter Rabbit, Reddy Fox, Jimmy Skunk, Chatterer the red squirrel, the "Little People" of his stories. Green Forest and the Old Orchard rim the Green Meadow. Laughing Brook bubbles away, a hop, skip and a jump from the corner of the studio.

Is he guided by some basic premise in writing his nature stories?

"A child," Burgess says, "knows instinctively, even at a very young age, that he is born superior to animals. A child won't admit that an animal knows more than him.

"I've received letters about children who stopped being afraid of the dark once they read my stories about animals feeling no fear of the dark."

His autobiography, "Now I remember," is on the fall publication list along with the 50th anniversary edition of "Old Mother West Wind," a collection of the first stories written by Burgess.

The golden anniversary edition is a tribute not only to one of America's best-loved storytellers, but to Harrison Cady, the artist. Cady and Burgess have worked together almost from the beginning. They probably have the longest author-illustrator relationship in publishing history — 48 years.

How did it all start? Burgess was a magazine editor with no idea of trying his hand at writing for a living. Then, stories that he had written for the enjoyment of his young son away from home on a visit, came to the attention of a literary agent.

He sold them to various magazines. They were assembled into "Old Mother West Wind." The book was an instant success, and newspaper syndication followed.

Burgess began the stint of six stories a week on Feb. 16, 1912. Along the way he wrote books that have sold more than seven million copies, including editions printed in French, Swedish, even Chinese.

This experience has convinced him that, "A writer's creative ability is like a pool of spring water—the water level may occasionally recede, but the spring will always fill up again with fresh ideas. At least that's the way the business of writing has worked for me."

A Time For Violence Is Top Western

A TIME FOR VIOLENCE By Noel M. Loomis (Macmillan, $2.95).

In the early days of the Texas Panhandle, there came a time when wise men desired law in place of lawlessness. This was the time when the forces of order struggled to control the whims of the outlaw, when the forces of justice battled to protect human rights. Brief, bloody, it was a telling period of transition — a necessary time for violence.

An accused murderer, Bart Wagner has come to Texas to hunt down the only witness who can prove he killed in self - defense. He soon discovers that his witness is the occupant of a freshly - dug grave. He also discovers the witness' widow — the beautiful, iron - willed Catherine who seems mysteriously involved with the men who killed her seventy-five-year-old husband. Bart agrees to help the determined Catherine defend her ranch against Xenophon Jones and his gang. When the outlaws try to drive her off her property by setting fire to her buildings, Bart finds himself involved in something more than clearing his own name.

Bart and the other ranchers decide to set up legal machinery in the county. When Charles Goodnight, the famous Texas cattleman, brings in a judge, the men hold a court session where two of Xenophon Jones' men will be up for trial. It is Bart's plan, insuring the success of the session, that results in a gory shootout with the leaders of the outlaws.

This is a vivid tale of the Southwest set against a background of violence and bloodshed.

The Judas Gun Another Top Novel Of West

THE JUDAS GUN By Wayne D. Overholster (MacMillan, $2.95).

Even in the pale gray light, Shorty Bogardus could see the words that someone had chalked across the door; FARGO IS COMING.

Fear crawled into his belly and tied a knot in his insides. His leg muscles twitched, his heart began to pound, and for a moment he was unable to catch a good deep breath.

This was the day the people of San Lorenzo had awaited with dread. This was the day when Ben Fargo — killer of three men — was coming to seek his revenge.

Two years before, when old Judge Wallace and twelve jurymen had sentenced Fargo to prison, the gunfighter vowed he would return "to kill them all." Panic-stricken by the warning of his arrival, the townspeople rally in self-defense under the capable hands of Clint Harper, a young deputy. Just as quickly, they are faced with a horrifying but inescapable conclusion — there is a Judas in their midst. One of them is helping Fargo; one of them is only pretending to be afraid.

Stranger In My Grave Is Top Suspense

A STRANGER IN MY GRAVE BY Margaret Millar (Random House, $3.50).

This is a most interesting and unusual suspense novel. She dreamed that she had died four years ago. The dream was terrifyingly real. Then Daisy discovered that the grave and the granite cross were really there in the cemetery, the date of death the same as she had dreamed, but a stranger's name cut in the stone.

Daisy Harker's search for the lost day of her imagined death becomes a quest for the meaning of several lives, and for her own survival. As her nightmare emerges into reality, it threatens her comfortable relationship with her husband Jim, and thrusts her into more disturbing relationships: with Steve Pinata, the detective of uncertain origins; with Stanley Fielding, who lives by his wits on the edge of the law; and with the dark forces beyond the law. Daisy's struggle between the world we know and trust, and the underworld of crime and derradation, is resolved in scenes of shattering suspense and emotional power.

Guide To Good Reading

By FRANCES FLANDERS, OUACHITA PARISH LIBRARIAN

A book by Taylor Caldwell is always eagerly received by the patrons of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. This week her lates book arrived and is ready for the patrons. It is called "The Listener" and is a most unusual book. It is a book which offers spiritual strengthing and hope. It is the story of men who wanted a confessional and of how it affected their lives. One of our most popular writers is Eizabeth Goudge, who has written beautiful books for many years. Her latest one is called "The Dean's Watch." It has it's setting in an English Cathedral town and is a book which should be ready for beauty of language and description as well as for the very interesting story. Elizabeth Seifert write's very interesting stories with a medical background. Her latest one is called "The doctor's bride" and will appeal to those who have enjoyed her earlier books.

The non-fiction as usual offers a variety of titles. Those who have read his articles in one of the national magazines will want to see "Can this marriage be saved? by Paul Popenoe. It is a book of advice for married people who find their marriage in danger and it is a very worthwhile book. Another unusual book is called "Comstockery in America." It was written by Robert W. Haney and is concerned with the patterns of censorship and control, evident in our society.

Lester Morrison is the author of a book called "Low-fat way to health and longer life". This book answers many of the questions which trouble those who have seen their friends succumb to heart attacks and high blood pressure. A very fine book in the field of radio is "Elements of radio" by Abraham Marcus. We are happy that the library has a new edition of this work, just published last year. A book which should interest many people is called "Photo-Offset Fundamentals" and was written by John H. Cogoli. It will be most useful to a number of people. A very unusual small book is "Oriental car pets" by Ali Hosain. It is a complete account of the making of these beautiful carpets.

The many artists in the community will welcome a book "Water - Color painting is fun." It was written by Alois Fabry and is a practical and useful guide to work in this field. Another book on the subject of painting is called "A pot with feeling." It was written by Emanie Arling and deals with the field of flower painting and illustration. A book of games for all the family written by Margaret Eizabeth Mulac. Thi sis a useful and delightful book.

"Let us now praise famous men" by James Agee is an unusual book, written many years ago. but reprinted this year. It is concerned with farm tenancy in Alabama and contains much food for thought. An addition to the American History collection is "Now we are enemies" by Thomas J. Fleming. This is an account of the Battle of Bunker Hill and the men who took part in it. One of the classics of the Civil War period is "A Confederate girl's diary" by Sarah Dawson. We have had copies of it for many years, but are happy that the University of Indiana has now brought out a new edition as part of the celebration of the Centennial Year.

A biography for which we have had many requests is "The Richest American, J. Paul Getty" by Ralph Hewins. We borrowed it several times and then found the demand so steady the the Library purchased a copy. It is an interesting book and many people will want to read it.

The Anna Meyer Branch of the Ouachita Parish Public Library will be opened to the public on October 30. For more than a year we have been assembling the book collection for this branch. The library will be filled only about one third of capacity when we open, but we do want you to know that the collection will be growing all the time. It takes a great deal of effort and money to assemble a completely new book collection and make a new card catalog. We have done the very best we could with our budget and staff. The books which will be found in this collection are all good and many of them are brand new. We wish the collection was larger, but this is the best we were able to do. We are happy that the Reference Collection for the Anna Meyer Branch is outstanding, for it was purchased with a sutstantial donation from the Board of the Anna Meyer Charities and is a very fine one.

RUNNING THE SCALES

With JOHN CALE

Following a summer which was hot and blank enough for north Louisiana audiences and culture promoters to build up a good head of steam, the season's roster already shows promise and fulfillment.

In the latter category, the United States Marine Band is booked for two spots in the Monroe area this week. The military band — billed as the "President's Own" — will play matinee and evening performances at Louisiana Tech tomorrow and has scheduled an evening concert at Ferriday on Wednesday.

SERIES OFFERINGS

The Monday performance at Ruston opens the season for the Louisiana Tech Concert Association, a membership group under the leadership of L. V. E. Irvine which over a decade has converted north Louisiana from a cultural high and dry spot into one which rivals New Orleans and other centers in quality and variety.

The Ferriday appearance of the Marine Band is being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Locally, the Northeast State Concert Series will open activities October 20 with the appearance of the Chris Barber Jazz Ensemble. As the season unrolls, this series which is now in its second year of operation will present Mantovani and his Orchestra, the musical comedy "Fiorello," the NBC Opera Company's "Amahl and the Night Visitors," and the U.S. Air Force Band.

LOCAL AND LIVE

Greetings to new Little Theatre director Richard Clark who has already gotten down to business with the comedy "Seven Year Itch." Clark has plenty to look forward to with the new theatre taking shape on Lamy Lane.

Net Of Gold About Dutch Empire Fall

THE NET OF GOLD By Alice Ekert Rotholz (Viking, $4.95).

The splendor and decline of the Dutch colonial empire in Indonesia form the background of this dramatic novel.

From the dignified homes of Holland's merchant princes come the men and women of the story, lured by the glamour of the dreamy and profitable islands, caught and tested and changed in the net of gold.

Set against this background is the passionate and troubled romance of Jo van Swanenburgh, student of medicine, dazzingly beautiful, reckless, stubborn, and lonely. Daughter of a famous Amsterdam surgeon and of a former New York fashion model, Jo at seventeen meets fate in the dashing person of Dirk van Veen. Dirk's reputation in the archipelago is twofold — as number one tiger-kilier and as number one lady-killer. Professionally he is a journalist and sociologist; privately he is fascinated by the witch cults of Sumatra.

Dirk roams through the islands and cities of the East, breaking the rules of convention and the hearts of women until, in an unforeseen dilemma, he is confronted by a Far Eastern tragedy which happens to be his own.

The story spans the years between 1927 and 1952, the time of Japanese commercial penetration of the East Indies, the rising storm in Europe, Japanese aggression, and the aftermath of World War II. Implicit in it is the problem of Indonesian culture and Indonesian psychology, faced with the perils of freedom newly won.

Alice Ekert-Rotholz has an extraordinarily rich and supple mind, the rare gift of filling her pages with superabundant life and humor, and the ability to create character. A pattern of love and hate is drawn across the pages of this splendidly vital novel, and out of the turmoil of swift change emerges an undefeated force — the spirit of modern man.

Season Of Fear Is An Excellent Book

SEASON OF FEAR By Guy Owen (Random House, $3.95). This is a sort of eerie book, but interesting.

It is the story of Clay Hampton, a man whose happiness and self - respect derive from the land he loves, but whose life depends upon his leaving it. His intense religious feeling and his isolated life with two old women, his aunt and his mother, make him a lonely, brooding man. When drought sears the land, Hamp is convinced that it is God's judgment on the town of Ellers Bend. The pressures mount through his preoccupation with the illicit affair of a neighbor, and through the arrival at the farm across the road of a beautiful yellow-haired girl. Hamp's religion becomes a fever instead of a balm, as his love for the tantalizing Laura Dell finally pushes him over the edge of violence.

This first novel by a talented young southerner is a compassionate portrayal of a man's struggle with his own passions and beliefs, and an authentic, poetic re-creation of a way of life.

New Chapter Entered In Natural Gas Case

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The controversy over natural gas legislation has entered a new chapter.

New Federal Power Commission decisions may cause a complete overhaul of proposals being drafted for submission to Congress next year.

A change in objectives would not be unique in the 12-year history of the controversy. The types of remedial legislation sought in the past have changed several times.

Basically, gas producers want Congress to define FPC jurisdiction over wellhead prices for gas sold wholesale for interstate use. The producers at first sought outright exemption from FPC controls. But the demands were softened somewhat after the issue became a hot political controversy.

AT WORK

At least two industry groups have been at work drafting proposals for submission to Congress next year. The new FPC rulings will require careful reviews by such study groups.

FPC last week decided gas producers cannot be classified as traditional public utilities.

The 1961 congressional proposals, like those of recent years, had been expected to ask that producers be freed from utility-type federal controls.

In tossing out the utility-approach while ruling on the Phillips Petroleum Co. case, FPC posted a price table based on producing areas. FPC said the table will be the starting point for determining producer prices in the future. Costs may enter into proceedings but will not be the determining factor.

Jerome K. Kuykendall, FPC chairman, this week acknowledged the new rulings are not a cure-all.

"Most of the trouble and confusion which is yet to come could be avoided by appropriate legislation by Congress, but that appears to be a remote possibility," he said.

PRICE TABLE

The new price table drew protests from independent producers who said the new procedure is without legislative foundation.

The background for the stormy controversy began in 1938 with the passage of the natural gas act as a measure to establish federal regulatory powers over interstate gas transmission lines.

The act included a provision that it should not apply to local distribution of natural gas or to the production of gathering of oas. A 1945 Supreme Court ruling, however, held that gathering and producing facilities owned and operated by a gas transmission company should not be exempt from the act.

Producers and distributors interpreted the 1945 court ruling as a threat to their freedom from FPC controls. Both groups launched campaigns for remedial legislation to clarify the act.

The distributors succeeded in obtaining outright exemption in 1954, but the dispute over the producer segment of the industry by then had reached a bitter stage.

A. F. HAMILTON above has been elected vice president and general manager of Texas Gas Exploration Foreign C. A., according to R. O. Garrett, president. The company is the wholly owned foreign operations subsidiary of Texas Gas Exploration Corporation in Houston.

Border City Favorite Of Politicians

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—This city, considered the meeting place of four states, suddenly finds itself a pampered favorite of the politicians in this election year.

"Our city," says J. O. Mahaffey, editor of the Texarkana Gazette and Chronicler of events in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, "has become of strategic importance."

Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy made Texarkana one of his major stops Sept. 13 on his sweep of the Southwest.

Former President Harry Truman will make Texarkana one of his three stops in Texas next week, coming here Monday for a major luncheon rally.

To counter the Democrats, former Texas Gov. Allan Shivers, plugging for the Republicans, will arrive in Texarkansa for a four-state rally and a major television speech Oct. 18.

Rep. Wright Patman, D, of Texarkana is stumping the 1st Congressional District vigorously for his party.

Republican leaders hope they can obtain either Vice President Richard M. Nixon the presidential nominee, or vice presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge, for a speech before the Nov. 8 general election.

Truman luncheon tickets are selling as high as $50 each, with a minimum of $10. Not only will the veteran warrior seek to build up more Democratic steam here, but he will seek some campaign money for the party.

A $10,000 MISTAKE

A Wall Street Journal Subscriber's Experience

After years of unsatisfactory progress in business – earning a few dollars here and losing a few dollars there – I decided to try new tactics. I decided to broaden my outlook—to find out more about what goes on in the business world – to learn about new inventions, new industries, new ways of doing business.

One thing I did was to subscribe to The Wall Street Journal. Believe me, it has paid off. The reports in The Journal come to me daily. I get the fastest possible warning of any new trend affecting my business and personal income. I get the facts in time to protect my interests or to seize quickly a new profit-making opportunity. Last year I earned $5,000 more than the previous year. Why didn't I subscribe to The Journal two years sooner? I was wrong not to. It was a $10,000 mistake.

This experience is not unusual. The Journal is valuable to owners of small businesses. It is a wonderful aid to salaried men making $7,500 to $25,000. It can be of priceless benefit to young men who want to win advancement.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all three big press associations. It costs $24 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for three months for $7. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $7 and mail. Or tell us to bill you.

FINANCIAL $ OIL-GAS NEWS

IN STOCK MARKET

Greatest Advance In Six Weeks Seen

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market last week advanced for the first time in six weeks amid mixed business news.

Prices declined the first two sessions and then advanced on the third session as oils reversed the trend with a surprising rally which spilled over into other sections.

Trading interest rotated to the steels and chemicals on Thursday as the list achieved another fairly sharp rise. The upward trend continued Friday when autos joined steels to continue the rally on a more moderate scale.

News that auto sales had ended a two-month slump and had posted a 21 per cent gain in September over the year ago month was an inspiring note. The steels, especially, responded because the automakers are steel's best customer.

BATTERED

The badly battered oils, recommended for weeks because market analysts said they were oversold and provided good yields, were the pivot for the rally. The oils had the immediate inspiration of a dividend boost by Amerada.

They tended to back away on profit taking after their Wednesday rise but enough interest remained to make Jersey Standard, the biggest, the volume pacemaker for the week with a modest gain of ⅛.

Because of the World Series, which distracted Wall Street's attention, volume slackened. At least, that was one explanation given by analysts. In addition, considerable investment uncertainty prevailed.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 6.28 to 586.42. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.70 to 208.00.

GAINERS

Although these averages showed a pretty good rise, gainers outnumbered losers by only 660-616 among 1,416 issues traded. Because of the still depressed level of the 1960 market, new lows for the year outnumbered new highs 165-19.

Volume declined to 12,308,820 shares from 16,852,810 the week before.

The most active stock on the American Stock Exchange was Cinerama, up ⅝ at 6½ on 135,900 shares.

The most active issue on the New York Stock Exchange was Standard Oil (New Jersey), up ⅛ at 40⅞ on 240,400 shares.

Treasury bonds this week suffered their biggest loss since Feb. 22-29. The setback approached two full points in some issues that don't mature for 20 to 35 years.

However, corporates turned in their first advance in six weeks, based on the AP averages. The gain was small and was led by foreign dollar bonds recovering from 1960 lows.

The week ended with the government market showing only one session on the upside in the last 14. That was Sept. 28.

Cotton Prices End Mixed On Board

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton prices ended mixed on the New York Cotton Exchange this week. Nearby deliveries displayed a moderate easing trend while more distant contracts firmed.

Final prices were 85 cents a bale lower to 85 cents a bale higher.

The October delivery was down most, reflecting liquidation. Other nearby months encountered hedging pressure. The distant contracts were helped by demand based partly on hopes of a higher 1961 price support level.

In addition, traders felt the government crop report due Monday would show production prospects down slightly from the estimate of 14,581,000 bales made a month ago.

Exports in the week ended Tuesday totaled 37,000 bales compared with 42,000 a week earlier and 67,000 a year ago. For the season through Oct. 4 exports amounted to 416,000 bales compared with 378,000 a year ago.

State Retail Food Dealers To Hold 3rd Annual Meet

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — U. S. Senator Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky will be the principal speaker at the third annual convention of the Louisiana Retail Food Dealers' Association at the Bentley Hotel in Alexandria on Sunday and Monday, October 16 and 17, it has been announced by James Salley, convention chairman and vice - president of the LRFDA.

Some 700 independent retail operators from all parts of Louisiana are expected to attend the state meeting.

Experts in the food field will analyze problems like "How Can You Modernize for More Volume?", "How Can You Save Your Problems at the Checkout Counter?", and, in a special workshop session, four successful supermarket operators will reveal their secrets of success.

Sunday afternoon speakers will be Gus Weill, owner of Gus Weill Advertising - Public Relations Agency, Lafayette, and Edwin M. Gale, executive vice - president, Warren Manufacturing Co., Beaumont, Texas.

Monday speakers include Senator Thruston B. Morton, who will address the group following breakfast, A. A. "Buzz" Kelley, Pineville; Ed Chance Jr., Bossier City; and John Schwegmann, Jr. of New Orleans; W. Stanley Finch, director of sales and public relations, Texize Chemicals Inc., Greenville, S. C. and Wynn B. Laster, sales instructor for National Cash Register Co., Dayton, Ohio.

A novel feature planned for the members of the LRFDA auxiliary will be a hat show on Sunday afternoon, featuring hats designed by the ladies themselves. A book review will follow the hat show and a bus trip of the Alexandria-Pineville area is in store for the ladies. Mrs. James Salley, Pineville, is auxiliary convention chairman.

Highlight of the convention will be the banquet, which will wind up the two - day program.

Officers of the association are Lennie L. Crawford, president, Covington; James Salley, vice - president, Pineville; George Abraham, treasurer, Lake Charles; and Clyde G. de la Houssaye, attorney - executive director, New Orleans. Auxiliary officers are Mrs. Hebert Nicholson, president, New Orleans; Mrs. Vincent Cannata, vice - president, Morgan City; Mrs. Oscar D. Ernst Sr., treasurer, New Orleans; and Mrs. Lennie L. Crawford, secretary, Covington.

Association events will be sponsored by supplier firms. Swift & Company will host the final banquet, while The Borden Company and Wm. B. Reily Company will provide the entertainment for the banquet; Cotton's Holsum Bakeries the President's Reception; L. A. Frey & Sons and Morning Treat Coffee Company, the two luncheons; and Community Coffee Company, breakfast and coffee breaks.

Smaller Car In Making?

By BEN PHLEGAR

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. is quietly making preparations which could lead to the introduction of a car smaller than any of the 1961 domestic models.

Denials that such a car will be forthcoming in the immediate future continue to be firm. But the interpretation now often revolves about how soon is immediate.

There is no doubt that Ford is working on a smaller car. Ford admits it. Ford hastens to add that it has not yet decided to market any such car.

These are the most recent developments:

James O. Wright, general manager of Ford division, said the 450,000 economy-type imports — smaller than domestic cars—which will be sold in the United States this year represent a substantial market.

If this is a permanent market, he continued, "I see no alternative but for us and others to bring to market a car smaller than the Falcon (Ford's present compact car.)"

SMALLER

United Auto Workers Local 600, which represents Ford employes at the giant Rouge plant here, has urged the company to build any smaller car in this country, rather than abroad. The UAW said it had reason to believe Ford planned to build the car in Germany and import it for United States sale.

A Ford spokesman replied that the car under discussion is in fact a new model for Ford of Germany, which manufactures the Taunus, and is not being built specifically for export to the United States.

Ford's Lincoln-Mercury division has imported Taunus cars and the Anglie from Ford of England for several years. But just last week L-M confirmed that it does not plan to import the 1961 Taunus.

VOLUME

"It's a matter of volume," said General Manager Ben Mills. "They aren't selling." But he made no mention of the smaller size of the new model.

Adding these three on-the-record developments to current reports in Detroit you could come up with these answers:

Tooling for the smaller car will be done in Germany. Some of the work will be done in the United States.

Detroit hears that the small-small Ford—approximately Volkswagen size but with the engine in front—probably will be introduced late in 1961 or early in 1962.

One report says the car first will be built as a Taunus and test marketed in Canada before making its United States appearance.

Indications are the car would weigh about 1,650 pounds, some 600 pounds less than the Falcon; would carry four persons and would be powered by a four-cylinder front-wheel drive engine.

Meanwhile trade publications report increasing interes by Chevrolet in a small-small car with some preliminary tooling estimates being requested.

Ford, General Motors and Chrysler—each professing to be totally uninterested in building compact cars—managed to bring the Falcon, Corvair and Valiant to market in the space of six weeks last fall.

It would be a genuine surprise if one manufacturer was allowed to go the small-small road alone.

135 Airmen Stricken

LIMSTONE, Me. (AP) — Loring Air Force Base says 135 men, all of whom ate in the same mess hall, have been stricken by a form of gastro-enteritis, with 21 in the base hospital.

The cuase has not been pinpointed, the infection usually is traceable to contaminated food or drink, officials said. Loring, a SAC base, has several thousand men.

New Chapter Entered In Natural Gas Case

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The controversy over natural gas legislation has entered a new chapter.

New Federal Power Commission decisions may cause a complete overhaul of proposals being drafted for submission to Congress next year.

A change in objectives would not be unique in the 12-year history of the controversy. The types of remedial legislation sought in the past have changed several times.

Basically, gas producers want Congress to define FPC jurisdiction over wellhead prices for gas sold wholesale for interstate use. The producers at first sought outright exemption from FPC controls. But the demands were softened somewhat after the issue became a hot political controversy.

AT WORK

At least two industry groups have been at work drafting proposals for submission to Congress next year. The new FPC rulings will require careful reviews by such study groups.

FPC last week decided gas producers cannot be classified as traditional public utilities.

The 1961 congressional proposals, like those of recent years, had been expected to ask that producers be freed from utility-type federal controls.

In tossing out the utility-approach while ruling on the Phillips Petroleum Co. case, FPC posted a price table based on producing areas. FPC said the table will be the starting point for determining producer prices in the future. Costs may enter into proceedings but will not be the determining factor.

Jerome K. Kuykendall, FPC chairman, this week acknowledged the new rulings are not a cure-all.

"Most of the trouble and confusion which is yet to come could be avoided by appropriate legislation by Congress, but that appears to be a remote possibility," he said.

PRICE TABLE

The new price table drew protests from independent producers who said the new procedure is without legislative foundation.

The background for the stormy controversy began in 1938 with the passage of the natural gas act as a measure to establish federal regulatory powers over interstate gas transmission lines.

The act included a provision that it should not apply to local distribution of natural gas or to the production of gathering of oas. A 1945 Supreme Court ruling, however, held that gathering and producing facilities owned and operated by a gas transmission company should not be exempt from the act.

Producers and distributors interpreted the 1945 court ruling as a threat to their freedom from FPC controls. Both groups launched campaigns for remedial legislation to clarify the act.

The distributors succeeded in obtaining outright exemption in 1954, but the dispute over the producer segment of the industry by then had reached a bitter stage.

A. F. HAMILTON above has been elected vice president and general manager of Texas Gas Exploration Foreign C. A., according to R. O. Garrett, president. The company is the wholly owned foreign operations subsidiary of Texas Gas Exploration Corporation in Houston.

Border City Favorite Of Politicians

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—This city, considered the meeting place of four states, suddenly finds itself a pampered favorite of the politicians in this election year.

"Our city," says J. O. Mahaffey, editor of the Texarkana Gazette and Chronicler of events in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, "has become of strategic importance."

Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy made Texarkana one of his major stops Sept. 13 on his sweep of the Southwest.

Former President Harry Truman will make Texarkana one of his three stops in Texas next week, coming here Monday for a major luncheon rally.

To counter the Democrats, former Texas Gov. Allan Shivers, plugging for the Republicans, will arrive in Texarkansa for a four-state rally and a major television speech Oct. 18.

Rep. Wright Patman, D, of Texarkana is stumping the 1st Congressional District vigorously for his party.

Republican leaders hope they can obtain either Vice President Richard M. Nixon the presidential nominee, or vice presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge, for a speech before the Nov. 8 general election.

Truman luncheon tickets are selling as high as $50 each, with a minimum of $10. Not only will the veteran warrior seek to build up more Democratic steam here, but he will seek some campaign money for the party.

A $10,000 MISTAKE

A Wall Street Journal Subscriber's Experience

After years of unsatisfactory progress in business – earning a few dollars here and losing a few dollars there – I decided to try new tactics. I decided to broaden my outlook—to find out more about what goes on in the business world – to learn about new inventions, new industries, new ways of doing business.

One thing I did was to subscribe to The Wall Street Journal. Believe me, it has paid off. The reports in The Journal come to me daily. I get the fastest possible warning of any new trend affecting my business and personal income. I get the facts in time to protect my interests or to seize quickly a new profit-making opportunity. Last year I earned $5,000 more than the previous year. Why didn't I subscribe to The Journal two years sooner? I was wrong not to. It was a $10,000 mistake.

This experience is not unusual. The Journal is valuable to owners of small businesses. It is a wonderful aid to salaried men making $7,500 to $25,000. It can be of priceless benefit to young men who want to win advancement.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all three big press associations. It costs $24 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for three months for $7. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $7 and mail. Or tell us to bill you.

FINANCIAL OIL-GAS NEWS

IN STOCK MARKET

Greatest Advance In Six Weeks Seen

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market last week advanced for the first time in six weeks amid mixed business news.

Prices declined the first two sessions and then advanced on the third session as oils reversed the trend with a surprising rally which spilled over into other sections.

Trading interest rotated to the steels and chemicals on Thursday as the list achieved another fairly sharp rise. The upward trend continued Friday when autos joined steels to continue the rally on a more moderate scale.

News that auto sales had ended a two-month slump and had posted a 21 per cent gain in September over the year ago month was an inspiring note. The steels, especially, responded because the automakers are steel's best customer.

BATTERED

The badly battered oils, recommended for weeks because market analysts said they were oversold and provided good yields, were the pivot for the rally. The oils had the immediate inspiration of a dividend boost by Amerada.

They tended to back away on profit taking after their Wednesday rise but enough interest remained to make Jersey Standard, the biggest, the volume pacemaker for the week with a modest gain of ⅛.

Because of the World Series, which distracted Wall Street's attention, volume slackened. At least, that was one explanation given by analysts. In addition, considerable investment uncertainty prevailed.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 6.28 to 586.42. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.70 to 208.00.

GAINERS

Although these averages showed a pretty good rise, gainers outnumbered losers by only 660-616 among 1,416 issues traded. Because of the still depressed level of the 1960 market, new lows for the year outnumbered new highs 165-19.

Volume declined to 12,308,820 shares from 16,852,810 the week before.

The most active stock on the American Stock Exchange was Cinerama, up ⅝ at 6½ on 135,900 shares.

The most active issue on the New York Stock Exchange was Standard Oil (New Jersey), up ⅛ at 40⅞ on 240,400 shares.

Treasury bonds this week suffered their biggest loss since Feb. 22-29. The setback approached two full points in some issues that don't mature for 20 to 35 years.

However, corporates turned in their first advance in six weeks, based on the AP averages. The gain was small and was led by foreign dollar bonds recovering from 1960 lows.

The week ended with the government market showing only one session on the upside in the last 14. That was Sept. 28.

Cotton Prices End Mixed On Board

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton prices ended mixed on the New York Cotton Exchange this week. Nearby deliveries displayed a moderate easing trend while more distant contracts firmed.

Final prices were 85 cents a bale lower to 85 cents a bale higher.

The October delivery was down most, reflecting liquidation. Other nearby months encountered hedging pressure. The distant contracts were helped by demand based partly on hopes of a higher 1961 price support level.

In addition, traders felt the government crop report due Monday would show production prospects down slightly from the estimate of 14,581,000 bales made a month ago.

Exports in the week ended Tuesday totaled 37,000 bales compared with 42,000 a week earlier and 67,000 a year ago. For the season through Oct. 4 exports amounted to 416,000 bales compared with 378,000 a year ago.

State Retail Food Dealers To Hold 3rd Annual Meet

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — U. S. Senator Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky will be the principal speaker at the third annual convention of the Louisiana Retail Food Dealers' Association at the Bentley Hotel in Alexandria on Sunday and Monday, October 16 and 17, it has been announced by James Salley, convention chairman and vice - president of the LRFDA.

Some 700 independent retail operators from all parts of Louisiana are expected to attend the state meeting.

Experts in the food field will analyze problems like "How Can You Modernize for More Volume?", "How Can You Save Your Problems at the Checkout Counter?", and, in a special workshop session, four successful supermarket operators will reveal their secrets of success.

Sunday afternoon speakers will be Gus Weill, owner of Gus Weill Advertising - Public Relations Agency, Lafayette, and Edwin M. Gale, executive vice - president, Warren Manufacturing Co., Beaumont, Texas.

Monday speakers include Senator Thruston B. Morton, who will address the group following breakfast, A. A. "Buzz" Kelley, Pineville; Ed Chance Jr., Bossier City; and John Schwegmann, Jr. of New Orleans; W. Stanley Finch, director of sales and public relations, Texize Chemicals Inc., Greenville, S. C. and Wynn B. Laster, sales instructor for National Cash Register Co., Dayton, Ohio.

A novel feature planned for the members of the LRFDA auxiliary will be a hat show on Sunday afternoon, featuring hats designed by the ladies themselves. A book review will follow the hat show and a bus trip of the Alexandria-Pineville area is in store for the ladies. Mrs. James Salley, Pineville, is auxiliary convention chairman.

Highlight of the convention will be the banquet, which will wind up the two - day program.

Officers of the association are Lennie L. Crawford, president, Covington; James Salley, vice - president, Pineville; George Abraham, treasurer, Lake Charles; and Clyde G. de la Houssaye, attorney - executive director, New Orleans. Auxiliary officers are Mrs. Hebert Nicholson, president, New Orleans; Mrs. Vincent Cannata, vice - president, Morgan City; Mrs. Oscar D. Ernst Sr., treasurer, New Orleans; and Mrs. Lennie L. Crawford, secretary, Covington.

Association events will be sponsored by supplier firms. Swift & Company will host the final banquet, while The Borden Company and Wm. B. Reily Company will provide the entertainment for the banquet; Cotton's Holsum Bakeries the President's Reception; L. A. Frey & Sons and Morning Treat Coffee Company, the two luncheons; and Community Coffee Company, breakfast and coffee breaks.

8 New Wells Are Finaled In Local Oil, Gas District

By RICHARD GREENE
Oil Editor

Drilling activities flourished in the 14-parish Monroe district of the Louisiana Department of Conservation during the past week as eight new oil and gas wells were finaled and 23 new locations were staked.

This is the largest number of new completions for the district in a single week since the middle of August.

Also listed in the report, compiled by Duncan S. Cook, district manager, were 27 active rigs in the fields, 15 holes dry and abandoned and there was one well recompleted.

Following are the new completions:

135 Airmen Stricken

LIMSTONE, Me. (AP) — Loring Air Force Base says 135 men, all of whom ate in the same mess hall, have been stricken by a form of gastro-enteritis, with 21 in the base hospital.

The cuase has not been pinpointed, the infection usually is traceable to contaminated food or drink, officials said. Loring, a SAC base, has several thousand men.

Bottles Toss Act Planned By Producers

By JOE FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer studio bosses have turned into a bunch of aquatic litterbugs with a plan to dump message carrying bottles into the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The bottles will be tossed from a 110-foot vessel being sailed from Nova Scotia to Tahiti where it will "star" in a remake of "Mutiny On the Bounty."

It's expected the voyage down the Atlantic Coast, through the Panama Canal, over to Hawaii and finally to Tahiti will take 40 days.

WATERPROOF

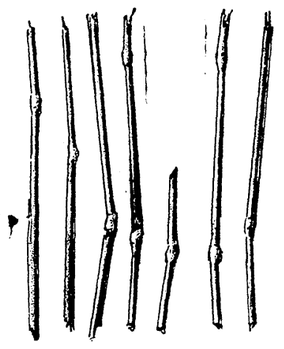

Stuffed in each of the bottles will be a sheet of waterproof paper bearing the ship's identification, date on which the bottle was thrown overboard, longitude and latitude.

Finders of the bottles are asked to notify the studio's New York office. A $25 reward will be paid to the finders, and the person whose bottle floated farthest gets a special prize.

The ship, scheduled to leave its Nova Scotia shipyard this week, will carry a crew of 22.

Athough the ship has all the outward appearances of a sailing vessel, it actually has the comforts of home, including showers and a deep freeze.

Mutineers took over the original H. M. S. Bounty from Captain Bligh, played by Charles Laughton in the first movie about the ship, 181 years ago in the Pacific Ocean.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN

to the one who gets the short straw?

Draw straws to see who goes to college? Could be. In ten years the number of college applicants may double. Many of our colleges and universities are already crowded. And unless we start right now to expand our college facilities and attract more and better instructors, many bright youngsters may soon be refused an education.

Their future depends on you. Your future depends on them.

Help the college of your choice, now!

Curtain Call

By SANDY JOHNSON

Have you bought your membership yet? Don't wait too long before making those arrangements . . . you may be left out. Call any of the membership committee or any Little Theatre worker and buy your ticket now.

Rehearsals for "The Seven Year Itch" are in full swing in the Selman Field Theatre. The set is taking shape and the cast is busy with the difficult task of adding the final polish that makes a play a success. A lot of people have been responsible for getting a cast and set for this play.

The casting committee for this year is: Joanne Busby, chairman; Patsy Pickett, Delt Moore, Mrs. Jo Brian, Clyde Culpepper, V. P. Dairympie, Chuck Morgan, Claude Fuller, June and Mark Swayze, W. J. Haddad and Carl Slakter.

The set construction committee for the season is as follows: Ray Magruder, chairman; Jim Knuckles, Dwayne May, Dick Rider, Judy Evans, Marc Block, Art Johnson, Larry Shipman, Alton Washak, Lamar Millican and Bob Lewis.

HATS OFF

Hats off to three very hard working people that make up the publicity committee, Lallage Feazel, chairman, Mac Ward and Bill Hardin. These people have the tremendous job of handling all theatre publicity for the entire season.

A great big happy birthday goes out to a wonderful fellow . . . Grandpa Nobes who is 82 years young today. Grandpa was born in Portsmouth, England, October 9, 1878.

Joan Magruder is presently in rehearsal for "Look Homeward, Angel," by Thomas Wolfe at LSU. You'll remember Joan from "Tender Trap," and "Our Town," at the Little Theatre. Joan will play the part of Helen in "Look Homeward, Angel," and knowing her . . . she will be a great success.

Norman Jones (stage name Norman James) is currently playing at the Front Street Theatre, Memphis, Tennessee, in "Mr. Roberts." Norman was seen in "Visit To A Small Planet," and the musical "Pajama Game," in past seasons of the Little Theatre here in Monroe.

Don't forget your membership. Pick up the phone and have it taken care of now.

See you Sunday!

High Scoring Nurse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —For a student nurse, 20-year-old Pauline McKitrick of Grant Hospital is quite deadly. In three years, she has scored 1,150 points as a forward for the Grant basketball team. She dropped in 61 points in a one game last season against the Mt. Carmel Hospital team of Columbus.

Audie Murphy Stars In Film At Jim Soon

On a gripping wave of pulse-pounding excitement, Universal-International's suspenseful color saga, "Seven Ways From Sundown," starring Audie Murphy, Barry Sullivan, Venetia Stevenson and John McIntire, arrived Wednesday at the Jim Theatre.

Told in strokes of bold adventure, producer Gordon Kay has fashioned a top - notch story of life and love in the Old West, heightened by strong performances from a stellar cast.

As a youthful Texas Ranger whose sense of duty is torn by violent loyalty to a friend, Audie Murphy gives a performance of great sensitivity and drama, one that will, no doubt, win the talented Texan war hero many new fans.

ALMOST

And, as the sinister outlaw whose personality almost charms him out of the arms of the law, Barry Sullivan's acting is no less outstanding, Long a popular screen hero, Sullivan's villainous emoting will easily place him on the audience's most - hissable character lists.

Portraying a beautiful frontier girl in love with Murphy, Venetia Stevenson seems type cast. One of Hollywood's most photogenic young actresses, Miss Stevenson's carefully - etched performance gives lie to the old rumor that beautiful women can't act. She is perfect in the role.

John McIntire, long one of the theatrical world's most competent character actors, once again puts his able thespic abilities to great value, sharply delineating his role as a Texas Ranger whose sense of fair play costs him his life.

Director Harry Keller ably weaves a continuously binding spell of interest from Clair Huffaker's strong and tightly-written screenplay, based on his novel of the same name. Camerawork, under the supervision of Ellis Carter is stylishly suited to the mood of "Seven Ways From Sundown," which is another fine credit for producer Gordon Kay.

Kennedy Gets Congratulations

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) —Sen. John F. Kennedy has received more congratulatory telegrams on his second television-radio debate with Vice President Richard M. Nixon than he did on the first one, his press secretary said Saturday.

Pierre Salinger said the messages were running about 9-1 in favor of Kennedy's position in the debate.

GAY COMEDY

'High Time' Opens At The Paramount

Bubbling over with comedy, songs and zany hi-jinx "High Time," starring Bing Crosby, Fabian, Tuesday Weld and Nicole Maurey, a Twentieth Century-Fox Cinema-Scope, DeLuxe Color release opens today at the Paramount Theatre.

The college campus has been the setting for a good many movies but never have the portals of higher education been entered by as many merry madcaps as in Charles Brackett's production of "Hight Time."

The comedy ball starts rolling from the minute Bing Crosby, a 51-year-old self made millionaire decides he wants a college education and enters as a freshman at Pinehurst College. Upon entrance he finds himself in the dormitory with his new roomates Fabian, Richard Beymer and Patrick Adiarte.

SHEEPSKIN

Thus the story starts and it doesn't end til four years later when "Der Bingle" gets his sheepskin. In the interim he goes through the agonies of gym class; the mortifications of fraternity "Hell Week",. . . .washing cars, shining shoes, "Siring" the members; the climbing of a rickety pyramid of crates at the class bonfire and the tortures of romance with Nicole Maurey, the school's French teacher.

Crosby's movie and recording triumphs are known throughout the world. Since the days of his radio success with the Paul Whiteman band he has steadily risen to the pinacle of the entertainment world.

Fabian is a household word these days with his many hit records and his performance in 20th Century Fox's "Hound Dog Man."

Nicole Maurey, lovely French beauty is well known to American audiences from her roles in "Me And The Colonel," "The Seven Hawks."

Tuesday Weld has rocketed to fame in the past year with her work in "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" TV series, "Rally Round The Flag Boys!" and "Five Pennies."

YUL BRYNNER and Rosenda Monteros appear in "The Magnificent 7", an action film set in Mexico. The film opens Sunday, Oct. 16, at the Paramount Theatre.

Finders of the bottles are asked to notify the studio's New York office. A $25 reward will be paid to the finders, and the person whose bottle floated farthest gets a special prize.

The ship, scheduled to leave its Nova Scotia shipyard this week, will carry a crew of 22.

Athough the ship has all the outward appearances of a sailing vessel, it actually has the comforts of home, including showers and a deep freeze.

Mutineers took over the original H. M. S. Bounty from Captain Bligh, played by Charles Laughton in the first movie about the ship, 181 years ago in the Pacific Ocean.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN to the one who gets the short straw?

Draw straws to see who goes to college? Could be. In ten years the number of college applicants may double. Many of our colleges and universities are already crowded. And unless we start right now to expand our college facilities and attract more and better instructors, many bright youngsters may soon be refused an education.

Their future depends on you. Your future depends on them.

Help the college of your choice, now!

Learn more about how you can meet and beat this college crisis. Write today for your free booklet, "OPEN WIDE THE COLLEGE DOOR," Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, N.Y.

Curtain Call

By SANDY JOHNSON

Have you bought your membership yet? Don't wait too long before making those arrangements . . . you may be left out. Call any of the membership committee or any Little Theatre worker and buy your ticket now.

Rehearsals for "The Seven Year Itch" are in full swing in the Selman Field Theatre. The set is taking shape and the cast is busy with the difficult task of adding the final polish that makes a play a success. A lot of people have been responsible for getting a cast and set for this play.

The casting committee for this year is: Joanne Busby, chairman; Patsy Pickett, Dell Moore, Mrs. Jo Brian, Clyde Culpepper, V. P. Dalrymple, Chuck Morgan, Claude Fuller, June and Mark Swayze, W. J. Haddad and Carl Slakter.

The set construction committee for the season is as follows: Ray Magruder, chairman; Jim Knuckles, Dwayne May, Dick Rider, Judy Evans, Marc Block, Art Johnson, Larry Shipman, Alton Washak, Lamar Millican and Bob Lewis.

HATS OFF

Hats off to three very hard working people that make up the publicity committee, Lallage Feazel, chairman, Mac Ward and Bill Hardin. These people have the tremendous job of handling all theatre publicity for the entire season.

A great big happy birthday goes out to a wonderful fellow . . . Grandpa Nobes who is 82 years young today. Grandpa was born in Portsmouth, England, October 9, 1878.

Joan Magruder is presently in rehearsal for "Look Homeward, Angel," by Thomas Wolfe at LSU. You'll remember Joan from "Tender Trap," and "Our Town," at the Little Theatre. Joan will play the part of Helen in "Look Homeward, Angel," and knowing her . . . she will be a great success.

Norman Jones (stage name Norman James) is currently playing at the Front Street Theatre, Memphis, Tennessee, in "Mr. Roberts." Norman was seen in "Visit To A Small Planet," and the musical "Pajama Game," in past seasons of the Little Theatre here in Monroe.

Don't forget your membership. Pick up the phone and have it taken care of now.

See you Sunday!

Audie Murphy Stars In Film At Jim Soon

On a gripping wave of pulse-pounding excitement, Universal-International's suspenseful color saga, "Seven Ways From Sundown," starring Audie Murphy, Barry Sullivan, Venetia Stevenson and John McIntire, arrived Wednesday at the Jim Theatre.

Told in strokes of bold adventure, producer Gordon Kay has fashioned a top - notch story of life and love in the Old West, heightened by strong performances from a stellar cast.

As a youthful Texas Ranger whose sense of duty is torn by violent loyalty to a friend, Audie Murphy gives a performance of great sensitivity and drama, one that will, no doubt, win the talented Texan war hero many new fans.

ALMOST

And, as the sinister outlaw whose personality almost charms him out of the arms of the law, Barry Sullivan's acting is no less outstanding, Long a popular screen hero, Sullivan's villainous emoting will easily place him on the audience's most - hissable character lists.

Portraying a beautiful frontier girl in love with Murphy, Venetia Stevenson seems type cast. One of Hollywood's most photogenic young actresses, Miss Stevenson's carefully - etched performance gives lie to the old rumor that beautiful women can't act. She is perfect in the role.

John McIntire, long one of the theatrical world's most competent character actors, once again puts his able thespic abilities to great value, sharply delineating his role as a Texas Ranger whose sense of fair play costs him his life.

Director Harry Keller ably weaves a continuously binding spell of interest from Clair Huffaker's strong and tightly-written screenplay, based on his novel of the same name. Camerawork, under the supervision of Ellis Carter is stylishly suited to the mood of "Seven Ways From Sundown," which is another fine credit for producer Gordon Kay.

High Scoring Nurse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —For a student nurse, 20-year-old Pauline McKitrick of Grant Hospital is quite deadly. In three years, she has scored 1,150 points as a forward for the Grant basketball team. She dropped in 61 points in a one game last season against the Mt. Carmel Hospital team of Columbus.

Kennedy Gets Congratulations

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) —Sen. John F. Kennedy has received more congratulatory telegrams on his second television-radio debate with Vice President Richard M. Nixon than he did on the first one, his press secretary said Saturday.

Pierre Salinger said the messages were running about 9-1 in favor of Kennedy's position in the debate.

GAY COMEDY

'High Time' Opens At The Paramount

Bubbling over with comedy, songs and zany hi-jinx "High Time," starring Bing Crosby, Fabian, Tuesday Weld and Nicole Maurey, a Twentieth Century-Fox Cinema-Scope, DeLuxe Color release opens today at the Paramount Theatre.

The college campus has been the setting for a good many movies but never have the portals of higher education been entered by as many merry madcaps as in Charles Brackett's production of "Hight Time."

The comedy ball starts rolling from the minute Bing Crosby, a 51-year-old self made millionaire decides he wants a college education and enters as a freshman at Pinehurst College. Upon entrance he finds himself in the dormitory with his new roomates Fabian, Richard Beymer and Patrick Adiarte.

SHEEPSKIN

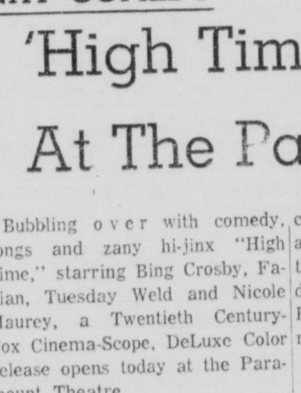

Thus the story starts and it doesn't end til four years later when "Der Bingle" gets his sheepskin. In the interim he goes through the agonies of gym class; the mortifications of fraternity "Hell Week".. . . .washing cars, shining shoes, "Siring" the members; the climbing of a rickety pyramid of crates at the class bonfire and the tortures of romance with Nicole Maurey, the school's French teacher.

Crosby's movie and recording triumphs are known throughout the world. Since the days of his radio success with the Paul Whiteman band he has steadily risen to the pinacle of the entertainment world.

Fabian is a household word these days with his many hit records and his performance in 20th Century Fox's "Hound Dog Man."

Nicole Maurey, lovely French beauty is well known to American audiences from her roles in "Me And The Colonel," "The Seven Hawks."

Tuesday Weld has rocketed to fame in the past year with her work in "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" TV series, "Rally Round The Flag Boys!" and "Five Pennies."

YUL BRYNNER and Rosenda Monteros appear in "The Magnificent 7", an action film set in Mexico. The film opens Sunday, Oct. 16, at the Paramount Theatre.

AMAZING PSORIASIS STORY

Jan. 10, 1960 — Pittsburgh, Pa. "Doctored for psoriasis 30 years. Spent much money to no avail. Then used GHP Ointment and Tablets for 2 weeks. Scales disappeared as if by magic. In 6 weeks skin completely cleared and clean. First time in 30 years. Thanks for your marvelous products." This much abbreviated report tells of a user's success with a dual treatment for psoriasis now made available to all sufferers. Northeast Knocks Off Northwestern, 7-6

First The Demons Scored

NORTHWESTERN HALFBACK Steve Murphy (41) blasts through a hole in the Northeast line for an 11-yard touchdown, and the Demons only score, in the first quarter of yesterday's GSC battle at Brown Stadium. Northwestern fullback, Robert Martin (35) watches the play from the ground, while Northeast's Terry Reeves (21) and quarterback Pete Vincent (12) attempt to close in on the ball carrier. (Staff Photo By John Fogleman)

---And Then The Indians

NORTHEAST'S QUARTERBACK Don Wattigny starts to pitch out to halfback Ferdy Cruce (20) to begin a scoring play in the second period yesterday against Northwestern State College. Cruce took the ball on the nine-yard-line, after Wattigny was hit hard by the Demons' Ralph Conrad (43), and went in for the score as the Indians upset Northwestern, 7-6. PAUL MARTIN LOOKS 'EM OVER

The World Series is keeping alive the summer baseball campaign, football is in its full glory, and basketball is squeezing into the picture, but the leaders of Little Boys Baseball in West Monroe, while absorbing with interest current sports events, are working on another project that looks ahead to the national Dixie Series for Little Boys next August.

West Monroe wants to host the 1961 series for the eight-to-twelve-year-olds, and the city's application will be filed with Danny Jones of South Carolina, the national chairman.

Marvin L. Smith Jr., recetly elected president of the West Monroe Little Boys for the 1961 season, reporting the organization's plan to bid for the series, said united support from all possible sources will be weighed in deciding West Monroe's bid as well as applications from other cities.

"We will need all the help we can get," Smith said. "I believe we will have ample ammunition when we make this bid. It will be up to West Monroe to impress Commissioner Jones and the national directors that we've got what is necessary to insure a successful tournament.

"Support so far on the homefront has been very enthusiastic," Smith concluded. "I believe, with a solid effort, we can do it."

At least three other cities—West Point, Miss., Lookout Mountain, Tenn., and South Boston, Va.— are preparing bids for the series scheduled for next August 21-26. Another or two may bid.

Commissioner Jones, his five-man "headquarters staff" and the national directors, like J. W. McLemore of Winnsboro, will consider the bids and determine the host city.

There are 33 different requirements a city must meet to secure the national tournament. The West Monroe leaders have been checking these off and feel they can meet them all. They'll fail only if some city can offer more.

The Chamber of Commerce of West Monroe has promised support, Highland Park Country Club is extending the hospitality of its facilities, and Camp Ki-Ro-Li, the Boy Scout camp just northwest of the city, is being proposed for housing and meals.

Hollie Pankey, immediate past president of the West Monroe leagues, who feted coaches, board members, and coaches at a supper at Tom Hicks' Camp the past week, declared, "People from at least eight states will be here. It will do lots for West Monroe and Monroe.

League officers joining Smith in making the proposal for the series include Fred Ragland, vice president of the Northside League; Henry Colbert, re-elected vice president of the Southside League; T. W. Cox, secretary-treasurer; and W. B. Burrows, concession manager.

Here are some comments from West Monroe's business and professional leaders on Little Boys baseball and the series bid:

Mayor Allan Norris — It will be a mighty fine thing if we can have the Dixie Series in West Monroe. It will mean a lot of good advertising for our state as well as our city. We'll do everything we can to provide for the care and entertainment of the boys. We'll see that everything possible is done for their pleasure if they bring their August classic to us.

Gary Phillips, druggist and ex-Ole Miss basketball great — It will be wonderful. We've got a good park for it. I traveled about a lot last summer and saw a lot of Little Boys and Little League parks. There were none better than what we have here.

Dewitt Hogan, grocer — I think Little Boys baseball is great for the kids of West Monroe. I sincerely hope they can get the series here. Some of these boys are possible future big league stars, and in a Dixie Series that draws the best from the entire south, we're bound to see some future greats.

Dr. W. L. Spencer — It's quite a program already, but this tournament would certainly help it along. I've enjoyed every Little Boys game I've been able to see. I would certainly like to see the Dixie Series played here.

Jack Bagwell (former professional baseball player now a West Monroe nurseryman) — There has never been anything invented to beat this one sport. There is no finer program for a boy. I hope they get the series here.

The Rev. A. T. Mitchell—The series would be a wonderful thing for West Monroe, this area — even Louisiana—would be fortunate if West Monroe can get the tournament. I feel the citizens should go all out in every way they can to get it. Every person should be willing to make some contribution to it. I will certainly do whatever I can.

A major factor determining a bid for the tournament is the show of interest from merchants, individuals, businessmen and industry such as the preceeding remarks by West Monroe leaders. All who want to support the series bid should personally write to "Marvin L. Smith Jr., 190 High Circle, West Monroe," expressing their support. These letters will be included with the West Monroe series application to national headquarters.

Breaux Passes McNeese Over Arlington, 7-0

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Quarterback Don Breaux connected on 14 passes, one good for a touchdown, to guide McNeese State to a 7-0 victory over Arlington State Saturday night.

Breaux' game-winning pass came midway in the fourth period after McNeese had taken over on its 35 and marched to the Rebel 8 in four plays.

The toss was taken by end Jay Hebert. Center Lennie Kahn kicked the extra point.

Breaux' 14 passes accounted for 181 of the visitors' 186 yards picked up via the air route.

McNeese penetrated to the 7, 5, and 1-yard lines on other drives but were held in check by the Rebels.

With one minute remaining ASC fought to the McNeese 1 but the drive failed after the Rebels drew a 5-yard penalty for offsides. The Rebels in the first period drove to the 9 but a pass from Amos North was intercepted at the 2 by Charlie Stevenson.

Southeastern Hands Pensacola First Loss, 9-0

HAMMOND, La. (AP) — Underdog Southeastern Louisiana handed Pensacola Navy a 9-0 setback Saturday night to stay in the unbeaten ranks.

The Navy squad, loaded with onetime major college grid players, took its first loss of the season.

The two teams slugged it out until just before the half when Jerry Schwab split the uprights with a field goal for SLC. A Navy field goal attempt with six seconds left in the half failed.

Late in the final quarter halfback Wilbur Derrick went two yards through the middle to paydirt.

SLC held the Sailors to a net four yards on the ground, but Pensacola gained 189 yards in the air.

Tribe Defense Shackles NSC Offensive Aces

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

"What happened to Conrad?" somebody asked Jack Rowan, talking about Northwestern's crack halfback.

Rowan gave one of his big grins. "We just didn't give him any running room."

None of the other Northwestern backs got much running room either while Rowan's Northeast club was edging the Demos, 7-6, to make the local college's homecoming celebrations complete yesterday.

A great Northeast defense led by guard Dan Keith, end Charley Barnes, and guard Billy Foster and center Gerry Marchbank held Northwestern to only 69 yards rushing in the Gulf States Conference battle and stole two of its passes.

Conrad, second - team all - conference last fall, was held to only 10 yards in four carries while Demon fullback J. M. Maricelli, GSC back of the week for his heroics against Louisiana College last Saturday, got only 14 yards in six trips.

Northeast caught as many of Northwestern's passes as it did its own. The Indians intercepted two Demon tosses, Don Wattigny picking off one to set up the Tribe touchdown and Levy Redden made up for his first quarter fumble by intercepting another. Wattigny also fell on a Demon fumble to give Northeast one of its many scoring opportunities in the second half.

"I thought both teams were a bit tight on offense, especially in the first half," Rowan said. "But we came through in fine style defensively." We didn't try anything new but I thought we adjusted to their unbalanced line pretty well."

"We seemed to be up a little bit higher for East Texas," Rowan continued. Northeast lost to strong East Texas, 13-6, last week when time ran out with the Indians on the East Texas two.

Marchbank, one of the defensive stars before he was injured in the last half, rated Northwestern a lot better than Arkansas State, a 13-6 victim of the Tribe in their first game.

"This bunch was a lot better than Arkansas State," the Tribe center said. "I feel pretty beat right now."

Marchbank nominated East Texas as the best club to face the Indians this year. "Arlington was pretty quick though," he said.

Another Indian star, Barnes, went out of the game in the second half with a turned ankle. He was still limping in the dressing room. Tribe center Bill McGraw did not even dress out for the game.

The victory was the first for Northeast over Northwestern since the two schools played their first game back in 1952, 20-13, and doubly sweet since the Demons buried Northeast, 42-6, in a Tribe homecoming game two years ago.

Southwestern Shocks Tech In 6-2 Upset

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Southwestern Louisiana kept its Gulf States Conference title hopes alive Saturday night with a 6-2 victory over defending champion Louisiana Tech.

Southwestern scored early in the first quarter on a 22-yard aerial from quarterback Dan Bridges to Gerald Kapp.

Tech unleashed repeated scoring drives only to see them stopped by fumbles and a strong USL pass defense.

Late in the final period Vernon Lott raced into his own end zone to give Tech a safety and insure the Southwestern victory.

The game gave each school a 1-1 conference record and a 2-2 season record.

Harrisonburg Beats Central In Cage Opener

HARRISONBURG (Special) — Harrisonburg's Bulldogs opened the 1960-61 basketball season Friday night with a 66-24 victory over Central High of Larto. Center Barry Chapman paced the win scoring 16 points. Truman Boothe followed for Harrisonburg with 15 points. High for Central was Bob Wiley with 17.

In the junior game Harrisonburg came out on top, 36-12. High scorer was guard Ralph Parker of Harrisonburg with 11 points.

Tribe Captures First GSC Win

By JERRY HARKNESS
Staff Sports Writer

Northeast's Indians ruined some football forecasts yesterday, throwing a steady, fast-moving defense against Northwestern State to ambush the Demons, 7-6, for a come-from-behind homecoming and GSC victory.

The Demons took to the air in the closing seconds with quarterback Vic Stelly hitting on two desperation passes but the receivers couldnt shake loose and the Indians protect their one-point lead as time ran out.

Northeast jumped back from a first quarter six point difference for a quick second period touchdown by left - half Ferdy Cruce and harrased the Demon ball carriers for the rest of the afternoon with a terrific gang - tackling defense to post victory number two for the season. The loss left Northwestern at 2-2-0.

It was the first time former Demon assistant coach Jack Rowan's Indians had beaten Northwestern since 1952.

Both teams opened up on offense through the first two periods, settling down to a battle for inches in the second half.

Northwestern's touchdown came with 2:35 left in the first quarter after the Demons recovered a fumble by Indian halfback Levy Redden at the Northeast 12 - yard - line. Halfback Steve Murphy carried on first down for a one yard pickup, and on second down blasted around left end, bounced off the only man in his way, and sprinted 11 yards for the score.

Fullback Nick Norcia booted the vital extra point attempt wide to the left, leaving the Demons in a bad position against the rugged, Northeast defense sparked by guard Dan Keith, center Gerry Marchbank, guard Bill Foster and end, Charles Barnes.

Northeast jumped right back into action in the second quarter with quarterback Don Wattigny setting up and engineering the winning touchdown. Demon quarterback Larry Crow had a man in the open at the Indian 45 - yard line, threw a floating pass, Wattigny came from nowhere to pick off the ball at the Northwestern 43. Ragan, Ott and Cruce moved the ball to the nine where Wattigny went to the right on an option, kept until the last minute taking the defense off Cruce, then pitched out to the halfback who went in for the score standing up.

Fullback Willie Ragan split the uprights for the winning point.

Halfback John Kelly's booming punts kept Northwestern away from the Indian goal line through the third quarter. After Crow intercepted a Wattigny pass and the Demons drove to the Northeast 33 - yard line, Kelly boomed a punt 72 yards to the Northwestern five and the Indian defense took over from there, dumping quarterback Smith for a 10 -yard loss as the third quarter ended.

The Tribe threatened in the fourth period when quarterback Jack Webb passed 12 yards to end Carlyle Williams to the Northwestern four but the Indians needed 16 yards for a first and the Demons took over.

Northwestern used the spread and pass in the closing seconds with Crow and Stelly trying to break receivers into the open but the Indians gave up the short yardage and protected the goal as the gun sounded.

Cruce led the Indian ball carriers, picking up 56 yards on 11 carries, followed by Al Ott, who gained 55 yards on 12 carries. The big guns in the Northwestern ground attack were fullback Charles DeSadier and halfback Steve Murphy. Murrphy gained 30 yards, on five carries and DeSadier, 22 yards on five attempts. Demon guard Jerry Didier, hurt in the second half, and tackle Jerry Fowler lead the Northwestern defense. The Demons gained only 69 net yards rushing and 78 through the air on five of ten completed passes.

Indian Cross Country Team In 2nd Victory

Northeast State College's cross-country team won victory number two Saturday, handing Memphis State a 15-52 setback at the Indian track and practice field.

The Indians last week defeated Mississippi College by a 22-33 score with Bill Frye and Jimmy Ezell leading the way. Yesterday the Indians took the first five places, with Buddy Eiland, who did not run against Mississippi College taking first place with a time of 14:24 minutes over the three - mile course. Bill Frye placed second; Jack Williams, third; George Abbott, fourth; and Chuck McCollum, fifth. Joe Lancy was Memphis State's highest scorer, placing sixth.

Northeast's Jimmy Ezell finished seventh, Jim Mouser took eighth, and Randall Walker came in ninth. The last four places went to Memphis State's James Maddox, Bob Scandlin, Bill Marking and Dick Rottering.

The Indians' next cross country meet will be against Louisiana Tech in Ruston, Oct. 15, and the next home meet will be against the Bulldogs on Nov. 19, at Brown Stadium.

BOOST NATIONAL RANKING

Mississippi Tops Vandy

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Mississippi rolled to four quick touchdowns Saturday night then coasted to a 26-0 win over outmanned Vanderbilt.

STATISTICS	Miss.	Vandy

The speedy Rebels, seeking to boost their national ranking, gave coach Johnnie Vaught his 100th win since he took over as head coach in 1947.

Quarterbacks Jake Gibbs and Doug Elmore, halfbacks George Blair and Art Doty and fullback Jim Anderson were the sparkplugs of the Rebel attack.

Anderson scored two of the Rebel touchdowns.

Vanderbilt was game but completely outmanned and outclassed. The first, second and third Mississippi teams all were too much for Vanderbilt to handle.

The Commodors had not scored on Mississippi since 1954.

Sophomore quarterback Hank Lesesne gave the Commodore fans some exciting moments in the final period with his passing. Vandy got as far as the Ole Miss 19 at one point.

Mississippi took advantage of early Vanderbilt mistakes to get its quick lead and then never was in trouble. A fumble on the goal line and an intercepted pass stopped two other Rebel scoring threats.

Northeast Knocks Off Northwestern, 7-6

First The Demons Scored

NORTHWESTERN HALFBACK Steve Murphy (41) blasts through a hole in the Northeast line for an 11-yard touchdown, and the Demons only score, in the first quarter of yesterday's GSC battle at Brown Stadium. Northwestern fullback, Robert Martin (35) watches the play from the ground, while Northeast's Terry Reeves (21) and quarterback Pete Vincent (12) attempt to close in on the ball carrier. ---And Then The Indians

NORTHEAST'S QUARTERBACK Don Wattigny starts to pitch out to halfback Ferdy Cruce (20) to begin a scoring play in the second period yesterday against Northwestern State College. Cruce took the ball on the nine-yard-line, after Wattigny was hit hard by the Demons' Ralph Conrad (43), and went in for the score as the Indians upset Northwestern, 7-6. PAUL MARTIN LOOKS 'EM OVER

The World Series is keeping alive the summer baseball campaign, football is in its full glory, and basketball is squeezing into the picture, but the leaders of Little Boys Baseball in West Monroe, while absorbing with interest current sports events, are working on another project that looks ahead to the national Dixie Series for Little Boys next August.

West Monroe wants to host the 1961 series for the eight-to-twelve-year-olds, and the city's application will be filed with Danny Jones of South Carolina, the national chairman.

Marvin L. Smith Jr., recetly elected president of the West Monroe Little Boys for the 1961 season, reporting the organization's plan to bid for the series, said united support from all possible sources will be weighed in deciding West Monroe's bid as well as applications from other cities.

"We will need all the help we can get," Smith said. "I believe we will have ample ammunition when we make this bid. It will be up to West Monroe to impress Commissioner Jones and the national directors that we've got what is necessary to insure a successful tournament.

"Support so far on the homefront has been very enthusiastic," Smith concluded. "I believe, with a solid effort, we can do it."

At least three other cities— West Point, Miss., Lookout Mountain, Tenn., and South Boston, Va.— are preparing bids for the series scheduled for next August 21-26. Another or two may bid.

Commissioner Jones, his fiveman "headquarters staff" and the national directors, like J. W. McLemore of Winnsboro, will consider the bids and determine the host city.

There are 33 different requirements a city must meet to secure the national tournament. The West Monroe leaders have been checking these off and feel they can meet them all. They'll fail only if some city can offer more.

The Chamber of Commerce of West Monroe has promised support, Highland Park Country Club is extending the hospitality of its facilities, and Camp Ki-Ro-Li, the Boy Scout camp just northwest of the city, is being proposed for housing and meals.

Hollie Pankey, immediate past president of the West Monroe leagues, who feted coaches, board members, and coaches at a supper at Tom Hicks' Camp the past week, declared, "People from at least eight states will be here. It will do lots for West Monroe and Monroe.

League officers joining Smith in making the proposal for the series include Fred Ragland, vice president of the Northside League; Henry Colbert, re-elected vice president of the Southside League; T. W. Cox, secretary-treasurer; and W. B. Burrows, concession manager.

Here are some comments from West Monroe's business and professional leaders on Little Boys baseball and the series bid:

Mayor Allan Norris — It will be a mighty fine thing if we can have the Dixie Series in West Monroe. It will mean a lot of good advertising for our state as well as our city. We'll do everything we can to provide for the care and entertainment of the boys. We'll see that everything possible is done for their pleasure if they bring their August classic to us.

Gary Phillips, druggist and ex-Ole Miss basketball great — It will be wonderful. We've got a good park for it. I traveled about a lot last summer and saw a lot of Little Boys and Little League parks. There were none better than what we have here.

Dewitt Hogan, grocer — I think Little Boys baseball is great for the kids of West Monroe. I sincerely hope they can get the series here. Some of these boys are possible future big league stars, and in a Dixie Series that draws the best from the entire south, we're bound to see some future greats.

Dr. W. L. Spencer — It's quite a program already, but this tournament would certainly help it along. I've enjoyed every Little Boys game I've been able to see. I would certainly like to see the Dixie Series played here.

Jack Bagwell (former professional baseball player now a West Monroe nurseryman) — There has never been anything invented to beat this one sport. There is no finer program for a boy. I hope they get the series here.

The Rev. A. T. Mitchell— The series would be a wonderful thing for West Monroe, this area — even Louisiana— would be fortunate if West Monroe can get the tournament. I feel the citizens should go all out in every way they can to get it. Every person should be willing to make some contribution to it. I will certainly do whatever I can.

A major factor determining a bid for the tournament is the show of interest from merchants, individuals, businessmen and industry such as the preceeding remarks by West Monroe leaders. All who want to support the series bid should personally write to "Marvin L. Smith Jr., 100 High Circle, West Monroe," expressing their support. These letters will be included with the West Monroe series application to national headquarters.

Breaux Passes McNeese Over Arlington, 7-0

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Quarterback Don Breaux connected on 14 passes, one good for a touchdown, to guide McNeese State to a 7-0 victory over Arlington State Saturday night.

Breaux' game-winning pass came midway in the fourth period after McNeese had taken over on its 35 and marched to the Rebel 8 in four plays.

The toss was taken by end Jay Hebert. Center Lennie Kahn kicked the extra point.

Breaux' 14 passes accounted for 181 of the visitors' 136 yards picked up via the air route.

McNeese penetrated to the 7, 5, and 1-yard lines on other drives but were held in check by the Rebels.

With one minute remaining ASC fought to the McNeese 1 but the drive failed after the Rebels drew a 5-yard penalty for offsides. The Rebels in the first period drove to the 9 but a pass from Amos North was intercepted at the 2 by Charlie Stevenson.

Southeastern Hands Pensacola First Loss, 9-0

HAMMOND, La. (AP) — Underdog Southeastern Louisiana handed Pensacola Navy a 9-0 setback Saturday night to stay in the unbeaten ranks.

The Navy squad, loaded with onetime major college grid players, took its first loss of the season.

The two teams slugged it out until just before the half when Jerry Schwab split the uprights with a field goal for SLC. A Navy field goal attempt with six seconds left in the half failed.

Late in the final quarter halfback Wilbur Derrick went two yards through the middle to paydirt.

SLC held the Sailors to a net four yards on the ground, but Pensacola gained 189 yards in the air.

Tribe Defense Shackles NSC Offensive Aces

By BOB ANDERSON
World Sports Editor

"What happened to Conrad?" somebody asked Jack Rowan, talking about Northwestern's crack halfback.

Rowan gave one of his big grins. "We just didn't give him any running room."

None of the other Northwestern backs got much running room either while Rowan's Northeast club was edging the Demos, 7-6, to make the local college's homecoming celebrations complete yesterday.

A great Northeast defense led by guard Dan Keith, end Charley Barnes, and guard Billy Foster and center Gerry Marchbank held Northwestern to only 69 yards rushing in the Gulf States Conference battle and stole two of its passes.

Conrad, second - team all - conference last fall, was held to only 10 yards in four carries while Demon fullback J. M. Maricelli, GSC back of the week for his heroics against Louisiana College last Saturday, got only 14 yards in six trips.

Northeast caught as many of Northwestern's passes as it did its own. The Indians intercepted two Demon tosses. Don Wattigny picking off one to set up the Tribe touchdown and Levy Redden made up for his first quarter fumble by intercepting another. Wattigny also fell on a Demon fumble to give Northeast one of its many scoring opportunities in the second half.

"I thought both teams were a bit tight on offense, especially in the first half," Rowan said. "But we came through in fine style defensively." We didn't try anything new but I thought we adjusted to their unbalanced line pretty well."

"We seemed to be up a little bit higher for East Texas," Rowan continued. Northeast lost to strong East Texas, 13-6, last week when time ran out with the Indians on the East Texas two.

Marchbank, one of the defensive stars before he was injured in the last half, rated Northwestern a lot better than Arkansas State, a 13-6 victim of the Tribe in their first game.

"This bunch was a lot better than Arkansas State," the Tribe center said. "I feel pretty beat right now."

Marchbank nominated East Texas as the best club to face the Indians this year. "Arlington was pretty quick though," he said.

Another Indian star, Barnes, went out of the game in the second half with a turned ankle. He was still limping in the dressing room. Tribe center Bill McGraw did not even dress out for the game.

The victory was the first for Northeast over Northwestern since the two schools played their first game back in 1952, 20-13, and doubly sweet since the Demons buried Northeast, 42-6, in a Tribe homecoming game two years ago.

Southwestern Shocks Tech In 6-2 Upset

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Southwestern Louisiana kept its Gulf States Conference title hopes alive Saturday night with a 6-2 victory over defending champion Louisiana Tech.

Southwestern scored early in the first quarter on a 22-yard aerial from quarterback Dan Bridges to Gerald Kapp.

Tech unleashed repeated scoring drives only to see them stopped by fumbles and a strong USL pass defense.

Late in the final period Vernon Lott raced into his own end zone to give Tech a safety and insure the Southwestern victory.

The game gave each school a 1-1 conference record and a 2-2 season record.

Harrisonburg Beats Central In Cage Opener

HARRISONBURG (Special) — Harrisonburg's Bulldogs opened the 1960-61 basketball season Friday night with a 66-24 victory over Central High of Larto. Center Barry Chapman paced the win scoring 16 points. Truman Boothe followed for Harrisonburg with 15 points. High for Central was Bob Wiley with 17.

In the junior game Harrisonburg came out on top, 36-12. High scorer was guard Ralph Parker of Harrisonburg with 11 points.

Tribe Captures First GSC Win

By JERRY HARKNESS
Staff Sports Writer

Northeast's Indians ruined some football forecasts yesterday, throwing a steady, fast-moving defense against Northwestern State to ambush the Demons, 7-6, for a come-from-behind homecoming and GSC victory.

The Demons took to the air in the closing seconds with quarterback Vic Stelly hitting on two desperation passes but the receivers couldnt shake loose and the Indians protect their one-point lead as time ran out.

Northeast jumped back from a first quarter six point difference for a quick second period touchdown by left - half Ferdy Cruce and harrased the Demon ball carriers for the rest of the afternoon with a terrific gang - tackling defense to post victory number two for the season. The loss left Northwestern at 2-2-0.

It was the first time former Demon assistant coach Jack Rowan's Indians had beaten Northwestern since 1952.

Both teams opened up on offense through the first two periods, settling down to a battle for inches in the second half.

Northwestern's touchdown came with 2:35 left in the first quarter after the Demons recovered a fumble by Indian halfback Levy Redden at the Northeast 12 - yard - line. Halfback Steve Murphy carried on first down for a one yard pickup, and on second down blasted around left end, bounced off the only man in his way, and sprinted 11 yards for the score.

Fullback Nick Norcia booted the vital extra point attempt wide to the left, leaving the Demons in a bad position against the rugged, Northeast defense sparked by guard Dan Keith, center Gerry Marchbank, guard Bill Foster and end, Charles Barnes.

Northeast jumped right back into action in the second quarter with quarterback Don Wattigny setting up and engineering the winning touchdown. Demon quarterback Larry Crow had a man in the open at the Indian 45 - yard line, threw a floating pass, Wattigny came from nowhere to pick off the ball at the Northwestern 43. Ragan, Ott and Cruce moved the ball to the nine where Wattigny went to the right on an option, kept until the last minute taking the defense off Cruce, then pitched out to the halfback who went in for the score standing up.

Fullback Willie Ragan split the uprights for the winning point.

Halfback John Kelly's booming punts kept Northwestern away from the Indian goal line through the third quarter. After Crow intercepted a Wattigny pass and the Demons drove to the Northeast 33 - yard line, Kelly boomed a punt 72 yards to the Northwestern five and the Indian defense took over from there, dumping quarterback Smith for a 10 -yard loss as the third quarter ended.

The Tribe threatened in the fourth period when quarterback Jack Webb passed 12 yards to end Carlyle Williams to the Northwestern four but the Indians needed 16 yards for a first and the Demons took over.

Northwestern used the spread and pass in the closing seconds with Crow and Stelly trying to break receivers into the open but the Indians gave up the short yardage and protected the goal as the gun sounded.

Cruce led the Indian ball carriers, picking up 56 yards on 11 carries, followed by Al Ott, who gained 55 yards on 12 carries. The big guns in the Northwestern ground attack were fullback Charles DeSadier and halfback Steve Murphy. Murrphy gained 30 yards, on five carries and DeSadier, 22 yards on five attempts. Demon guard Jerry Didier, hurt in the second half, and tackle Jerry Fowler lead the Northwestern defense. The Demons gained only 69 net yards rushing and 78 through the air on five of ten completed passes.

Indian Cross Country Team In 2nd Victory

Northeast State College's cross-country team won victory number two Saturday, handing Memphis State a 15-52 setback at the Indian track and practice field.

The Indians last week defeated Mississippi College by a 22-33 score with Bill Frye and Jimmy Ezell leading the way. Yesterday the Indians took the first five places, with Buddy Eiland, who did not run against Mississippi College taking first place with a time of 14:24 minutes over the three - mile course. Bill Frye placed second; Jack Williams, third; George Abbott, fourth; and Chuck McCollum, fifth. Joe Lancy was Memphis State's highest scorer, placing sixth.

Northeast's Jimmy Ezell finished seventh, Jim Mouser took eighth, and Randall Walker came in ninth. The last four places went to Memphis State's James Maddox, Bob Scandlin, Bill Marking and Dick Rottering.

The Indians' next cross country meet will be against Louisiana Tech in Ruston, Oct. 15, and the next home meet will be against the Bulldogs on Nov. 19, at Brown Stadium.

BOOST NATIONAL RANKING

Mississippi Tops Vandy

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Mississippi rolled to four quick touchdowns Saturday night then coasted to a 26-0 win over outmanned Vanderbilt.

The speedy Rebels, seeking to boost their national ranking, gave coach Johnnie Vaught his 100th win since he took over as head coach in 1947.

Quarterbacks Jake Gibbs and Doug Elmore, halfbacks George Blair and Art Doty and fullback Jim Anderson were the sparkplugs of the Rebel attack.

Anderson scored two of the Rebel touchdowns.

Vanderbilt was game but completely outmanned and outclassed. The first, second and third Mississippi teams all were too much for Vanderbilt to handle.

The Commodors had not scored on Mississippi since 1954.

Sophomore quarterback Hank Lesesne gave the Commodore fans some exciting moments in the final period with his passing. Vandy got as far as the Ole Miss 19 at one point.

Mississippi took advantage of early Vanderbilt mistakes to get its quick lead and then never was in trouble. A fumble on the goal line and an intercepted pass stopped two other Rebel scoring threats.

10-0 SHELLACKING

Bad Birthday For Murtaugh

By JOE BRADIS

NEW YORK (AP)—"It was a heck of a birthday present," snorted Danny Murtaugh of Pittsburgh Saturday after his Pirates took a 10-0 shellacking from the New York Yankees.

"But we're not the only club that Whitey Ford has made look bad," added the Pirates' skipper. "But it sure didn't make me any younger."

Murtaugh said before the game a victory would be a half present to him. The other half present was two packs of chewing tobacco from his daughter, Kathy.

And the Yankees made Murtaugh swallow a lot of juice with their bombardment of 16 hits and the second straight loss in the World Series.

Despite the loss, the 43-year-old Pirate skipper said he would not change his pitching plans for Sunday's fourth game.

"It will be Vern Law Sunday and Harvey Haddix on Monday," he said. "Bob Friend will be in the bullpen. He can pitch frequently with little rest."

Murtaugh said Vinegar Bend Mizell didn't have his usual stuff. "He's a lot faster than he was," said Murtaugh.

Mizell said he was never more ready to pitch in his entire life but "three base hits up the middle—there's nothing you can do about it."

The tall Alabaman was the first of six Pirate pitchers. Clem Labine, who followed, also pitched to only five batters.

Labine said Bob Richardson hit a high inside fast ball for his bases-loaded homer in the first inning.

"He really whacked it," said Labine. "How many has he hit all year," he asked inquisitively. "It really doesn't matter. He hit a home run and they don't ask you to hit it any farther."

The Pirates nicked Ford for only four hits and only one extra-base blow—a double by Billy Virdon in the fourth inning. Virdon said he hit a fast ball.

Dick Stuart, the Pirates' home run slugger, said he didn't even see the pitch he hit. "It's really difficult to pick out a pitch in this Stadium," he said.

"The way thees club hits," said Roberto Clemente disgustedly, "they should have won pennant in August and not wait so long."

Bob Skinner, still nursing a sore thumb, said he hoped he could play Sunday but he was doubtful. The thumb is still sore and he's unable to grip a bat.

The Pirates tramped into the dressing room with long, long faces and Murtaugh wore the longest. But the genial Irishman quickly recovered and managed to crack a few smiles.

"Now that the game is over what would you like for your birthday," asked one newsman. And Murtaugh replied with a big grin:

"To see my 44th birthday."

Murtaugh said he still plans to have a birthday celebration with his wife and family at a quiet dinner.

While Murtaugh managed to smile his third sacker Don Hoak was in no mood for any jokes. "So we lost another," he cracked. "Well, don't bury the Pirates yet."

Gophers Nip Northwestern By 7-0 Count

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Happy-go-luck Joe Salem, the people's choice of Minnesota football, awakened a doddering Gopher attack for one swift touchdown strike that brought unbeaten Minnesota a 7-0 victory over Northwestern Saturday.

Entering the game for the first time to a howling ovation from the partisan crowd late in the third period, Salem whipped a 40-yard pass to end Bob Deegan to the Wildcat 9. Four plays later regular quarter Sandy Stephens punched over from the 1 on fourth down.

But the battling Wildcats nearly hung the goat's horn on Smoky Joe in the fourth period when they recovered his fumble and smashed to the Gopher 10 on Dick Thornton's three third-down passes.

The brilliant Northwestern quarterback couldn't do it a fourth time. Sophomore Bill Munsey intercepted his pass on the 2 and carried it back 30 yards.

It was the third straight victory for Minnesota, matching its longest winning streak since 1957, and launched the Gophers' Big Ten season.

Thornton's passing arm, the Cats' only effective weapon, kept the Gophers jittery all the way—including the final minute when he fired a 35-yarder to Larry Benz.

But here Gopher halfback Bill Kauth finally slammed the gate by intercepting Thornton's touchdown try on the last play of the game.

For Salem, a faithful No. 3 quarterback for two years, it was a glorious moment, and his fans loved it. Four plays after he entered, Salem found Deegan wide open down the sidelines. Deegan took the pass just inside and went to the 9. Two plays gained two yards before Stephens replaced Salem, slammed to the 1 and then over. Fullback Jim Rogers kicked the point.

Kansas Turns Back Stubborn Iowa Staters

JAMES, Iowa (AP) — Powerful Kansas turned back a stubborn Iowa State football team 28-14 Saturday behind the running and passing of quarterback John Hadl. The brawny junior scored two touchdowns and passed for another to end Iowa State's three-game winning streak and put the Jayhawks in the favorite role for the Big Eight championship with a 2-0 conference record.

Hadl's two long first quarter passes were the difference. He hit halfback Curtis McClinton with a 37-yard toss—the key play in a 66-yard drive for Kansas' first score, which Hadl got on a short plunge.

He shot the Jayhawks into a 14-0 lead by throwing another pass which McClinton pulled in between two Cyclone defenders in the end zone for a 27-yard touchdown play.

Iowa State fullback Tom Watkins, forced to carry the load when outstanding sophomore Dave Hoppmann sat out the game with a knee injury, kept the Cyclones in contention.

He scored twice and contributed several long runs, including a 42-yard kickoff return which set up the Cyclones' second touchdown.

A blocked punt set up Kansas' winning touchdown in the third quarter, with Hadl scoring from the 1-yard line. The Jayhawks, ranked 10th in the Associated Press poll, wrapped up the triumph on Bert Coan's one-yard touchdown plunge midway in the final period.

Huskies Stop Indians, 29-10 In Comeback

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Washington All-America quarterback Bob Schloredt passed for one touchdown and ran for another Saturday as the resurging Huskies battered fumbling Stanford 29-10 in their nationally televised Big Five battle.

Stung by a 15-14 upset loss to Navy last week, the Huskies put 10 points on the scoreboard before Stanford controlled the ball.

A 25-yard field goal by George Fleming and a 33-yard touchdown pass from Schloredt to Lee Folkins with Fleming converting built the early lead.

Sophomore speedster Charlie Mitchell's dazzling 59-yard punt return brought the third touchdown and Schloredt ran 10 for the fourth. The finale, late in the game, came on a 35-yard pass from Bob Hivner to Ray Jackson.

Stanford brought the first quarter score to 10-3 on a 24-yard field goal by Skip Face and dominated the third period. Hal Steuber scored a touchdown on a four-yard run culminating a 60-yard drive in 15 plays.

Earlier the Indians missed a scoring opportunity when they failed to make a first down from the Washington 12 after recovering Mitchell's fumble.

Washington, leading 17-10, roared back for two touchdowns in the final period.

The victory in the opening Big Five Conference game put Washington's season record at 3-1 with Stanford still without a victory after four games.

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Statistics of Saturday's Washington-Stanford game:

First downs	14	12
Rushing yardage	172	117
Passing yardage	132	120
Passes	5-10	9-28
Passes intercepted by	2	1

COP Wins, 24-7

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — College of the Pacific, known for its passing attack, scored three times on runs to defeat Villanova 24-7 Saturday.

NAVY HALFBACK Joe Bellino (27) carries the ball for a 15-yard gain while teammate guard John Hewitt (62) runs interference in the second quarter of yesterday's Oyster Bowl game in Norfolk with SMU. Tackle Mike Rice of SMU (61) was in on the tackle of Bellino. Navy won, 26-7, and Ballino was the unanimous choice as the outstanding player of the game. (AP Wirephoto)

Bobby 'Dad Bum' Surprised To Hit Grand Slam Homer

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Richardson admitted he was "dad bum surprised" when he hit a grand slam home run in the first inning to give the Yankees a 6-0 lead and break open the third World Series game with the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

"Dad bum" is the closest the little 25-year-old second baseman comes to profanity. In fact, he's going to be general secretary of the YMCA at Sumter, S. C., his home town, the next four months.

"I thought I hit the ball pretty good," he said happily, "but when I got to first base I saw the left fielder moving in, and I thought he had caught it. Then I saw the umpire wave me around."

Those four runs, and two more he rapped in the fourth with a bases loaded single, gave Richardson a Series one game record of six runs batted in.

"I was a little embarrassed when — went out on the field after the hit," he said. "I had hit only three major league home runs in two years—two in 1959 and one this year. I never hit a grand slam before in my life.

"I wasn't trying to hit a home run, just meet the ball. I just was trying not to hit into a doubleplay. I had fouled off the first pitch, and then got the signal for a bunt to try to squeeze in a run. That didn't work. Then, on the three and two pitch, I swung and connnected.

"It was a rather high fast ball on the inside corner of the plate, a natural ball to pull.

"I have a tendency to fall away when I try to pull the ball. Frank Crosetti (Yankee third base coach) always motions me to try to hit to right field."

Clem Labine was pitching for the Bucs when Bobby hit for the distance. George Witt was pitching when he got his bases-loaded single on another fast ball.

Richardson has batted nearly everywhere in Casey Stengel's ever-shifting batting order, but he can't remember ever batting seventh before, as he did Saturday.

"It was a pleasure to play the full nine innings," he grinned, "and you might say I'm quite happy as to the way everything turned out. My wife, Betsy, and my mother-in-law were in the stands today, too."

Richardson makes no pretense of being a power hitter. His value primarily is as a glove man, a slick fielder.

He was the only Yankee to hit .300 in 1959, however. This year he dropped off to .252 and batted in only 26 runs. He rapped home only seven after the All-Star break in July to the end of the regular season.

He's 5-foot-9 and weighs about 166, and is a product of the Yankee organization. Scout Bill Harris signed him for the Norfolk club.

This is the third World Series for the quiet and affable little guy, but in 1957 and 1958 he was used only as a utility man, and had a batting average of .000, with a total of five at-bats in six games.

Saturday was his first experience in a "hero" role, and he took it in stride, grinnning bashfully as pitcher Whitey Ford rubbed his head and outfielder Mickey Mantle rubbed his chest for the benefit of photographers. Ford pitched a superlative game and Mantle had four hits, including a tremendous tape-measure homer to deep left field.

His "dad-bum" expletive, Richardson got from his high school coach.

"I don't know how to spell it, or what it means," he said. "But the coach was kicked off the field once for using it."

It was noted he was not on the team picture on the cover of the program.

"I'm real sorry about that," he explained. "I was on the way over but didn't get there in time, and I should have, as Mr. Topping (Dan Topping, co-owner of the club went to a lot of expense to make the picture."

Chattanooga Holds Auburn To 10-0 Win

AUBURN Ala (UPI) — Sophomore scatback Jimmy Burson's 105-yard kickoff return at the start of the second half gave the stumbling Auburn Tigers the impetus needed Saturday to squeeze past little Chattanooga, 10-0.

The Tigers, apparently eyeing next week's game with Georgia Tech and overlooking the stubborn Moccasin's potential, were unable to score against their supposedly-outclassed foes except in a few brief minutes of the third period.

Burson, a 175-pound halfback from Lagrange, Ga., started that scoring by taking the kickoff in the zone and dodging his way 105 yards up field through a string of Chattanooga defenders. Fullback Ed Dyas converted to give Auburn a 7-0 lead.

Several minutes later, Dyas, injured in pre-season practice and not a regular since, limped back off the bench to kick a 33-yard field goal for the final scoring. It was Dyas' third field goal in three games.

Junior end Dave Edwards set the field goal when he blocked a third down Chattanooga punt on Moccasin 14.

In the first half Auburn fumbled away every opportunity it had. The Tigers gained only four yards on the ground to Chattanooga's 66.

Auburn's first five offensive plays totaled an overthrown pass, three fumbles and a punt.

Chattanooga's gritty end Tom Weathers and tackle Charles Long combined to drop Auburn quarterback Bobby Hunt for lone losses.

The entire Moccasin line kept the pressure on as Tiger quarterback Bryant Harvard and Hunt consistently lost ground.

Chattanooga, ranked fifth among the nation's small colleges, was kept scoreless by the Auburn punter, Joe Dolan, a senior quarterback from Cedartown, Ga., who kept the Mocs inside their 40 most of the afternoon.

Oklahoma State Humbles Tulsa For First Win

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—With fullback Jim Dillard in a workhorse role, Oklahoma State thumped old rival Tulsa 28-7 Saturday for the Cowboys first victory of the season.

Dillard scored two of his twice-beaten team's touchdowns with short plunges, and his relief fullback, Bob Adcock, got another on a short dash. But Oklahoma State's most spectacular score came on a 76-yard punt return by still another fullback, Rick Buck.

The Hurricane's lone tally come late in the game on an 80-yard pass play from quarterback Jerry Keeling to halfback Bob McGoffin. It was the longest TD pass in Tulsa's history.

Princeton Bags Penn Fumblers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tailbacks John (Silky) Sullivan and Hugh Scott, Princeton's 1-2 punch, Saturday led the Tigers to a 21-0 victory over a fumbling Penn team beset by injuries.

Colorado Tops Arizona, 35-16 On Long Runs

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A dazzling 81-yard scoring strike in three plays after the opening kickoff set the tempo for a 35-16 football victory by Colorado over Arizona Saturday.

Breakaway runs picked up both the first two touchdowns. Ed Coleman, sophomore halfback, ran 41 yards on a left tackle slant. Teddy Woods, the university's star quarter-miler, ripped 30 yards along the sidelines for the second Buff score.

An Arizona halfback, Warren Livingston, came up with the longest scoring run of the day, 77 yards, on a punt-return in the third period.

Wells' Magic Toe Boots Georgia Tech Over LSU

By VERNON BUTLER

ATLANTA (AP) — Tommy Wells, Georgia Tech's magic toe, kicked two field goals Saturday, tying a national record and supplying the points for Tech's 6-2 victory over Southeastern Conference rival Louisiana State.

The tall halfback booted a 22-yarder in the first quarter to match an SEC record. He kicked another that traveled 37 yards late in the third quarter, giving him 7 for 7 this year and 26 points in four games.

Wells tied the national collegiate record for field goals in one season set last year by Karl Holzwarth of Wisconsin.

Tech, improving its record to 3-1, spent most of the rest of the game staving off LSU drives that reached the 13, the 3 and the 1. Sophomore halfback Tom Winingder stopped one when he intercepted a pass in the end zone. A fumble stopped another, and Tech halted the other with a furious stand at the goal line just before intermission.

	LSU	Ga.Tech
First downs	15	9
Rushing yardage	166	120
Passing yardage	85	44
Passes	8-12	3-8
Passes intercepted by	1	2
Punts	4-33.8	6-32.3
Fumbles lost	2	0
Yards penalized	20	35

Wells' second field goal came seconds ahead of a driving rainstorm that hampered LSU efforts for a comeback in the fourth quarter. The loss was the second in three games for LSU.

Tech gave LSU two points when punter Don Coker deliberately grounded the ball in the end zone. The Yellow Jackets wanted more kicking room but had to find more defensive muscle moments later and halt the bristling Tigers at the 27.

Guards Rufus Guthrie, Hal Ericksen and Dave Watson and tackles Billy Shaw, Ed Nutting and Larry Stallings were giants in Tech's clutch defense.

Tech took the opening kickoff and marched on the ground as no team had done on LSU for three years. With sophomore Stan Gann at the controls, the Yellow Jackets surged 77 yards, all but 9 on the ground before stalling at the LSU 4 and calling for Wells and his productive toe.

Wells' second 3-pointer followed a drive to the LSU 4 which foundered on incomplete passes and a 15 yard penalty.

Gann and halfback Chick Graning ran for key yardage during Tech's opening drive. Passes from Gann to end Gerald Burch accounted for 25 yards in the march that led to Wells' second field goal.

Stallings, Watson and end Taz Anderson halted LSU fullback Donnie Daye at the 1 on fourth down to blunt LSU's longest drive. A fumble by fullback Earl Gros at the Tech 13 was recovered by Nutting, bringing a halt to the deepest LSU penetration of the second half.

LSU's final desperate passing drive late in the fourth quarter ended when Tech center Carlton Waskey intercepted Jimmy Field's pass at Tech's 38 after the ball was tipped by another Tech defender.

LSU missed a touchdown by inches when Field hurled a long one from the Tech 31 in the fourth quarter and the ball skipped off the finger-tips of end Andy Bourgeois.

Halfback Jimmy Stovall and Wendell Harris gave Tech plenty of trouble with their slants off tackle and with their receiving of LSU's favorite pass — a pitch to the halfback at the sidelines.

LSU's fierce forewall, led by tackles Bobby Richards and Fred Miller and guards Roy Winston and Ed McCreedy, refused to permit Tech across the Tiger goal line, but there wasn't much anyone could do about Wells and his toe.

Bad Birthday For Murtaugh

By JOE BRADIS

NEW YORK (AP)—"It was a heck of a birthday present," snorted Danny Murtaugh of Pittsburgh Saturday after his Pirates took a 10-0 shellacking from the New York Yankees.

"But we're not the only club that Whitey Ford has made look bad," added the Pirates' skipper. "But it sure didn't make me any younger."

Murtaugh said before the game a victory would be a half present to him. The other half present was two packs of chewing tobacco from his daughter, Kathy.

And the Yankees made Murtaugh swallow a lot of juice with their bombardment of 16 hits and the second straight loss in the World Series.

Despite the loss, the 43-year-old Pirate skipper said he would not change his pitching plans for Sunday's fourth game.

"It will be Vern Law Sunday and Harvey Haddix on Monday," he said. "Bob Friend will be in the bullpen. He can pitch frequently with little rest."

Murtaugh said Vinegar Bend Mizell didn't have his usual stuff. "He's a lot faster than he was," said Murtaugh.

Mizell said he was never more ready to pitch in his entire life but "three base hits up the middle—there's nothing you can do about it."

The tall Alabaman was the first of six Pirate pitchers. Clem Labine, who followed, also pitched to only five batters.

Labine said Bob Richardson hit a high inside fast ball for his bases-loaded homer in the first inning.

"He really whacked it," said Labine. "How many has he hit all year," he asked inquisitively. "It really doesn't matter. He hit a home run and they don't ask you to hit it any farther."

The Pirates nicked Ford for only four hits and only one extra-base blow—a double by Billy Virdon in the fourth inning. Virdon said he hit a fast ball.

Dick Stuart, the Pirates' home run slugger, said he didn't even see the pitch he hit. "It's really difficult to pick out a pitch in this Stadium," he said.

"The way thees club hits," said Roberto Clemente disgustedly, "they should have won pennant in August and not wait so long."

Bob Skinner, still nursing a sore thumb, said he hoped he could play Sunday but he was doubtful. The thumb is still sore and he's unable to grip a bat.

The Pirates tramped into the dressing room with long, long faces and Murtaugh wore the longest. But the genial Irishman quickly recovered and managed to crack a few smiles.

"Now that the game is over what would you like for your birthday," asked one newsman. And Murtaugh replied with a big grin:

"To see my 44th birthday."

Murtaugh said he still plans to have a birthday celebration with his wife and family at a quiet dinner.

While Murtaugh managed to smile his third sacker Don Hoak was in no mood for any jokes. "So we lost another," he cracked. "Well, don't bury the Pirates yet."

Wells' Magic Toe Boots Georgia Tech Over LSU

By VERNON BUTLER

ATLANTA (AP) — Tommy Wells, Georgia Tech's magic toe, kicked two field goals Saturday, tying a national record and supplying the points for Tech's 6-2 victory over Southeastern Conference rival Louisiana State.

The tall halfback booted a 22-yarder in the first quarter to match an SEC record. He kicked another that traveled 37 yards late in the third quarter, giving him 7 for 7 this year and 26 points in four games.

Wells tied the national collegiate record for field goals in one season set last year by Karl Holzwarth of Wisconsin.

Tech, improving its record to 3-1, spent most of the rest of the game staving off LSU drives that reached the 13, the 8 and the 1. Sophomore halfback Tom Winingder stopped one when he intercepted a pass in the end zone. A fumble stopped another, and Tech halted the other with a furious stand at the goal line just before intermission.

	LSU	Ga.Tech
First downs	16	9
Rushing yardage	166	120

Passes	8-12	3-8
Passes intercepted by	1	2
Punts	4-33.8	8-32.3
Fumbles lost	2	0
Pards penalized	20	35

Wells' second field goal came seconds ahead of a driving rainstorm that hampered LSU efforts for a comeback in the fourth quarter. The loss was the second in three games for LSU.

Tech gave LSU two points when punter Don Coker deliberately grounded the ball in the end zone. The Yellow Jackets wanted more kicking room but had to find more defensive muscle moments later and halt the bristling Tigers at the 27.

Guards Rufus Guthrie, Hal Ericksen and Dave Watson and tackles Billy Shaw, Ed Nutting and Larry Stallings were giants in Tech's clutch defense.

Tech took the opening kickoff and marched on the ground as no team had done on LSU for three years. With sophomore Stan Gann at the controls, the Yellow Jackets surged 77 yards, all but 9 on the ground before stalling at the LSU 4 and calling for Wells and his productive toe.

Wells' second 3-pointer followed a drive to the LSU 4 which foundered on incomplete passes and a 15 yard penalty.

Gann and halfback Chick Graning ran for key yardage during Tech's opening drive. Passes from Gann to end Gerald Burch accounted for 25 yards in the march that led to Wells' second field goal.

Stallings, Watson and end Taz Anderson halted LSU fullback Donnie Daye at the 1 on fourth down to blunt LSU's longest drive. A fumble by fullback Earl Gros at the Tech 13 was recovered by Nutting, bringing a halt to the deepest LSU penetration of the second half.

LSU's final desperate passing drive late in the fourth quarter ended when Tech center Carlton Waskey intercepted Jimmy Field's pass at Tech's 38 after the ball was tipped by another Tech defender.

LSU missed a touchdown by inches when Field hurled a long one from the Tech 31 in the fourth quarter and the ball skipped off the finger-tips of end Andy Bourgeois.

Gophers Nip Northwestern By 7-0 Count

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Happy-go-luck Joe Salem, the people's choice of Minnesota football, awakened a doddering Gopher attack for one swift touchdown strike that brought unbeaten Minnesota a 7-0 victory over Northwestern Saturday.

Entering the game for the first time to a howling ovation from the partisan crowd late in the third period, Salem whipped a 40-yard pass to end Bob Deegan to the Wildcat 9. Four plays later regular quarter Sandy Stephens punched over from the 1 on fourth down.

But the battling Wildcats nearly hung the goat's horn on Smoky Joe in the fourth period when they recovered his fumble and smashed to the Gopher 10 on Dick Thornton's three third-down passes.

The brilliant Northwestern quarterback couldn't do it a fourth time. Sophomore Bill Munsey intercepted his pass on the 2 and carried it back 30 yards.

It was the third straight victory for Minnesota, matching its longest winning streak since 1957, and launched the Gophers' Big Ten season.

Thornton's passing arm, the Cats' only effective weapon, kept the Gophers jittery all the way—including the final minute when he fired a 35-yarder to Larry Benz.

But here Gopher halfback Bill Kauth finally slammed the gate by intercepting Thornton's touchdown try on the last play of the game.

For Salem, a faithful No. 3 quarterback for two years, it was a glorious moment, and his fans loved it. Four plays after he entered, Salem found Deegan wide open down the sidelines. Deegan took the pass just inside and went to the 9. Two plays gained two yards before Stephens replaced Salem, slammed to the 1 and then over. Fullback Jim Rogers kicked the point.

Huskies Stop Indians, 29-10 In Comeback

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Washington All-America quarterback Bob Schloredt passed for one touchdown and ran for another Saturday as the resurging Huskies battered fumbling Stanford 29-10 in their nationally televised Big Five battle.

Stung by a 15-14 upset loss to Navy last week, the Huskies put 10 points on the scoreboard before Stanford controlled the ball.

A 25-yard field goal by George Fleming and a 33-yard touchdown pass from Schloredt to Lee Folkins with Fleming converting built the early lead.

Sophomore speedster Charlie Mitchell's dazzling 59-yard punt return brought the third touchdown and Schloredt ran 10 for the fourth. The finale, late in the game, came on a 35-yard pass from Bob Hivner to Ray Jackson.

Stanford brought the first quarter score to 10-3 on a 24-yard field goal by Skip Face and dominated the third period. Hal Steuber scored a touchdown on a four-yard run culminating a 60-yard drive in 15 plays.

Earlier the Indians missed a scoring opportunity when they failed to make a first down from the Washington 12 after recovering Mitchell's fumble.

Washington, leading 17-10, roared back for two touchdowns in the final period.

The victory in the opening Big Five Conference game put Washington's season record at 3-1 with Stanford still without a victory after four games.

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Statistics of Saturday's Washington-Stanford game:

	Washington	Stanford
First downs	14	12
Rushing yardage	172	117
Passing yardage	132	120
Passes	5-10	9-28
Passes intercepted by	2	1

Bobby 'Dad Bum' Surprised To Hit Grand Slam Homer

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Richardson admitted he was "dad bum surprised" when he hit a grand slam home run in the first inning to give the Yankees a 6-0 lead and break open the third World Series game with the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

"Dad bum" is the closest the little 25-year-old second baseman comes to profanity. In fact, he's going to be general secretary of the YMCA at Sumter, S. C., his home town, the next four months.

"I thought I hit the ball pretty good," he said happily, "but when I got to first base I saw the left fielder moving in, and I thought he had caught it. Then I saw the umpire wave me around."

Those four runs, and two more he rapped in the fourth with a bases loaded single, gave Richardson a Series one game record of six runs batted in.

"I was a little embarrassed when — went out on the field after the hit," he said. "I had hit only three major league home runs in two years—two in 1959 and one this year. I never hit a grand slam before in my life.

"I wasn't trying to hit a home run, just meet the ball. I just was trying not to hit into a doubleplay. I had fouled off the first pitch, and then got the signal for a bunt to try to squeeze in a run. That didn't work. Then, on the three and two pitch, I swung and connnected.

"It was a rather high fast ball on the inside corner of the plate, a natural ball to pull.

"I have a tendency to fall away when I try to pull the ball. Frank Crosetti (Yankee third base coach) always motions me to try to hit to right field."

Clem Labine was pitching for the Bucs when Bobby hit for the distance. George Witt was pitching when he got his bases-loaded single on another fast ball.

Richardson has batted nearly everywhere in Casey Stengel's ever-shifting batting order, but he can't remember ever batting seventh before, as he did Saturday.

"It was a pleasure to play the full nine innings," he grinned, "and you might say I'm quite happy as to the way everything turned out. My wife, Betsy, and my mother-in-law were in the stands today, too."

Richardson makes no pretense of being a power hitter. His value primarily is as a glove man, a slick fielder.

He was the only Yankee to hit .300 in 1959, however. This year he dropped off to .252 and batted in only 26 runs. He rapped home only seven after the All-Star break in July to the end of the regular season.

He's 5-foot-9 and weighs about 166, and is a product of the Yankee organization. Scout Bill Harris signed him for the Norfolk club.

This is the third World Series for the quiet and affable little guy, but in 1957 and 1958 he was used only as a utility man, and had a batting average of .000, with a total of five at-bats in six games.

Saturday was his first experience in a "hero" role, and he took it in stride, grinnning bashfully as pitcher Whitey Ford rubbed his head and outfielder Mickey Mantle rubbed his chest for the benefit of photographers. Ford pitched a superlative game and Mantle had four hits, including a tremendous tape-measure homer to deep left field.

His "dad-bum" expletive, Richardson got from his high school coach.

"I don't know how to spell it, or what it means," he said. "But the coach was kicked off the field once for using it."

It was noted he was not on the team picture on the cover of the program.

"I'm real sorry about that," he explained. "I was on the way over but didn't get there in time, and I should have, as Mr. Topping (Dan Topping, co-owner of the club went to a lot of expense to make the picture."

BURSON RUNS 105 YARDS

Chattanooga Holds Auburn To 10-0 Win

AUBURN Ala (UPI) — Sophomore scatback Jimmy Burson's 105-yard kickoff return at the start of the second half gave the stumbling Auburn Tigers the impetus needed Saturday to squeeze past little Chattanooga, 10-0.

The Tigers, apparently eyeing next week's game with Georgia Tech and overlooking the stubborn Moccasin's potential, were unable to score against their supposedly-outclassed foes except in a few brief minutes of the third period.

Burson, a 175-pound halfback from Lagrange, Ga., started that scoring by taking the kickoff in the zone and dodging his way 105 yards up field through a string of Chattanooga defenders. Fullback Ed Dyas converted to give Auburn a 7-0 lead.

Several minutes later, Dyas, injured in pre-season practice and not a regular since, limped back off the bench to kick a 33-yard field goal for the final scoring. It was Dyas' third field goal in three games.

Junior end Dave Edwards set the field goal when he blocked a third down Chattanooga punt on Moccasin 14.

In the first half Auburn fumbled away every opportunity it had. The Tigers gained only four yards on the ground to Chattanooga's 66.

Auburn's first five offensive plays totaled an overthrown pass, three fumbles and a punt.

Chattanooga's gritty end Tom Weathers and tackle Charles Long combined to drop Auburn quarterback Bobby Hunt for lone losses.

The entire Moccasin line kept the pressure on as Tiger quarterback Bryant Harvard and Hunt consistently lost ground.

Chattanooga, ranked fifth among the nation's small colleges, was kept scoreless by the Auburn punter, Joe Dolan, a senior quarterback from Cedartown, Ga., who kept the Mocs inside their 40 most of the afternoon.

Kansas Turns Back Stubborn Iowa Staters

JAMES, Iowa (AP) — Powerful Kansas turned back a stubborn Iowa State football team 28-14 Saturday behind the running and passing of quarterback John Hadl. The brawny junior scored two touchdowns and passed for another to end Iowa State's three-game winning streak and put the Jayhawks in the favorite role for the Big Eight championship with a 2-0 conference record.

Hadl's two long first quarter passes were the difference. He hit halfback Curtis McClinton with a 37-yard toss—the key play in a 66-yard drive for Kansas' first score, which Hadl got on a short plunge.

He shot the Jayhawks into a 14-0 lead by throwing another pass which McClinton pulled in between two Cyclone defenders in the end zone for a 27-yard touchdown play.

Iowa State fullback Tom Watkins, forced to carry the load when outstanding sophomore Dave Hoppmann sat out the game with a knee injury, kept the Cyclones in contention.

He scored twice and contributed several long runs, including a 42-yard kickoff return which set up the Cyclones' second touchdown.

A blocked punt set up Kansas' winning touchdown in the third quarter, with Hadl scoring from the 1-yard line. The Jayhawks, ranked 10th in the Associated Press poll, wrapped up the triumph on Bert Coan's one-yard touchdown plunge midway in the final period.

Oklahoma State Humbles Tulsa For First Win

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—With fullback Jim Dillard in a workhorse role, Oklahoma State thumped old rival Tulsa 28-7 Saturday for the Cowboys first victory of the season.

Dillard scored two of his twice-beaten team's touchdowns with short plunges, and his relief fullback, Bob Adcock, got another on a short dash. But Oklahoma State's most spectacular score came on a 76-yard punt return by still another fullback, Rick Buck.

The Hurricane's lone tally come late in the game on an 80-yard pass play from quarterback Jerry Keeling to halfback Bob McGoffin. It was the longest TD pass in Tulsa's history.

Princeton Bags Penn Fumblers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tailbacks John (Silky) Sullivan and Hugh Scott, Princeton's 1-2 punch, Saturday led the Tigers to a 21-0 victory over a fumbling Penn team beset by injuries.

Colorado Tops Arizona, 35-16 On Long Runs

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A dazzling 81-yard scoring strike in three plays after the opening kickoff set the tempo for a 35-16 football victory by Colorado over Arizona Saturday.

Breakaway runs picked up both the first two touchdowns. Ed Coleman, sophomore halfback, ran 41 yards on a left tackle slant. Teddy Woods, the university's star quarter-miler, ripped 30 yards along the sidelines for the second Buff score.

An Arizona halfback, Warren Livingston, came up with the longest scoring run of the day, 77 yards, on a punt-return in the third period.

Baylor Tumbles Arkansas, 28-14

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Baylor's Bears ran and passed the Arkansas Razorbacks ragged Saturday for a 28-14 Southwest Conference victory which broke Arkansas' eight-game winning streak.

Sophomore Ronnie Goodwin put the undefeated Bears ahead in the first quarter with a 23-yard touchdown run. Then in the second quarter, after Arkansas had pulled into a tie, Goodwin was on the receiving end of a 19-yard scoring pass from quarterback Ronnie Stanley.

End Jimmy Collier scored Arkansas' first touchdown by recovering fullback Joe Paul Alberty's fumble after he had plunged over from the 1-yard line. The Razorbacks drove 48 yards after tackle Marlin Epp recovered a fumble. Quarterback George McKinney scored the other Arkansas touchdown on a seven-yard run with less than three minutes left in the game.

Stanley faked a pass, then broke loose around right end for five yards and the third Baylor touchdown midway in the third period. Second - string quarterback Bobby Ply completed a three - yard pass to end Bobby Lane for the last Baylor touchdown.

The Razorbacks were crippled on offense by the loss of injured Lance Alworth, an All - America candidate, who had a bad right knee.

Another All - America candidate, halfback Ronnie Bull of Baylor, was the big offensive guno on eight runs.

End Jimmy Collier scored Arkansas' first touchdown by recovering fullback Joe Paul Alberty's fumble after he had plunged over from the 1 - yard line. The Razorbacks drove 48 yards after tackle Marlin Epp recovered a fumble. Quarterback George McKinney scored the other Arkansas touchdown on a seven - yard run with less than three minutes left in the game.

Odds Now Favor Yankees At 5-1 To Take Series

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees Saturday became 5-1 favorites to win the World Series following their second straight rout of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Yankees lead 2-1 in the best-of-7 series.

Broadway bookmakers also installed the Yankees as 8-5 favorites for Sunday's fourth game at the Stadium. Vernon Law, Pittsburgh right-hander (20-9) who won the opening game 6-4, will pitch against Yankee right - hander Ralph Terry (10-8).

BREAKING UP a double play, Yankee Tony Kubek barrels into Pirate shortstop Dick Groat in the first inning of yesterday's World Series game at Yankee Stadium. The Yankees won easily, 10-0, to take a 2-1 lead in the series. (AP Wirephoto)

Yanks Stun Pirates, 10-0

"Happy Birthday," to the Pirate infield outs before Ford retired manager after this second crushing defeat in two successive games, he deserved a squirt in the eye from the tobacco-chawin' Irishman.

The Yanks, who clobbered the Pirates 16-3 in Pittsburgh Thursday after losing the opener 6-4, boosted their hit total for three games to 48. If they keep it up they'll wind up hitting .500. For the second straight game, Murtaugh had to use six pitchers, starting with loser Mizell and running through Labine, Fred Green, George Witt, Tom Cheney and Joe Gibbon. The same five relief men were slugged Thursday. The Yankees in three games are hitting at a club batting average of .397.

Ford retired the first nine men he faced until Bill Virdon led off the fourth with a double off the auxiliary scoreboard in right center. Virdon died on second base.

Bill Mazeroski led off the sixth with a single to left center and advanced as far as third on two the side.

In the seventh Dick Stuart singled to center with one out and Gino Cimoli walked. A fast double play, started by Ford on Hal Smith's rap to the box, ended that faint threat.

Roberto Clemente singled with two gone in the ninth and Stuart had a life when Tony Kubek fumbled his grounder, but Ford struck out Cimoli to end the game. Whitey, winning his sixth Series game, walked only one and struck out three.

Mantle moved within one homer of Babe Ruth's all-time Series record of 15 when he sent a pitch by Green into the Pirate bullpen in left, about 430 feet from the plate, in the fourth. He hit one off Green in Pittsburgh Thursday.

The Mick, home run champ of the American League, singled on his first two trips before hitting the homer. He followed with a ground rules double into the right field seats, while batting left-handed. His four hits tied a series record for a single game, held by many, but he was called out on strikes in the seventh.

Richardson's grand slammer put him in exclusive company. Only six other men ever did the trick in a Series, five of them Yankees. His only homer in regular season play came off Arnold Portocarrero in Baltimore, April 30. In fact he had hit only three in his entire major league career.

This game was all over long before Prime Minister Nehru of India arrived to take his seat as an honored guest in about the sixth inning. Shortly after Ted Williams, the retired Boston slugger, threw out the first ball, the Yanks threw out the first Pirate pitcher.

Bob Cerv opened the attack on the left-handed Mizell leading off the first. After Roger Maris flied out, Mantle singled past Mizell and Bill Skowron drove in Cerv with another single through the box into center.

When Mizell walked Gil McDougald on four straight pitches, loading the bases, Murtaugh replaced Mizell with Labine, who had given up five of the seven runs scored in the sixth inning Thursdy at Pittsburgh.

Elston Howard's slow roller toward third base scored Mantle. Then came little Richardson who fouled off a 3-2 pitch and then hit the ball into the seats.

Green replaced Labine after singles by Tony Kubek and Cerv, who had his second hit of the inning, and the relief man got out of it without any more scoring.

In the fourth the Yanks hopped on Green. Ford opened with a single to short center. Cerv and Maris grounded out, but Mantle drove his long homer into the bullpen.

Successive singles by Skowron and McDougald convinced Murtaugh he had seen enough of Green. In came Witt who gave up a single to Howard that filled the bases and a two-run single by Richardson into left field.

Richardson's total of six RBI broke the old mark of five, held jointly by Mantle (who did it Thursday), Tony Lazzeri, Bill Dickey and Ted Kluszewski.

Yogi Berra didn't start but made the lineup for his 64th Series game, and 57th in succession, when he took over for Maris in right field at the start of the seventh.

It developed that Maris had strained his side while being thrown out at the plate in the fifth. He was removed as a precautionary measure but the team doctor said he would be ready to play Sunday.

Manager Casey Stengel confirmed his pre-game choice of Ralph Terry, a 24-year-old right-hander to pitch Sunday's fourth game. Terry had a 10-8 record in the season, finishing strong with three shutouts after Aug. 27. This will be the first Series appearance of the 6-3 ex-Kansas City Athletic from Big Cabin, Okla.

Vern Law, the 20-game winning right-hander who won the opener with relief help from Elroy Face, will be Pittsburgh's pitcher in the fourth game. Harvey Haddix, a lefty, is due Monday.

The Yankees now have a better choice of closing out the Series in their home park where the next two games will be played. If there is a sixth game it will be played in Pittsburgh Wednesday, after an off day Tuesday.

Murtaugh said he had Bob Friend, Thursday's loser, in the bullpen Saturday and would have him out there again Sunday. Mizell explained his trouble came because he "couldn't get his curve ball down."

Asked how the Pirates pitched to Mantle, Murtaugh said, "We go around the horn on him (try everything) but we didn't go around enough today."

Richardson had driven in only seven runs since the All-Star break. He had 26 for the season. And, he had two in Thursday's second game for a total of eight for the Series.

Of the six Yanks who have hit grand slammers in Series play, five still are with the club. They are Gil McDougald, Mantle, Berra, Skowron and Richardson. The other was hit by the late Tony Lazzeri in 1936. The only non-Yank to do it was Elmer Smith of Cleveland against Brooklyn in 1920.

Medics, June Byers Slated On B&B Mat

World's women wrestling shampion June Byer and a two-man wrecking crew, the Masked Medics, feature Monday night's mat program at B&B Arena.

Promooter Ralph Fox reports that the Medics have been piling up enemics and compound fractures around Cleveland, Ohio, lately. They're considered one of the roughest tag teams in the country.

THE MASKED MEDICS

The Medics, making their local debut, will be facing two Monroe favorities, former Olympic champion Jim LaRock and Scottish champ Ray Andrew in the eveing's main event.

Miss Byers will wrestle in the semifinal against Loraine Johnson, one of the better femal grapplers around.

In the 15 - minute opener, one of the Medics will take on Andrews.

LaRock, who claims he has never been beaten as a amateur or professional, is fresh from a victory over Mickey Sharp last week. Sharp held LaRock to a draw the week before and almost beat him.

MEN AND POWER

Texas Crushes Oklahoma, 24-0, For Third In Row

DALLAS (AP) — Texas' might, in men and power, crushed Oklahoma 24-0 Saturday with little Jim Saxton, massive Ray Poage and clever Mike Cotten in the leading roles.

It was the third straight triumph for the Longhorns in this traditional series.

A 38-yard pass interference penalty helped set up the first Texas touchdown and a 76-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass by Pat Culpepper was the final blow to Oklahoma hopes.

A sellout crowd of 75,504 in the Cotton Bowl watched Texas beat Oklahoma by the widest margin since a 40-7 trouncing in 1941 and shut out the Sooners for the first time since 1944 when the Longhorns won 20-0.

Saxton gained 51 of 71 yards in a Texas drive that wound up with Dan Petty kicking a 33-yard field goal.

The pass - interference penalty, caused by Oklahoma quarterback Jimmy Carpenter, put the ball on the Oklahoma 21. Collins rammed for four, Cotten passed to Collins for a first down on the Oklahoma 6 and Poage hammered out two three-yard blasts to get the touchdown. Petty converted.

The third Texas touchdown came in the third period on a 63-yard march with Poage ramming over from three yards out. Cotten's bootleg runs set it up. Petty again converted.

The game wound up with Texas gaining 213 yards rushing and 21 passing to 163 on the ground and 46 throwing for Oklahoma.

Saxton, whose end sweeps had Oklahoma off balance from the beginning, was the leading ground gainer with 61 yards. Ronnie Hartline, the 213-pound fullback, topped Oklahoma with 48 yards.

Poage was slightly behind Hartline with 45 yards. Cotten had 39.

Oklahoma got to the Texas 45 and 46 in the first period and in the second to the Texas 40 after recovering a fumble. Oklahoma rolled to the Texas 31 in the third period but Don Dickey fumbled and Johnny Treadwell recovered for Texas.

Later Oklahoma smashed from its 13 to the Texas 9 before again losing the ball when Mike Mclellan fumbled and Don Talbert recovered. Oklahoma had moved to the Texas 27, aided by a 14-yard run by Dickey, when Culpepper made his touchdown snatch of Carpenter's pass.

DODD

Coach Praises Defense, Wells

ATLANTA (AP) — "The big thing out there today was the goal line defense," coach Bobby Dodd said Saturday in explaining Georgia Tech's 6-2 Southeastern Conference victory over once-powerful Louisiana State.

Dodd pointed out that his charges stopped LSU within the Tech 10-yard line twice in the second quarter.

Dodd also paid tribute to his celebrated field goal kicker, Tommy Wells, who scored all of Tech's points and in so doing provided the victory margin in two of the Yellow Jackets' three triumphs this season.

Wells has kicked seven straight field goals, tying the national collegiate record for field goals kicked in one season set last year by Karl Holzwarth of Wisconsin.

"Tommy's improved steadily since coming here," Dodd said. "Now as a senior he's the best offensive weapon we have."

"Tommy hasn't been kicking easy, set-up field goals either this year. He has earned every one he has kicked."

Tech's decision to ground the ball in the end zone, thereby giving LSU its only two points, probably surprised most folks, but most of all it surprised LSU coach Paul Dietzel.

"I would not be telling the truth if I said I expected it," Dietzel said. "I couldn't say if I would have done the same thing in the same situation.

"What surprised us even more than that was the short free kick after the safety. The whole strategy of the thing was for Tech to give us two points and then kick on a mile downfield to make us drive a long way for a touchdown. But the free kick went only about 40 yards and our men were set up deep for a long kick. They stood around in amazement and let the ball hit and we got no return."

Although the defeat was LSU's second in three games this season, Dietzel still thinks he has a good ball club—"We're just going to have to cash in on our scoring chances."

Army Falls To Penn State In 27-16 Show

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Halfback Jim Kerr scored three touchdowns Saturday for a comeback Penn State team which spoiled Army's unbeaten record and homecoming celebration 27-16.

The versatile senior plunged over from the 1-yard line for his teams' first score, caught a 25-yard pass for the second and then raced 11 yards for the clincher in a wild fourth period after Army had surged into the lead.

Kerr kept the mighty Cadets in a tizzy all afternoon with his running, punt returns and adroit pass catching.

Army had forged into the lead 16-14 early in the fourth period on a 20-yard field goal by quarterback Tom Blanda only to have the Nittany Lions storm back for two touchdowns which left the issue never in doubt.

The fourth Penn State score came on a one-yard plunge by sub fullback Dave Hayes after a 23-yard sprint by second string quarterback, Dick Hoak.

Undefeated Yale Trips Columbia

NEW HAVEN Conn. (AP)—Ken Wolfe scored two touchdowns and paced unbeaten Yale to a thumping 30-6 Ivy League football triumph over Columbia Saturday in the Bowl. One of Wolfe's scores was an 87-yard runback of a Columbia kickoff.

STREAK BROKEN

Baylor Tumbles Arkansas, 28-14

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Baylor's Bears ran and passed the Arkansas Razorbacks ragged Saturday for a 28-14 Southwest Conference victory which broke Arkansas' eight-game winning streak.

Sophomore Ronnie Goodwin put the undefeated Bears ahead in the first quarter with a 23-yard touchdown run. Then in the second quarter, after Arkansas had pulled into a tie, Goodwin was on the receiving end of a 19-yard scoring pass from quarterback Ronnie Stanley.

End Jimmy Collier scored Arkansas' first touchdown by recovering fullback Joe Paul Alberty's fumble after he had plunged over from the 1-yard line. The Razorbacks drove 48 yards after tackle Marlin Epp recovered a fumble. Quarterback George McKinney scored the other Arkansas touchdown on a seven-yard run with less than three minutes left in the game.

Stanley faked a pass, then broke loose around right end for five yards and the third Baylor touchdown midway in the third period. Second - string quarterback Bobby Ply completed a three - yard pass to end Bobby Lane for the last Baylor touchdown.

The Razorbacks were crippled on offense by the loss of injured Lance Alworth, an All - America candidate, who had a bad right knee.

Another All - America candidate, halfback Ronnie Bull of Baylor, was the big offensive guno on eight runs.

End Jimmy Collier scored Arkansas' first touchdown by recovering fullback Joe Paul Alberty's fumble after he had plunged over from the 1 - yard line. The Razorbacks drove 48 yards after tackle Marlin Epp recovered a fumble. Quarterback George McKinney scored the other Arkansas touchdown on a seven - yard run with less than three minutes left in the game.

BREAKING UP a double play, Yankee Tony Kubek barrels into Pirate shortstop Dick Groat in the first inning of yesterday's World Series game at Yankee Stadium. The Yankees won easily, 10-0, to take a 2-1 lead in the series. (AP Wirephoto)

"Happy Birthday," to the Pirate infield outs before Ford retired manager after this second crushing defeat in two successive games, he deserved a squirt in the eye from the tobacco-chawin' Irishman.

The Yanks, who clobbered the Pirates 16-3 in Pittsburgh Thursday after losing the opener 6-4, boosted their hit total for three games to 48. If they keep it up they'll wind up hitting .500. For the second straight game, Murtaugh had to use six pitchers, starting with loser Mizell and running through Labine, Fred Green, George Witt, Tom Cheney and Joe Gibbon. The same five relief men were slugged Thursday. The Yankees in three games are hitting at a club batting average of .397.

Ford retired the first nine men he faced until Bill Virdon led off the fourth with a double off the auxiliary scoreboard in right center. Virdon died on second base.

Bill Mazeroski led off the sixth with a single to left center and advanced as far as third on two the side.

In the seventh Dick Stuart singled to center with one out and Gino Cimoli walked. A fast double play, started by Ford on Hal Smith's rap to the box, ended that faint threat.

Roberto Clemente singled with two gone in the ninth and Stuart had a life when Tony Kubek fumbled his grounder, but Ford struck out Cimoli to end the game. Whitey, winning his sixth Series game, walked only one and struck out three.

Mantle moved within one homer of Babe Ruth's all-time Series record of 15 when he sent a pitch by Green into the Pirate bullpen in left, about 430 feet from the plate, in the fourth. He hit one off Green in Pittsburgh Thursday.

The Mick, home run champ of the American League, singled on his first two trips before hitting the homer. He followed with a ground rules double into the right field seats, while batting left-handed. His four hits tied a series record for a single game, held by many, but he was called out on strikes in the seventh.

Richardson's grand slammer put him in exclusive company. Only six other men ever did the trick in a Series, five of them Yankees. His only homer in regular season play came off Arnold Portocarrero in Baltimore, April 30. In fact he had hit only three in his entire major league career.

This game was all over long before Prime Minister Nehru of India arrived to take his seat as an honored guest in about the sixth inning. Shortly after Ted Williams, the retired Boston slugger, threw out the first ball, the Yanks threw out the first Pirate pitcher.

Bob Cerv opened the attack on the left-handed Mizell leading off the first. After Roger Maris flied out, Mantle singled past Mizell and Bill Skowron drove in Cerv with another single through the box into center.

When Mizell walked Gil McDougald on four straight pitches, loading the bases, Murtaugh replaced Mizell with Labine, who had given up five of the seven runs scored in the sixth inning Thursdy at Pittsburgh.

Elston Howard's slow roller toward third base scored Mantle. Then came little Richardson who fouled off a 3-2 pitch and then hit the ball into the seats.

Green replaced Labine after singles by Tony Kubek and Cerv, who had his second hit of the inning, and the relief man got out of it without any more scoring.

In the fourth the Yanks hopped on Green. Ford opened with a single to short center. Cerv and Maris grounded out, but Mantle drove his long homer into the bullpen.

Successive singles by Skowron and McDougald convinced Murtaugh he had seen enough of Green. In came Witt who gave up a single to Howard that filled the bases and a two-run single by Richardson into left field.

Richardson's total of six RBI broke the old mark of five, held jointly by Mantle (who did it Thursday), Tony Lazzeri, Bill Dickey and Ted Kluszewski.

Odds Now Favor Yankees At 5-1 To Take Series

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees Saturday became 5-1 favorites to win the World Series following their second straight rout of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Yankees lead 2-1 in the best-of-7 series.

Broadway bookmakers also installed the Yankees as 8-5 favorites for Sunday's fourth game at the Stadium. Vernon Law, Pittsburgh right-hander (20-9) who won the opening game 6-4, will pitch against Yankee right - hander Ralph Terry (10-8).

Medics, June Byers Slated On B&B Mat

up enemies and compound fractures around Cleveland, Ohio, lately. They're considered one of the roughest tag teams in the country.

The Medics, making their local debut, will be facing two Monroe favorities, former Olympic champion Jim LaRock and Scottish champ Ray Andrew in the eveing's main event.

Miss Byers will wrestle in the semifinal against Loraine Johnson, one of the better femal grapplers around.

In the 15 - minute opener, one of the Medics will take on Andrews.

LaRock, who claims he has never been beaten as a amateur or professional, is fresh from a victory over Mickey Sharp last week. Sharp held LaRock to a draw the week before and almost beat him.

MEN AND POWER

Texas Crushes Oklahoma, 24-0, For Third In Row

DALLAS (AP) — Texas' might, in men and power, crushed Oklahoma 24-0 Saturday with little Jim Saxton, massive Ray Poage and clever Mike Cotten in the leading roles.

It was the third straight triumph for the Longhorns in this traditional series.

A 38-yard pass interference penalty helped set up the first Texas touchdown and a 76-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass by Pat Culpepper was the final blow to Oklahoma hopes.

A sellout crowd of 75,504 in the Cotton Bowl watched Texas beat Oklahoma by the widest margin since a 40-7 trouncing in 1941 and shut out the Sooners for the first time since 1944 when the Longhorns won 20-0.

Saxton gained 51 of 71 yards in a Texas drive that wound up with Dan Petty kicking a 33-yard field goal.

The pass - interference penalty, caused by Oklahoma quarterback Jimmy Carpenter, put the ball on the Oklahoma 21. Collins rammed for four, Cotten passed to Collins for a first down on the Oklahoma 6 and Poage hammered out two three-yard blasts to get the touchdown. Petty converted.

The third Texas touchdown came in the third period on a 63-yard march with Poage ramming over from three yards out. Cotten's bootleg runs set it up. Petty again converted.

The game wound up with Texas gaining 213 yards rushing and 21 passing to 163 on the ground and 46 throwing for Oklahoma.

STATISTICS	Texas	Oklahoma
First downs	13	15
Rushing yardage	213	163
Passing yardage	21	46
Passes	2-3	2-7
Passes intercepted	1	0
Punts	4-34.8	8-38.1
Fumbles lost	1	2
Yards penalized	70	69

Saxton, whose end sweeps had Oklahoma off balance from the beginning, was the leading ground gainer with 61 yards. Ronnie Hartline, the 213-pound fullback, topped Oklahoma with 48 yards.

Poage was slightly behind Hartline with 45 yards. Cotten had 39.

Oklahoma got to the Texas 45 and 46 in the first period and in the second to the Texas 40 after recovering a fumble. Oklahoma rolled to the Texas 31 in the third period but Don Dickey fumbled and Johnny Treadwell recovered for Texas.

Later Oklahoma smashed from its 13 to the Texas 9 before again losing the ball when Mike Mclellan fumbled and Don Talbert recovered. Oklahoma had moved to the Texas 27, aided by a 14-yard run by Dickey, when Culpepper made his touchdown snatch of Carpenter's pass.

DODD

Coach Praises Defense, Wells

ATLANTA (AP) — "The big thing out there today was the goal line defense," coach Bobby Dodd said Saturday in explaining Georgia Tech's 6-2 Southeastern Conference victory over once-powerful Louisiana State.

Dodd pointed out that his charges stopped LSU within the Tech 10-yard line twice in the second quarter.

Dodd also paid tribute to his celebrated field goal kicker, Tommy Wells, who scored all of Tech's points and in so doing provided the victory margin in two of the Yellow Jackets' three triumphs this season.

Wells has kicked seven straight field goals, tying the national collegiate record for field goals kicked in one season set last year by Karl Holzwarth of Wisconsin.

"Tommy's improved steadily since coming here," Dodd said. "Now as a senior he's the best offensive weapon we have."

"Tommy hasn't been kicking easy, set-up field goals either this year. He has earned every one he has kicked."

Tech's decision to ground the ball in the end zone, thereby giving LSU its only two points, probably surprised most folks, but most of all it surprised LSU coach Paul Dietzel.

"I would not be telling the truth if I said I expected it," Dietzel said. "I couldn't say if I would have done the same thing in the same situation.

"What surprised us even more than that was the short free kick after the safety. The whole strategy of the thing was for Tech to give us two points and then kick on a mile downfield to make us drive a long way for a touchdown. But the free kick went only about 40 yards and our men were set up deep for a long kick. They stood around in amazement and let the ball hit and we got no return."

Although the defeat was LSU's second in three games this season, Dietzel still thinks he has a good ball club—"We're just going to have to cash in on our scoring chances."

Army Falls To Penn State In 27-16 Show

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Halfback Jim Kerr scored three touchdowns Saturday for a comeback Penn State team which spoiled Army's unbeaten record and homecoming celebration 27-16.

The versatile senior plunged over from the 1-yard line for his teams' first score, caught a 25-yard pass for the second and then raced 11 yards for the clincher in a wild fourth period after Army had surged into the lead.

Kerr kept the mighty Cadets in a tizzy all afternoon with his running, punt returns and adroit pass catching.

Army had forged into the lead 16-14 early in the fourth period on a 20-yard field goal by quarterback Tom Blanda only to have the Nittany Lions storm back for two touchdowns which left the issue never in doubt.

The fourth Penn State score came on a one-yard plunge by sub fullback Dave Hayes after a 23-yard sprint by second string quarterback, Dick Hoak.

Undefeated Yale Trips Columbia

NEW HAVEN Conn. (AP)—Ken Wolfe scored two touchdowns and paced unbeaten Yale to a thumping 30-6 Ivy League football triumph over Columbia Saturday in the Bowl. One of Wolfe's scores was an 87-yard runback of a Columbia kickoff.

Syracuse Escapes Holy Cross Upset

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — National champion Syracuse, its offensive stymied by fumbles, staggered scoreless through nearly three quarters Saturday before rallying to a 15-6 victory over winless Holy Cross.

The mighty Orangemen, undefeated since a loss two years ago to Holy Cross, were unable to score until the final play of the third quarter to overcome a Holy Cross second period touchdown. Syracuse added its second touchdown with 11 seconds left in the game played before 18,000 at Fitton Field.

Star Syracuse halfback Ernie Davis, shackled by a driving Crusader line, scored the sceond touchdown on a 23-yard pass from quarterback Dave Sarette.

The first Syracuse touchdown, scored on reserve fullback Jack Mackey's one-foot plunge, was enough for a victory when specialist Ken Erickson of Weymouth kicked the conversion.

That placement offset the Holy Cross second period score, a 1-yard quarterback sneak by Crusaders Bil Joern. Joern, an unheralded Holy Cross operative, personally directed five other Holy Cross drives, three of which failed within the Syracuse 20 yard line.

Syracuse, held to 21 yards on the ground and five in the air throughout the first half, was badly hampered by injuries to several of its top players including tackle John Brown. He suffered a recurrence of an old knee injury in the second quarter.

Holy Cross forced Syracuse to a half-dozen major first-half breaks but the Crusaders took advantage of only one, a Syracuse fumble with just over three minutes of the second quarter remaining.

Holy Cross tackle Tony Armstead grabbed a Syracuse handoff fumble at the Syracuse 26 to launch the scoring push that gave the Crusaders a surprising 6-0 halftime lead.

Deadline Set For Entering Bowling Meet

A deadline of Oct. 14 has been set for entering the 16th annual Louisiana Bowling Championships to be held in the Twin Cities in late November and early December.

The tournament will be held on the weekends of Nov. 19-20, Nov. 26-27 and Dec. 3-4. Team events, doubles and singles will be featured.

Entry blanks may be obtained from any Northeast Louisiana Bowling Association officer or at either of the two local bowling alleys.

Vols' Single Wing Crushes Tampa, 62-7

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee bounced back Saturday from the longest run ever made against it from scrimmage to crush outmanned Tampa 62-7.

Halfback Charlie McCullers, a fleet-footed 175 - pound senior, sprinted 88 yards for a first period touchdown and Ronnie Perez converted to put Tampa ahead 7-0.

But Tennessee's single wing offensive came alive on the running and passing of reserve tailbacks Glenn Glass and George Canale to grind out touchdowns almost at will.

Glass, 190-pound junior, raced 19, 42 and 32 yards for touchdowns the first three times he carried the ball. He passed nine yards to wingback Jerry Ensley for a fourth 6-pointer.

Canale, a sophomore, got into the scoring column four times on passes.

Recreation Grid Quiz

The game selector for the Recreation Grid Quiz is offering the fifth list of toughies for the football forecasters for next week end, and if they prove as difficult to determine as those the four previous weeks, then a 60 per center should be good.

The prediction game, sponsored by the Monroe Recreation Department, is all for fun with trophies going to the winners at the end of the season. All that's necessary to enter is to circle the names of the teams you think will win, sign your name and address clearly and mail to "Recreation Grid Quiz, P. O. TRAIL INTO THIRD

Miss. State Comes To Life Late To Tumble Ark. State

By JAMES SAGGUS

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) — Sluggish Mississippi State came to life in the second half Saturday to overpower game little Arkansas State 29-9.

The Maroons, who trailed 9-8 as late as the third period, got their offense clicking in the late stages for one touchdown in the third period and two in the fourth. The Maroon line appeared unable to tackle cleanly and defensive backs reacted slowly.

Breaks played an important part in the victory, with a pass interception, a fumble and a short Arkansas State quick kick setting up three touchdowns. A fumble recovery set up Arkansas State's third period field goal.

The Mississippians took an 8-6 halftime lead on a 35-yard touchdown push midway in the second period. Halfback Bobby Bethune intercepted a pass by Arkansas State ace quarterback Jimmy McMurray of Oxford at the visitor's 35.

Fullback Billy Tohill who ate up most of the distance with a 24-yard sprint, cracked the left side for one yard and the Maroons' first touchdown.

After a 32-yard field goal by Arkansas State center Larry Peebles in the third period, the Maroons went to work. Fullback Mackie Weaver bulled one yard for a touchdown to cap a 68-yard drive, quarterback John Correro swept end for eight yards to climax a 27-yard push set up by a fumble and Correro hit end W. L. Whittington with a 15-yard pass set up by a short quick kick.

Arkansas State drove 84 yards to score the second time it got the ball. McMurray guided the long march and piled much of the yardage with four runs for 20 yards and two passes for 23. The payoff came on a three yard smash by halfback John Coffey.

After the Maroons moved 8-6 on Tohill's touchdown and Billy Hill's run for the conversion, the visitors struck back in the third period to move ahead briefly.

Quarterback Sammy Weir recovered a fumble by Hill at the Maroon 20 and the visitors got only four yards in three plays. Peebles' field goal followed.

The Maroons showed their biggest offensive display by marching 68 yards with the kickoff for the touchdown that put them ahead for good. Weaver, who scored on a one-yard dive into the end zone, ground out 44 yards on six rushing attempts to keep the drive going.

Fullback Walter Flowers set up the third touchdown by recovering a bad McMurray pitchout at the 27. Weaver and Correro led the march to the 8 from where Correro scored.

Correro needed only one play after the short Arkansas State quick kick and a 15-yard personal foul penalty against the visitors to convert the break into a touchdown pass to Whittington. Sammy Dantone added his third conversion.

Weaver led Mississippi State runners with 67 yards and McMurray got 49 for the visitors.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

Twin City Ladies Event Scheduled

The annual Twin City Ladies Golf Tournament will be conducted the week of October 19-26, and eligible contenders will have until October 18 to register for this event that rotates among the three golf clubs of Monroe and West Monroe.

Municipal Golf Club of Monroe hosts the event this year, and Ouachita parish residents of six months or more are eligible to compete. A three-dollar registration fee will be charged, and registrations should be made at the Municipal pro shop not later than the morning of October 18, a date on which the contenders will be permitted free practice.

The 18-hole qualifying tests will take place Wednesday, October 19. Matches will be played free-choice by the contenders from Thursday through the following Tuesday, except Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The championship 18-hole match is scheduled for Wednesday, October 26. Coffee and donuts will be served contenders during the qualifying morning.

The city of Monroe, owner of the Municipal course, will host the contenders at coffee and donuts the morning of the finals, and will follow the finals with a barbecue dinner for all participants.

Presentations at the close of the tournament will include an award for medalist and prizes for winner, runner-up, and consolation winner in all flights, plus a special award of a field consolation prize for a special consolation round on October 26 for all those not appearing in finals.

Norma Campbell of Municipal, Bernice Watson of Highland, and Virginia High of Bayou DeSiard compose the committee in charge of the tournament that was held last year at Bayou DeSiard but goes to Highland Park of West Monroe next year.

Middies Use Pony Errors In 26-7 Win

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Navy crashed in on a couple of SMU errors for two touchdowns in the first quarter Saturday, then went on to whip the Mustangs 26-7 in the 14th Oyster Bowl game — a benefit for Shrine Hospitals for crippled children.

Joe Bellino, Navy's one-man backfield of last year's Army game, had his biggest day since that afternoon when he scored one touchdown, passed for one and figured prominently in Navy's other two touchdown marches. Bellino ran 93 yards on 20 carries from scrimmage, ran back a punt 62 yards, returned two kickoffs 40 yards, threw one pass and caught one.

A drenching rain, which sent most of the estimated 30,000 spectators home early, ruined the scant SMU hopes, which had been based on passing. The Mustangs didn't complete a pass.

Bellino pitched to Joe Matalavage for the first Navy score, made the second on a 12-yard run, set up the third with his 62-yard punt runback and contributed a 14-yard pass reception to the 77-yard drive that ended with Matalavage's 30-yard sprint for the final Navy score.

Bellino was the unanimous press box choice to receive the Mel T. Blassingham Trophy as most valuable player in the game.

HOW HERO IS MADE

Bunt That Failed Stars Richardson

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK (AP) — Little Bobby Richardson achieved World Series immortality Saturday because a bunt went foul.

In the big New York Yankee first inning, with the bases loaded, Richardson was given the sign to bunt. But he couldn't manage it.

Then with the count 3 and 2 he swung—

"I was just trying to meet it and keep out of a double play," he said with a wry smile. "Matter of fact, when I got to first I thought it had been caught, then the umpires waved me around."

It was a grand slam homer for the 5-9, 166-pounder from Sumter, S.C., the seventh ever hit in a World Series. It broke the back of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who wound up losing 10-0.

Richardson went on to crack a two-run singe in the fourth for two more runs batted in and a grand total of six, a Series record for one game.

Considering the big sluggers who have performed in the World Series over the past half century, that's a mighty performance for the little fellow, probably the most popular Yankee of them all to his mates.

"The whole team was tickled about Bobby," said Whitey Ford, brushing aside praise for his shutout.

"He's such a clean living kid," said Ford. "Last year he hit .300 and was actually our best player, but he never seemed to get any credit."

Ford acknowledged this was his "happiest moment" and that this "was as good a game as I have pitched all year. I kept bearing down all the way. I made believe the score was 1-0 or 2-0."

Manager Casey Stengel said proudly that little Bobby "sure has built himself up in this World Series."

He wasn't worried about Ford until the seventh, he said.

Then, after Dick Stuart singled and Gino Cimoli walked, he ordered Luis Arroyo, a left-hander, and Art Ditmar, a right-hander, to warm up.

"I wanted two men with good control," said Casey. "Then they (meaning Hal Smith) hit into a double-play and I told 'em to sit down. If they had started hitting I would have sent 'em in quick."

Casey was worried about the injuries suffered by Roger Maris when he slid into Smith at the plate and was tagged out.

"But they say he can play tomorrow," he said.

The other Yankee star, Mickey Mantle, whose four hits (a homer, a double and two singles) tied a Series record for hits in one game, confessed he was surprised by his doube that bounced into the right field stands.

"The four pitches before it I didn't even see," he said.

He was batting left-handed against George Witt, and he hasn't been too successful of late from that side of the plate.

"But I guess this was just my day," he grinned.

Mantle's home run—hit on a fast ball—gave him 14 for Series competition, one behind the record of 15 set by Babe Ruth.

Purdue Upset By Wisconsin In 24-13 Tilt

MADISON, Wis., (AP) — Wisconsin unleashed a bruising running attack and an electrifying aerial assault directed by Sophomore Ron Miller and upset Purdue 24-13 on a pair of second half touchdowns Saturday in a Big Ten football opener.

The Badgers, figured by many as the conference dormat this year after winning the championship in 1959, thrilled a crowd of 58,292 by storming back after the intermission while holding off Purdue's might offense.

Wisconsin more than matched Purdue's wide open style of play and gained possession of the ball four times on pass interceptions and three times on fumbles. Purdue recovered three Wisconsin bobbles and snared three passes by the Badgers.

Miller, a cool 21-year-old quarterback who returned to school this fall after dropping out last year, was the big gun as the Badgers proved that their conference tune-up victories over Stanford and Marquette were no flukes.

A surprise find who rated as the team's No. 3 signal caller only a month ago, Miller raced 30 yards for a touchdown when unable to find a receiver open for a pass in the first period.

Then, in the third quarter, he helped put Wisconsin ahead to stay with his passing and running on a 39-yard scoring drive, capped by Merritt Norvell's dash on a quick opener from the Purdue 6.

With less than two minutes left Miller insured the triumph by hitting end Pat Richter, his favorite target, on an eight-yard payoff heave.

TD Punt Return Starts Clemson On Victory Trail

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — A 55-yard touchdown punt return by halfback Mack Matthews keyed a hard-earned 21-7 Clemson football victory over eager Virginia in an Atlantic Coast Conference game Saturday.

Clemson, rated No. 8 in the nation, also scored on two 50-yard grind-'em-out drives. Halfback Harry Pavilack went over from the 5 for one Tiger score, and fullback Bill McGuirt plunged over from the 1 for the other.

Generals, 38-8

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Doug Martin, Washington and Lee's fullback, ran and kicked the Generals to a 38-8 homecoming football victory over Franklin and Marshall Saturday.

The 159-pound junior reeled off 172 yards rushing on 13 carries, including touchdown dashes of 26 and 5 yards.

Irish Finally Taken By Tar Heels, 12 To 7

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina struck for two second period touchdowns and withstood a desperate second half rally Saturday to defeat Notre Dame 12-7 in an intersectional football battle on a rain-soaked field.

A cheering homecoming crowd of 40,000 saw twice-beaten North Carolina achieve its first victory over the Irish in an 11-game series dating to 1949.

The Tar Heels scored on a 47-yard pass play from quarterback Ray Farris to halfback Skip Clement. North Carolina made it 12-0 when end Mike Greenday ran back a pass interception 42 yards.

Notre Dame, harrassed by pass interceptions, drove past the North Carolina 20-yard line five times before finally scoring late in the final period.

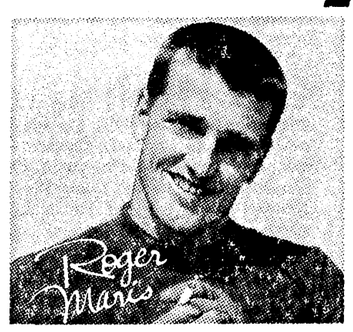

End Max Burnell recovered a fumble by Farris on North Carolina's 26 and halfback Bob Scarpito carried it over later from the 2.

Notre Dame drives carried to the 12, 12, 6, 6 and 16. The first three were halted by pass interceptions and the fourth by a fumble. The fifth was stopped on downs.

Roger Maris, N. Y. Yankee slugger, says, "I looked a long time for what I wanted in a cigarette. But I stopped looking when I started smoking Camels. They give me everything I want."

ElRoy Face, Pirate relief pitcher, says, "I can tell you why I smoke Camels in one word—satisfaction. I mean real satisfaction each and every time I light up."

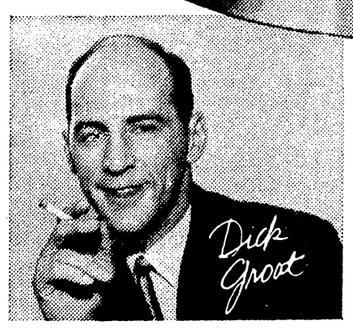

Whitey Ford, N. Y. Yankee pitcher, says, "Sure, I've smoked other cigarettes. But none of them can compare with Camels for flavor. I guess that's why I get real enjoyment with every puff of every Camel."

Why don't you join them—especially if you're smoking more these days, but enjoying it less? Start to really enjoy smoking again. Start getting complete satisfaction each and every time you light up. Start smoking Camels—today.

Syracuse Escapes Holy Cross Upset

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — National champion Syracuse, its offensive stymied by fumbles, staggered scoreless through nearly three quarters Saturday before rallying to a 15-6 victory over winless Holy Cross.

The mighty Orangemen, undefeated since a loss two years ago to Holy Cross, were unable to score until the final play of the third quarter to overcome a Holy Cross second period touchdown. Syracuse added its second touchdown with 11 seconds left in the game played before 18,000 at Fitton Field.

Star Syracuse halfback Ernie Davis, shackled by a driving Crusader line, scored the sceond touchdown on a 23-yard pass from quarterback Dave Sarette.

The first Syracuse touchdown, scored on reserve fullback Jack Mackey's one-foot plunge, was enough for a victory when specialist Ken Erickson of Weymouth kicked the conversion.

That placement offset the Holy Cross second period score, a 1-yard quarterback sneak by Crusaders Bil Joern. Joern, an unheralded Holy Cross operative, personally directed five other Holy Cross drives, three of which failed within the Syracuse 20 yard line.

Syracuse, held to 21 yards on the ground and five in the air throughout the first half, was badly hampered by injuries to several of its top players including tackle John Brown. He suffered a recurrence of an old knee injury in the second quarter.

Holy Cross forced Syracuse to a half-dozen major first-half breaks but the Crusaders took advantage of only one, a Syracuse fumble with just over three minutes of the second quarter remaining.

Holy Cross tackle Tony Armstead grabbed a Syracuse handoff fumble at the Syracuse 26 to launch the scoring push that gave the Crusaders a surprising 6-0 halftime lead.

Holy Cross	0	6	0	0	—6
Syracuse	0	0	7	8	—15

HC—Joern 1 run (pass failed).
Syracuse—Mackey 1 run (Erickson kick).
Syracuse—Davis 23 pass from Sarette (Mackey pass from Davis).

Deadline Set For Entering Bowling Meet

A deadline of Oct. 14 has been set for entering the 16th annual Louisiana Bowling Championships to be held in the Twin Cities in late November and early December.

The tournament will be held on the weekends of Nov. 19-20, Nov. 26-27 and Dec. 3-4. Team events, doubles and singles will be featured.

Entry blanks may be obtained from any Northeast Louisiana Bowling Association officer or at either of the two local bowling alleys.

Vols' Single Wing Crushes Tampa, 62-7

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee bounced back Saturday from the longest run ever made against it from scrimmage to crush outmanned Tampa 62-7.

Halfback Charlie McCullers, a fleet-footed 175 - pound senior, sprinted 88 yards for a first period touchdown and Ronnie Perez converted to put Tampa ahead 7-0.

But Tennessee's single wing offensive came alive on the running and passing of reserve tailbacks Glenn Glass and George Canale to grind out touchdowns almost at will.

Glass, 190-pound junior, raced 19, 42 and 32 yards for touchdowns the first three times he carried the ball. He passed nine yards to wingback Jerry Ensley for a fourth 6-pointer.

Canale, a sophomore, got into the scoring column four times on passes.

TRAIL INTO THIRD

Miss. State Comes To Life Late To Tumble Ark. State

By JAMES SAGGUS

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) — Sluggish Mississippi State came to life in the second half Saturday to overpower game little Arkansas State 29-9.

The Maroons, who trailed 9-8 as late as the third period, got their offense clicking in the late stages for one touchdown in the third period and two in the fourth. The Maroon line appeared unable to tackle cleanly and defensive backs reacted slowly.

Breaks played an important part in the victory, with a pass interception, a fumble and a short Arkansas State quick kick setting up three touchdowns. A fumble recovery set up Arkansas State's third period field goal.

The Mississippians took an 8-6 halftime lead on a 35-yard touchdown push midway in the second period. Halfback Bobby Bethune intercepted a pass by Arkansas State ace quarterback Jimmy McMurray of Oxford at the visitor's 35.

Fullback Billy Tohill who ate up most of the distance with a 24-yard sprint, cracked the left side for one yard and the Maroons' first touchdown.

After a 32-yard field goal by Arkansas State center Larry Peebles in the third period, the Maroons went to work. Fullback Mackie Weaver bulled one yard for a touchdown to cap a 68-yard drive, quarterback John Correro swept end for eight yards to climax a 27-yard push set up by a fumble and Correro hit end W. L. Whittington with a 15-yard pass set up by a short quick kick.

Arkansas State drove 84 yards to score the second time it got the ball. McMurray guided the long march and piled much of the yardage with four runs for 20 yards and two passes for 23. The payoff came on a three yard smash by halfback John Coffey.

After the Maroons moved 8-6 on Tohill's touchdown and Billy Hill's run for the conversion, the visitors struck back in the third period to move ahead briefly.

Quarterback Sammy Weir recovered a fumble by Hill at the Maroon 20 and the visitors got only four yards in three plays. Peebles' field goal followed.

The Maroons showed their biggest offensive display by marching 63 yards with the kickoff for the touchdown that put them ahead for good. Weaver, who scored on a one-yard dive into the end zone, ground out 44 yards on six rushing attempts to keep the drive going.

Fullback Walter Flowers set up the third touchdown by recovering a bad McMurray pitchout at the 27. Weaver and Correro led the march to the 8 from where Correro scored.

Correro needed only one play after the short Arkansas State quick kick and a 15-yard personal foul penalty against the visitors to convert the break into a touchdown pass to Whittington. Sammy Dantone added his third conversion.

Weaver led Mississippi State runners with 67 yards and McMurray got 49 for the visitors.

Middies Use Pony Errors In 26-7 Win

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Navy crashed in on a couple of SMU errors for two touchdowns in the first quarter Saturday, then went on to whip the Mustangs 26-7 in the 14th Oyster Bowl game — a benefit for Shrine Hospitals for crippled children.

Joe Bellino, Navy's one-man backfield of last year's Army game, had his biggest day since that afternoon when he scored one touchdown, passed for one and figured prominently in Navy's other two touchdown marches. Bellino ran 93 yards on 20 carries from scrimmage, ran back a punt 62 yards, returned two kickoffs 40 yards, threw one pass and caught one.

A drenching rain, which sent most of the estimated 30,000 spectators home early, ruined the scant SMU hopes, which had been based on passing. The Mustangs didn't complete a pass.

Bellino pitched to Joe Matalavage for the first Navy score, made the second on a 12-yard run, set up the third with his 62-yard punt runback and contributed a 14-yard pass reception to the 77-yard drive that ended with Matalavage's 30-yard sprint for the final Navy score.

Bellino was the unanimous press box choice to receive the Mc[illegible] T. Blassingham Trophy as most valuable player in the game.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

Twin City Ladies Event Scheduled

The annual Twin City Ladies Golf Tournament will be conducted the week of October 19-26, and eligible contenders will have until October 18 to register for this event that rotates among the three golf clubs of Monroe and West Monroe.

Municipal Golf Club of Monroe hosts the event this year, and Ouachita parish residents of six months or more are eligible to compete. A three-dollar registration fee will be charged, and registrations should be made at the Municipal pro shop not later than the morning of October 18, a date on which the contenders will be permitted free practice.

The 18-hole qualifying tests will take place Wednesday, October 19. Matches will be played free-choice by the contenders from Thursday through the following Tuesday, except Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The championship 18-hole match is scheduled for Wednesday, October 26. Coffee and donuts will be served contenders during the qualifying morning.

The city of Monroe, owner of the Municipal course, will host the contenders at coffee and donuts the morning of the finals, and will follow the finals with a barbecue dinner for all participants.

Presentations at the close of the tournament will include an award for medalist and prizes for winner, runner-up, and consolation winner in all flights, plus a special award of a field consolation prize for a special consolation round on October 26 for all those not appearing in finals.

Norma Campbell of Municipal, Bernice Watson of Highland, and Virginia High of Bayou DeSiard compose the committee in charge of the tournament that was held last year at Bayou DeSiard but goes to Highland Park of West Monroe next year.

HOW HERO IS MADE

Bunt That Failed Stars Richardson

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK (AP) — Little Bobby Richardson achieved World Series immortality Saturday because a bunt went foul.

In the big New York Yankee first inning, with the bases loaded, Richardson was given the sign to bunt. But he couldn't manage it.

Then with the count 3 and 2 he swung—

"I was just trying to meet it and keep out of a double play," he said with a wry smile. "Matter of fact, when I got to first I thought it had been caught, then the umpires waved me around."

It was a grand slam homer for the 5-9, 166-pounder from Sumter, S.C., the seventh ever hit in a World Series. It broke the back of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who wound up losing 10-0.

Richardson went on to crack a two-run singe in the fourth for two more runs batted in and a grand total of six, a Series record for one game.

Considering the big sluggers who have performed in the World Series over the past half century, that's a mighty performance for the little fellow, probably the most popular Yankee of them all to his mates.

"The whole team was tickled about Bobby," said Whitey Ford, brushing aside praise for his shutout.

"He's such a clean living kid," said Ford. "Last year he hit .300 and was actually our best player, but he never seemed to get any credit."

Ford acknowledged this was his "happiest moment" and that this "was as good a game as I have pitched all year. I kept bearing down all the way. I made believe the score was 1-0 or 2-0."

Manager Casey Stengel said proudly that little Bobby "sure has built himself up in this World Series."

He wasn't worried about Ford until the seventh, he said.

Then, after Dick Stuart singled and Gino Cimoli walked, he ordered Luis Arroyo, a left-hander, and Art Ditmar, a right-hander, to warm up.

"I wanted two men with good control," said Casey. "Then they (meaning Hal Smith) hit into a double-play and I told 'em to sit down. If they had started hitting I would have sent 'em in quick."

Casey was worried about the injuries suffered by Roger Maris when he slid into Smith at the plate and was tagged out.

"But they say he can play tomorrow," he said.

The other Yankee star, Mickey Mantle, whose four hits (a homer, a double and two singles) tied a Series record for hits in one game, confessed he was surprised by his doube that bounced into the right field stands.

"The four pitches before it I didn't even see," he said.

He was batting left-handed against George Witt, and he hasn't been too successful of late from that side of the plate.

"But I guess this was just my day," he grinned.

Mantle's home run—hit on a fast ball—gave him 14 for Series competition, one behind the record of 15 set by Babe Ruth.

Recreation Grid Quiz

The game selector for the Recreation Grid Quiz is offering the fifth list of toughies for the football forecasters for next week end, and if they prove as difficult to determine as those the four previous weeks, then a 60 per center should be good.

The prediction game, sponsored by the Monroe Recreation Department, is all for fun with trophies going to the winners at the end of the season. All that's necessary to enter is to circle the names of the teams you think will win, sign your name and address clearly and mail to "Recreation Grid Quiz, P. O. Box 1293, Monroe," for a postmark not later than Thursday.

Here's the fifth selection:

FRIDAY

Purdue Upset By Wisconsin In 24-13 Tilt

MADISON, Wis., (AP) — Wisconsin unleashed a bruising running attack and an electrifying aerial assault directed by Sophomore Ron Miller and upset Purdue 24-13 on a pair of second half touchdowns Saturday in a Big Ten football opener.

The Badgers, figured by many as the conference dormat this year after winning the championship in 1959, thrilled a crowd of 58,292 by storming back after the intermission while holding off Purdue's might offense.

Wisconsin more than matched Purdue's wide open style of play and gained possession of the ball four times on pass interceptions and three times on fumbles. Purdue recovered three Wisconsin bobbles and snared three passes by the Badgers.

Miller, a cool 21-year-old quarterback who returned to school this fall after dropping out last year, was the big gun as the Badgers proved that their conference tune-up victories over Stanford and Marquette were no flukes.

A surprise find who rated as the team's No. 3 signal caller only a month ago, Miller raced 30 yards for a touchdown when unable to find a receiver open for a pass in the first period.

Then, in the third quarter, he helped put Wisconsin ahead to stay with his passing and running on a 39-yard scoring drive, capped by Merritt Norvell's dash on a quick opener from the Purdue 6.

With less than two minutes left Miller insured the triumph by hitting end Pat Richter, his favorite target, on an eight-yard payoff heave.

TD Punt Return Starts Clemson On Victory Trail

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — A 55-yard touchdown punt return by halfback Mack Matthews keyed a hard-earned 21-7 Clemson football victory over eager Virginia in an Atlantic Coast Conference game Saturday.

Clemson, rated No. 8 in the nation, also scored on two 50-yard grind-'em-out drives. Halfback Harry Pavilack went over from the 5 for one Tiger score, and fullback Bill McGuirt plunged over from the 1 for the other.

Generals, 38-8

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Doug Martin, Washington and Lee's fullback, ran and kicked the Generals to a 38-8 homecoming football victory over Franklin and Marshall Saturday.

The 159-pound junior reeled off 172 yards rushing on 13 carries, including touchdown dashes of 26 and 5 yards.

Dartmouth Tags Brown, 20 To 0

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Unbeaten Dartmouth struck for two quick first quarter touchdowns and ground out a 20-0 Ivy League victory Saturday over gritty outmanned Brown.

Irish Finally Taken By Tar Heels, 12 To 7

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina struck for two second period touchdowns and withstood a desperate second half rally Saturday to defeat Notre Dame 12-7 in an intersectional football battle on a rain-soaked field.

A cheering homecoming crowd of 40,000 saw twice-beaten North Carolina achieve its first victory over the Irish in an 11-game series dating to 1949.

The Tar Heels scored on a 47-yard pass play from quarterback Ray Farris to halfback Skip Clement. North Carolina made it 12-0 when end Mike Greenday ran back a pass interception 42 yards.

Notre Dame, harrassed by pass interceptions, drove past the North Carolina 20-yard line five times before finally scoring late in the final period.

End Max Burnell recovered a fumble by Farris on North Carolina's 26 and halfback Bob Scarpito carried it over later from the 2.

Notre Dame drives carried to the 12, 12, 6, 6 and 16. The first three were halted by pass interceptions and the fourth by a fumble. The fifth was stopped on downs.

BLANK OUT NAME

Davis Goes Off Election Ballots

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A relic of last year's gubernatorial race in Louisiana is being removed from the ballots for the general election Nov. 8.

Being inked out is the "Davis" stamp over the rooster emblem on the presidential ballot.

Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr., said his office would go through the 3,500 ballots to be placed on voting machines and blank out the name with ink on two lines. He said most absentee ballots already had been sent out to the parishes and couldn't be changed.

Gov. Jimmie Davis said Friday after learning his name remained on the ballot from last year's race for governor that he wanted it understood that the emblem did not mean he was endorsing any slate of presidential electors.

Davis said "strictly an oversight" by the party caused his surname to be left on the Democratic emblem. Republicans ordered the name "Grevemberg," for Francis Grevemberg, removed from their emblem after Grevemberg lost his race for governor.

The discovery of the situation caused ripples of embarrassment among Democrats, divided on the presidential question. Davis said he has made no choice for President.

Charles A. Riddle Jr., chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, asked Martin to "change the state Democratic party device or party emblem so as to retain the rooster without the name of 'Davis.'

"You are further directed to use this revised party device," he said, "On all Democratic party columns on the ballots to be used in the future, including the Nov. 8, 1960, presidential election, and to obliterate or remove the name of "'Davis' from any ballots that have been printed and remain undistributed or to reprint said ballots."

The political parties, under state law, designate their ballot emblem. Martin said earlier he was required by law to use the last certified emblem in printing the ballots, in this case the rooster with Davis' name on it.

Martn notified his election division that "careful study of the situation indicates that it is cheaper, better, and faster to obliterate the name of 'Davis' on all ballots that have been printed and not distributed.

"The time element is such that it is doubtful whether sufficient time is available to reprnt ballots that have already been printed. In addition, reprinting would be very costly to the taxpayers of the state, which should be avoided whenever an alternative course is available. Accordingly you are instructed . . . (to) immediately prepare and use a new engraving of the Democratic 'party device' retaining the rooster presently used but without the name 'Davis.' This new 'party device' will be used on all ballots requiring the Democratic emblem in the future.

"With respect to all ballots that have been printed, but not distributed," Martin said, "we will obliterate the name 'Davis' appearing on the party emblem."

Student Is Held For 3 Slayings

ASHLAND, Ala. (UPI) — A 14-year-old high school student was taken into custody Friday in connection with the butcher - knife slayings of three women found slashed to death in a rural Alabama farmhouse last weekend.

Sheriff Paul Levie identified the youth as Raymond Eugene Brown, whose aunt, grandmother and great-grandmother were slain in "Jack the Ripper" fashion.

The sheriff said no formal charges have been made against the boy, but he added the youth admitted the killings.

"He did it for money," Levie said. "He led us right to the spot where he disposed of the bloody clothes he wore the night of the murders."

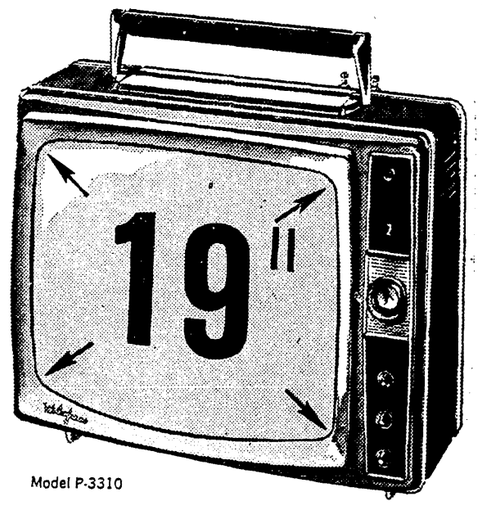

Levie said young Brown was taken in custody this afternoon at the Clay County High School gymnasium.

Monroe Morning World.....October 9

It's the season of change . . . a change from the casual ways of summer to the more elegant living of autumn, rich in social activities. New fashions, arriving on the scene, follow the mood of fall and are beautiful, opulent, varied with a theme of flattery throughout. Colors appear to be inspired by the changing landscape in vibrant, glowing shades. The Morning World camera has here captured six fashionable women on the local scene in their choice of latest fall fashions.

Casual air of cotton is the choice of daytime dresses for early fall of Mrs. Jesse McDonald, seated and her mother, Mrs. Arthur Emerson, pictured on the patio at the Emerson home at top left. Mrs. McDonald's frock is of the new dull green, adorned with burnished buttons; while her mother wears a gay polished cotton in shades of blue and green.

Glamour arrives with fall when the "After-5" fashion comes into its own for a new season of gaiety. To typify the attire for more formal occasions, Mrs. Jack Masur, at top right, is wearing a three-piece cocktail suit in American Beauty faille. Beneath the cropped jacket is a decollete satin blouse in matching shade.

Ideal for Indian Summer Days is the smart black cotton and dacron dress for all occasion wear shown by Mrs. George Guerriero, center. Featuring a wide cowl collar and oversized buttons, the ensemble is enhanced with burgundy jewelry, hat and umbrella. Fall's newest hat shape is depicted in Mrs. Guerriero's chapeau of burgundy feathers and velvet roses.

The elegant look for Fall '60 is depicted in the tailleur suit such as worn here by Mrs. Jamar Adcock, at right. The tailored style of Mrs. Adcock's costume features the slightly fitted jacket with crisply pleated skirt. Her fur felt hat complements the velvet collar and cuffs of the charcoal gray suit.

Chin-Chin, Knee Knockers New In Fall Fashion Lingo

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—To understand the fall fashion picture, you've got to know a chin-chin collar from a plain one—and knee twinklers from knickers.

Chin-chin collars are high rising circlets in fur and fabric that curve over like a turtle neck—close to or away from the neck.

The twinklers also are called knee knockers. They are skirts about 22 inches long and end two inches above the knee bones.

The two definitions for your fashion glossary are from Terry Mayer, fashion authority and vice president of the Amos Parrish Co., a nationwide merchandising consultant firm based in New York.

During an interview Miss Mayer cited other phrases a woman should understand if she wants to speak knowingly about fall togs.

She said the words barreled, flange, fictitious, posh and bulbous are as important as chin-chin and twinklers.

Barreled means what it sounds like—hip lines softly rounded via shirring or tucks, giving width at the hip and tapering at the hemline of skirts.

Flange means a roll back of fabric, usually at the back of the shoulders, under which the fabric is released to give fullness to the coat. The flange touch gives the coat the cape look.

Fictitious in the fashion sense has nothing to do with novels. Miss Mayer said it refers to synthetic deep pile furs—such as fictitious black mink.

Posh means plush if you speak British-English. But if you speak American - English, Miss Mayer said you should say plush when you mean posh. In either case it means elegance, glamour, luxury and deluxe.

Bulbous is a heady word. It describes millinery that has rounded bulb fullness in the crown. Some of the bulbous hats are so bulbous that they also are called double-bubble domes.

Correct Flag Usage Discussed At CAR Meeting

Opening meeting of the new season was held by the Lt. Joseph Bowmar Society, Children of the American Revolution Saturday, October 1, in the home of the senior president, Mrs. S. W. McLean on Spurgeon Drive.

Guest Speaker Edwin E. Johnson, Scout Executive Ouachita Council, talked on correct use of the flag. Also featured on the program was a talk on Columbus Day by Julie Amman and an illustrated discussion of Patriotic Education by Elaine and Alice Butler.

Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale presented the president's medal to Miss Nancy Wilson, newly elected president of the chapter.

Members and guests present to whom refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon were Mrs. McLean, Edwin E. Johnson, Mrs. Virginia Redding, Mrs. E. J. Brown, Mrs. W. L. Alexander, Mrs. Briscoe A. Trousdale Jr., Mrs. Clyde W. Butler, Nancy Wilson, Minta Goyne, Sue Morris, Martha Stone, Susan Alexander, Scarlette Armistead, Mary Louise Gutyon, Barbara Ingram, Louise Amman, Julie Amman, Laura Griffith, Elaine Butler, Penny Nichols, Sage Redding, Sally Pierce, Kay Jones, Judy Worley, Alice Butler, Lynn Smith, Edwina Hopkins and Sheila Williamson

Costume Pairings

New costume look pairs hip-length jackets and dresses with bias, semi-circular, pleated or straight skirts.

Shock color combinations in prints and solids make a fresh approach to the costume suit with its own blouse or weskit. There's less emphasis on perfect matching and harmonizing.

Softly Tied

Soft ties for collars and trims and fluid tie - belts for lowered waistlines are notable.

Musical Coterie Entertained By Varied Program

Mrs. James Murphy presented the study program for the Musical Coterie when she entertained the members in her home September 30.

Topic of the program was "Logic and Coherence in Music," which was illustrated with musical selections. They included "Partita," by Bach, a piano solo by Mrs. Tex Kilpatrick; Schubert's "The Wanderer," sung by Mrs. Jerry Thomas; Brahms' "Finale From Haydn Variations," Op 56 played by Mrs. James Caldwell, pianist and "Verborgenheit," by Wolf, sung by Mrs. Elmer Marshall.

A brief business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Caldwell and at the conclusion of the afternoon refreshments were served to Mrs. B. D. Allbritton, Mrs. F. V. Allison, Mrs. LeRoy Anspach, Miss Jonnie Bankhead, Miss Emy Lou Biedenharn, Mrs. Jerry Thomas, Mrs. James G. Caldwell, Mrs. Joe Caskey, Mrs. Grayson Guthrie Jr., Mrs. W. M. Harper, Mrs. Eldward Hayward Jr., Mrs. Tex Kilpatrick, Mrs. Elmer Marshall, Mrs. Kedwick Martin, Mrs. Hugh Gibson McDonald, Mrs. James Murphy, Mrs. Phanor Perot, Mrs. Estelle Sanders, Miss Gertrude Sandrock, Mrs. Eloise Stanhope, Mrs. Henry Whitfield and Mrs. Everett Zeagler.

Girl Scout News

October is a busy month on everybody's calendar. Especially busy are Girl Scout troops getting started, perhaps reorganizing because of change of schools. For girls not already in established troops, organization work is underway at Lakeshore, Sherrouse, Millsaps, Highland, Plum Street, Our Lady of Fatima, and the Good Shepherd Schools. For latter organization meetings are set for Wednesday of this week.

A great deal of interest is being shown in the arts workshop being offered for adults Thursday and Friday, according to Mrs. Charles Overton, training chairman. The office building is being turned into exhibit and working space for the two-day affair. Leading the workshop will be the six persons who attended sessions of the Arts Caravan in Shreveport last spring. They have spent a lot of time in preparation and getting materials ready so that each participant may make the articles she wishes.

Time is from 9:30 until 2:00 each day, with a half hour for lunch, the "bring - a - sandwich" kind. Those who cannot stay the entire time may come and go as necessary.

Troop 8 has done it again. Every year since the troop was organized it has been either first or second of the fall troops to complete registration procedure. This year it was second, but deserves congratulations for promptness, nevertheless. Seventh - graders now at Jefferson Junior High, the girls are now eligible for five-year pins and are starting on their sixth year of girl scouting.

Leaders are Mrs. E. M. Varnado and Mrs. Ellis V. Hunt. Scouts are: Linda Bradshaw, Cynthia Chambliss, Kathy Davis, Mary Lou Gibson, Charlotte Hicks, Judy Hunt, Linda Hunt, Joyce Maddox, Sheila McGough, Nancy Pounds, Judy Varnado, and Linda Willard. Mrs. E. B. Pounds and Mrs. Wesley Davis are serving as the troop committee.

Troop 83 started the fall troop camping season with an overnight outing at Pine Wood, with their leaders, Mrs. George Herrell, Mrs. W. E. McGough in charge. An exciting time, was reported on their first overnight. Complications arose when they found there was no running water. Thanks to papas who furnished transportation, they were supplied with containers of water, and like true Girl Scouts, managed nicely. Troop 46 was at camp this week end, and the camp calendar at the office is filled with troop camping dates every week end until December.

Meeting Date Is Changed By Lamkin HD Club

Meeting date for the Lamkin Home Demonstration club has been changed to the third Thursday of each month at 9:30 a.m. with the October 20 meeting scheduled to be in the home of Mrs. W. H. Pogue.

Change of meeting date was decided at the September meeting held in the home of Mrs. Pat McHenry, when the program was given by Mrs. Audrey Dawson. Topic for the day was "Draperies and Curtains for the Home."

Refreshments were served to one guest, Mrs. Ed Schutz and Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. W. A. Guy, Mrs. W. F. Carson, Mrs. J. E. Jones, Mrs. Pogue, Miss Tracy Guerriero, Mrs. J. D. Collier, Mrs. C. T. Baird.

MRS. CHARLES LAWLER HAMAKER

Hamaker-Oliver Nuptials Solemnized In Candlelight Setting At Bastrop

A candlelight ceremony solemnized at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, October 8 in the First Baptist church in Bastrop, united Miss Brooks Ellen Oliver, of Bastrop and Charles Lawler Hamaker, Monroe.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brooks Oliver, Bastrop, and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie D. Hamaker, Bastrop, are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Ray P. Rust performed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with spiral candelabra, entwined with chrysanthemums in autumn shades, pedestral baskets of bronze chrysanthemums and pompons. Candles in the shaded bronze and beige tones extended the length of the choir rail, which was garlanded wit hsmilax.

A program of nuptial selections, including Youmans' "Through the Years," and Dunlaps' "Wedding Prayer," was presented by Mrs. Donald Stone, Pine Bluff, Arkansas, organist and Miss Fran Poole, Houston, Texas, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie of princess design, which featured a bouffant skirt of court width. A decollete yoke of Alencon lace re - embroidered with seed pearls and pailettes highlighted the empire bodice and her veil of Brussels lace extended into a cathedral train. Long white kid gloves completed her costume and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and garlands of English ivy.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Biggs, Houston, Texas, was maid of honor and wore a dress of antique gold silk with unpressed folds forming a scoop neckline and brief sleeves. Identical folds extended the length of the bell-shaped skirt and her headdress was a circlet of gold silk and matching veil.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. James F. Reeves, Houston, Texas; Miss Sylvia Barnett, Shreveport; Miss Patsy Wroten, Bastrop; Mrs. Robert W. Sanford, San Deigo, Calif., and Miss Rosemary Renfro, Bastrop, niece of the bride, were dressed identical to the honor attendant. Their bouquets were of bronze fuji chrysanthemums, combined with sprays of autumn wheat and miniature gilded fruit, garlanded with ivy foliage.

Miss Jan Green of Bastrop, served as flower girl and wore a dress of matching gold. Joel Kirby, Jackson, Miss., nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Charlie D. Hamaker attended his son as best man and groomsmen included William Wade Watson, of St. Joseph; Edwin McGlassen, Lafayette; Robert Cudd, Shreveport; William Gaillard of Mobile, Ala., and Phillip Wittman, of New Orleans. Ushers were Thomas Godfrey, and Ryan Sartor of Monroe; Thomas Staed, New Orleans and Jimmie Barber of Bastrop.

For the occasion the bride's mother wore a blush pink chiffon sheath with matching hat of velvet leaves and satin slippers. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother was wearing a pale blue full skirted dress with small blue feather hat and corsage of white roses.

Morehouse Country Club in Bastrop was scene of the reception which immediately followed the ceremony. Centering the long linen - covered table was a five - branched candelabra, entwined with ivy and encircled at the base with the bridesmaids' bouquets and garlands of ivy. The silver punch bowl and tiered cake were at opposite ends.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Mrs. Lois Ann Renfro and Mrs. M. F. Kirby, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Charles Lawler, Mrs. Powell Williams, Mrs. Hugh Lawler, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Sam Allgood. The cake was served by Mrs. Don Cameron, Mrs. Bike Simmons, Mrs. Abe Mays, aunts of the bride, and the guest book was presided over by Mrs. Ronie Flinn, Harlingen, Texas and Mrs. Sam Boswell, San Benito, Texas.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to New York City, the bride was wearing a wool suit, with a feathered hat in shades of brown, copper and green. Her accessories were brown alligator. Upon their return the couple will be at home at 1037 Park Avenue in Monroe. The bride was graduated from Baylor University and Mr. Hamaker is a graduate of Tulane University and Tulane Law School.

Slim Footwear Will Continue In Spotlight

The function of fashion is to create an illusion, a look. The genius of fashion is in devices to further the illusion.

Tightly laced stays created the hourglass shape of the Gibson Girl. Binding bandeaux produced the flat-bosomed flapper of the flaming '20s. Both were creations of fashion.

Silhouette is the determining factor in the illusion - and fashion-conscious women, expand and contract to conform to fashion's dictates.

This fall, clothes employ the device of fluid, long lines to create the illusion of slimness and elegant length. It is the look of Modigliani, Italian painter, a look that demands a sweeping expanse of leg and elongated, tapered footwear.

The role of shoes is to underscore the lengthened silhouette. Shoes are slimmer than ever, and here again a device is employed. The long, narrow toe is simply an extension of the shoe. It is an illusion and can be achieved by every woman.

In color, brown is newsworthy, either alone or in combination with black or the smoky tones popular this fall.

NUPTIALS SCHEDULED — Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Lowrey of Hodge, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janis to James Roy Fletcher Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Roy Fletcher of Choudrant. The couple has selected November 12 as the date of their nuptials. Miss Lowrey is a graduate of J.H.S. and her fiance was graduated from Louisiana Tech.

Parish Meeting Announced At Marion FHA

First fall meeting of the Marion Future Homemakers of America, was held Thursday, September 29 in the school auditorium.

Sue Medlin, president, had charge of the meeting during which Judy Crow, member of the parish executive council, announced the Parish meeting to be held November 4 at Spearsville. Janice Crow and Margie Murray gave a report on the state leadership conference which they attended during the summer at Bunkie, La.

Carolyn Paine, Margie Murray and Elaine Binford were chosen as potential candidates for a parish office. Club mothers for the year were chosen and will be Mrs. Laverne Crow, Mrs. Lafredia Crow, Mrs. Sheila Stell and Mrs. Eloise Murray.

"Around the World with FHA" was chosen as the theme for the month.

Double Wedding Performed In City Parsonage

Miss Lecolian Johnson became the bride of Harvey Wayne Arrant and Miss Joe Ann Nicholson, the bride of Algie Lee Futch in a double wedding performed September 22 in the parsonage of Mt. Vernon Baptist Church. Rev. W. E. Spencer, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony for each couple.

The former Miss Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Johnson, West Monroe, and Mr. Arrant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Arrant, also of West Monroe. Parents of Mr. and Mrs. Algie Lee Futch are Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Nicholson, Holly Ridge, and Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Futch, West Monroe.

Both brides wore fall suits with contrasting accessories. Mrs. Arrant wore a white orchid and a corsage of white carnations completed Mrs. Futch's attire.

Only members of the immediate families were in attendance with Jewel Futch serving as best man. Mrs. Johnson wore a beige brocade suit with tangerine accessories and Mrs. Arrant, mother of one bridegroom wore a blue and white silk print. Both had corsages of white carnations. Mrs. Nicholson wore a brown ensemble with a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

Both couples have established homes in Monroe.

Purple Hues Are First In Fall Fashion Menu

Colors in fashion stress the purple palette, with color names that appeal to the palate. Served up is a fruit and wine menu, including purple-influenced reds: plums, mulberry, raspberry, grape, burgundy, claret.

Another good-enough-to-eat purple hue is eggplant. Or, for those who would rather feast their eyes on flowers, there are fashionable lilacs, violets and purple-pink azaleas.

Edibly named or not, the purples, usually have their heyday in the spring and they look particularly refreshing in this fall appearance. Spring-like too, is the imposing number of pale beige and off-whites.

It's all part of a new approach to color. After the recent interest in muted, smoky hues, fashion now trends to either deeper and richer or lighter and brighter colors.

Purple is closely followed by red, from appetizing strawberry and cherry to vintage wine hues. Blues are intense, and greens have more character, moving away from the "no-color" look.

Perhaps the most colorful variety is seen in fall coats and "dress-up" dresses. Here, the fashion hues take their names from something for the jewel box rather than something for the table — gold, coral, amethyst, emerald, turquoise, topaz to mention a few of the leaders.

Aristocratic grays, slate for example, and many browns join the beiges and whites among the important neutrals. The browns particularly seem headed for an unusually active season in a range of hues that includes such fashion-appetite tempters as spice, cocoa, coffee.

And of course fall wouldn't be fall without plenty of black. It's new looking paired with brown, distinctive plaids and distinguished when partnered with fur and busy in fashion by day or evening.

Plaids, both darkened and brightened, stripes and checks join in the fall color news.

Culottes Gain

Culottes, combining the ease of pants with the grace of skirts, gain fall fashion importance in dresses, sportswear and lingerie.

Forecasting Fur

"Fur and fur-ier" is major prediction for fall fashion. A great variety of furs gets wide use as lining and trims, and there are also unusual fur styles in ponchos.

Remote Control Aids Homemakers

To control your oven, washer or any other electrical appliance by phone — though miles away from home — no longer is in the realm of science fiction. Engineers have made it possible by fitting a relay system into the phone's dial system. Away from home, you dial your phone and a robot dials the code connecting you to a relay box — heart of the electronic matter. Then another code connects you to a specific appliance or device needing control. Through this system, you can operate the oven, turn a light on or off, manipulate an air conditioner or defrost a refrigerator when far, far from home.

MRS. WARREN DUDLEY BROUSSARD

Vows Spoken By Miss Loyd, Mr. Broussard

A double-ring ceremony solemnized in the Longstraw Baptist church united Miss Nancy Patricia Loyd, Shreveport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Ferguson Loyd of Choudrant, and Warren Dudley Broussard, Shreveport, son of Mrs. Randolph Broussard, of Alexandria, and the late Mr. Broussard.

Rev. O. Wayne Roberts of West Monroe, performed the 4 o'clock ceremony on September 24.

White gladioli, stock and pompons in a pedestal basket entwined with ivy, flanked by candelabra holding lighted pink tapers, formed a background for the exchange of vows. Palms banked the altar.

Mrs. George H. Boyd, aunt of the bride, presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Baxter Williams, Shreveport, who sang "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of deep lustre satin. Seed pearls edged the neckline, the three-quarter length sleeves and dotted the empire bodice, accented by appliques of Venice lace which extended down the skirt. Her circular veil of English illusion cascaded from a Swedish crown of lace, embroidered with sequins and pearls. She carried a white orchid, encircled with split carnations, atop a white Bible.

Miss Sonja Pilgreen, Shreveport, the bride's only attendant, wore a dress of Chantilly lace over matching taffeta, with matching shoes and a headpiece of pink tulle illusion. Her cascade bouquet was of shaded pink carnations.

Randolph Peters Broussard of Port Arthur, Texas, served his brother as best man and ushers were Roy Craft of Alexandria; Ray Bonner and John Trigg, Shreveport.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Loyd wore a dress of blue silk and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue crepe ensemble. Both wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt. Colors of pink and white were carried out in the appointments. A bouquet of gladioli, stock and pompons flanked the entrance where Miss Anna Dora Simonton, of Ruston, greeted guests. Miss Patsy Ann Pesnell of Houma, presided at the guest book.

The attendant's bouquet centered the bride's table which was covered with white net over pink satin, with bows of satin at each end. The wedding cake and punch bowl were at opposite ends of the table. Assisting with the reception were Misses Mary Virginia Shelton, Janice Butler and Weltha Collins, all of Shreveport and Miss Shirley Foster, Ruston.

When the couple left for a wedding trip the bride was wearing a cotton tweed suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. The couple will reside in Shreveport.

Mrs. Chisholm Is Speaker For Cultura Club

Mrs. Charles Chisholm was guest speaker for the Monday night meeting of the Cultura Book Club in the home of Mrs. Henry Camp. Mrs. Kenneth Adams and Mrs. Seth Hinkley Jr. were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Chisholm talked on highlights of her recent Caribbean cruise and displayed numerous souvenirs from the points visited. Using a large map she traced her route from Miami, Fla., where she sailed to Port Antonio and Kingston, Jamaica; Cristobal, Panama; Curaco Island, the harbor port of La Guario, South America. From La Guaria Mrs. Chisholm traveled through the Andes to Caracas and also visited St. Thomas of the Virgin Islands, San Juan, Puerto Rico and the Bahamas.

Following the program Mrs. Walter Silmon conducted a business session. Members present were Mrs. Dale Hendricks, Mrs. Billy Nelson, Mrs. Charles Oxford, Mrs. Lake Oxford, Mrs. Nelson Beasley, Mrs. Bob Branch, Mrs. Roland Nix, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, Mrs. Wood Sers, Mrs. Ralph Reed, Mrs. Gene Williams, Mrs. Donald Logan, Mrs. Tommy Spurlock, Mrs. Harry Liner, Mrs. Bud Shepard, Mrs. Reginald Futch, Mrs. Charles Welch, Mrs. Bill Armstrong, Mrs. Silmon, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Hinkley and Mrs. Camp.

Last week a group of members from the Cultura club visited the Cerebral Palsy school at Selman Field. Milton Blue, principal of the school, conducted the group on a tour of the building and while there Mrs. Bud Shepard, past president, presented a check to Mr. Blue for school use. Proceeds from a spring style show sponsored by the club went to the school benefit; continuing a project of several years standing.

Members who visited the school were Mrs. Walter Silmon, Mrs. Bud Shepard, Mrs. Harry Liner, Mrs. Kenneth Adams, Mrs. Lake Oxford, Mrs. Seth Hinkley Jr. and Mrs. Bill Armstrong.

Lady Of Fatima Mothers Club Plans Carnival

Patrol Invaded By Two Women

AP Newsfeatures

Two of the "patrolmen" who walk the waterfront in Baltimore every night are women.

Mrs. Helen Walker, a Brooklyn widow, and Mrs. Vera Laporte, a grandmother, patrol the piers from 4 p.m. to midnight looking for strangers, watching for signs of fire and keeping an eye open for any unusual occurrences.

The women are the only two who remain from the 50 female guards employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad during World War II.

Only twice in their years of patroling have they encountered what they describe as trouble. Both times Mrs. Walker caught the thief. One was a drunken seaman.

MR. AND MRS. GENE RAYMOND HUBBARD

Hubbard-Price Nuptials Read In Church Scene

Branched candelabra holding white tapers, floral arrangements in tall standards and ferns formed a background for the wedding of Miss Katherine Price, West Monroe, and Gene Raymond Hubbard, Monroe, which was solemnized in Mt. Vernon Baptist Church.

Rev. W. E. Spencer performed the double ring ceremony at 8 p.m. September 30.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Price and Mr. Hubbard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Hubbard.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Marshall Parker, organist, who accompanied Mrs. J. Keith Cobb, as she sang "I Love You Truly," "Always," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of embroidered faille, fashioned on princess lines, with self-covered buttons down the back and white pearls encrusting the neckline. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Johnny Buford, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Her dress was of blue embroidered faille with which she wore blue satin pumps and a wrist corsage of blue carnations.

Wayne Van attended the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Leslie Bratton and Ronnie Hatten. Candles were lighted by Bill Spencer and Carl Solsbury.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Price wore a blue lace frock with contrasting accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a two - piece dress of pale blue with a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the reception rooms of the church. Yellow tapers were used as a centerpiece for the lace - covered bride's table, with the four-tiered cake and punch bowl at opposite ends. Yellow and white predominated in all appointments. Mrs. Mattie Carwile, assisted by Mrs. Norris Salsbury, served the cake; Mrs. Nalda Gilmore and Mrs. Courtney McKaskle alternated at the punch bowl. Mrs. Kelly Hatten presided at the guest book. Members of the Esther Sunday school class in West Monroe assisted in courtesies.

The bride was graduated from West Monroe high school and the bridegroom attended Ouachita high school.

Necklines Call For Scarf use

Collarless necklines, prevalent this fall, give scarves a chance to play a big role. Fur, fake fur and fabric all are utilized for scarves with dramatic possibilities.

Fabric scarves, varied in width and length, can be tied many different ways — on the shoulder, or in a gypsy knot, for example. Leopard and other spotted effects, paisleys, abstract art forms are scarf prints.

MRS. WARREN DUDLEY BROUSSARD

Vows Spoken By Miss Loyd, Mr. Broussard

A double-ring ceremony solemnized in the Longstraw Baptist church united Miss Nancy Patricia Loyd, Shreveport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Ferguson Loyd of Choudrant, and Warren Dudley Broussard, Shreveport, son of Mrs. Randolph Broussard, of Alexandria, and the late Mr. Broussard.

Rev. O. Wayne Roberts of West Monroe, performed the 4 o'clock ceremony on September 24.

White gladioli, stock and pompons in a pedestal basket entwined with ivy, flanked by candelabra holding lighted pink tapers, formed a background for the exchange of vows. Palms banked the altar.

Mrs. George H. Boyd, aunt of the bride, presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Baxter Williams, Shreveport, who sang "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of deep lustre satin. Seed pearls edged the neckline, the three-quarter length sleeves and dotted the empire bodice, accented by appliques of Venice lace which extended down the skirt. Her circular veil of English illusion cascaded from a Swedish crown of lace, embroidered with sequins and pearls. She carried a white orchid, encircled with split carnations, atop a white Bible.

Miss Sonja Pilgreen, Shreveport, the bride's only attendant, wore a dress of Chantilly lace over matching taffeta, with matching shoes and a headpiece of pink tulle illusion. Her cascade bouquet was of shaded pink carnations.

Randolph Peters Broussard of Port Arthur, Texas, served his brother as best man and ushers were Roy Craft of Alexandria; Ray Bonner and John Trigg, Shreveport.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Loyd wore a dress of blue silk and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue crepe ensemble. Both wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt. Colors of pink and white were carried out in the appointments. A bouquet of gladioli, stock and pompons flanked the entrance where Miss Anna Dora Simonton, of Ruston, greeted guests. Miss Patsy Ann Pesnell of Houma, presided at the guest book.

The attendant's bouquet centered the bride's table which was covered with white net over pink satin, with bows of satin at each end. The wedding cake and punch bowl were at opposite ends of the table. Assisting with the reception were Misses Mary Virginia Shelton, Janice Butler and Weltha Collins, all of Shreveport and Miss Shirley Foster, Ruston.

When the couple left for a wedding trip the bride was wearing a cotton tweed suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. The couple will reside in Shreveport.

Mrs. Chisholm Is Speaker For Cultura Club

Mrs. Charles Chisholm was guest speaker for the Monday night meeting of the Cultura Book Club in the home of Mrs. Henry Camp. Mrs. Kenneth Adams and Mrs. Seth Hinkley Jr. were cohostesses.

Mrs. Chisholm talked on highlights of her recent Caribbean cruise and displayed numerous souvenirs from the points visited. Using a large map she traced her route from Miami, Fla., where she sailed to Port Antonio and Kingston, Jamaica; Cristobal, Panama; Curaco Island, the harbor port of La Guario, South America. From La Guaria Mrs. Chisholm traveled through the Andes to Caracas and also visited St. Thomas of the Virgin Islands, San Juan, Puerto Rico and the Bahamas.

Following the program Mrs. Walter Silmon conducted a business session. Members present were Mrs. Dale Hendricks, Mrs. Billy Nelson, Mrs. Charles Oxford, Mrs. Lake Oxford, Mrs. Nelson Beasley, Mrs. Bob Branch, Mrs. Roland Nix, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, Mrs. Wood Sers, Mrs. Ralph Reed, Mrs. Gene Williams, Mrs. Donald Logan, Mrs. Tommy Spurlock, Mrs. Harry Liner, Mrs. Bud Shepard, Mrs. Reginald Futch, Mrs. Charles Welch, Mrs. Bill Armstrong, Mrs. Silmon, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Hinkley and Mrs. Camp.

Last week a group of members from the Cultura club visited the Cerebral Palsy school at Selman Field. Milton Blue, principal of the school, conducted the group on a tour of the building and while there Mrs. Bud Shepard, past president, presented a check to Mr. Blue for school use. Proceeds from a spring style show sponsored by the club went to the school benefit; continuing a project of several years standing.

Members who visited the school were Mrs. Walter Silmon, Mrs. Bud Shepard, Mrs. Harry Liner, Mrs. Kenneth Adams, Mrs. Lake Oxford, Mrs. Seth Hinkley Jr. and Mrs. Bill Armstrong.

Tickets for guests will be $2.

Ensembles Score Hit For Autumn

Little or long jackets top all types of dresses, regardless of their skirt styling: bias, or semi-circular; pleated or straight.

Dresses with sleeveless or camisole bodices usually underscore jacket styles. Also, three - piece outfits with blouses and skirts plus jackets are coming to the fore. Handsome jacket linings usually match the overblouse.

Dresses with coats of varying lengths are smart and either sharply contrast or coordinate with companion dresses.

Mink, nutria and fox are but a few of the many exotic and exciting furs that are used to trim collars, cuffs and linings of these fall costumes.

Ocelot, leopard and cheetah furs are used with emphasis and elegance on many of these coat and dress, or jacket and dress ensembles.

In the "ensemble category are two - piece dresses — composed with an easy - fitting overblouse that's either a separate unit or looks like one — and a soft, supple skirt.

Many of fall's costumes are specifically designed to look like a two - piece dress. This detail is shown in jackets that look like overblouses, often in tunic lengths with the dress below in a sleeveless model that can double smartly for lateday wear, solo.

All in all, the ensemble picture is a study in discreet elegance, chic simplicity and dramatic use of fabric and color!

Linville PTA Committees For Year Are Named

Committees for the ensuing school year were named at the first fall meeting of Linville Parent - Teacher Association held September 26, with W. B. Haile Jr., presiding.

Those appointed by the executive committee include budget and finance, Mrs. Lloyd Norman, Mrs. Gertie Mae Green, Mrs. Ernest Pace Jr.; hospitality, Mrs. Callie Reppond, Mrs. S. H. Cooper; membership, Mrs. Bobby Reppond, Mrs. Faye Haile, Edward Thomas and program, Mrs. Olga Lee Edwards and Mrs. Novia Buckley.

Following the business session Miss Myra Henry gave a report on her visit to Girls State. Room count was won by Mrs. Green's room.

MRS. ROBERT NORMAN HURLEY

Hurley-Cheek Wedding Held In Baptist Church

Antioch Baptist Church of Rayville was the scene of the wedding of Miss Catherine Aline Cheek, daughter of Mrs. John R. Cheek and the late Mr. Cheek, Rayville to Robert Norman Hurley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Hurley of Delhi.

The ceremony was performed at 7:30 p.m. Friday, September 30 with the Rev. Doyle Adams, pastor of the church, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

White cathedral tapers in wrought iron candelabra formed a background for the exchange of vows. A center arrangement of white chrysanthemums and gladioli stood on the pulpit and baskets of the flowers flanked the candelabra. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Mary Jane Joyner, niece of the bride, played a medley of nupital music, including "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer," as the candles were lighted by Misses Ellen Cheek and Ann Joyner. She also accompanied R. M. Dozier Jr., of Delhi, who sang "Bless This House," and "I Love You Truly."

Carey J. Cheek of West Monroe, gave his sister in marriage. The bride wore a floor length gown of Alencon lace over taffeta, with rhinestones encircling the scalloped neckline. The basque waist featured long sleeves and the bouffant skirt was fashioned colonial style with eight tiers of lace and tulle. Her waist length veil of illusion cascaded from a Juliet cap, also of lace and she carried a white orchid, showered with stephanotis and pouts of ribbon and net.

Mrs. William M. DeMoss, sister of the bride, of Tallulah, served as matron of honor. She wore a taffeta frock in coffee color and carried a crescent arrangement of champagne fuji chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Diane Knight, Miami, Fla., niece of the bride, Miss Nell Cheek, Monroe, also a niece of the bride and Miss Gloria Grant of Rayville. Their dresses were styled identically to the honor attendant's in taffy taffeta with matching shoes, mitts and hats.

Flower girl, Kay DeMoss, Tallulah, wore a coffee-colored taffeta frock and carried a nosegay of champagne daisy pompons. Jimmy Cheek, Norco, served as ring bearer.

Best man was Frank C. Howell of Mer Rouge and groomsmen included T. B. Hightower and Stanley McEachern of Delhi, Jimmy Bruce and Richard R. Blanchard of Rayville.

Mrs. Cheek, mother of the bride, wore a dress of copen blue silk brocade with a small hat of white plumes and a corsage of stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hurley, wore a lavender frock with black accessories and a corsage of stephanotis.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Rayville home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Joyner, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. Bouquets of fall flowers were used throughout the rooms. An elongated arrangement of white chrysanthemums flanked by white tapers centered the bride's table. The three-tiered cake was served by Mrs. O. C. Gilliland and the punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. Carey Cheek, West Monroe and Mrs. Delma Cheek of Norco.

Mrs. G. W. Green of West Monroe, had charge of the guest book, and others assisting with the hospitalities were Misses Nan Cheek, West Monroe, Alyce and Beth DeMoss, Tallulah and Faye Joyner, Rayville.

When the couple left on a wedding trip through the Ozarks, the bride was wearing a cocoa brown suit with mink trim; a matching hat and lizard accessories. The orchid from her bouquet was pinned to her shoulder.

Upon their return the couple will reside in Rayville.

Young, Mrs. Mitchell Montgomery, Mrs. Harold Woods Sr., Mrs. Irving Wolff, Mrs. Howard Willard, Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mrs. Lillian Davis, Mrs. Paul Fink, Mrs. Norman Coon Jr., Mrs. Allen Givens, Mrs. J. B. Dawkins, Mrs. J. S. Drew, Mrs. Julius Fink, Mrs. Alex Myatt Jr., Mrs. Elizabeth Manheim, Mrs. Ruby Pettit, Mrs. H. E. Guerriero, Mrs. C. P. Gray Jr., and Mrs. John Culpepper.

Tickets for guests will be $2.

Ensembles Score Hit For Autumn

Little or long jackets top all types of dresses, regardless of their skirt styling: bias, or semi-circular; pleated or straight.

Dresses with sleeveless or camisole bodices usually underscore jacket styles. Also, three - piece outfits with blouses and skirts plus jackets are coming to the fore. Handsome jacket linings usually match the overblouse.

Dresses with coats of varying lengths are smart and either sharply contrast or coordinate with companion dresses.

Mink, nutria and fox are but a few of the many exotic and exciting furs that are used to trim collars, cuffs and linings of these fall costumes.

Ocelot, leopard and cheetah furs are used with emphasis and elegance on many of these coat and dress, or jacket and dress ensembles.

In the "ensemble category are two - piece dresses — composed with an easy - fitting overblouse that's either a separate unit or looks like one — and a soft, supple skirt.

Many of fall's costumes are specifically designed to look like a two - piece dress. This detail is shown in jackets that look like overblouses, often in tunic lengths with the dress below in a sleeveless model that can double smartly for lateday wear, solo.

All in all, the ensemble picture is a study in discreet elegance, chic simplicity and dramatic use of fabric and color!

Linville PTA Committees For Year Are Named

Committees for the ensuing school year were named at the first fall meeting of Linville Parent - Teacher Association held September 26, with W. B. Haile Jr., presiding.

Those appointed by the executive committee include budget and finance, Mrs. Lloyd Norman, Mrs. Gertie Mae Green, Mrs. Ernest Pace Jr.; hospitality, Mrs. Callie Reppond, Mrs. S. H. Cooper; membership, Mrs. Bobby Reppond, Mrs. Faye Haile, Edward Thomas and program, Mrs. Olga Lee Edwards and Mrs. Novia Buckley.

Following the business session Miss Myra Henry gave a report on her visit to Girls State. Room count was won by Mrs. Green's room.

MRS. ROBERT NORMAN HURLEY

Hurley-Cheek Wedding Held In Baptist Church

Antioch Baptist Church of Rayville was the scene of the wedding of Miss Catherine Aline Cheek, daughter of Mrs. John R. Cheek and the late Mr. Cheek, Rayville to Robert Norman Hurley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Hurley of Delhi.

The ceremony was performed at 7:30 p.m. Friday, September 30 with the Rev. Doyle Adams, pastor of the church, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

White cathedral tapers in wrought iron candelabra formed a background for the exchange of vows. A center arrangement of white chrysanthemums and gladioli stood on the pulpit and baskets of the flowers flanked the candelabra. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Mary Jane Joyner, niece of the bride, played a medley of nupital music, including "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer," as the candles were lighted by Misses Ellen Cheek and Ann Joyner. She also accompanied R. M. Dozier Jr., of Delhi, who sang "Bless This House," and "I Love You Truly."

Carey J. Cheek of West Monroe, gave his sister in marriage. The bride wore a floor length gown of Alencon lace over taffeta, with rhinestones encircling the scalloped neckline. The basque waist featured long sleeves and the bouffant skirt was fashioned colonial style with eight tiers of lace and tulle. Her waist length veil of illusion cascaded from a Juliet cap, also of lace and she carried a white orchid, showered with stephanotis and poufs of ribbon and net.

Mrs. William M. DeMoss, sister of the bride, of Tallulah, served as matron of honor. She wore a taffeta frock in coffee color and carried a crescent arrangement of champagne fuji chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Diane Knight, Miami, Fla., niece of the bride, Miss Nell Cheek, Monroe, also a niece of the bride and Miss Gloria Grant of Rayville. Their dresses were styled identically to the honor attendant's in taffy taffeta with matching shoes, mitts and hats.

Flower girl, Kay DeMoss, Tallulah, wore a coffee-colored taffeta frock and carried a nosegay of champagne daisy pompons. Jimmy Cheek, Norco, served as ring bearer.

Best man was Frank C. Howell of Mer Rouge and groomsmen included T. B. Hightower and Stanley McEachern of Delhi, Jimmy Bruce and Richard R. Blanchard of Rayville.

Mrs. Cheek, mother of the bride, wore a dress of copen blue silk brocade with a small hat of white plumes and a corsage of stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hurley, wore a lavender frock with black accessories and a corsage of stephanotis.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Rayville home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Joyner, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. Bouquets of fall flowers were used throughout the rooms. An elongated arrangement of white chrysanthemums flanked by white tapers centered the bride's table. The three-tiered cake was served by Mrs. O. C. Gilliland and the punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. Carey Cheek, West Monroe and Mrs. Delma Cheek of Norco.

Mrs. G. W. Green of West Monroe, had charge of the guest book, and others assisting with the hospitalities were Misses Nan Cheek, West Monroe, Alyce and Beth DeMoss, Tallulah and Faye Joyner, Rayville.

When the couple left on a wedding trip through the Ozarks, the bride was wearing a cocoa brown suit with mink trim; a matching hat and lizard accessories. The orchid from her bouquet was pinned to her shoulder.

Upon their return the couple will reside in Rayville.

Wedding Listed For Miss King, Mr. Walsworth

Mr. and Mrs. James King, Lake Providence, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Delora Jean to James Edward Walsworth.

The vows will be exchanged on Thursday, October 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church at Lake Providence.

A reception will be held following the ceremony.

Dry Hankies

Travel tip: After washing cotton handkerchiefs, "paste" them against a mirror or tile wall. They'll dry perfectly smooth.

Drew HD Club Plans Booth At Parish Fair

Simple Time Saving Meals was the demonstration given by the food preparation leader, Mrs. W. O. Northcutt, when the Drew Home Demonstration club met in her home for the October meeting.

Mrs. B. F. Henry and Mrs. V. C. Brister gave a report of the council meeting and announced plans to sell homemade pies in the concession stand at the parish fair. Club members were also asked to work at the stand during the fair.

Health and Safety was the topic of a panel discussion which was followed by a home management report by Mrs. Alma Morris. During the program demonstration, Mrs. Northcutt gave suggestions and recipes to the members.

Those present were Mrs. G. A. Strozier, Mrs. Albert Frost, Mrs. Jewel Crocker, Mrs. B. F. Henry, Mrs. Paulene Jowers, Mrs. Alma Morris, Mrs. V. C. Brister, Mrs. W. M. Roberts, Mrs. J. R. Agin.

The next meeting will be November 14 at 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. George Bailey, when Mrs. Audrey Dawson will give a demonstration on Foods for Health.

Couple To Wed October 16 In Liberty Church

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Sylvia Louise Futch, Monroe, to William Floyd Brownlee, Calhoun, is made by the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Futch.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brownlee of Calhoun, are parents of the prospective bridegroom.

The wedding will be an event of October 16 at 3 p.m. in Liberty Baptist Church. Rev. John Lawless, Calhoun, will officiate.

Patio Garden Club Visits Homes, Gardens On Tour

Tours of homes and gardens of three members of the Patio Garden Club highlighted the October meeting, Wednesday, October 5, when the theme designated was "We Take a Tour."

First stop on the tour was at the modern home of Mrs. Morris Blumenthal on Stuart Avenue. Of outstanding interest in the living room was a free-standing arrangement of orange zinnias, pyracantha berries and cypress foliage in a brass and copper urn, which adorned the coffee table. Mrs. Paul Ransom entitled her arrangement "Autumn Flame."

Next the group toured the Louisiana Bayou home of Mrs. Jamar Adcock on Point Drive. In the entrance hall Mrs. Thomas Holmes had placed her arrangement "Autumn Bounty," a triangular design which featured pyracantha berries and clipped pine in an ironstone soup tureen.

The event was concluded with a tour of the contemporary home of Mrs. Miles Sager on Bayou Lane. In the panelled den, Mrs. Joe Dixon arranged fall flowers and foliage in shades of yellow to deep orange in a footed brass container. Gardens at each of the homes were also toured with special emphasis on the patios and outside living areas.

Centering the refreshment table was a pyramid arrangement of fruits, foliage and golden chrysanthemums in a wooden compote. The centerpiece, created by Mrs. D. V. Loflin was entitled, "Fruits of Labor."

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Jack Inabnet, Mrs. Jim Williams and Mrs. Harry Frazer Jr. Attending the tour were Mrs. Charles Amman, Mrs. Harry Bell, Mrs. Roy Cole Jr., Mrs. Jack Davis, Mrs. Joe Dixon, Mrs. Jack Easterling, Mrs. Harry Frazer Jr., Mrs. Fred Huenefeld Jr., Mrs. Thomas Holmes, Mrs. Jack Inabnet, Mrs. William Inabnet, Mrs. Jack Madden, Mrs. Betro McRaney, Mrs. George Mouk, Mrs. Paul Ransom, Mrs. Miles Sager, Mrs. Lavelle Salley, Mrs. Benton Wakefield and Mrs. Jim Williams.

Lexington PTA Get-Acquainted Meeting Held

Get - acquainted tours of the classrooms highlighted the initial meeting of Lexington Avenue School Parent - Teacher Association on September 29.

The evening meeting was presided over by Mrs. D. V. Loflin and during the business session Mrs. Harry Frazer Jr. presented the year's budget which was approved.

It was announced plans for the fall carnival are underway with details to be revealed soon. Following the classroom visits parents returned to the auditorium for refreshments.

Dresses Appeal With Easy Air, Elegant Fabric

Styles are diversified, lines are fluid in fall dress silhouettes. movement is generally in the direction of more skirt ease and fullness. Bias cuts, pleats, deep gathers, dirndls and out-and-out bouffants add to the look of fluidity.

Curved seams highlight the princess silhouette. Usually, such Long torso looks, princess lines, two piece dresses lead the news.

Enhancing easy lines are rich colors, elegant fabrics and trims —satin bands, knit trimmings, borders of braid and tassles, and most important of all, touches — or heaps — of fur.

Ways to the long torso effect range from styles with waists elongated an inch below the normal waistline, to the longer tunic. Two piece expression of this look pairs a long overblouse with a slim skirt.

Blousy bodices over slim skirts are another distinguishing attribute of fall dresses; however, dresses define the bodice, then flare gently.

To carry out the easy-going theme, necklines often develop into graceful cowls, while soft draping shapes many collars and midriffs. Simple, collarless necklines are in great favor, and Loosely sashed, as opposed to tightly cinched, is the predominant trend for waistlines, whether normal or lowered. Hip-circling belts share low-torso attention.

For more fluidity, sleeves are generally loosely cut, set-in or all-in-one, sometimes with underarm fullness.

Cover Burns

The paint industry offers this tip for covering small cigaret burns on rugs. Just dab the burn with a little paint of the same shade.

Spread Butter

Spreading softened butter or margarine on each slice of bread in sandwiches prevents fillings from soaking into the bread and making it soggy.

Don't Forget Dash Of Spice In Wardrobe

If you're cooking up a new fall wardrobe .... remember that accessories are to fashion what seasoning is to cooking!

Accessories are the spice that makes a costume a smart expression of personal taste. But, as in preparing a savory dish, it is important to keep spices subtle. . . . to enhance, not overpower.

There are several "rules of thumb" you can follow in coordinating accessories.

First, be careful that your accessories do not create a "too matched" look, especially if vivid colors are being used.

To be safe, but not overly cautious — keep your costume limited to no more than two colors. If accessories are basic tones, such as black and white or navy and white... being used with a dress or suit in one color... then you may use all three tones.

Blending shades in one color family, such as beige, is always smart, and especially good this season.

Keep your accessories and costume in one mood. For example, tailored shoes, hats and jewelry with casual outfits. For dressy clothes choose flowered hats, furs, kid gloves, high heels, etc.

With understated fashions, as many of them are this fall, you very often have a choice of either dressy or casual accessories, giving you lots of "two in one" costumes.

This time of year and this type of weather brings to mind the rustic type of party for a last out-doorsy fling before colder evenings and more formal affairs. Last night the FRED MILLSAPS and JACK WICKS entertained at a barbecue-barn dance, held at the home of Elaine's parents, the W. A. CALLOWAYS, in Bosco.

Invitations were in the form of clever original poems, bidding guests come in calico and blue jeans. The Calloways' "outdoor kitchen" — a kitchen, all right, with an oversize playroom attached — was decorated with corn stalks, pumpkins, egg plant. Tall shocks of corn flanked the fireplace which dominates one end of the long room. Twelve tables covered with red checked tablecloths and centered with hurricane lamps were set up around the walls. The El Dorados played for dancing.

Barbecue supper was served on the long counter which separates kitchen and playroom. Pumpkins, eggplant, and ears of corn were used as centerpiece. On the menu with barbecued chicken were grits au gratin, string bean casserole, Cole slaw, cookies and coffee. Eighty friends were invited to share this occasion.

A yellow theme was carried out in decorations when the COTHAM HADDADS invited friends for a barbecue on the terrace overlooking the bayou. Golden rod was used to center the tables, which were covered with yellow-checked cloths. Shish ka-bob was the main course, followed by orange sherbet with orange cake, further carrying out the color scheme. There were eight guests.

Members of BIG TIMERS DANCE CLUB are looking forward to their Fall party Friday evening at Bayou DeSiard country club. This will mark the first local appearance of Rene Louapre and his orchestra, a long-awaited event hereabouts. Those who have been lucky enough to dance to this band at New Orleans Carnival balls and debut parties have brought home glowing reports. Cocktails will be served beginning at eight, with dancing from nine until one. Formal, of course.

Beginning tomorrow, wives of members of PINE HILLS GUN club will be able to receive instructions in trap and-or skeet shooting during the next two weeks. Lessons will be offered at Bancroft camp. Plans are for the first Sunday of each month to be Ladies' Day at the club. Ladies interested in shooting lessons may call VERA KELSO for particulars.

STORY OF THE WEEK was overheard at Bayou DeSiard Country club following the Helen Sherrouse Memorial tournament Wednesday. One local lady, playing in her first tournament, wound up for her very first tee shot — and fired it into the garbage can. And, as she said, "It was a brand-new ball, so I went and got it out." We are happy to add that she went on to win low net in one of the flights.

Fall is a wonderful season for the morning party, for a cup of coffee and a visit with bride, newcomer or visitor. Thursday morning BARBARA JANE ENSMINGER and CHRISTINE GRAY honored BETTY MABRAY at a coffee in the Gray home. Betty has recently moved to Monroe from Newellton. Guests were greeted at the door by JEAN DAVIS, and invited into the living room, where Christine, Betty, and Barbara Jane received. Roses in varying shades of pink decorated the room.

In the dining room, pink roses in a silver bowl were placed on the table. GEORGIE TOUCHSTONE and ALLYNE PETTY alternated at the coffee service. Others who assisted were CAROL MCDONALD, MARGARET ANN TIDWELL, DOT HADDAD, JAYNE PEARCE, and JOY MARSHALL. There were about one hundred guests.

When CAROL COLE and her mother, IRENE COLE, entertained at a conversational hour honoring BETTY HEMPHILL, the bride's gift formed an unusual centerpiece on the dining table. Ivy and gardenias encircled the box, wrapped in white, and tied with white ribbon caught with white birds and gardenias . . . .Unusual goodies, including tiny ham turnovers, sausage and pastry pinwheels, and miniature cherry and orange tartlets were served to about seventy ladies who called between ten and twelve on Saturday.

Four hostesses entertained at coffee Thursday morning, honoring DORIS SANFORD, a recent newcomer. The party was held in the home of ANNA CLAIRE SEYMOUR, who was co-hostess with SANCIE MADISON, SOPHIA BLANKS, and SALLIE SHAFTO.

Fall flowers were used to advantage in the decorations. In the living room were blooms of the Empress candle tree, arranged with their own foliage. Lavender Fuji mums, lavender asters, and purple grapes in a silver bowl centered the table, and were repeated in silver compotes flanking the large arrangement.

Due home today from a four-day week end are VIRGINIA and A. C. WARNER, JR. They flew to New Orleans Thursday, and returned to Baton Rouge for a stop-over last night.

A combination dinner and surprise birthday party was given for three of our European travelers Monday night. ETTA HALE, VI COMBS, and GLADYS MILES dined at Holiday Inn with nine friends for a farewell party, and then the group proceeded to the J. L. SEIDENSPINNER home for a birthday party for Vi. . .The ladies left Tuesday and spent two days in New York before flying to Europe for three weeks. They plan stops in London, Paris, Zurich, Milan, Venice, and Rome.

History Of Alaska Given Members Of Review Club

The home of Mrs. John C. Loftin was decorated with arrangements of autumn roses and spider lilies when she was hostess Monday afternoon to members of the Review Club for the initial meeting of the club year.

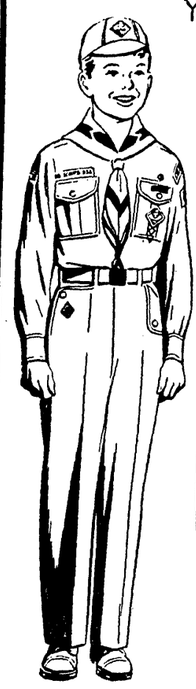

Mrs. W. M. Inabnet, president, opened the meeting with a talk outlining forthcoming club activities. During the business session the secretary read a citation received by the club for dedicated service on behalf of a better community as a participant in the 1958-1960 Community Achievement Contest, sponsored by the General Federation of Women's clubs.

A certificate of appreciation from Save the Children Federation was read which expressed recognition of generosity to needy children in underprivileged and disaster areas in the United States and in free countries overseas.

Mrs. N. R. Spencer, member of the Advisory board, gave a resume of the year's program for study entitled "Venture Into Areas of Influence;" with an introduction to the afternoon's program topic, "Alaska." Mrs. W. T. Davis gave a pictorial history of Alaska, tracing history of the 49th state from the 16th century to its formal entry into the Union on January 3, 1959, with the use of pictures and maps.

Mrs. W. E. Bennett Jr. reviewed the book, "Wild Geese Calling," by Stewart Edward White, which reveals the story of the early Alaskan pioneer in conquest of the new frontier.

At the conclusion of the program a dessert course was served to Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. N. R. Spencer, Mrs. Marcus Mapp, Mrs. W. M. Inabnet, Mrs. Fred Huenefeld, Mrs. D. W. Griffith, Mrs. C. P. Gray Jr., Mrs. W. T. Davis, Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Mrs. C. B. Braun and Mrs. W. E. Bennett Jr.

This time of year and this type of weather brings to mind the rustic type of party for a last out-doorsy fling before colder evenings and more formal affairs. Last night the FRED MILLSAPS and JACK WICKS entertained at a barbecue-barn dance, held at the home of Elaine's parents, the W. A. CALLOWAYS, in Bosco.

Invitations were in the form of clever original poems, bidding guests come in calico and blue jeans. The Calloways' "outdoor kitchen" — a kitchen, all right, with an oversize playroom attached — was decorated with corn stalks, pumpkins, egg plant. Tall shocks of corn flanked the fireplace which dominates one end of the long room. Twelve tables covered with red checked tablecloths and centered with hurricane lamps were set up around the walls. The El Dorados played for dancing.

Barbecue supper was served on the long counter which separates kitchen and playroom. Pumpkins, eggplant, and ears of corn were used as centerpiece. On the menu with barbecued chicken were grits au gratin, string bean casserole, Cole slaw, cookies and coffee. Eighty friends were invited to share this occasion.

A yellow theme was carried out in decorations when the COTHAM HADDADS invited friends for a barbecue on the terrace overlooking the bayou. Golden rod was used to center the tables, which were covered with yellow-checked cloths. Shish ka-bob was the main course, followed by orange sherbet with orange cake, further carrying out the color scheme. There were eight guests.

Members of BIG TIMERS DANCE CLUB are looking forward to their Fall party Friday evening at Bayou DeSiard country club. This will mark the first local appearance of Rene Louapre and his orchestra, a long-awaited event hereabouts. Those who have been lucky enough to dance to this band at New Orleans Carnival balls and debut parties have brought home glowing reports. Cocktails will be served beginning at eight, with dancing from nine until one. Formal, of course.

Beginning tomorrow, wives of members of PINE HILLS GUN club will be able to receive instructions in trap and-or skeet shooting during the next two weeks. Lessons will be offered at Bancroft camp. Plans are for the first Sunday of each month to be Ladies' Day at the club. Ladies interested in shooting lessons may call VERA KELSO for particulars.

STORY OF THE WEEK was overheard at Bayou DeSiard Country club following the Helen Sherrouse Memorial tournament Wednesday. One local lady, playing in her first tournament, wound up for her very first tee shot — and fired it into the garbage can. And, as she said, "It was a brand-new ball, so I went and got it out." We are happy to add that she went on to win low net in one of the flights.

Fall is a wonderful season for the morning party, for a cup of coffee and a visit with bride, newcomer or visitor. Thursday morning BARBARA JANE ENSMINGER and CHRISTINE GRAY honored BETTY MABRAY at a coffee in the Gray home. Betty has recently moved to Monroe from Newellton. Guests were greeted at the door by JEAN DAVIS, and invited into the living room, where Christine, Betty, and Barbara Jane received. Roses in varying shades of pink deocrated the room.

In the dining room, pink roses in a silver bowl were placed on the table. GEORGIE TOUCHSTONE and ALLYNE PETTY alternated at the coffee service. Others who assisted were CAROL M'DONALD, MARGARET ANN TIDWELL, DOT HADDAD, JAYNE PEARCE, and JOY MARSHALL. There were about one hundred guests.

When CAROL COLE and her mother, IRENE COLE, entertained at a conversational hour honoring BETTY HEMPHILL, the bride's gift formed an unusual centerpiece on the dining table. Ivy and gardenias encircled the box, wrapped in white, and tied with white ribbon caught with white birds and gardenias . . . .Unusual goodies, including tiny ham turnovers, sausage and pastry pinwheels, and miniature cherry and orange tartlets were served to about seventy ladies who called between ten and twelve on Saturday.

Four hostesses entertained at coffee Thursday morning, honoring DORIS SANFORD, a recent newcomer. The party was held in the home of ANNA CLAIRE SEYMOUR, who was co-hostess with SANCIE MADISON, SOPHIA BLANKS, and SALLIE SHAFTO.

Fall flowers were used to advantage in the decorations. In the living room were blooms of the Empress candle tree, arranged with their own foliage. Lavender Fuji mums, lavender asters, and purple grapes in a silver bowl centered the table, and were repeated in silver compotes flanking the large arrangement.

Sherrouse PTA Has Coffee For School Faculty

Teachers of Sherrouse School were guests at the "get - acquainted" coffee given by the Parent - Teacher Association for the room representatives and faculty on Thursday morning, September 29.

A driftwood arrangement, created by Mrs. J. L. Tolar, which featured Japanese sunflowers, seed pods and artificial fruit in an orange - tinted sea shell, centered the refreshment table.

Mrs. J. G. Caldwell, first vice-president, presided at the coffee service. Mrs. Lee Estes, hospitality chairman, was assisted by Mrs. H. L. Brown and Mrs. M. M. Williams in serving.

Following the coffee, Mrs. J. P. Greene, room representative chairman, introduced the room representatives by grades. Their duties were outlined and a manual of responsibilities was presented to each. Mrs. Marguerite Vincent, Sherrouse principal, emphasized the key role of the room repesentatives in the P.-T. A.

The magazine chairman, William Gannaway, reviewed features from the P.-T. A. magazine. There were 45 room representatives present for the occasion.

Belts Assist In Style Story

An active perfomer in the style story is the belt. Smooth, suede, brushed or lustered leathers complement interesting fall suit and dress textures.

A crushed leather sash belt can soften the line of the tunic, while a cummerbund of crushed leather gives appeal to both a bolero-styled suit jacket and a simple dress for evening or cocktail wear.

Whim Trim Is Newest Teenage Fad

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The newest teenage fad puts the girls at work at the sewing machine — making whim trims.

A whim trim, for the information of all squares, is a slightly gathered skirt made with two panels of fabric hanging from the front and back of the waistband. The panels can be worn down to provide an apron effect, or swing upward and buttoned at the shoulders to cover a blouse, much as a jumper does.

What provides the name, and the fun, is decorating the panels. Anything from old campaign buttons to the current steady's picture goes. And the zanier the decorations on the panels the better.

A couple of hundred teenagers participated in a whim trim competition in Tampa, Fla., last summer. Results ranged from an aquarium full of needlework fish to the map of the world with Africa seeming to float into the Pacific Ocean — "I ran out of thread," said its creator.

WALKING CHARGE BOOTH

In San Francisco, a group of girls trimmed skirts with mementos of their favorite recording artists. Van Cliburn received three neatly appliqued votes.

An Albany, N.Y. teenager collected subway and bus tokens from around the country, added a few dollars worth of foreign coins and became a kind of walking change booth.

In Washington, several girls appliqued caricatures of Nixon and Kennedy on panels. A Cleveland girl worked a small blackboard onto the panels, where she listed her social calendar. Idea was, the fellows would know without asking which of her evenings were free.

The design for the skirts originated with a company which naturally wanted to push fabric usage. A pattern maker produced a pattern, and at least 35 stores in leading cities are running promotions of the whimsical skirts.

One of the most unusual trims came from a Sacramento, Calif., girl who attached lipstick, compact, comb and even a small change holder to one panel.

USE SCHOOL PENNANTS

School and extra-curricular activities have influenced some teenagers. A language student from New York embroidered "ici on parle francais" across her skirt. The start of the football season promoted three Boston cheerleaders to use school pennants, surrounded by miniature footballs on thin silver chains.

Dating influenced some of the designs. One Syracuse, N.Y. girl embroidered one panel with a clock face, placing small snapshots of her "steady" where the numbers normally would go. Photographs from teen-age idols to the latest "crushes" have proved popular. But one young lady attached shots of old - time movie heroes including William Farnum, Rudolph Valentino and Francis X. Bushman.

Most ambitious perhaps was the Atlanta art student who copied the "Mona Lisa" right down to the inscrutable smile.

Also entitled to some sort of prize for ambition was the Connecticut girl who duplicated the flags of the United Nations, covering all four panels of her whim trim. Two weeks after she finished, 14 more countries were admitted to the U.N.

When last heard from, she was back at work.

Salad Trio

Catchup, Worcestershire sauce and lemon rind are a good trio to add to an oil - and - vinegar dressing for salad.

Covering Up

Covered - up look is news in formal wear, achieved by long sleeves, little jackets, lace and chiffon for veiled decolletage.

Belted In Fur

Fur belts are fashion favorites —with the accent on spots, such as leopard or cheetah.

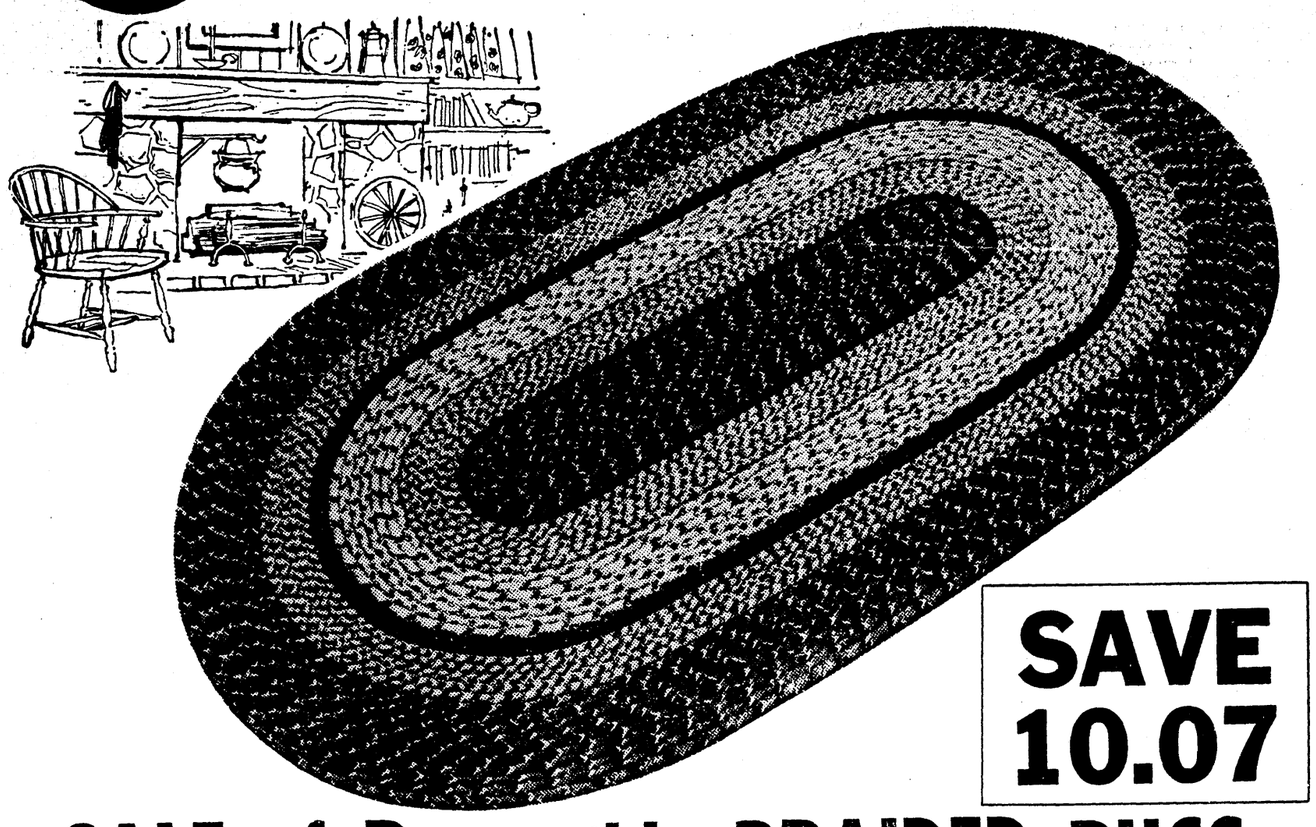

Ear Warmers

Woolen caps for girls come in gay, practical variety, including long stocking styles, boy caps, novel ones with braided pigtails.

NEW OFFICERS of the Miro Book club for the ensuing year are left to right, Mrs. J. H. McCormick, president Mrs. A. V. Breard, secretary; Mrs. R. L. Wood, treasurer and Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, reporter.

Miro Book Club Members Shown Film On Alaska

Mrs. J. H. McCormick was hostess to the Miro Book club on Monday afternoon, October 3 in the Ouachita Parish Public library.

It was announced that the fifth district of the general federation of women's clubs will hold a training institute for all club women on October 15. The event will be held at the Virginia Hotel from 10 a.m. until 12:30 p.m.

Following the business session Miss Frances Flanders showed a film, "Letter From Alaska," and gave a short talk on the 49th state.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program. Centerpiece for the table was a small tree from which hung tags for each member, inscribed "I will vote. Will You?"

Members present were Mrs. A. V. Breard, Mrs. John Fillhoil, Mrs. Horace Flucker, Mrs. Thomas Jett, Miss Catherine Livaudais, Mrs. J. B. McCormick, Mrs. Neal McHenry, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. J. T. Pugh, Mrs. George Temple, Mrs C. R. Tidwell, Mrs. R. L. Wood and Mrs. Louis Rolleigh.

Sherrouse PTA Has Coffee For School Faculty

Teachers of Sherrouse School were guests at the "get - acquainted" coffee given by the Parent - Teacher Association for the room representatives and faculty on Thursday morning, September 29.

A driftwood arrangement, created by Mrs. J. L. Tolar, which featured Japanese sunflowers, seed pods and artificial fruit in an orange - tinted sea shell, centered the refreshment table.

Mrs. J. G. Caldwell, first vice-president, presided at the coffee service. Mrs. Lee Estes, hospitality chairman, was assisted by Mrs. H. L. Brown and Mrs. M. M. Williams in serving.

Following the coffee, Mrs. J. P. Greene, room representative chairman, introduced the room representatives by grades. Their duties were outlined and a manual of responsibilities was presented to each. Mrs. Marguerite Vincent, Sherrouse principal, emphasized the key role of the room repesentatives in the P.-T. A.

The magazine chairman, William Gannaway, reviewed features from the P.-T. A. magazine. There were 45 room representatives present for the occasion.

Belts Assist In Style Story

An active perfomer in the style story is the belt. Smooth, suede, brushed or lustered leathers complement interesting fall suit and dress textures.

A crushed leather sash belt can soften the line of the tunic, while a cummerbund of crushed leather gives appeal to both a bolero-styled suit jacket and a simple dress for evening or cocktail wear.

Whim Trim Is Newest Teenage Fad

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The newest teenage fad puts the girls at work at the sewing machine — making whim trims.

A whim trim, for the information of all squares, is a slightly gathered skirt made with two panels of fabric hanging from the front and back of the waistband. The panels can be worn down to provide an apron effect, or swing upward and buttoned at the shoulders to cover a blouse, much as a jumper does.

What provides the name, and the fun, is decorating the panels. Anything from old campaign buttons to the current steady's picture goes. And the zanier the decorations on the panels the better.

A couple of hundred teenagers participated in a whim trim competition in Tampa, Fla., last summer. Results ranged from an aquarium full of needlework fish to the map of the world with Africa seeming to float into the Pacific Ocean — "I ran out of thread," said its creator.

WALKING CHARGE BOOTH

In San Francisco, a group of girls trimmed skirts with mementos of their favorite recording artists. Van Cliburn received three neatly appliqued votes.

An Albany, N.Y. teenager collected subway and bus tokens from around the country, added a few dollars worth of foreign coins and became a kind of walking change booth.

In Washington, several girls appliqued caricatures of Nixon and Kennedy on panels. A Cleveland girl worked a small blackboard onto the panels, where she listed her social calendar. Idea was, the fellows would know without asking which of her evenings were free.

The design for the skirts originated with a company which naturally wanted to push fabric usage. A pattern maker produced a pattern, and at least 35 stores in leading cities are running promotions of the whimsical skirts.

One of the most unusual trims came from a Sacramento, Calif., girl who attached lipstick, compact, comb and even a small change holder to one panel.

USE SCHOOL PENNANTS

School and extra-curricular activities have influenced some teenagers. A language student from New York embroidered "ici on parle francais" across her skirt. The start of the football season promoted three Boston cheerleaders to use school pennants, surrounded by miniature footballs on thin silver chains.

Dating influenced some of the designs. One Syracuse, N.Y. girl embroidered one panel with a clock face, placing small snapshots of her "steady" where the numbers normally would go. Photographs from teen-age idols to the latest "crushes" have proved popular. But one young lady attached shots of old - time movie heroes including William Farnum, Rudolph Valentino and Francis X. Bushman.

Most ambitious perhaps was the Atlanta art student who copied the "Mona Lisa" right down to the inscrutable smile.

Also entitled to some sort of prize for ambition was the Connecticut girl who duplicated the flags of the United Nations, covering all four panels of her whim trim. Two weeks after she finished, 14 more countries were admitted to the U.N.

When last heard from, she was back at work.

Salad Trio

Catchup, Worcestershire sauce and lemon rind are a good trio to add to an oil - and - vinegar dressing for salad.

Covering Up

Covered - up look is news in formal wear, achieved by long sleeves, little jackets, lace and chiffon for veiled decolletage.

Belted In Fur

Fur belts are fashion favorites —with the accent on spots, such as leopard or cheetah.

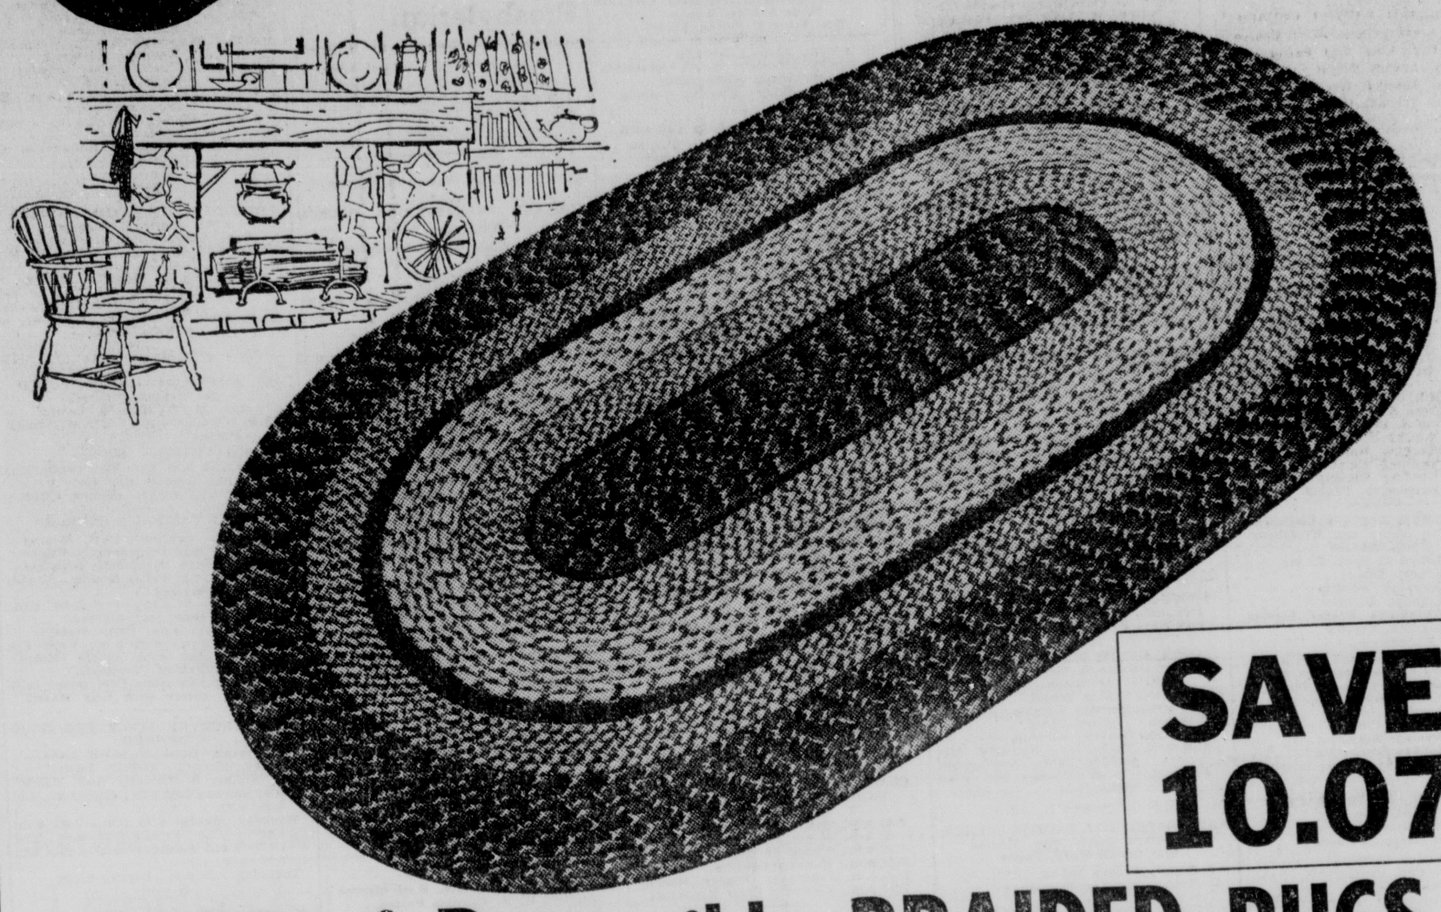

Ear Warmers

Woolen caps for girls come in gay, practical variety, including long stocking styles, boy caps, novel ones with braided pigtails.

DAVID O. McKAY

Religious Leadership Veteran Strong At 87

By DWIGHT L. JONES

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) —Age has put a quaver in his voice and cataract operations have darkened his eyes, but David O. McKay never has held more veneration among his flock.

Last week he called to order the 103rd semi-annual conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Among the 8,000 gathered at the big Mormon Tabernacle for the start of a three-day spiritual renewal were many who consider President McKay one of the greatest of the nine men who have headed their church.

Certainly he is leading it in a period of its most vigorous growth. His service at or near its helm covers 54 years—from the horse and buggy to the jet age.

At 87 he is a remarkably handsome six-footer with a shock of wavy white hair.

FOUNDER

The Mormons call their founder Joseph Smith, a prophet, and upon the broad shoulders of McKay has fallen the same title, "Prophet, Seer and Revelator."

As the prophets of old, he is the leader in both spiritual and temporal affairs of 1,650,000 Mormons.

In the first nine months of this year the Mormon people completed 166 church buildings which cost $23,109,000 and are working on 728 more.

THE HOME SHIFT

Best Planting Time Ahead

By MILDRED SWIFT

By MILDRED SWIFT

Very soon now you'll begin to buy new plants for your garden. December, January and February are our best planting months. We always refer to these as the months when the "sap goes down." The plants are more or less dormant, then. So - it's time to take a pencil and paper and list the plants you'll need. Notice the word was "need" not "want." We gardeners want every pretty plant we see.

With the new type of architecture, few shrubs are needed, especially next to the house. Trees, screen planting and plants at certain vantage points are all we need.

REMINDERS

If you're thinking of buying some azaleas, here are a few recommended varieties that have been found to be quite hardy. Two glendales are Illusion (pink) and Ireasure (white). These are evergreen. Gumpo is a dwarf with large flowers. Pink ruffle is a medium-size plant with double pure-pink blossoms.

Some of the nurserymen say they have found the pink dogwood from around Lecompte to be much hardier than the Tennessee plants. Many of us have had sad luck with this small tree so that's a tip worth remembering.

If you need a shade tree, notice the tallows and gingko after the frost come. Then their gorgeous colors may influence you.

An old plant that fares well in planter boxes that get lots of sun, is the crawling juniper. It will grow no higher than twelve inches, has a beautiful blue color and hangs gracefully over the side of the planter. It is a horizontal grower.

Those who complain that the confederate jasmine vine grows too fast and gets a heavy look, try yellow jasmine. These can be bought in buckets, they're inexpensive, evergreen and have a beautiful yellow trumpet flower in early spring. They grow in a dainty kind of way.

SPRAYING

We shouldn't be having any more 90 degree weather, now - so you can spray for scale with oil emulsion. Another temperature to be feared is 32 degrees - so don't tarry. Spray at once. Most camellias have scale. Spraying at this time will be very timely. Then again in the spring you'll spray. Scale has been so prevalent in the last five years. You owe it to your neighbors to get this malicious pest. It spreads fast.

UNUSUAL

The Travis McClendon's - 1606 Emerson, Monroe, have some unusual pepper plants. McClendon brought the seed from Miami. There are two varieties, one that bears its peppers upright, the other carries them hanging as pepper plants usually do. The colors of the peppers are red, yellow, purple, cream and they're about the size of a Christmas tree light bulb. These are very beautiful and give color to the garden at this time of year. The Frank Guerriero's on Hilton had plants similar to these growing in their garden last year.

NEW

One of the new air conditioners will have a clock timer which can be pre-set to start the unit at any desired hour. It's also an electric clock.

There's a new toaster-broiler on the way that broils steaks and chops, browns muffins, makes plain or cinnamon toast and broils open faced sandwiches. It is about the same price as a regular toaster.

A manufacturer is coming out with eyeglasses that contain a radio. You can have them fitted with your prescritpion. Controls are at the left temple and the set operates for over 150 hours on a hearing-aid battery.

Soon we'll be able to buy intercommunication systems that will eliminate the need for expensive wiring. These will have many handy uses - monitoring the nursery from the master bedroom is one of them. This one will weigh only two pounds - plugs into any home outlet and the voice signal carries over your existing lighting circuit. It's so senstive you can even hear the baby breathe.

A new cabinet is being designed to keep crackers, cookies and cereals crips and crunchy-regardless of how soggy the weather. This cabinet is a little over 18 inches long, as high as a box of cornflakes and its door has a magnetized catch. All you have to do is plug it into the wall socket.

MORE

The paint industry offers a tip for covering small cigaret burns on rugs. It's a simple one, too - just dab the burn with a little paint of the same shade.

If you're in the market for upholstered furniture, remember that rough weave fabrics are not for rough use. Long floating threads are easily pulled.

When making dacron draperies for your home, you'll find the sewing chore easier if you follow these simple rules since dacron is a fiber that does not stretch. Use the smallest needles and long stitches are best. If the draperies are to be laundered finish seams to resist raveling. See you next Sunday.

Grassy Area Near Runway Is Owl Home

By NIXON SMILEY
Miami Herald Writer

MIAMI (AP)—If you're ever at the Miami International Airport, watch along the grassy area between the runways as your plane taxis to the takeoff position.

You are almost certain to see small burrowing owls which have made their home there.

This little owl, just under 10 inches tall, seems oblivious to the noises of powerful planes or to other activities about the airport. Unlike many people who live near the airport and complain of the noises, the owls seem completely adjusted.

SANCTUARY

Recently the airport was declared a burrowing owl wildlife sanctuary with the Florida Audubon Society cooperating with the Dade County Port Authority fo provide whatever protection these owls may need.

Signs have been erected proclaiming the airport a sanctuary. The signs are in Spanish and English.

Apparently the owls need no official protection. They have been here several years, establishing a nesting colony between the runways soon after the airport was built. Their numbers have gradually increased.

NOTORIETY

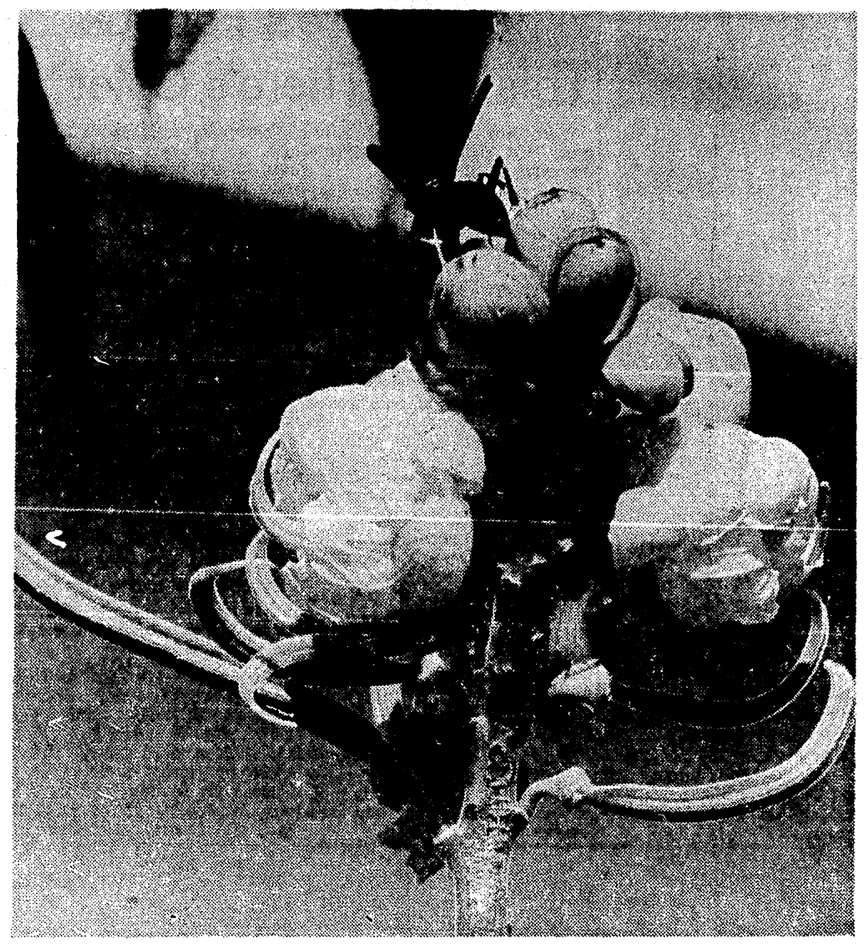

The owls gained considerable notoriety in 1952 after a newspaper account about their activities. The port director immediately received numerous requests from bird lovers who wished to get permission to visit the owls at their homes.

Permission was denied, a decision which probably pleased the owls.

The only way to see the owls is to buy a ticket and board a plane. Then you can see them while leaving the airport and upon returning.

Because people and animals cannot get to the owls, they enjoy more protection than they would in the wilds of the Kissimee Prairie where this native Florida bird is found in fairly large numbers.

The birds are never bothered by airport personnel, except when one insists on making a burrow at the edge of a runway. The burrow is immediately filled to prevent possible erosion and Mr. Owl is shooed to the open area where there is ample room for his burrowing.

Dig Up Bulbs Before Frost

By AUDREY DAWSON

It is about time to take up your caladium bulbs — before frost. They are beginning to look a little yellow and not so pretty, but haven't they been beautiful these past few months. Remember when you take your caladium bulbs up to store during winter months don't cut off the tops. Tie them in bunches and hang in a dry place. The storeroom or garage is an excellent place. Wait until tops die, then remove top and store bulbs in dry sand, peat moss or the like. If your bulbs are not too large, egg cartons serve as good storage boxes.

GARDEN

Now that we are about ready to take up some of the caladium bulbs, let's talk about putting something in the garden. October and November are the best months for planting bulbs for late winter and early spring blooms. In preparing soil for bulbs spade up and pulverize thoroughly. If planted in a bed, it's well to leave the center a little higher than the edge in order to provide drainage. For early blooms, plant bulbs where the sun will reach them most of the day, as they will not do their best in a shady place. By planting on the south side or such place as provides protection from the north wind, earlier blooms will result. Hyacinths and narcissus should be planted 5 to 17 inches apart and smaller ones like jonquils 3½ to 4 inches apart.

FAIR

This is the week of our Ouachita Valley Fair, so be sure to visit the agricultural exhibit building to see the homemaking and agriculture products. Home Demonstration Clubs of the parish have prepared twenty three educational exhibits on some phase of homemaking or agriculture. Judging will be done Tuesday and the following will judge the women's and girl's division: Miss Ruth Kelso and Mrs. Era Davis from Northeast State College; Miss Betty Jane Hodgkins and Mrs. Jackie Mitchell, Home Demonstration agents from Morehouse Parish; Mrs. Maxine Reeves, Home Demonstration agent LaSalle; Mrs. Ellen Thompson; Mrs. Jane Watson. Mrs. Margaret Hayes, Home Service Representative, and Miss Margaret Brumby, Specialist in Clothing from LSU.

HOME FREEZER

If you plan to fill your home freezer with meat this fall and winter, you may want to defrost and clean it before getting your meat. Our specialist, Koch advises that freezers work best when defrosted and cleaned at least once a year. Brush or blow the dust and lint from the condenser. In case some of you homemakers do not know which is the condenser it's the part that looks somewhat like an automobile radiator. Be sure to wait until the temperature is down to zero before adding warm food. It's always best to follow the maufacturer's instructions when cleaning a freezing unit.

BUYING FURNITURE

Few homemakers can afford to replace expensive pieces of furniture as sofas and chairs just because they made a mistake in buying them. Usually they just live them down. Our specialis, Mrs. Jessie Mae Hill, urges shoppers to take plenty of time in selecting such pieces, and she suggests some rules of thumb that may help. Try a chair or sofa no matter how comfortable it looks. The seat should be deep or shallow enough to hit the backs of the knees when a person is seated. The seat should slant downward from front to back. Turn the piece over and look at the bottom. Feel the webbing. It should be closely woven and firm, not soft or bouncy. Check outside details. Are the seams neat, are the buttons sewed on firmly. Is the tufting neatly finished and her last suggestion is, in buying furniture, the best insurance is to patronize a reliable local dealer or decorator.

A THOUGHT

It is better to think a good thought about a bad man than to think an evil thought about a good man.

Swiss Firms Arrange For Day Nursery

BIENNE, Switzerland (UPI) — The bosses in this town make it easy for mothers who want to help bring home the bacon.

They provide nurseries for the children, both infants and school-age boys and girls.

The nurseries are staffed with young women trained in the art of handling children. Usually, the substitute mothers earn more than the moms bent over the production line in the factories.

Typical of the modern nurseries is one at the Omega Watch Co. in Bienne — a factory that expects its hired hands to put in 48 hours a week.

MODERN

The home away from home for the children is a two story modern building with lots of windows, playgrounds and bright colors.

Inside, there are play tables, a little gym, a dining room, sleeping units. The interior, of course, is sub-divided into sections for babes in arms, for toddlers, and for school children.

The school children are taught to report to the nursery when school lets out. They do their homework and get in a little play while waiting for their mothers to finish up on the production line.

This eliminates the problem so often encountered by working mothers of school-age children. That is — the chance of the children being on their own at home until their mothers return from work.

INFANT SECTION

The infant section of the nursery, at the time I toured the place, housed eight babies, including one just six weeks old.

The babies apparently get their fair share of tender, loving care. Only one, a little fellow about 2 months old was squealing. I patted him on the back for a while and he stopped crying.

The nurseries aren't completely free, although the major costs are met by the firm. The mothers pay around $1 a day for each child in the nursery.

The trend toward nurseries for the children of working mothers is one that is well developed throughout Europe. The Russians are said to have the widest network of such nurseries.

Landscaping Plans Time

By MARY JARDINE

Now is the time of year to plan our landscaping in order to be ready for the planting season which begins next month. It is well to include hollies in our permanent landscape plans. They thrive in moist soil, but endure drouth better than most evergreens. There are many forms to choose from in both the native, Chinese and Japanese hollies.

For a large property Youpon Ilex vomitoria with its rounded leaves and bright red berries, makes an excellent hedge and provides food and shelter for the birds. Another Youpon, Decidua is excellent as a specimen tree. It is of graceful form and covered with red berries in the fall. This is best seen against an evergreen background.

The Chinese holly, Ilex Cornuta var. Burfordii, is a great favorite with flower arrangers because of its gracefully curved limbs and bright berries. This is a little large for the small garden. It should never be planted too close to the house.

OTHER

Other native hollies are in the opaca group. Recommended varieties are Croonensburg and Fosterii. Japanese Holly Latiforia is a wonderful plant. The male tree grows to a height of 12 feet and 14 feet wide, while the female plants are a little more pendulous because they berry so heavily. Always remember to buy both the male and female holly plants for good pollination if you expect a berry crop.

Two in the Ilex crenata group are good for foundation plantings. Ilex creanta, Helleri, and convexa. The taller ones Rotundifolia and Bullota make good hedges. Many of our nursery men are propagating these hollies; ask about them for that special place in your garden.

It's Fall Flower Show time again and here are some important dates for your calendar:

Monday October 10, Monroe Garden Club presents Mrs. Robert Phillips, Malvern, Ark. in "Artistry with Flowers from Monroe Gardens." It is an open meeting, small fee for non-members, 2 p.m. Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Tuesday, October 11, Flower Show, Bernice Garden Club. Theme "Pioneer Days in Bernice."

Tuesday, October 18, Flower Show in Connection with Tri-Parish Fair, Tallulah.

Friday, October 21, Welcome Garden Club, Flower Show at Hemenway's.

Wednesday, October 26, Delhi Garden Club Flower Show, First Presbyterian Church, Delhi.

Wednesday, October 19, John Wright, Flower Arrangement on Television 12:15 open house.

DAHLIAS SHOWN

The World Series took over our TV time this week and in lieu of our scheduled show, Gladys Kulcke provided two lovely arrangements featuring that star of the fall garden picture, the dahlia.

The first was asymetrical in pattern and placed in a dark green glass pillow vase. The large lemon yellow dahlias were arranged at various angles to show the individual beauty of buds and blooms in varying stages of development which gave grace, depth and contour to the floral pattern. Self foliage was added at the base.

A color scheme of red-violet and yellow was followed in the next design. An antique yellow pitcher with an embossed grape pattern served as a container. Furled aspisitra was selected for height and background followed by massed placements of red violet globe-amaranth (bachelor's buttons). Two large yellow dahlias provided the center of interest. The design followed the lines of the pitched. Compelling color harmony.

Storm Safety Preparations Are Important

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Storm safety preparation is a routine no wise homowner will neglect.

Surely, any emphasis necessary for this statement was provided by Hurricane Donna's recent devastation.

Donna, the U.S. Weather Bureau points out, is one of more than 50 hurricanes which have played havoc with life and property in the past 10 years. In addition, there are more than 150 tornadoes yearly, and a wide assortment of ice and wind storms, all of which claim a heavy toll.

A few precautions taken before the storm warnings are up may mean the difference between minor inconvenience and serious hardship.

COLLECT GEAR

The best precaution is to collect now the emergency gear your family will need when a storm hits and review the necessary procedure for battening down once the storm warnings are up.

Your emergency kit, kept unfailingly in a specified location, ready for use on an instant's notice, should include:

—Lighting equipment for use if electricity fails. Candles or kerosene lamp can be used—but only with extreme caution. a gasoline lantern is better—brighter and safer because it will go out automatically if dropped or tipped, although it will not blow out in a gale. A heavy duty flashlight—working order is a must.

—If you use electricity for cooking, the emergency shelf should include a gasoline camping stove. A good one provides steady, controlled heat for cooking and serves as a space heater as well.

—A special safety can of stove and lantern fuel or white gasoline should be kept on hand, along with a supply of wood if you have a fireplace. A fire extinguisher of approved type and in good working order is a must.

STORE FOOD

—Extra "shelf foods," easily stored and simply prepared should be kept on hand. Refrigeration may fail. Paper cups and plates will eliminate dishwashing and help conserve water since that supply too, may fail.

—A battery-powered radio—and fresh batteries—are another must.

Most important of all, is to think ahead. Decide what you would do if the power and heat were off for an hour or more, then prepare now for that possibility.

Fight Cholera Spread

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran has set up a marine quarantine station at the entrance to the Persian Gulf as another step against the spread of cholera. The Pakistan and Afghanistan borders were sealed by Iran earlier.

SOUTHERN GARDNER

Accent Given By Junipers

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

F.R.H.S.

Because they are fairly slow in growth and of medium size, five of the grey leaved junipers are very useful in foundation plantings and gardens. The Irish juniper whose tall columns used to be so common in cemeteries is perhaps the best known one of the five. The other four are fairly similar and not so easy to tell apart. These are the common, the Swedish, the Greek and the spiny Greek junipers. They are all greyish in foliage and quite prickly — especially the spiny Greek and Swedish kinds.

LOOSE NEEDLES

Junipers, like all members of the Pine Family which we grow, except hemlocks, like the sun. In shade, they get spindly and waste away. If you wish to plant annuals like petunias at the feet of junipers to fill in while they are small, be sure to keep the petunias a foot away from the base of the evergreens. When plants crowd or shade the base of conifers, they usually lose their needles. Then, when winter comes, you have a bare space where the annuals shaded the needle foliage.

The common (common all over Europe) juniper is the fattest of the five we are discussing. It makes a handsome boundary planting when the junipers are set about five feet apart. Eventually, they run together in an undulating solid wall of blue-grey that is extremely neat and one that never needs trimming. Wherever a fattish specimen or accent is wanted in the winter landscape, this is a very satisfactory conifer. The tall Irish juniper that was once so popular is used as an accent plant in the landscape. The original type had a way of spreading apart in sleets and snows, and it was thus that cemeteries were spared the fate of having far too many accents. The plants of this juniper sold by nurseries today stand up to sleets better than the old ones did. When properly used, the Irish juniper is still one of the most telling accents in a winter landscape.

Spiny Greek is a stickier, slightly more ragged looking evergreen than the common juniper. The ordinary Greek juniper comes in fattish shape, but the spiny one is a columnar plant. It makes a fine contrast to the other kinds, and so does the Swedish juniper whose foliage is quite wide-spreading if you look at it closely.

To study the pine family evergreens (conifers) visit a nursery and compare their color and textures. Remember, however, that baby conifers, like puppies and kittens may grow to be far too big for what you had in mind when you took them home. Be sure that you know what size they will be in ten years!

Assessments Increased For Parish

Ouachita parish assessments for 1960 show an increase of more than $5-million, Bert Coverdale, assessor, said yesterday.

This year's assessment over the previous year did not show any expirations of the state ten-year tax exemptions granted to industry.

Coverdals statement was given yesterday following the filing late Friday of the tax rolls.

Coverdale also pointed out that the increase of $5,112,220 over the 1959 assessment of $109,003,320 made possible a reduction in the tax rates for this year. This year's taxes are $2,691,039.36, or $91,776.13 less than the $2,782,815.49 for the year 1959.

Coverdale has turned over to the sheriff department the homestead exemption check, totaling $730,320.04.

This check pays the taxes or persons signing the homestead exemption application forms.

"The increase was due to the natural growth of the parish as a whole for the year 1960.

There were no ten - year exemptions pertaining to industry to come on the assessment rolls," Coverdale said.

Award Contract For Church Building Here

Awarding of a contract for construction of a $60,000 St. Andrews Methodist Church building was announced yesterday by the Rev. Ted Howes, pastor.

The church, which will represent a consolidation of the First Methodist Church of Sterlington and the Fairbanks Methodist Church, will be located at the intersection of Highway 165 and Highway 2, on the Old Ouachita City Road.

Construction will be handled by Rannie Terral Construction Company of Farmerville. William Baker of Winnsboro is architect.

Rev. Howes said that the structure will be an educational building with a fellowship hall which will serve as a temporary sanctuary. Plans now call for construction of a permanent sanctuary in about two years.

Work on the current project will get under way Oct. 17. The building will be brick veneer and will occupy 6,300 square feet of space.

Chairmen of the building committee is Harold DeBray of Fairbanks. Committee members are Ray Booth. Edward Sackett, John Rushing, Baxter Sinclair, Ferrell Earl, Mrs. Harry Sloan, and Mrs. Nezy Crosby.

Nixon Pledges To Get Tougher In Campaigning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Friday night, "It's not going to be like 1948. We're going to really give 'em hell from now on."

The vice president made the reference to former President Harry S. Truman's upset victory over Thomas E. Dewey in a speech to several hundred staff workers following his second radio-TV debate with Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Nixon, Republican presidential nominee, told the workers that after the first debate "some people thought I was a little too easy on Sen. Kennedy."

He told of a woman in a Philadelphia crowd who waved her small child in the air emphatically while she shouted, "Give Kennedy hell. Give Kennedy hell."

"The poor kid will probably end up in the nut house," Nixon said with a smile, "but I followed her advice."

The vice president said that in one respect the campaign is like 1948—"Kennedy is out-Truman-ing Truman."

But he added that on the advice of former New York Gov. Dewey himself, he would conduct a tough, fighting campaign from here on.

Nixon, however, concluded his pep talk to party workers by saying that it was more important to provide "mature, idealistic leadership" than simply to call your opponent names.

"You've got to be worthy of winning," he said.

Kennedy Will Invade South

WITH KENNEDY IN KENTUCKY (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy will make his first invasion of the Deep South in the campaign next week, with appearances Monday in Georgia and South Carolina.

The Democratic presidential nominee, who has been on the road since Sept. 2, campaigns Sunday in the Youngstown and Warren, Ohio, area.

He will spend Sunday night at Louisville, Ky., and leave early Monday for Warm Springs, Ga., so often visited by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Monday schedule also calls for speeches at Columbia, S. C., and at Pittsburgh.

The senator will be in New York Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, campaigning the first two days and preparing on Thursday for his third radio-television debate that night with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

THE HOME SHIFT

Best Planting Time Ahead

By MILDRED SWIFT

By MILDRED SWIFT

Very soon now you'll begin to buy new plants for your garden. December, January and February are our best planting months. We always refer to these as the months when the "sap goes down." The plants are more or less dormant, then. So - it's time to take a pencil and paper and list the plants you'll need. Notice the word was "need" not "want." We gardeners want every pretty plant we see.

With the new type of architecture, few shrubs are needed, especially next to the house. Trees, screen planting and plants at certain vantage points are all we need.

REMINDERS

If you're thinking of buying some azaleas, here are a few recommended varieties that have been found to be quite hardy. Two glendales are Illusion (pink) and Ireasure (white). These are evergreen. Gumpo is a dwarf with large flowers. Pink ruffle is a medium-size plant with double pure-pink blossoms.

Some of the nurserymen say they have found the pink dogwood from around Lecompte to be much hardier than the Tennessee plants. Many of us have had sad luck with this small tree so that's a tip worth remembering.

If you need a shade tree, notice the tallows and gingko after the frost come. Then their gorgeous colors may influence you.

An old plant that fares well in planter boxes that get lots of sun, is the crawling juniper. It will grow no higher than twelve inches, has a beautiful blue color and hangs gracefully over the side of the planter. It is a horizontal grower.

Those who complain that the confederate jasmine vine grows too fast and gets a heavy look, try yellow jasmine. These can be bought in buckets, they're inexpensive, evergreen and have a beautiful yellow trumpet flower in early spring. They grow in a dainty kind of way.

SPRAYING

We shouldn't be having any more 90 degree weather, now - so you can spray for scale with oil emulsion. Another temperature to be feared is 32 degrees - so don't tarry. Spray at once. Most camellias have scale. Spraying at this time will be very timely. Then again in the spring you'll spray. Scale has been so prevalent in the last five years. You owe it to your neighbors to get this malicious pest. It spreads fast.

UNUSUAL

The Travis McClendon's - 1606 Emerson, Monroe, have some unusual pepper plants. McClendon brought the seed from Miami. There are two varieties, one that bears its peppers upright, the other carries them hanging as pepper plants usually do. The colors of the peppers are red, yellow, purple, cream and they're about the size of a Christmas tree light bulb. These are very beautiful and give color to the garden at this time of year. The Frank Guerriero's on Hilton had plants similar to these growing in their garden last year.

NEW

One of the new air conditioners will have a clock timer which can be pre-set to start the unit at any desired hour. It's also an electric clock.

There's a new toaster-broiler on the way that broils steaks and chops, browns muffins, makes plain or cinnamon toast and broils open faced sandwiches. It is about the same price as a regular toaster.

A manufacturer is coming out with eyeglasses that contain a radio. You can have them fitted with your prescritpion. Controls are at the left temple and the set operates for over 150 hours on a hearing-aid battery.

Soon we'll be able to buy intercommunication systems that will eliminate the need for expensive wiring. These will have many handy uses - monitoring the nursery from the master bedroom is one of them. This one will weigh only two pounds - plugs into any home outlet and the voice signal carries over your existing lighting circuit. It's so senstive you can even hear the baby breathe.

A new cabinet is being designed to keep crackers, cookies and cereals crips and crunchy-regardless of how soggy the weather. This cabinet is a little over 18 inches long, as high as a box of cornflakes and its door has a magnetized catch. All you have to do is plug it into the wall socket.

MORE

The paint industry offers a tip for covering small cigaret burns on rugs. It's a simple one, too - just dab the burn with a little paint of the same shade.

If you're in the market for upholstered furniture, remember that rough weave fabrics are not for rough use. Long floating threads are easily pulled.

When making dacron draperies for your home, you'll find the sewing chore easier if you follow these simple rules since dacron is a fiber that does not stretch. Use the smallest needles and long stitches are best. If the draperies are to be laundered finish seams to resist raveling.

See you next Sunday.

Grassy Area Near Runway Is Owl Home

By NIXON SMILEY
Miami Herald Writer

MIAMI (AP)—If you're ever at the Miami International Airport, watch along the grassy area between the runways as your plane taxis to the takeoff position.

You are almost certain to see small burrowing owls which have made their home there.

This little owl, just under 10 inches tall, seems oblivious to the noises of powerful planes or to other activities about the airport. Unlike many people who live near the airport and complain of the noises, the owls seem completely adjusted.

SANCTUARY

Recently the airport was declared a burrowing owl wildlife sanctuary with the Florida Audubon Society cooperating with the Dade County Port Authority to provide whatever protection these owls may need.

Signs have been erected proclaiming the airport a sanctuary. The signs are in Spanish and English.

Apparently the owls need no official protection. They have been here several years, establishing a nesting colony between the runways soon after the airport was built. Their numbers have gradually increased.

NOTORIETY

The owls gained considerable notoriety in 1952 after a newspaper account about their activities. The port director immediately received numerous requests from bird lovers who wished to get permission to visit the owls at their homes.

Permission was denied, a decision which probably pleased the owls.

The only way to see the owls is to buy a ticket and board a plane. Then you can see them while leaving the airport and upon returning.

Because people and animals cannot get to the owls, they enjoy more protection than they would in the wilds of the Kissimee Prairie where this native Florida bird is found in fairly large numbers.

The birds are never bothered by airport personnel, except when one insists on making a burrow at the edge of a runway. The burrow is immediately filled to prevent possible erosion and Mr. Owl is shooed to the open area where there is ample room for his burrowing.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Landscaping Plans Time

By MARY JARDINE

Now is the time of year to plan our landscaping in order to be ready for the planting season which begins next month. It is well to include hollies in our permanent landscape plans. They thrive in moist soil, but endure drouth better than most evergreens. There are many forms to choose from in both the native, Chinese and Japanese hollies.

For a large property Youpon Ilex vomitoria with its rounded leaves and bright red berries, makes an excellent hedge and provides food and shelter for the birds. Another Youpon, Decidua is excellent as a specimen tree. It is of graceful form and covered with red berries in the fall. This is best seen against an evergreen background.

The Chinese holly, Ilex Cornuta var. Burfordii, is a great favorite with flower arrangers because of its gracefully curved limbs and bright berries. This is a little large for the small garden. It should never be planted too close to the house.

OTHER

Other native hollies are in the opaca group. Recommended varieties are Croonensburg and Fosterii. Japanese Holly Latifoia is a wonderful plant. The male tree grows to a height of 12 feet and 14 feet wide, while the female plants are a little more pendulous because they berry so heavily. Always remember to buy both the male and female holly plants for good pollination if you expect a berry crop.

Two in the Ilex crenata group are good for foundation plantings. Ilex creanta, Helleri, and convexa. The taller ones Rotundifolia and Bullota make good hedges. Many of our nursery men are propagating these hollies; ask about them for that special place in your garden.

It's Fall Flower Show time again and here are some important dates for your calendar:

Monday October 10, Monroe Garden Club presents Mrs. Robert Phillips, Malvern, Ark. in "Artistry with Flowers from Monroe Gardens." It is an open meeting, small fee for non-members, 2 p.m. Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Tuesday, October 11, Flower Show. Bernice Garden Club. Theme "Pioneer Days in Bernice."

Tuesday, October 18, Flower Show in Connection with Tri-Parish Fair, Tallulah.

Friday, October 21, Welcome Garden Club, Flower Show at Hemenway's.

Wednesday, October 26, Delhi Garden Club Flower Show, First Presbyterian Church, Delhi.

Wednesday, October 19, John Wright, Flower Arrangement on Television 12:15 open house.

DAHLIAS SHOWN

The World Series took over our TV time this week and in lieu of our scheduled show, Gladys Kulcke provided two lovely arrangements featuring that star of the fall garden picture, the dahlia.

The first was asymetrical in pattern and placed in a dark green glass pillow vase. The large lemon yellow dahlias were arranged at various angles to show the individual beauty of buds and blooms in varying stages of development which gave grace, depth and contour to the floral pattern. Self foliage was added at the base.

A color scheme of red-violet and yellow was followed in the next design. An antique yellow pitcher with an embossed grape pattern served as a container. Furled aspisitra was selected for height and background followed by massed placements of red violet globe-amaranth (bachelor's buttons). Two large yellow dahlias provided the center of interest. The design followed the lines of the pitched. Compelling color harmony.

Storm Safety Preparations Are Important

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Storm safety preparation is a routine no wise homowner will neglect.

Surely, any emphasis necessary for this statement was provided by Hurricane Donna's recent devastation.

Donna, the U.S. Weather Bureau points out, is one of more than 50 hurricanes which have played havoc with life and property in the past 10 years. In addition, there are more than 150 tornadoes yearly, and a wide assortment of ice and wind storms, all of which claim a heavy toll.

A few precautions taken before the storm warnings are up may mean the difference between minor inconvenience and serious hardship.

COLLECT GEAR

The best precaution is to collect now the emergency gear your family will need when a storm hits and review the necessary procedure for battening down once the storm warnings are up.

Your emergency kit, kept unfailingly in a specified location, ready for use on an instant's notice, should include:

—Lighting equipment for use if electricity fails. Candles or kerosene lamp can be used—but only with extreme caution. a gasoline lantern is better—brighter and safer because it will go out automatically if dropped or tipped, although it will not blow out in a gale. A heavy duty flashlight—working order is a must.

—If you use electricity for cooking, the emergency shelf should include a gasoline camping stove. A good one provides steady, controlled heat for cooking and serves as a space heater as well.

—A special safety can of stove and lantern fuel or white gasoline should be kept on hand, along with a supply of wood if you have a fireplace. A fire extinguisher of approved type and in good working order is a must.

STORE FOOD

—Extra "shelf foods," easily stored and simply prepared should be kept on hand. Refrigeration may fail. Paper cups and plates will eliminate dishwashing and help conserve water since that supply too, may fail.

—A battery-powered radio—and fresh batteries—are another must.

Most important of all, is to think ahead. Decide what you would do if the power and heat were off for an hour or more, then prepare now for that possibility.

Assessments Increased For Parish

Ouachita parish assessments for 1960 show an increase of more than $5-million, Bert Coverdale, assessor, said yesterday.

This year's assessment over the previous year did not show any expirations of the state ten-year tax exemptions granted to industry.

Coverdals statement was given yesterday following the filing late Friday of the tax rolls.

Coverdale also pointed out that the increase of $5,112,220 over the 1959 assessment of $109,003,320 made possible a reduction in the tax rates for this year. This year's taxes are $2,691,039.36, or $91,776.13 less than the $2,782,815.49 for the year 1959.

Coverdale has turned over to the sheriff department the homestead exemption check, totaling $730,320.04.

This check pays the taxes or persons signing the homestead exemption application forms.

"The increase was due to the natural growth of the parish as a whole for the year 1960.

There were no ten - year exemptions pertaining to industry to come on the assessment rolls," Coverdale said.

Award Contract For Church Building Here

Awarding of a contract for construction of a $60,000 St. Andrews Methodist Church building was announced yesterday by the Rev. Ted Howes, pastor.

The church, which will represent a consolidation of the First Methodist Church of Sterlington and the Fairbanks Methodist Church, will be located at the intersection of Highway 165 and Highway 2, on the Old Ouachita City Road.

Construction will be handled by Rannie Terral Construction Company of Farmerville. William Baker of Winnsboro is architect.

Rev. Howes said that the structure will be an educational building with a fellowship hall which will serve as a temporary sanctuary. Plans now call for construction of a permanent sanctuary in about two years.

Work on the current project will get under way Oct. 17. The building will be brick veneer and will occupy 6,300 square feet of space.

Chairmen of the building committee is Harold DeBray of Fairbanks. Committee members are Ray Booth, Edward Sackett, John Rushing, Baxter Sinclair, Ferrell Earl, Mrs. Harry Sloan, and Mrs. Nezy Crosby.

Nixon Pledges To Get Tougher In Campaigning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Friday night, "It's not going to be like 1948. We're going to really give 'em hell from now on."

The vice president made the reference to former President Harry S. Truman's upset victory over Thomas E. Dewey in a speech to several hundred staff workers following his second radio-TV debate with Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Nixon, Republican presidential nominee, told the workers that after the first debate "some people thought I was a little too easy on Sen. Kennedy."

He told of a woman in a Philadelphia crowd who waved her small child in the air emphatically while she shouted, "Give Kennedy hell. Give Kennedy hell."

"The poor kid will probably end up in the nut house," Nixon said with a smile, "but I followed her advice."

The vice president said that in one respect the campaign is like 1948—"Kennedy is out-Trumaning Truman."

But he added that on the advice of former New York Gov. Dewey himself, he would conduct a tough, fighting campaign from here on.

Nixon, however, concluded his pep talk to party workers by saying that it was more important to provide "mature, idealistic leadership" than simply to call your opponent names.

"You've got to be worthy of winning," he said.

Dig Up Bulbs Before Frost

By AUDREY DAWSON

It is about time to take up your caladium bulbs — before frost. They are beginning to look a little yellow and not so pretty, but haven't they been beautiful these past few months. Remember when you take your caladium bulbs up to store during winter months don't cut off the tops. Tie them in bunches and hang in a dry place. The storeroom or garage is an excellent place. Wait until tops die, then remove top and store bulbs in dry sand, peat moss or the like. If your bulbs are not too large, egg cartons serve as good storage boxes.

GARDEN

Now that we are about ready to take up some of the caladium bulbs, let's talk about putting something in the garden. October and November are the best months for planting bulbs for late winter and early spring blooms. In preparing soil for bulbs spade up and pulverize thoroughly. If planted in a bed, it's well to leave the center a little higher than the edge in order to provide drainage. For early blooms, plant bulbs where the sun will reach them most of the day, as they will not do their best in a shady place. By planting on the south side or such place as provides protection from the north wind, earlier blooms will result. Hyacinths and narcissus should be planted 5 to 17 inches apart and smaller ones like jonquils 3½ to 4 inches apart.

FAIR

This is the week of our Ouachita Valley Fair, so be sure to visit the agricultural exhibit building to see the homemaking and agriculture products. Home Demonstration Clubs of the parish have prepared twenty three educational exhibits on some phase of homemaking or agriculture. Judging will be done Tuesday and the following will judge the women's and girl's division: Miss Ruth Kelso and Mrs. Era Davis from Northeast State College; Miss Betty Jane Hodgkins and Mrs. Jackie Mitchell, Home Demonstration agents from Morehouse Parish; Mrs. Maxine Reeves, Home Demonstration agent LaSalle; Mrs. Ellen Thompson; Mrs. Jane Watson, Mrs. Margaret Hayes, Home Service Representative, and Miss Margaret Brumby, Specialist in Clothing from LSU.

HOME FREEZER

If you plan to fill your home freezer with meat this fall and winter, you may want to defrost and clean it before getting your meat. Our specialist, Koch advises that freezers work best when defrosted and cleaned at least once a year. Brush or blow the dust and lint from the condenser. In case some of you homemakers do not know which is the condenser it's the part that looks somewhat like an automobile radiator. Be sure to wait until the temperature is down to zero before adding warm food. It's always best to follow the maufacturer's instructions when cleaning a freezing unit.

BUYING FURNITURE

Few homemakers can afford to replace expensive pieces of furniture as sofas and chairs just because they made a mistake in buying them. Usually they just live them down. Our specialis, Mrs. Jessie Mae Hill, urges shoppers to take plenty of time in selecting such pieces, and she suggests some rules of thumb that may help. Try a chair or sofa no matter how comfortable it looks. The seat should be deep or shallow enough to hit the backs of the knees when a person is seated. The seat should slant downward from front to back. Turn the piece over and look at the bottom. Feel the webbing. It should be closely woven and firm, not soft or bouncy. Check outside details. Are the seams neat, are the buttons sewed on firmly. Is the tufting neatly finished and her last suggestion is, in buying furniture, the best insurance is to patronize a reliable local dealer or decorator.

A THOUGHT

It is better to think a good thought about a bad man than to think an evil thought about a good man.

Swiss Firms Arrange For Day Nursery

BIENNE, Switzerland (UPI) — The bosses in this town make it easy for mothers who want to help bring home the bacon.

They provide nurseries for the children, both infants and school-age boys and girls.

The nurseries are staffed with young women trained in the art of handling children. Usually, the substitute mothers earn more than the moms bent over the production line in the factories.

Typical of the modern nurseries is one at the Omega Watch Co. in Bienne — a factory that expects its hired hands to put in 48 hours a week.

MODERN

The home away from home for the children is a two story modern building with lots of windows, playgrounds and bright colors.

Inside, there are play tables, a little gym, a dining room, sleeping units. The interior, of course, is sub-divided into sections for babes in arms, for toddlers, and for school children.

The school children are taught to report to the nursery when school lets out. They do their homework and get in a little play while waiting for their mothers to finish up on the production line.

This eliminates the problem so often encountered by working mothers of school-age children. That is — the chance of the children being on their own at home until their mothers return from work.

INFANT SECTION

The infant section of the nursery, at the time I toured the place, housed eight babies, including one just six weeks old.

The babies apparently get their fair share of tender, loving care. Only one, a little fellow about 2 months old was squealing. I patted him on the back for a while and he stopped crying.

The nurseries aren't completely free, although the major costs are met by the firm. The mothers pay around $1 a day for each child in the nursery.

The trend toward nurseries for the children of working mothers is one that is well developed throughout Europe. The Russians are said to have the widest network of such nurseries.

Kennedy Will Invade South

WITH KENNEDY IN KENTUCKY (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy will make his first invasion of the Deep South in the campaign next week, with appearances Monday in Georgia and South Carolina.

The Democratic presidential nominee, who has been on the road since Sept. 2, campaigns Sunday in the Youngstown and Warren, Ohio, area.

He will spend Sunday night at Louisville, Ky., and leave early Monday for Warm Springs, Ga., so often visited by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Monday schedule also calls for speeches at Columbia, S. C., and at Pittsburgh.

The senator will be in New York Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, campaigning the first two days and preparing on Thursday for his third radio-television debate that night with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Fight Cholera Spread

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran has set up a marine quarantine station at the entrance to the Persian Gulf as another step against the spread of cholera. The Pakistan and Afghanistan borders were sealed by Iran earlier.

SOUTHERN GARDNER

Accent Given By Junipers

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

F.R.H.S.

Because they are fairly slow in growth and of medium size, five of the grey leaved junipers are very useful in foundation plantings and gardens. The Irish juniper whose tall columns used to be so common in cemeteries is perhaps the best known one of the five. The other four are fairly similar and not so easy to tell apart. These are the common, the Swedish, the Greek and the spiny Greek junipers. They are all greyish in foliage and quite prickly — especially the spiny Greek and Swedish kinds.

LOOSE NEEDLES

Junipers, like all members of the Pine Family which we grow, except hemlocks, like the sun. In shade, they get spindly and waste away. If you wish to plant annuals like petunias at the feet of junipers to fill in while they are small, be sure to keep the petunias a foot away from the base of the evergreens. When plants crowd or shade the base of conifers, they usually lose their needles. Then, when winter comes, you have a bare space where the annuals shaded the needle foliage.

The common (common all over Europe) juniper is the fattest of the five we are discussing. It makes a handsome boundary planting when the junipers are set about five feet apart. Eventually, they run together in an undulating solid wall of blue-grey that is extremely neat and one that never needs trimming. Wherever a fattish specimen or accent is wanted in the winter landscape, this is a very satisfactory conifer. The tall Irish juniper that was once so popular is used as an accent plant in the landscape. The original type had a way of spreading apart in sleets and snows, and it was thus that cemeteries were spared the fate of having far too many accents. The plants of this juniper sold by nurseries today stand up to sleets better than the old ones did. When properly used, the Irish juniper is still one of the most telling accents in a winter landscape.

Spiny Greek is a stickier, slightly more ragged looking evergreen than the common juniper. The ordinary Greek juniper comes in fattish shape, but the spiny one is a columnar plant. It makes a fine contrast to the other kinds, and so does the Swedish juniper whose foliage is quite wide-spreading if you look at it closely.

To study the pine family evergreens (conifers) visit a nursery and compare their color and textures. Remember, however, that baby conifers, like puppies and kittens may grow to be far too big for what you had in mind when you took them home. Be sure that you know what size they will be in ten years!

MR. AND MRS. JACOB Gorn, right, are shown with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gorn, who were hosts at an hors d'oeuvres party Tuesday night, October 4, in celebration of the 50th wedding anniversary of the senior Gorns.

Gala Party Marks 50th Anniversary Of Gorns

Occasion of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gorn, Monroe residents the past ten years, was marked at an hors d'oeuvres party Tuesday night, October 4 in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gorn, 1407 Milton street.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Glazer, Mrs. Sam Davis, Mrs. Flora Herman, Mrs. Nellie Hirsch, Mrs. Carrie Hyman, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Levi, Mr. and Mrs. David Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Masur, Jr., Mrs. Lewis Masur Sr., Mrs. Rose Masur, Mrs. Siz Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvian Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rosenheim, Mrs. Sadie Saltzman, Rabbi and Mrs. Martin Silverman, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Silverstein, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silverstein, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sugar, Mrs. Clara Tannenbaum, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Tonkon, Dr. James Wade and Mr. and Mrs. James Wyatt.

Appointments of the home carried out the 50th anniversary theme, with the golden motif used in floral decorations and table centerpiece.

Where There's Fashion This Fall, There's Color

There are three major influences that highlight and keynote the color story for fall.

First, fashion takes on a hazy note in a smoked-over or murky look palette. These are influenced by the grandstand play of madras fabrics, batiks and the many charred effects of herringbone weaves, deep-tone stripes and paisley effects of men's wear fabrics borrowed for milady!

Second — is fashion's fascination with fur! Many fabrics this fall simulate fur in both colors and texture; other fabrics have fur actually woven into them . . . many fabrics have been specifically designed to blend with furs and others have been created to give a dramatic contrast.

And in the midst of all the "ashes" of color, is the dramatic break through of high colors. Last, but not least, is the opulence of color expressed in lavish tones.

Here the color is bright and exotic! Brilliant gem-inspired reds, blues and greens give luster and sparkle to the fashion scene!

The lavish touch shines through in metallics, glitter and luster of gold-enhanced fabric and in magnificent embroidered and brocaded weaves.

Colors are designed to harmonize, appear solo or duets and even in gay trios; but above all, color is the key to complements and compliments for exciting fall wardrobes!

Sleeve Lengths Stress Gloves

Because of abbreviated sleeves the hands are accentuated in this season's fashion portrait. Here, beautiful gloves have an uncqualed opportunity for display, and glovemakers have answered the need admirably.

Short gloves are still in evidence, while new four and five button lengths comfortably cover the wrist, and eight to eighteen button gloves amply compensate the shortened sleeve.

Many gloves are lined as well, for additional warmth. Miracle fibers or silk insulate slender city gloves without adding bulk. Wool knit linings often reveal stripe, check or paisley patterns as a bonus style feature, and fur linings accompany gloves for both town and country sportswear.

ELEGANT SIMPLICITY is denoted in this pettipoint crepe dress, its sweater top and slim skirt accented with an extrovert twist of contrasting suede. The neckline is designed to show off the dazzling fall jewels.

Versatility Reflected In Fall Costume

For the woman who enjoys the versatility of a dress and jacket, dress and coat, suit and blouse or suit and coat costume, fall brings welcome news. Costumes are more numerous than ever and they branch out in new style directions to impart considerably more fashion distinction to the wardrobe.

A ruling influence is fur, from mink to hamster. Fur collars and cuffs are just the beginnning. There are bodices and overblouses of fur and for evening, entire costumes made of fur.

Skirts and dresses with more character, via pleats or flares, for instance, help give costumes fashion personality.

Women, Money Go Together In Natural Affinity

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Since it's generously conceded women control about 70 per cent of the nation's wealth, it seems only fair that a majority of bank employes should be women too.

They would take a personal interest, so to speak.

Not too long ago banks wouldn't hire women. As recently as 1940, men outnumbered their comley colleagues in the banking business 13 to 1. But word finally got around that women and wampum have a natural affinity, and now its ladies 2 to 1.

The girls are in good standing in the higher circles, too. There are 160 lady bank presidents across the country, and 1 in 10 bank executives is a woman.

There's no doubt banking is now a woman's field. And it has no greater champion that Mona Reid Brice, who touted the trade when she was here recently for an American Banking Association meeting.

MR. AND MRS. JACOB Gorn, right, are shown with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gorn, who were hosts at an hors d'oeuvres party Tuesday night, October 4, in celebration of the 50th wedding anniversary of the senior Gorns.

Gala Party Marks 50th Anniversary Of Gorns

Occasion of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gorn, Monroe residents the past ten years, was marked at an hors d'oeuvres party Tuesday night, October 4 in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gorn, 1407 Milton street.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Glazer, Mrs. Sam Davis, Mrs. Flora Herman, Mrs. Nellie Hirsch, Mrs. Carrie Hyman, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Levi, Mr. and Mrs. David Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Masur, Jr., Mrs. Lewis Masur Sr., Mrs. Rose Masur, Mrs. Sig Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvian Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rosenhein, Mrs. Sadie Saltzman, Rabbi and Mrs. Martin Silverman, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Silverstein, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silverstein, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sugar, Mrs. Clara Tannenbaum, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Tonkon, Dr. James Wade and Mr. and Mrs. James Wyatt.

Appointments of the home carried out the 50th anniversary theme, with the golden motif used in floral decorations and table centerpiece.

Women, Money Go Together In Natural Affinity

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Since it's generously conceded women control about 70 per cent of the nation's wealth, it seems only fair that a majority of bank employes should be women too.

They would take a personal interest, so to speak.

Not too long ago banks wouldn't hire women. As recently as 1940, men outnumbered their comley colleagues in the banking business 13 to 1. But word finally got around that women and wampum have a natural affinity, and now its ladies 2 to 1.

The girls are in good standing in the higher circles, too. There are 160 lady bank presidents across the country, and 1 in 10 bank executives is a woman.

There's no doubt banking is now a woman's field. And it has no greater champion that Mona Reid Brice, who touted the trade when she was here recently for an American Banking Association meeting.

Leftovers

Frankfurter rolls leftover. Split and butter them, then toast under the broiler. Good served with a hearty soup for lunch.

Where There's Fashion This Fall, There's Color

There are three major influences that highlight and keynote the color story for fall.

First, fashion takes on a hazy note in a smoked-over or murky look palette. These are influenced by the grandstand play of madras fabrics, batiks and the many charred effects of herringbone weaves, deep-tone stripes and paisley effects of men's wear fabrics borrowed for milady!

Second — is fashion's fascination with fur! Many fabrics this fall simulate fur in both colors and texture; other fabrics have fur actually woven into them . . . many fabrics have been specifically designed to blend with furs and others have been created to give a dramatic contrast.

And in the midst of all the "ashes" of color, is the dramatic break through of high colors. Last, but not least, is the opulence of color expressed in lavish tones.

Here the color is bright and exotic! Brilliant gem-inspired reds, blues and greens give luster and sparkle to the fashion scene!

The lavish touch shines through in metallics, glitter and luster of gold-enhanced fabric and in magnificent embroidered and brocaded weaves.

Colors are designed to harmonize, appear solo or duets and even in gay trios; but above all, color is the key to complements and compliments for exciting fall wardrobes!

Sleeve Lengths Stress Gloves

Because of abbreviated sleeves the hands are accentuated in this season's fashion portrait. Here, beautiful gloves have an unequaled opportunity for display, and glovemakers have answered the need admirably.

Short gloves are still in evidence, while new four and five button lengths comfortably cover the wrist, and eight to eighteen button gloves amply compensate the shortened sleeve.

Many gloves are lined as well, for additional warmth. Miracle fibers or silk insulate slender city gloves without adding bulk. Wool knit linings often reveal stripe, check or paisley patterns as a bonus style feature, and fur linings accompany gloves for both town and country sportswear.

ELEGANT SIMPLICITY is denoted in this pettipoint crepe dress, its sweater top and slim skirt accented with an extrovert twist of contrasting suede. The neckline is designed to show off the dazzling fall jewels.

Versatility Reflected In Fall Costume

For the woman who enjoys the versatility of a dress and jacket, dress and coat, suit and blouse or suit and coat costume, fall brings welcome news. Costumes are more numerous than ever and they branch out in new style directions to impart considerably more fashion distinction to the wardrobe.

A ruling influence is fur, from mink to hamster. Fur collars and cuffs are just the beginnning. There are bodices and overblouses of fur and for evening, entire costumes made of fur.

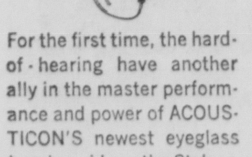

Skirts and dresses with more character, via pleats or flares, for instance, help give costumes fashion personality.

Traveler Poses Health Problem

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP) — Everywhere L. P. Vlanderen went, he met people, talked to some of them about rubber which is his business, and then flew off for his next appointment.

Vlanderen flew halfway around the world last week, and the people he talked with are scattered around the globe, unaware of one disturbing fact: Vlanderen has smallpox.

Health authorities are busy tracking down his contacts. Here are some of them:

He was in close contact with Malayan Cabinet ministers and representatives of 22 countries in this Malayan capital city. He met countless other people as he toured Malaya.

He talked to people on his long airplane flight from Singapore to London.

The World Health Organization has alerted health officials in Ceylon, India, Iran, Turkey and Italy, where there may have to be large scale vaccinations.

Kefauver Says Demos Gaining In Tennessee

HUNTINGDON, Tenn. (UPI)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said Saturday night that the Democratic Party strength "is spreading like a mighty grass fire over our state" to put Tennessee back in the Democratic column.

Tennessee went Republican in the past two presidential campaigns.

Kefauver spoke at a Democratic rally in West Tennessee, and took occasion here to praise ex-Gov. Gordon Browning who supported Kefauver in the August senatorial race against Circuit Judge Andrew T. Taylor of Jackson.

Kefauver said he has visited five states this week campaigning for Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy. He sai dhe will be in 14-more states before he returns to Tennessee Nov. 3.

Kefauver said he was "not one to take things for granted," which is the reason he said he was devoting time "right up to Nov. 8 campaigning as hard as I can for the Democratic ticket."

Kefauver lauded Gov. Buford Ellington and Sen. Albert Gore who he said "have also rolled up their sleeves to work with conviction and dedication for a Democratic victory next month."

Kai-Shek Foe Is Convicted Of Sedition

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Lei Chen, organizer of the first major political opposition to Chiang Kai-shek's long rule of Nationalist China, was convicted of sedition Saturday and sentenced to a total of 10 years in prison.

A five-man military court found Lei, 64-year-old leader of he embryonic China Democratic party—guilty of charges of attempting to incite riots and rebellion on Formosa and of harboring an alleged Communist spy.

Two associates on a fortnightly magazine published by Lei, "Free China," also were convicted of sedition.

The alleged spy, Liu Tzu-ying, an accountant for the magazine, was sentenced to 12 years' imprisonment and a loss of civil rights for eight years. Business manager Ma Chih-su received a five-year prison term an dwas ordered deprived of his civil rights for four years.

Official Nationalist Chinese quarters had no immediate comment on the verdicts, but general opinion outside official quarters was that the sentences were much more several than had been expected. Many felt that Li, whose arrest touched off criticism here and abroad, would get off with a suspended sentence.

Some said that with Lei out of the picture, the projected China Democratic party may collapse. Henry Kao, former mayor of Taipei and No. 2 man in the party, said its formal inauguration will have to be delayed.

The outcome served to emphasize statements by Nationalist Chinese leaders that there would be no interference with what they called legitimate political activities, but that no mercy would be shown anyone found guilty of sedition.

The government has insisted the arrest of Lei and his associates last Sept. 4 was based solely on the alleged seditious activities, which included "unfounded rumors" printed in the magazine.

Supporters of Lei maintained, however, that political opposition to Chiang's ruling Kuomintang party was the real reason for the charges brought against him.

Nixon Endorsed In Des Moines

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The Des Moines Register Saturday night editorially endorsed the candidacy of Repubmlican Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president.

"Nixon's experience, his views on federal spending, his wariness of big government, his concern for individual freedom and enterprise are important qualifications," the poitically independent newspaper said.

"We face serious problems both at home and abroad, and the country needs the experience and the ability of Vice President Nixon."

The register said the country is fortunate in having two candidates "who are young, energetic, serious-minded men with practical political experience."

"Their objectives on many major issues are either identical or similar. This does not mean that there is no choice between them," it added.

Patrol Plans Special Bureau

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) —Public Safety Commissioner Tom Shelton said Saturday the Highway Patrol plans a special narcotics bureau.

Shelton said Highway Patrolman Tilden P. Naylor of Gulfport has completed a course in narcotics law enforcement at the Federal Bureau of Narcotics Training School in Washington. He said Naylor will study two additional months in an out-of-state city.

Kai-Shek Foe Is Convicted Of Sedition

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Lei Chen, organizer of the first major political opposition to Chiang Kai-shek's long rule of Nationalist China, was convicted of sedition Saturday and sentenced to a total of 10 years in prison.

A five-man military court found Lei, 64-year-old leader of he embryonic China Democratic party—guilty of charges of attempting to incite riots and rebellion on Formosa and of harboring an alleged Communist spy.

Two associates on a fortnightly magazine published by Lei, "Free China," also were convicted of sedition.

The alleged spy, Liu Tzu-ying, an accountant for the magazine, was sentenced to 12 years' imprisonment and a loss of civil rights for eight years. Business manager Ma Chih-su received a five-year prison term an dwas ordered deprived of his civil rights for four years.

Official Nationalist Chinese quarters had no immediate comment on the verdicts, but general opinion outside official quarters was that the sentences were much more several than had been expected. Many felt that Li, whose arrest touched off criticism here and abroad, would get off with a suspended sentence.

Some said that with Lei out of the picture, the projected China Democratic party may collapse. Henry Kao, former mayor of Taipei and No. 2 man in the party, said its formal inauguration will have to be delayed.

The outcome served to emphasize statements by Nationalist Chinese leaders that there would be no interference with what they called legitimate political activities, but that no mercy would be shown anyone found guilty of sedition.

The government has insisted the arrest of Lei and his associates last Sept. 4 was based solely on the alleged seditious activities, which included "unfounded rumors" printed in the magazine.

Supporters of Lei maintained, however, that political opposition to Chiang's ruling Kuomintang party was the real reason for the charges brought against him.

Nixon Endorsed In Des Moines

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The Des Moines Register Saturday night editorially endorsed the candidacy of Repubmlican Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president.

"Nixon's experience, his views on federal spending, his wariness of big government, his concern for individual freedom and enterprise are important qualifications," the poitically independent newspaper said.

"We face serious problems both at home and abroad, and the country needs the experience and the ability of Vice President Nixon."

The register said the country is fortunate in having two candidates "who are young, energetic, serious-minded men with practical political experience."

"Their objectives on many major issues are either identical or similar. This does not mean that there is no choice between them," it added.

Patrol Plans Special Bureau

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) —Public Safety Commissioner Tom Shelton said Saturday the Highway Patrol plans a special narcotics bureau.

Shelton said Highway Patrolman Tilden P. Naylor of Gulfport has completed a course in narcotics law enforcement at the Federal Bureau of Narcotics Training School in Washington. He said Naylor will study two additional months in an out-of-state city.

Traveler Poses Health Problem

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP) — Everywhere L. P. Vlanderen went, he met people, talked to some of them about rubber which is his business, and then flew off for his next appointment.

Vlanderen flew halfway around the world last week, and the people he talked with are scattered around the globe, unaware of one disturbing fact: Vlanderen has smallpox.

Health authorities are busy tracking down his contacts. Here are some of them:

He was in close contact with Malayan Cabinet ministers and representatives of 22 countries in this Malayan capital city. He met countless other people as he toured Malaya.

He talked to people on his long airplane flight from Singapore to London.

The World Health Organization has alerted health officials in Ceylon, India, Iran, Turkey and Italy, where there may have to be large scale vaccinations.

Kefauver Says Demos Gaining In Tennessee

HUNTINGDON, Tenn. (UPI)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said Saturday night that the Democratic Party strength "is spreading like a mighty grass fire over our state" to put Tennessee back in the Democratic column.

Tennessee went Republican in the past two presidential campaigns.

Kefauver spoke at a Democratic rally in West Tennessee, and took occasion here to praise ex-Gov. Gordon Browning who supported Kefauver in the August senatorial race against Circuit Judge Andrew T. Taylor of Jackson.

Kefauver said he has visited five states this week campaigning for Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy. He sai dhe will be in 14-more states before he returns to Tennessee Nov. 3.

Kefauver said he was "not one to take things for granted," which is the reason he said he was devoting time "right up to Nov. 8 campaigning as hard as I can for the Democratic ticket."

Kefauver lauded Gov. Buford Ellington and Sen. Albert Gore who he said "have also rolled up their sleeves to work with conviction and dedication for a Democratic victory next month."

AN OPEN LETTER OF THANKS

May we express our fondest appreciation to those of you who made the showing of our 1961 MERCURY–COMET–ENGLISH FORD, a tremendous success, at both our locations: 1203 Louisville in Monroe and Hwy. 80 in Delhi.

To those of you who were unable to see our fine new cars during their formal showing, we would like to take this opportunity to extend to you an invitation to visit our showrooms today. They will be open from 1:00 p.m. until 6:00 p.m. for your convenience.

We are looking forward to the pleasure of showing you our great new cars for 1961.

Sincerely,
F. N. (Sticky) Steele

DRASTICALLY REDUCED—$39,000
The Buy Of The Year! If You're Interested In This Fine Piece Of Property, It Will Pay You To Call Us For Details.

A $37,000 INVESTMENT! Buy now! For quick sale only $39,000! Assume owner's loan of approximately $19,000 or make a new loan! 500 feet located on Bayou DeSiard where fishing is fine. 40 ft. pier. Lovely 6 room residence, 5 room apt. Only 4½ years old. 4 car garage. Extra 5 room apt. and 1½ bath on lower level, formerly used as office space with over 1240 sq. ft. in this section. Also 2 story 4 apt. building on property with revenue. Constructed of heavy, fine quality concrete blocks, aluminum windows, insulated, gutter spouts. Full of lovely trees. St. Augustine lawn, camellias, azaleas, etc. Here is your opportunity to live in a lovely home, enjoy income from 3 apts., and use the basement for your business. There's an extra 250 ft. on the water that you can use for additional revenue by reselling or leasing. As a suggestion: Boat business, bait business, etc. This sounds like a lot of money but it's not. This is a "top shelf" proposition. All or part can be purchased. Save time, effort, and money going from your office to your home. Live here in all privacy, operate your business in part of the building and enjoy the revenue from the rent of it. It will actually pay for itself.

DRASTICALLY REDUCED—$39,000
The Buy Of The Year! If You're Interested In This Fine Piece Of Property, It Will Pay You To Call Us For Details.

A $57,000 INVESTMENT! Buy now! For quick sale only $39,000! Assume owner's loan of approximately $19,000 or make a new loan! 300 feet located on Bayou DeSiard where fishing is fine, 40 ft. pier. Lovely 6 room residence, 5 room apt. Only 4½ years old. 4 car garage. Extra 5 room apt. with ½ bath on lower level, formerly used as office space with over 1240 sq. ft. in this section. Also 2 story 4 apt. building on property with revenue. Constructed of heavy, fine quality concrete blocks, aluminum windows, insulated, gutter spouts. Full of lovely trees. St. Augustine lawn, camellias, azaleas, etc. Here is your opportunity to live in a lovely home, enjoy income from 3 apts., and use the basement for your business. There's an extra 250 ft. on the water that you can use for additional revenue by reselling or leasing. As a suggestion: Boat business, bait business, etc. This sounds like a lot of money but it's not. This is a "top shelf" proposition. All or part can be purchased. Save time, effort, and money going from your office to your home. Live here in all privacy, operate your business in part of the building and enjoy the revenue from the rent of it. It will actually pay for itself.

SOUTH FOURTH ST.

Ideal for a couple or small family is this neat 2 bedroom frame home containing: blinds; tile floors; 220 wiring; attached garage. Lot is 50x150 and has fruit trees. Moderately priced, so hurry on this one.

CARLTON AVE.

SIMPLE arithmetic without a gamble is this compact 2 bedroom home priced below $8,000. It has: wall furnaces; aluminum screens; formica cabinet tops. Pay owner's equity and assume payments below $60.00.

SOUTH FIFTH ST.

NO SOAP nor scrub brush needed here as this 2 bedroom and den home is amazingly neat. It offers: floor furnaces; shower over tub; attic fan; blinds; drapes; ventahood. Lot is 57 x 150 (corner). Pay owner's equity and assume $59.00 payments.

COLUMBIA RD.

THE Stradivarius of home is this almost new 3 bedroom brick. Its 1737 sq. ft. of living area includes: 2 ceramic tile baths; 14 x 31 living room; kitchen with built-in oven and range; central heating and air conditioning; 9 x 30 patio. It's situated on an acre lot. It's quality throughout.

MISSISSIPPI ST.

Life is too short to be wasted in a rented house when this 2 bedroom frame home is available for less than $8,000. It features: wall heaters; attic fan; blinds; drapes. Pay owner's equity and assume $42.00 payments.

RAYVILLE LINDA ST.

YOUR best deed is a deed to your own home and a mere $200 plus closing costs buys a 3 bedroom frame and brick home. It contains: wall furnaces, attic fan, and insulation in attic. Redecorated recently, it's most attractive.

LAKESHORE DR. ON BAYOU

FOR tomorrow's happiness, see this spacious 3 bedroom, 2 bath home. It features: 24 x 24 living room overlooking bayou; den: forced air heating; attic fan; blinds; drapes. Bayou lot is 100 x 300 and has bar-b-que pit and boat landing. Price is amazingly low, so hurry.

FINK'S HIDEAWAY RD. ON BAYOU

IF you like trees and a big lot, you'll love this older 3 bedroom home containing: carpeted living room, office and 1 bedroom: drapes in living room; 220 wiring. Lot is 100 x 645.
